Why everybody buys of Friedman is because he is constantly receiving new goods, and sell them at the same price to all, and that is the lowest in the state.

No man has a right to doubt his wife's word when she makes the assertion that she "is an excellent hand at doing up a shirt," for many of them can do one up so nicely in a bureau drawer than a man would fail to find the garment after two hours diligent search.—Ex.

Hereafter the steamer Lora will make her trips up on Tuesdays, Thursday and Saturday. The Saturday trip will be extended to Mackinaw, reaching there Sunday morning and leaving there on the return trip Sunday noon. This will give those wishing to spend a pleasant Sunday an opportunity to do so. The boat leaves here at 6 o'clock Saturday evening and get back at about noon Monday.

Mat Wixom's great 25 cent show gave two very pleasing entertainments here last Monday. This is one of the cleanest and best shows traveling, and is worthy of the patronage of all. To see the trained horses, dogs and goats is well worth the admission price while the acrobats, contortionists, etc., were of first-class. Mr. Wixom can be assured of a good crowd should he visit this place again.

The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of the Normal system of short-hand in this issue. Mr. Waterbury will be here in a few days.

It may be of interest to our readers to know that Sullivan, the Durand murderer, worked in George W. Shotwell's camp, at Au Gres, last winter under the name of Alonzo Cummings. Mr. Shotwell was somewhat surprised when he found he had been harboring a murderer, and allowed $1,500 reward to slip through his fingers.

No better opining could be found in the state of Michigan for a canning factory than at Tawas City. It may be pretty late to agitate the project this year but it will be well to keep the matter in mind and to arrange for it next year. Strawberries, raspberries, plums, and huckleberries can nowhere be had to better advantage than in our village.

Last Thursday John Ballenger, of this township, while walking on the Mud Lake branch of the D. B. C. & A. R. R. stepped in front of a moving larry which was loaded with steel rail, when he was thrown down, the car catching his left leg running over it just above the ankle, causing a compound fracture. He was taken to East Tawas where the injured leg was dressed. He was taken to his home Saturday, where he is now doing as well as could be expected. Mr. Ballenger has the sympathies of all in his misfortune.

Died, at her home in this village, on Sunday, July 2, 1893, Mrs. Isabelle J. Brown, aged 73 years, three months and 20 days.

Isabelle J. O'Neil was born in Louisville, Ky, March 12, 1829. When quite young she moved with her parents to Springfield Ill., where she was married to Mr. Tollyer Striplin, and resided there until the death of her husband. She afterwards moved to Wisconsin, where she was married to Mr. N. W. Brown in 1866. From Wisconsin they moved to Michigan, where Mr. Brown died. She afterwards resided in California until about three years ago, when she returned to this place. She was the mother of four children, three sons and one daughter. Two sons, Charles Striplin, of this place, and one in California, remain to mourn her loss. Mrs. Brown has been a member of the M. E. and Congregational church for a number of years. For the past fifteen years she has been a great sufferer and we believe has gone to her reward.

OBITUARY.

THE DEATH OF '93.

The fifth annual commencement exercises of the Tawas City Public School were held at the court house last Thursday evening. Miss Minnie V. Henderson was the only graduate, her essay, "Woman's Sphere," was a very interesting and ably written paper, and one which showed much thought and careful study.

The balance of the program consisted of music and essays by member of the Junior class. Miss Ida Funk rendered the vocal solo, "Grace Darling, or the shipwreck crew," in a very charming manner. Miss Gertrude Kelly read a well written essay on the "Duties of an American Citizen," and Miss Ray V. Simon, one entitled "The Ambition of Women." Miss Chattie and Mr. E. D. Schermerhorn gave a very pretty piano and cornet duet. "The Aim of Life," was the subject of Miss Nellie E. Hamilton's essay, while Miss Effie Graham read a very entertaining paper on "Our Public Schools." Miss Schermerhorn's vocal solo "Afterwards," was much enjoyed. Kenneth R. Murchison delivered an oration on the "Wit and Humor of Americans." Miss Nettie Darling had for her subject "The World's Fair." Misses Minnie McDonald and Theresa Shaver, sang a very pretty duet. The High School choir sang the closing song.

NOTES.

The court room was finely decorated with flags and bunting, and filled to its utmost capacity.

The participants were presented with many beautiful flowers.

A. F. Zeiter presented the diplomas in a few well chosen words.

Its a shame that a lot of young boys should have such poor bring up as not to know enough to behave at such places.

No slates will be used in Carolina's state barrooms. It's cash or no tipple.

If Lizzie Borden lectures she should make her subject "The hatchet as a foundation for police theories."

A New York exchange says "The Kaiser will conciliate." That's about the only thing he can do to win, isn't it.

SURLEY, nobody, will raise any objection to dropping the name of the man who has been drawing a pension for baldness.

The doctors of finance are quite as numerous and bewildering in their theories as are those of medicine and of religion.

The number of banks doing business upon theory, instead of cash, appears to be unusually large. The sooner all of this sort close, their doors the better.

Now that Lt. Peary has started another Arctic expedition it would be well to at once open a subscription to pay the expense of the inevitable relief expedition.

The pension attorneys are dead opposed to any reform in the method of granting pensions and those drawing pensions illegally are opposed to purging the pension roll; other people favor both.

THAT the sinking of the British battleship Victoria and the consequent terrific loss of life was an object lesson to the rest of the world is not disputed, but as every teacher draws a different meaning from it the benefit is not apparent.

Wool is lower this year than ever. It has been going down in price ever since the McKinley bill became a law and should that nefarious measure remain much longer upon the statute books farmers would have to give their wool away and pay some one to draw it to the market.

To verdant reader: No, we do not think it would pay to raise rams to be sold to the Navy department in case of a foreign war. The naval ram does not belong to the same species as the bewhiskered, curly-horned ram which makes things lively for city visitors to your sheep pasture, although they both follow the same principle in making use of their business end.

The mighty Czar of Russia has not allowed his dignity to prevent his bringing suit in an American court to discover damages for injuries inflicted upon his war vessels in New York harbor. Mr. Gladstone should lose no time in beginning libel suits against the papers which printed those alleged pictures of him as he appeared in Parliament; he certainly has a good case.

The acts given immediate effect by the legislature of this state have heretofore been published in pamphlet form, for the information of the people—a very wise proceeding. But this year the republican lawmakers were too busy with salary and appropriation grabs, and the repeal of the beneficent acts of the democratic legislature of 1891, to bother with a little thing like that for the accommodation of the people, who are left to guess what are and what are not the laws of the commonwealth.

"PROTECTION and prosperity" go hand in hand, according to republican papers and politicians. The "hand in hand" act is not being commented upon very much just now by republicans, however. We are still under the McKinley tariff, the highest protective tariff in the world's history, but shops are closing, banks are breaking, and in a few months the people will be suffering the worst times since the panic of 1873.—Petosky Democrat.

An Oregon judge, in dismissing a libel suit from his court, ruled that "whenever a newspaper finds a case of flagrant wrongdoing and evil, it is its duty and privilege to expose it and give it the widest circulation." Judges have frequently held that a newspaper is privileged to comment upon the actions of public officials, but this is the first decision giving them the same privilege toward private citizens. It is, however, only a recognition of the position a newspaper occupies as a conservator of public morals. It will not be known until the judgement day, and possibly not then, how much wrongdoing has been prevented by a wholesome fear of exposure by some fearless paper.

SEVERAL gentlemen were sitting in front of the Grand Central hotel the other evening discussing the financial situation. It was plain to be seen that they were republicans as they blamed Cleveland and the democratic party for the dull times. Another gentleman, an ardent democrat, who sat near by where he could hear the whole conversation was heard to remark: "Gentlemen you are to blame yourselves for the present condition of affairs in this country." Whereupon one of the republicans asked "how is that?" Well I will tell you said our democratic friend. "The republicans bought the country on the verge of bankruptcy and the people had to appoint a receiver" meaning Cleveland. It is needless to say that the little knot of republicans saw the point, and immediately dropped the subject.—Cheboygan News.

Half-Price Michigan Wool.

The wool that has declined most in price is the domestic product of the finest quality. Manufacturers have "compensated" themselves—that is, they have got even—for the taxes they are compelled to pay on Australian wool by forcing down the price of the wool produced in this country that comes in competition with it. And by mixing with the Australian, for which they are now paying 31 to 39 cents a pound for unwashed, the cheaper and coarser wool produced on the great plains west of the Missouri river, they are able to ignore the fine wools of Michigan, Ohio, and other states to a considerable extent and crush down the price to less than half they pay for Australian. If the authors of the McKinley tariff intend this result, it must be said that this portion of their work has been entirely successful.—Jackson Patriot.

Feed for Sheep.

Clover hay is by all odds the best fodder for ewes, and the curing of it in good condition is so often a failure and yet so necessary, that we give a few hints founded on experience. For sheep, especially ewes it is important to cut it green, before it gets woody and dry and the leaves begin to fall off. As soon as the first blossom in the field can be seen to have turned brown or even begun to turn, it is time to get out the mower. Still, it is always best to consult the thermometer, and it is well to delay a few days, if necessary, until the indications are for a few days of settled weather. If there is fair promise of a spell of good weather, and help is abundant, five or six acres may be cut down at once. Let this be done in the afternoon, so that the job may be done before the dew falls. Dew on top of a swath is much more easily dried out than when it is sprinkled all through it. In the morning, as soon as the dew is dried off, shake out the bunches at the corners of the land and where the machine has dragged the swath together. A half days steady sunshine will wilt it sufficiently. Take a handful of it and twist it; if sap can be wrung out of it wilt it a while longer. Then rake into wind-rows, driving around the land the same way the mower went. If no rain threatens, it may lie in windrows the first night; otherwise make it into cocks as high as a man's head and as slender as can be made to stand. All the subsequent curing should be done in these cocks, either by turning them neatly bottom side up or by dividing them into two or three slices. The great point in clover hay is to cure it without letting the sun shine on it. The English farmers understand better than we do the superior excellence of shade-cured hay.—Sheep Breeder.

Michigan Crops.

Detroit, July 5.—The weekly crop report of the Michigan weather bureau, issued to-day, says: The general condition all over the state seem to have the expected growing influence on all crops. Altogether it is a little too dry in some localities; haying has been in full blast and the indications thus far point to a favorable season.

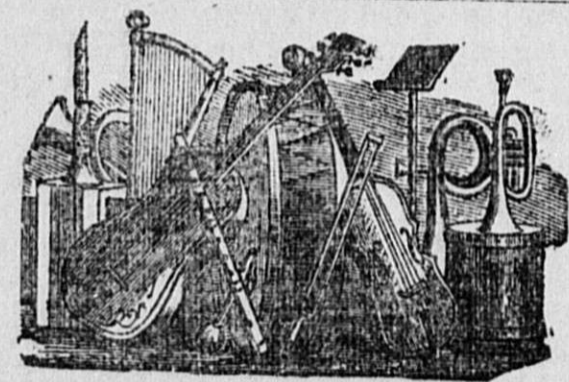

Probabilities for the week ending July 8, 1893: The outlook is for moderately warm, dry weather,

In the northern section the past week it has been very dry and the crop growth of all kinds has suffered some in consequence. Fruit prospects still hold good but potatoes, wheat, rye and oats need showers.

The weather in the central section seems to have been very favorable during the week. In most of the counties wheat continues to improve and rye is a good crop. There is some complaint of dryness affecting late sown oats in Lapeer county. Haying is very general and there seems to be a large yield. Corn has been worked out the second time in Lapeer and Livingston counties the midge doing some injury to clover.

The conditions of fruit in the fruit belt of the state is reported fine. Cherries are falling some and army worms are injuring apples in Kent county. Small fruits will be a large crop.

The warm weather during the past week has been favorable for farm work in the southern section, especially haying, which is almost done. Corn, oats, potatoes and beans are doing well. Peaches in Wayne county are dropping badly. Wheat is looking well and in some localities farmers will begin cutting it next week. In Washtenaw county crops of all kinds are making satisfactory progress and fruit of all kinds, except apples, promises an abundant yield. Rain is needed for garden truck.

EAST TAWAS NEWS.

W. A. Serapliner left Wednesday for a three months visit in Europe.

The dance at the opera house on the evening of the Fourth was largely attended, about 125 tickets being sold.

C. Curry & Co. will sell you a horse or buggy at the right price. Call on them at the Miner house barn.

There are several fine crops of Canada thistles growing on the streets which should be harvested at once.

Our merchants had their windows finely decorated. J. Demmick had the most novel and pleasing display of any.

John H. Cook and Miss Rose M. Williams, were married at the home of the bride's mother, on Thursday, July 6. Rev. Kay officiated.

Don't buy goods which are of the same age of yourself, but go to Freidman's, in Tawas City and buy new goods at the very lowest prices.

Married, at the home of the bride's mother, in East Tawas, Sunday July 2, 1893, Mr. Charles Hinton, and Miss Minnie North. Rev. A. C. Kay officiated.

Monday, July 3, at the home of the bride's mother, in this village, occurred the marriage of Mr. David Tompkins and Miss Nelly G. North, Rev. A. C. Kay officiating.

The elegant new D. & C. steamer City of Alpena, arrived here on her first trip Tuesday afternoon, and was welcomed by hundreds of people. This is one of the very finest boats on the great lakes.

We are informed that C. Will Howard, of AuSable, has been engaged as landlord of the Holland house. This is an excellent choice, and Will's many friends will be pleased to welcome him as a citizen of our thriving village.

W. G. Davey has given up the management of the opera house, owing to the fact that his other business requires his whole attention. This is a fact much to be regretted by the theatre going people of our village, as Mr. Davey has spared no pains to give our citizens nothing but first-class entertainments during his management. We understand the house has been leased to Mr. Wood, and will be managed by H. C. Bristol. Success to the new management.

The celebration here was attended by a large number from all parts of the county. Tawas City carried off the first, fourth and fifth prizes while East Tawas got second and third in the mardi gras parade. In the afternoon some fairly good races were had at the fair ground. Bert Oaks won the mile bicycle race; Chas. Bouyette, the half mile bicycle race and Claude Hanson the boys race. Will McClellan won the 100 foot race. Owing to the rain the fire works were not exploded until Wednesday evening.

To the World's Fair.

THE FLINT & PERE MARQUETTE RAIL AND WATER LINES offer the public a way to reach Chicago, that for comfort, far surpasses the all rail lines, to say nothing of the difference of fare in its favor, an item well worthy of consideration.

Passengers are landed in Chicago in the morning after a night's refreshing and invigorating rest in a commodious state room on a first-class steamship. The experienced traveler need not be told of the advantages of a rail and boat route, for summer travel, over the all rail route with its crowded, dusty sleeping cars, and very little thought on the part of the inexperienced, will convince him of the same. Ask your local ticket agent for rates and time of trains

A'abaster News.

Frank Robinson who has been absent four years, is home visiting his mother.

The Misses Marion and Madge Thurgoo will return to their home at Saginaw, next week.

We enjoyed a visit from Willie McCue the 4th. He has been absent from his home for two years.

Miss Jennie Barron who has been staying at Sherman for several weeks, is home for a few days.

The L. O. T. M. will give an ice-cream social at the Bowery on Monday evening, next. All are invited.

Every body enjoyed the picnic the 4th. The rain drove the dancers to the Hotel where tripped the "light fantastic" till the rain stopped.

Our school closed Wednesday with a picnic. The enrollment for the year has been 75. The average attendance 65. Miss. Thurgoo is engaged for another year.

Whittemore News.

Ed. Ylow has moved into the Wakeman house, lately occupied by Dr. Ludlum.

Mr. Beardslee is home on a visit from Rose City where he is plying his vocation as carpenter.

Mr. Duplanty has assumed charge of the post office and has moved it into the meat market owned by Mrs. Carroll.

Nearly all of our citizens took advantage of the reduced rates of fare on the Rail Road during the 3rd and 4th and visited other points of interest along the line. The agent here informs us that more than one hundred tickets were sold at this station.

Last Thursday Willie Kall youngest son of Geo. Kall of this place while walking across the Augres Rail Road bridge lost his ballance and fell over the side into the water below striking on his head and shoulders. The bridge is about thirty eight feet high and as the water was very shallow where he struck it bruised him badly, he was picked up, and carried to a neighboring house where it was ascertained that he was not seriously injured. He is now around on the streets again but carries his head gently tipped to one side as a memorial of the accident.

Young Men, Beware.

The wicked man of the Cincinnati Enquirer perpetrated the following upon hearing that a number of young ladies of Bucyrus, Ohio, had formed themselves into a society, each pledging herself not to associate with young men who drink liquor, use tobacco, play cards, or indulge in any other sinful habits:

- The man who drinks the red wine, Can never glue his lips to mine.
- The man who chews the nasty plug, Will in our parlor get no hug.
- Who smokes or drinks, or cuts a deck, Can never bite us on the neck.
- So, don't you monkey with the cards, Or we can never more be pard.
- The man who guzzles lager beer, Can never, never chew my ear.
- Drink nothing stronger than red pop, Or in your lap we'll never flop.
- The man who smokes a cigarette, Can never get a squeeze, you bet.
