When the hair begins to come out in combing, it shows a weakness of the scalp that calls for immediate attention. The best preparation to arrest further loss of hair and restore the scalp to a healthy condition is Ayer's Hair Vigor.

The Epworth League social held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, Tuesday evening was well attended, and a highly enjoyable time was had. The members of the League left nothing undone to add to the enjoyment of the occasion.

The cases of diphtheria in the families of Benj. Ullman and L. Soper, have now all recovered, and there are no more cases hereabouts. The people of Town Line have give Health Officer Murphy much credit for the caution took to keep the disease from spreading.

When catarrh attacks a person of scrofulous diathesis, the disease is almost sure to become chronic. The only efficacious cure, therefore, is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels scrofula from the system and the catarrh soon follows suit. Local treatment is only a waste of time.

The monthly New York World, is a new issue of that popular journal. Every issue will contain more reading matter of general interest than is printed in any of the popular magazines, and the January number will consist of the World Almanac for 1894, which is more complete than any before issued. The subscription price of the monthly is only 35 cents per year.

It is claimed that by feeding hogs with corn mixed with some other materials, the cost will be lessened and their thrift and health kept up, together with an increased value in the manure. Corn is in itself an excellent fattening material, but fat is not in particular demand at present. More lean is required, and it is said that this can be obtained by a mixture of ground wheat and corn.

Old garden flowers are coming into fashion again, that is, the flowers that are to be found in old gardens, like hollyhocks, marigold, bouncing Bess, pblox, dahlias or pinks and roses. Several owners of country homes have tried, successfully, to make those places seem more like the rustic homes of their childhood by surrounding them with the brilliant flowers that used to bloom before their doors in school days.

To all those paying one years subscription to the HERALD, in advance, we will send free of charge for one year, the American Farmer and Farm News, and a fine state map 12x20 inches, free. The American Farmer is one of the best illustrated agricultural papers published a fact which is attested to by its 165,000 subscribers. Sample copies may be had at this office.

There are altogether to many people in this village who repeat demoralizing stories on no better authority than "they say" so and so, little thinking of the great damage that may thus be done the reputation of innocent persons. Truly the tongue is an unruly member, and it requires discipline to control it. On the other hand, those persons who would not be suspected of evil and sin, should do society the justice to so live and act as not to give occasion for suspicion.

Gregory McKinnon got three first prizes on chickens at the Alpena fair last week. At the Iosco county fair this week he made the same exhibit but got only one second prize. The first prize on chickens at Tawas was taken by one of the judges. It's a funny way to do business when a man acts as judge and grants first prize to himself. The Iosco county fair managers better revise their methods. Mr. McKinnon did not receive proper treatment.—Oscoda Press.

This is the time when stock-owners should pay additional attention to their young cattle. The pastures, which earlier in the season supplied their wants, have now largely failed, and the cattle are stinted for feed at the time when they need it most in order to be in a condition to withstand the change to cold weather. This is false economy particularly with the young cattle which receive a check to their development from which they hardly recover all the winter.—N. Y. World.

No farmer should be without at least one first-class agricultural paper during the long winter evening which are now approaching. To each and every one of our subscribers who pay for the HERALD for one year in advance we will give free of charge one year subscription to the "American Farmer and Farm News," one of the best illustrated agricultural papers in the country. In addition to this we will also give a fine state map. This offer will also open to all new subscribers.

Marion Crawford opens up a new line of thought in his article entitled "Rome, the Capital of a New Republic," appearing in the October Cosmopolitan. It is not likely that the October number will have the success which attended that for September. The extraordinary spectacle was presented of a 12 1-2 cent magazine selling for 50 and 75 cents, and many hundreds were even sold for $1.00 each. Probably the record remains without a parallel, in periodical sales, of a number proving so interesting that, after 211,000 copies had been sold, the News Company had order for 50,000 more than they could supply, while dealers in various parts of the country, discovering the esteem in which the magazine was held, immediately raised their prices to double, treble, quadruple and in many cases to eight times the regular price. The publishers do not yet know what their real circulation is, owing to the limited capacity of their presses; but machinery is being put in place which will supply an edition for December exceeding 300,000, and during that month it will be possible to determine just how many Cosmopolitans the public will buy.

Having purchased the n e 1-4 of n w 1-4 and s e 1-4 of s w 1-4 of section 17, town 15, north of range 1 west, Midland county, Mich. I will sell the same cheap and on easy terms.
M. MURPHY.

An excursion will be run from Tawas City to Alpena, Sunday, Oct. 22; train leave Tawas City, at 6:50 in the morning and returning at 7:30 in the evening. Fare for the round trip $1.50.

Postmaster Murphy has secured the services of Miss Mamie Jandro, as clerk in the office. The Western Union telegraph office, of which Miss Jandro is manager, will be moved from the depot to the postoffice building. The appointment of Miss Jandro to this position will give universal satisfaction, as she is a young lady of exceptional business ability as all who have occasion to transact business with her can testify.

The postoffice department at Washington has ruled that the writer has a right to gain possession of a letter providing he can prove to the satisfaction of the postmaster at the office from which it was sent that he was the writer of it. Even if the letter was arrived at its destination and before it has been delivered to the person to whom it was addressed it may be recalled by the writer by telegram through the mailing office. The reason assigned to this is that the United States is only the agent of the writer while the letter is in transit. This decision is important to business men and to private individuals.

F. G. Appley, who passed here in his aluminum boat on his way to the World's Fair, has returned to his home at Pawtucket, R. I. When he arrived in Chicago he had lost 24 pounds in weight. His boat, called "Little Rhody," is now on exhibition at the world's fair in the Rhode Island department of the Fisheries building. Appley left Pawtucket June 2, and arrived in Chicago Sept. 3, having been three months on the route and rowed the entire distance. The whole distance rowed was 2,000 miles—down the Pawtaucket river and Narragansett Bay, around Point Sudith and along the Atlantic Ocean, through Long Island Sound, up the Hudson river and then by way of the Great Lakes. He met with friends all along the way; he slept in tents, in log huts, on the beach and in the woods; he accepted of the hospitality of the farmer, the lumberman, the fisherman, the sailor and the Indian, as well as the oarsmen, the yachtman, and the sportsman. He enjoyed the scenery of the Lakes as no other man ever did. He at times was inclined to give up the task, but his persistency carried him through and to-day he stands ahead of all the long-distance oarsmen.

MEMORIAL.

To Lyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Slingerland, who departed this life Friday, September 29, 1893.

Little Lyle thy life is ended,
Brief indeed thy journey here;
Round thy little cot we linger,
While there falls the bitter tear.

Pure unsullied snow white blossom,
Plucked from earth, in Heaven to reign,
We must leave thee, now, our dear one,
And our hearts are filled with pain.

Lone our hearts are broken, bleeding,
As we put thee from our sight.
But we feel our Savior leading,
We are trusting in His might.

Farewell, darling little Lyle,
In thy spotless robe await,
Till we meet thee with the angels,
At the beautiful pearly gate.

LAST Monday the Detroit democracy nominated Marshal H. Godfrey for mayor, by acclamation.

If more common sense is not injected in to financial matters the squabbling over what kind of dollar we shall have, may result in most of us having none at all.

THE democrats of the first congressional district, last Monday, nominated Levi T. Griffen for congress, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Hon. J. Logan Chipman.

THE Tucker bill for the repeal of the federal election law was passed by the House of Representatives Tuesday for a vote of 200 to 101. Thus the good work of reform goes steadily on.

ONE of the slickest forgers and confidence men the country has ever known is S. J. D. France, who is now under arrest at Detroit, on the charge of aiding in the Perrien conspiracy. His life is worth reading.

In the debate on the bill to repeal the Federal Election law now before the house, there has been scarcely no defence of this iniquitous law. It seems there are a few things a republican congressman is ashamed to do.

THE printer who made a New York World item read "The Senate contains some distinguished lawyers" may not have meant it, but he came nearer the truth than the editor who intended the last word to read "lawyers."—Wheeling Register.

THE calamity howlers are having a hard time of it. Banks are re-suming, factories starting up, wheat is steadily advancing in price, it has rained, the grass is beginning to grow, and everything indicates a prosperous fall. Nashville News.

THERE is hardly a newspaper in the whole country, outside of the silvermining states, that does not condemn the dilatory tactics of the Senate on the repeal bill. Such unanimity has rarely been known before on any great question. It leaves no doubt as to what public sentiment is.—N. Y. World.

A WARRANT has been issued for the arrest of Sheriff W. E. Jacobs, of Shiawassee county, who allowed Sullivan, the Durand murderer to be taken from the jail and lynched. Gov. Rich has been asked to remove Jacobs from office for willfully neglecting his duty in not properly protecting his prisoner.

ADMITTING, for the sake of argument, that Mr. VanAlen did contribute $50,000, for the purpose of being named as ambassador to Rome, the price paid was just $350,900 less than the Sainly John Wanamaker paid for a seat in Harrison's cabinet, and even rabid will not deny that Mr. VanAlen is possessed of as much brains and ability as the saintly John.

WILL some of the republican kickers who are so afraid the country will be ruined by partisan legislation, stop long enough to tell us where any important measure, aside from appropriation bills, was ever passed by a congress where the house and senate were not both in accord with the president? Partisan legislation is just what the people demand where they achieve such a political revolution as they did last fall. Had the people of these United States not wanted partisan legislation of a democratic kind they would not have placed that party in power by such an overwhelming majority. Partisan legislation of the republican kind has too long been in vogue in this county and we are now reaping the results.

CONGRESSMAN WEADOCK has introduced his bill providing for the establishment of the northern division of the eastern judicial district. The proposed new division will embrace all that part of the eastern district north of Saginaw. Courts will be held at Bay City.

ATTY-GEN. ELLIS has filed an opinion as to act No. 137 of the 1893 statutes, relative to deeds, mortgages, etc., executed in another state and recorded in this. Many have wondered whether it would be necessary for such documents to be accompanied by a certificate from the county clerk that a notary before whom they were executed was really a notary. Mr. Ellis says the certificate is not necessary, provided the notary affixes the official seal.

OUGHT a man who witnesses a dog fight to attempt to separate the dogs? That is a question that the full bench of the Massachusetts supreme court has been called upon to answer in a case argued this week. The plaintiff in the case saw two dogs fighting in the street. Being something of a humanitarian, he stepped in on behalf of the under dog, who rewarded him by transferring his grip from his dog antagonist to his man rescuer. The plaintiff was severely bitten, and brought suit against the owner of the dog. To the surprise of the defendant, the plaintiff received a verdict of over $300. The defendant asked for rulings, which the superior court refused to give, and the case went to the supreme court. The defendant says the plaintiff was a trespasser, from the very instant he took hold of the dogs, and cannot under the law recover.—Ex.

Unparalleled Cheek.

One of the manufacturers who has applied for a hearing before the Ways and Means Committee is James W. Swank, manager of the American Iron and Steel Association. He protests against the material reduction of the tax on pig iron and all forms of finished iron and steel in a letter in which he says:

"If there is no surplus in the treasury to be reduced; if prices of domestic products are fixed by home competition and not by tariff duties; if they are now lower, as a rule, than they ever have been in our history; if a day's wages of an American workingman will purchase more of the necessaries of life under our present tariff than ever before; if the paternalism that cares for the general welfare is sanctioned by the Constitution, and by the exact terms of our first tariff act, what reason or show of reason remains for a revision of the tariff at this time? We know of none. But we do know, and the country knows, of one overshadowing reason why it should not be revised."

He then refers to the financial and industrial crisis, attributes it in part to "the apprehension of still greater disaster and stagnation which would follow a revision of the tariff," and says:

"Shall this apprehension be justified and intensified by persistence in a policy of tariff revision which rests for support solely upon the discredited theory that the tariff is a tax, and which would encourage the importation of manufactured commodities that can be produced at home?"

Such cheek! Such a statement can come only from a man insured by thirty years of protection to bluffing the people out of their own. No revision, because, if foolish, Mr. Swank's friends, the republicans, looted the treasury to prevent a reduction of duties and to compel the country to submit to McKinleyism for the rest of this century? No revision, because our Constitution may be found to sanction paternalism—by the protected manufacturers we suppose? No revision, because prices are lower than ever before? No revision, because wages are higher than ever before? No revision because the theory that the tariff is a tax has been discredited? When, where and by whom? No revision, because the present crisis is due to an apprehension of tariff reduction? Holy smoke? Mr. Swank should appear before a lunacy and not a tariff commission. Much tariff has made him mad.

It is not a question of whether prices are lower now than formerly. It is a question of whether or not they are as low here as abroad. The wage earner is entitled to the low prices. He should be permitted to obtain the most possible for his wages. It is not possible to increase wages by placing duties on goods; it is possible to increase the purchasing power of wages by taking duties off of goods. This is the democratic party in pledged to do, and this it will do, and this it will do if it has to make good a considerable deficiency of revenue by taxing the incomes of those who have grown rich by means of protection spoils.

Must the Ways and Means Committee spend fourteen days listing to the ravings of such men as this one? Must its intelligence be insulted by such statements from supremely selfish products of our protective system? Where do the farmer, laborer and mechanics come? Will there be before this committee no representation of the 67,000,000 consumers who have been taxed for thirty years to produce these fine specimens of plutocrats and empty-headed autocrats?—American Industries.

ROAD MAKING.

The Present System of Highway Repairing is Labor Thrown Away.

As a general thing, the country roads on this continent have been so badly located that to build costly pavements upon the present lines and previously provide elaborate systems of drainage would be a dreadful waste of money. As it is ordinarily beyond the means of country people to do more than improve the present condition of their roads, this is the task that they should undertake as soon as possible.

In beginning such a task, the first step to be taken, in my opinion, is to stop doing that which has generally been the custom of this country—that is working the roads. Working the roads, as it is usually practiced in this country, consists in calling out in each road district a gang of men who "work out" their tax under an overseer elected by the people. The labor done is worse than thrown away, for it is rare indeed for either the overseer or the men under him to have any clear comprehension of what is needed.

Fortunately for the well being of our roads, these men do not work very hard, but rather chose to regard the few days on the road as a kind of holiday outing, a picnic frolic, and a means of getting rid of a certain amount of tax. If they really worked with all their might, they would make the roads almost as impassable in the summer as they are in the winter and early spring. With some kind of a glimmering idea that ditches on each side of a road are good to have, they plow up these ditches, together with the sod that grows down into them, and pile all of this muck in the middle of the road.

The material, it may be said, has a most excellent fertilizing value, and if it were put upon the fields instead of in the roads it would amply repay the farmers who carted it away. But in the roads it is a sad and an immediate hindrance to travel. Luckily the friendly spring rains usually wash it back into the ditches, where it stays until there is some more tax to be "worked out." When these rains are not sufficient to wash away these impediments that have been deliberately placed in the roads, the consequences are very dusty roads during all the dry season.

In some neighborhoods a little more ambitious than those generally to be found they mend the roads by placing gravel and broken stone upon them. Then the overseers say they are macadamizing the roads. Without thoroughly draining the roadbed, to put either broken stone or gravel upon it is nearly a waste of money and labor, and the ambitious neighborhoods so doing prove in the end no wiser than those who cover their roads with muck. But it is within the means of every neighborhood in the United States to materially improve their roads at once—improve them so much that where the traffic is not extremely heavy and continuous the roads will be in tolerable order nine months in the year and very much better than at present, even when the frost is coming out of the ground at the beginning of spring. And this can be done in three or four or five years without spending one cent more than is now spent in the hurtful methods mentioned.—Harper's Weekly.

"Only the Scars Remain,"

Says HENRY HUDSON, of the James Smith Woolen Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., who certifies as follows:

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., none impress me more than my own case. Twenty years ago, at the age of 15 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."

Mother Urged Me

A Queer Letter.

RUNNING A HOTEL

How a Society Woman Was Forced Into a Working Position.

There is a well-known society woman in Buffalo—one feels like apologizing for that term, but what else can one say of a woman who really is widely known as one of the most delightful women that has ever graced American society—who has just taken the housekeeper's charge of a hotel. It happened in this way: One of the best-known hotels in this city belongs to the family estate, and, although in the hands of a proprietor, receives the general oversight of the owners. A few days ago hasty word was sent up to the home of the family, early in the morning, that the proprietor had decamped in the night, and, worse yet, had carried all the provender with him. There were two hundred guests in the house who would have to be fed, and somebody would have to take the helm immediately. Now, this very charming woman had taken the helm of many enterprises before, but never one of just this magnitude. Down to the hotel she marched, however, went into consultation with the steward, gave him an order on the grocery stores for the necessary articles of food, and when the first guest came down to his breakfast he never suspected that it had been set before him through the efficiency of one of the most prominent women in Buffalo society. No one else appeared to take up the household management of the hostelry. This woman had the leisure of the unmarried woman, and so she has gone on with the work. What before was the duty of the proprietor—the general management of affairs—now falls upon her. While she does not expect to take up hotel-keeping as a profession, she is still at it, and successfully at it, and the Buffalonians are all flocking to the hotel to eat dainty viands that are set forth with one of their most delightful women as caterer.—N. Y. Even'g Sun.

THE FLINT & PERE MARQUETTE RAIL AND WATER LINES offer the public a way to reach Chicago, that for comfort, far surpasses the all rail lines, to say nothing of the difference of fare in its favor, an item well worthy of consideration.

Passengers are landed in Chicago in the morning after a night's refreshing and invigorating rest in a commodious state room in a first-class steamship. The experienced traveler need not be told of the advantages of a rail and boat route, for summer travel, over the all rail route with its crowded, dusty sleeping cars, and very little thought on the part of the traveler, will convince him of the same. Ask your local ticket agent for rates and time of trains.

Spencer O. Fisher, of West Bay City, talks of buying the Idaho state building at the world's fair.

The Polish catholic people of Cheboygan propose erecting a church next year on a site which they have purchased.

Henry Stevens & Co.'s mill at St. Helens closed operations last Wednesday and will not be started up again. The mill will be sold or removed.

The members of the Oscoda fire department are accused of starting incendiary fires for the sake of making $2.00 a piece by putting them out, so says the Press.

This is the season of the year to think of securing your winters reading. Remember that we are prepared to receive subscriptions for any and all newspapers and magazines.

Judge John A. Edzet has forwarded his resignations as judge of the Saginaw circuit to Gov. Rich, to make immediate effect. His term would have expired January 1 next.

Alger Smith & Co. have recently placed on record a deed for 4720 acres of timbered land in Montmorency Co. purchased from Thos. Stokes of New York. Price, $22,000.—Harrisville Review.

An Alpena jury in the case of Lena Helgenson, the girl who died under suspicious circumstances Wednesday, returned a verdict of death by malpractice. Deceased having taken drugs administered by some person unknown.

W. L. Hawkins, is building a new mill at Vaughan Station on the A. S. & N. W. R. R. which mill will have a capacity of about 25,000 feet per day. There is a deal on whereby if it is consummated Selig Solomon will have 2,000,000 feet of lumber out at this mill.

The men employed by Morrill Bros. in their sawmill at Killmaster have not received their wages and the lumber piled in the yard has been seized to satisfy claims aggregating $400.00. The writs are returnable Oct. 13 before Justice McClatchey.—Alcona County Review.

The most pitiful thing at a church social says the Manosoma Herald is to see an old girl who has been laboring for the Lord for years, and who has perhaps baked most of the cake for the occasion slip over to one of the tables and eat alone—no personalities intended.

William Hicks, of Saginaw, came home from church, went out to the barn, and was afterward found insensible on the floor. There were marks on his face which looked as if made by a club and it was at first thought he had met foul play, but the doctor is now of the opinion that he must have been kicked by the horse.

On account of close times this summer the French Lumber Co.'s plan to put up a shingle mill at Rose City which was to be done early in the season, was not projected. We understand that they have now made up their minds to build this fall, and will commence the construction of the same next month, and be prepared to cut shingles this winter.—West Branch Herald-Times.

John Smith, a former filer in the Potts mill at Au Sable, who is now at Ogemaw, Ark., with J. E. Potts, represents people in that section as being in a desperate plight financially. The men are getting but little work and no money. All would leave if they could get money to get away. Mr. Smith says he tried to dispose of store orders for 25 cents on the dollar in order to get $10 to go to St. Charles, La., with but could not do it.—Times Press.

The village of Rondo just now is experiencing a little boom of its own. Kudner & McCarty, of Lapeer, who recently leased the saw mill at that place from M. S. Osgood, last week put in a crew of men getting out hardwood to stock the mill. They calculate on getting out four or five million feet and the mill which will cut from 75,000 to 100,000 feet of lumber per day, will start up about the first of next February and run the year around.

Cadillac News and Express: A Grand Rapids man who had grown weary of the world committed suicide one day this week, and left a letter to his friends explaining his deplorable deed. One pathetic request appended to the letter was this: "Tell Nellie to get a shirt that fits me." The burden of that position has been repeated from generation of men since shirts first were added to the trials and troubles of humanity.

It throws a mediaval glamour of romance about the upper lake regions says the Free Press, to have them haunted by a pirate crew that plunders the coast and then glides away in safety to plot another excursion, but from a practical point of view the crew which should fly a red flag and fit about in a rakish craft with a black hull is a nuisance and a menace which the authorities should sink or capture, to the end of giving the pirates honest work in the institutions dedicated to this method of reformation.—Cheboygan News

Dr. S. D. Rhodes, who came to this city from Detroit last week and made the discovery that his office in the Bank block had been ransacked, and caused the arrest of a boy named Gus Hibbard, has turned up very suddenly missing. It is said he stepped into Dr. Maxon's office Sunday night and bade him good bye, with the remark that he was going to Mexico. To the chief of police Dr. Rhodes said he was going to stay in this city and open his office. The boy Hibbard will now be released as Dr. Rhodes was the complaining witness.—Bay City Times-Press.

Conductor John Sweeney runs on the Mackinac division on the Michigan Central. He saw a dog in a second-class coach. He insisted that the owner take the brute into the baggage car. As he did so the animal jumped up at him in the most affectionate manner possible, and every time the conductor came near he did the same thing. In the baggage car he chewed his rope freed himself and again saluted Mr. Sweeney. The conductor took a square look at the animal: it was his own. The passenger, it seems, had stolen him.—Evening News.

Beaverton, up in Gladwin county, is having a terrible time over mormons. People seem to think the harmless latter-day saints are going to enact a Mountain Meadow massacre and keep about 100 wives apiece. A preacher electrified a school house full of people with furious philippics against the mormons. He exposed their "heretical" teachings, and gave their "awful grips and pass words." Finally a saint came into the room to answer the elder. A categorical question was fired at the poor man, and because he wanted to explain his voice was drowned with hisses, in which "throw him out," and "oh, get out, you mormon," were frequently heard.—Evening News.

Archibald Currier, the 16-year-old son of J. L. Currier, of Alpena, died on board the steamer City of Mackinac Tuesday morning while the boat was enits way up. The young man had been visiting his grand parents at Windsor and while there took sick with typhoid fever. He had improved so far that it was thought he could be taken home. On the way up however he had a relapse and died before reaching Port Huron. The boat remained there long enough to have the body prepared for burial, after which it was taken to Alpena.

In the Cheboygan circuit court last week A. P. McKinnon and T. W. Burrell secured a judgement against S. G. M. Gates, of Bay City, for $2,319.04. McKinnon and Burrell, who deal in pine on commission, secured an option on about 9,000,000 feet of pine logs in Canada, on the Spanish river and turned over the option to Mr. Gates, as the jury found an argeement for 3 per cent commission. Gates bought the logs upon the condition that he was orly to pay for so many as should be delivered by a certain time, the balance to remain the property of the sellers. The logs were subsequently hung up and only about 600,000 delivered. Upon the trial defendant claimed that he was not liable to pay any commission as he had made contract of purchase different from that provided for in the operating; and futher that if liable all, he was only liable to the extent of the 600,000 feet actually bought and paid for. Judge Palthrop held that Mr. Gates having made the change in the contract without the knowledge or consent of the plaintiffs, the recovery, if any, must be for commissions on the entire 9,000,000 feet covered by the option, and so instructed the jury.—Bay City Tribune.
