The school director informs us that the school board have decided to make but very few, if any promotions of scholars from one room to another or to higher grades. Therefore parents and scholars had best not buy any new school books until after school opens and it is diffently settled what is to be done.

The good old-fashioned method of punishing wrong doers is exploited in "A Cracker Jack", to be seen here soon, by treating the villain of the play to a coat of tar and feathers and a free ride on a three-cornered rail. Other equal novel but natural effects and situations are employed in this purely American romance. This attraction par excellence will be seen at the Opera House, Wednesday, August 30th.

We clip the following from the Detroit Evening News of Wednesday: H. M. Loud & Sons' mill which closed down a week ago, started up this morning with a 25 per cent reduction in wages, payable in store orders. Over 500 men from their concerns surrounded the mill and forced everybody to go out on the strike. The whole crowd then went to the company's cedar yards and stopped work there. Violence is feared.

At last meeting of school board application were received and considered from different applicants for position of principle, and director was instructed to correspond with the various applicants and the Superintendent of Public Instruction, with a view of carrying out the resolution of the board to hire the best man at the best price to teach either with or without an assistant—thus saving $400. It is possible that the board may also decide to place the two rooms in the ward school under one teacher, the combined number of scholars not being over fifty to sixty on an average, and one teacher being all that is needed.

The Central Michigan Normal School at Mt. Pleasant, opens September 4, in its new building, one of the finest school edifices in the state. The work of this institution is directed specially in the line of preparing teachers of the rural schools. Three courses of study are offered corresponding respectively to 3d, 2d and 1st grade certificates. The principal, C. F. R. Bellows, to whom all inquiries concerning the school should be addressed, is widely known throughout the state as an experienced educator and trainer of teachers; and the instructors associated with him are persons of superior scholarship and admirable qualifications for their respective positions. The enrollment in the school last year was over two hundred, and the graduating class contained twenty members.

At last a bug, is reported that is a friend of the farmer. The insect is twice as large as a potato bug, of longer and slighter built and has red wings. It does not eat vines but slaughters potato bugs at the rate of ten a minute. The bug is working in various parts of the state but has not reached this vicinity yet, but when he does come he will meet a hearty welcome.

Peter Nelson, of Sherman township, had a very narrow escape from being killed at the depot in this village last Friday. It seems he attempted to get on the train after it had started, when he was thrown from his feet and dragged some distance. His right leg was broken above the knee, and he was considerably bruised otherwise. Mr. Nelson is about 55 years of age and unmarried. He has been a resident for Sherman township for a number of years.

Farmers should not cut away all the timber on their farm for the reason that they believe it is just as cheap to burn coal as wood and that the land put into cultivation will produce crops which will sell for more than enough to supply them with fuel. This may be true, but when the timber is all gone they will be obliged to pay high prices for fencing and timber which they use for many other purposes about the place. The cutting away of all the timber gives the wind a greater sweep and has a great influence on the climate, producing droughts, irregular rain-fall and all sorts of sudden and extreme changes in the weather.—Ex.

You cannot inspire confidence in others unless you display it yourself.

CONGRESSMAN WELDOCK was appointed chairman of the House Committee on Mines and Mining, by Speaker Crisp.

No one can truthfully charge the democrats of the House with having lost any time in taking up the all-absorbing silver question.

THE republican ex-members of the cabinet seem now to have much clearer ideas of what ought to be done than they had while in office.

It is not surprising that democrats in congress refuse to believe in the sincerity of aid tendered them by such republicans as Reed and Lodge.

If the republican press would quit howling calamity for awhile the people would have a chance to recover their wits and their confidence in each other.

It is only republicans who are worrying about where Senators Hill, Gorman and other good democrats stand. Democrats have nothing to fear from their votes.

HAD Grover Cleveland declared against tariff reform, as silly republican editors pretended to expect, he would have proven himself a coward, and even the most besotted republican had never charged him with cowardice.

Just as soon as the people begin to bring out their hoardings for the purposes of business so soon will times begin to improve. Many have done themselves and their neighbors serious injury by withdrawing their money from banks — Kalamazoo Telegraph.

THE Chicago labor organizations propose to set an example worthy of being generally followed, by withdrawing their money from safe deposit vaults and investing it so that it will be put in general circulation. If everybody would do the same there would be an immediate and permanent improvement.

Preserve This For Reference Three Years From Now.

After a lapse of of a third of a century, the democratic party again began conducting national affairs last week when the special session of congress convened at the call of the President. At different times the democrats have controlled one or two of the three branches of government necessary to the making of government; but never since 1860 have they been in a position to pass a single law or accomplish anything either beneficial or harmful until now when a democrat President is supported by a democrat House and Senate.

The democratic party is at last on trial. If it proves worthy of the confidence reposed in it by the overwhelming majority of the people, every good citizen will be in duty bound to show his appreciation at the polls. And if, on the other hand, the dismal predictions which the republicans have made as to the result of democratic rule should be verified, every honest democrat will be glad to see the party defeated by an indignant public. Party success is of no consequence whatever, except as it affects the welfare and prosperity of our common country. We are stupid fools if we allow our party prejudices to prevent us from giving the democracy a fair trial, and holding the party responsible for its administration, giving it due credit for any good it may accomplish, and condemning it for every fault it is guilty of.

No sensible man will expect that the results of the change of the administration will be seen at once. No honest man will claim that any change of administration would make any material difference in the condition of the people until the laws are changed and a sufficient time has elapsed for the effect of the new laws to be felt. It would be folly to expect in a week, a month or even a year, and wipe out its effects. We do not expect that there will be any very marked change next year, even if the democratic party should enact all the reforms that we hope for. But we are so absolutely certain that there will be a great improvement in the condition of the whole country before three years pass by, that we are willing to now make this promise that unless there is a marked improvement in the national affairs before three years roll around we will not vote a democratic ticket in 1896. And our republican leaders who are as honest in their political belief and as loyal to our country and its best interests, will meet this promise with the pledge that if the democratic administration does benefit the country, they will come into the democratic ranks with us.

And now let us consider the condition of the country now, under the McKinley tariff and Sherman silver law. For over two years the percentage of failures has been increasing month by month. Factories have been and are now shutting down. An army of men greater than that which put down the rebellion, is out of work. In Chicago the mayor is predicting terrible riots on account of a hundred thousand men out of employment. In New York an equal number are arranging a great parade of the unemployed, a spectacle of which this continent has never seen a parallel. Wheat is fifty cents a bushel; wool less than twenty cents a pound and all kinds of product correspondingly low. Banks have been tumbling like cob houses for months, and thousands of business men, including some of the most prominent, like McKinley and Foster, have gone to that wail. Money is so scarce that the soundest corporations, the wealthiest private individuals and the most prosperous cities can scarcely get money on any terms.

You all know that this is a true statement of the condition this week, when the democratic party takes the management of the ship of state. Clip this out and in 1896 compare it with the condition then, and vote accordingly, no matter what your politics.—Petoskey Democrat.

Home Training.

The fireside is a seminary of infinite importance. It is important because it is universal, and because the education it bestows, being woven in with the woof of childhood, gives form and color to the whole texture of life. There are few who can receive the honors of a college; but all are graduates of the hearth. The learning of the university may fade from the recollection, its classic lore may moulder in the halls of memory; but the simple lessons of home enameled upon the heart of childhood, defy the rust of years, and outlive the more mature but less vivid picture of after-years. So deep, so lasting, indeed, are the impressions of early life, that you often see a man in the imbecility of age holding fresh in his recollection the events of childhood, while all the wide space between that and the present hour is a blasted forgotten waste. You have perchance seen an old and half-obliterated portrait, and in the attempt to have it cleaned and restored you may have seen it fade away, while a brighter and more perfect picture, painted beneath, is revealed to view. This portrait, first down upon the canvas, is no inapt illustration of youth; and though it may be concealed by some after-design, still the original traits will shine through the outward picture, giving it tone while fresh, and surviving it in decay. Such is the fireside—the great institution of Providence for the education of man.—Goodrich.

LIFE.

The lapse of years is not life. To eat, and drink, and sleep—to be exposed to darkness and the light—to pace around in the mill of habit, and turn through into an implement of trade—that is not life. In all this but a poor fraction of the consciousness of humanity is awakened; and the sanctities will slumber which make it worth while to be. Knowledge, truth, love, beauty, goodness, faith, only these can give vitality to the mechanism of existence. The laugh of mirth that vibrates through the heart; the tears that freshen the dry wastes within; the music that brings childhood back; the prayer that calls the future near; the doubt which makes us meditate; the death which startles us with mystery; the hardship which forces us to struggle; the anxiety that ends in trust; there are the true nourishment of our natural being.—James Martineau.

Wise Study.

He who would wisely study should be careful to draw the food for his intellectual life from many sources. Who of us does not know persons who have been so trained in some one school of secular or of religious thought that they have no sympathy with anything else, and absolutely cannot understand anything beyond the narrow limits of the system in which they have been trained? Such persons should not be taken as models for one's own study. Develop many sides of your intellectual life, read books on different sides of the same question, draw your knowledge of the world from the world itself as well as from the pages of a book.

The Maccabees.

Extensive arrangements are being made for the grand Maccabee encampment to be held in Grand Rapids, September 12, 13 and 14. It is estimated that over 10,000 members of the order will be present and that 30,000 friends of the members will attend the exercises. The program includes a grand parade of the uniform rank and tents on Sept. 12, with a ball in the evening. The following prizes have been offered: To the division of uniform rank making the best display, a silver cup; second prize, $100; third, $75. To the best marching tent in line, two drums and a fife. The best dressed and appering tent, a $50 banner. For the best float in the grand parade, $100. For the tent having the largest number of members in line in proportion of its membership, a $35 silk banner. For the best band, $100; second, $75; third, $50. For the division coming the greatest distance with not less than twenty-one men in line, $150.

On Wednesday and Thursday business sessions will be held, also the election and installation of offices for the ensuing year.

An important law is the one providing for the destruction of noxious weeds on the public streets and highways. THE FLINT & PERE MARQUETTE RAIL AND WATER LINES offer the public a way to reach Chicago, that for comfort, surpasses the all rail lines, to say nothing of the difference of fare in its favor, an item well worthy of consideration.

Passengers are landed in Chicago in the morning after a night's refreshing and invigorating rest in a commodious state room on a first-class steamship. The experienced traveler need not be told of the advantages of a rail and boat route, for summer travel, over the all rail route with its crowded, dusty sleeping cars, and very little thought on the part of the inexperienced, will convince him of the same. Ask your local ticket agent for rates and time of trains

Neighboring Notes.

Alpena wants a fog whistle put in her harbor.

All the mills at AuSable and Oscoda have closed down.

Alpena horsemen are agitating the "shore circuit" question again.

The Pioneer advises men looking for employment to keep away from Alpena.

An agricultural society is being organized at Arenac county, and will hold a fair at Standish this fall.

The Rosecommon, Crawford and Oscoda Agricultural society will hold its annual fair at Rosecommon Sept. 27-29.

Petokey has been sued for $5,000 by Mrs. Mary J. VanLueven, for damages for injuries received in defective village property.

Atlanta is now the county seat of Montmorency county. The books, offices, etc., were removed to that place from Hillman last week.

The Bay county fair will be held September 26-29, and the principle feature will be the horse races, for which $2,900 is hung up in purses.

Wm. Hamilton, a pressman in the Bay City Tribune office, has received an appointment in the government printing office at Washington.

Gov. Luce has been petitioned by W. E. Rice and F. D. Larke, of Rogers City, to remove Prosecuting Attorney Maloney, of Presque Isle county, of incompetency.

A report that the Church Hill House at Alpena had been closed, owing to lack of patronage is not true. The house is open and is doing a good trade, so says the Echo.

A demented woman was found in the woods near Harrisville. She has considerable money, is well dressed, about 50 years of age, but does not disclose her identity.

The official statement of the amount of money paid up by the insurance companies through Saginaw agencies by reason of losses at the fire on May 20 shows $464,099.67.

Things along the line of Alpena and Northwestern railroad are now assuming a solid business aspect and it looks as if regular trains might be running to Posen Presque Isle county, inside of 30 days.

About two miles of iron have already been laid on the extension of the railroad north from Alpena. The iron on the Mud Lake Branch in this county will be used in its construction as soon as it can be taken up.—Harrisville Review.

T. Dubois, a well-known Saginaw nurseryman, says he has figured out that the right time to sow wheat this year will be Sept. 16, 17 and 19, and within a week thereafter there would be a bountiful rain to bring it up nicely.

The mill plant of Green, Ring & Co., of Saginaw, is now 28 years old. During that time 470,000,000 feet of lumber has been cut in the mill, which together with the yards cover 45 acres. The mill will run straight through the winter with a force of 100 men.

The train from the north on the Michigan Central railroad brought to the city Monday night twenty-five men who had been working on a railroad and had been laid off temporarily. They had not been paid and as they had no money they were given quarters at the police station for the night.—Bay City Democrat.

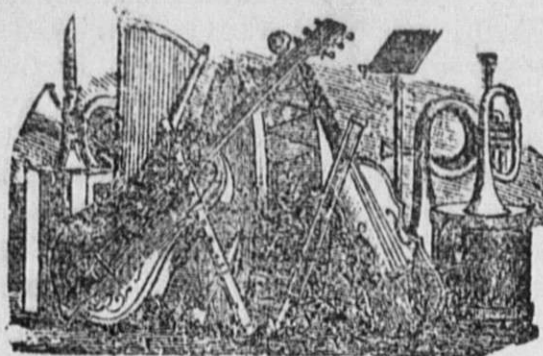

A Greensburg printer on making up the forms for the first time last week, got a marriage and grocer's notice mixed so as to read: "John Smith and Ida Onay were united in the holy bonds of sauerkraut, which will be sold by the quart or barrel. Mr. Smith is an esteemed codfish at ten cents per pound, while the bride has many nice hams at a shilling a pound.—Ex.

A Rosecommon man sent to Maryland for 200 Plymouth Rock hen's eggs for hatching in an incubator, and paid nine cents apiece for them. They came on packed in a common crate, had been tumbled about until worthless for hatching purposes, and were evidently a job lot obtained from some grocer where trade had been dull for some time. There were big eggs and little ones; white eggs and blue ones; whole eggs and cracked ones; bantams and ducks, a motley collection that ought to have hatched for a museum.

BALD HEADS

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

SKOOKUM ROOT HAIR GROWER

is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. "Skookum" contains neither minerals nor oils. It is not a dye, but a delightfully cooling and refreshing Tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy and free from irritating eruptions, by the use of Skookum Skin Soap. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on and destroy the hair.

If your druggist cannot supply you, send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, on receipt of price. Grower, $1.00 per bottle; 6 for $5.00. Soap, 50c per jar; 6 for $2.50.
