agreeable to take, and as they contain no

Milo E. Marsh, of Lansing, the Michigan State agent of the department of agriculture, reports that a new potato pest has appeared in Michigan, viz. a small black bug which penetrates the stalk at the root, eating up until the tops are killed.
Fields have been totally destroyed by this insect, and should they multiply as rapidly as the Colorado bug they will create havoc next year, their destruction being very difficult, as they enter the stalk from under the ground.—Ex.

The Michigan agricultural and forestry exhibits at the world's fair will be brought to the agricultural college after the fair closes. The people of the state of Michigan ought to feel proud of the fact that the Michigan agricultural exhibit has taken more than twice as many premiums as any other state exhibit, and also that it will be placed on exhibition at the state school, where the Michigan people can come and look upon it many times in the future.

The next examination for state teachers' certificates will take place at Lansing Dec. 26, 27, 28 and 29. The examination will cover the following branches: Rhetoric, literature, penmanship, orthography, U. S. history, chemistry, theory and art of teaching, civil government, school law, general history, algebra, geometry, geography, zoology, physiology, physics, arithmetic, botany, grammar and geology. The minimum standing in any branch is seventy-five per cent.

The Pastor of the M. E. church will preach a five minute sermon to children every Sunday morning and invites the children to come early and take the front seats. Children's text: "Take us the little foxes, the little foxes spoil our vines, for our vines have tender plants." Morning text: "Being dead yet speaketh." Evening text, "For whosoever hath to him shall have more abundances, but whosoever hath not from him shall be taking away even that which he hath."

A merchant who lately failed at Escanaba was the subject of a queer run. He was buying his goods mainly from a Chicago wholesaler who took an Escanaba paper. The merchant had been a liberal advertiser, but "on account of the hard times," had withdrawn all his ads, from the local papers. The Chicago firm noticed this, and accepting this as a sign of "weakness," refused him further credit without gilt-edge security. This became known to creditors, and he was pushed to the wall. We give this as told us by an Escanaba man in this city last evening.—Ex.

The fifth annual convention of the Iosco county Sunday school association, will be held in the Presbyterian church, Au Sable, on Tuesday, October 31st and Wednesday, November 1st. Topics on Sunday school work will be discussed by the various ministers and teachers of the county. Entertainment will be provided by friends at Au Sable for anyone coming from a distance. All Sunday school teachers and friends of the county are cordially invited to be present and take part.

REV. A. C. KAY, Sec'y.

Next Sunday is Prison Sunday, and the state board of correction and charities of Michigan has requested that special services be held in all churches, and that crime and its causes, the reformation of criminals and the restoration of unfortunate to society be discussed from a Metaphysical and religious stand point, to the end that the public may know what is meant by "prison reform." Such services will be held in the Congregational church in this village, and Rev. Schermerhorn will deliver a lecture on the above topics Sunday evening. A cordial invitation is extended to every class and sect to attend and hear the lecture.

Many people will be interested in the new Bay View Reading Circle, and it would be a good move to have one organized here. It counts among its promoters and directors Bishop W. X.
Ninde, Pres. J. M. Coulter, Dr. P. S.
Henson, Pres. J. W. Bashford, Mrs.
Margaret E. Sangster, and Pres. W. G.
Ballantine, and is neither sectarian nor sectional. The circle has a short, well planned and low priced course of systematic and useful reading. The entire expense of one year for the books, magazines, membership, etc., is only $2.50.
Such a course would be much better than the aimless and haphazard reading of others. It will aid many aspiring young people to fit themselves for large usefulness and enjoyment, and besides, make provision a most delightful winter.
Those interested can obtain circulars, giving full information, by addressing J.
M. HALL, Flint, Mich.

Our dollar and fifty cents will secure the HERALD to all new subscribers from now until Jan. 1. 1894.

Neglect of the hair often destroys its vitality and natural hue, and causes it to fall out. Before it is to late apply Hall's Hair Renewer, a sure remedy.

THE silver question involves individual opinion only and is in no sense a political party question. Some people seem to overlook this in discussing it.

LAST Tuesday the Supreme court declared the municipal suffrage law to be unconstitutional. The opinion was written by Justice McGrath and unanimously concurred in.

NEXT Tuesday is the closing day of the great Columbian Exposition, and arrangements are being made to make the closing ceremonies even more gorgeous than the opening if such a thing is possible.

MARSHAL H. GODFREY's opening meeting of the Detroit municipal campaign, held at the Auditorium Monday evening, tends to make Mayor Pingree and his henchmen feel the fall breezes in an unpleasant manner.

THE democratic congress fully realizes, unless all our information is wrong that one of the issues—the principal one in fact—upon which it was elected was tariff reform. Therefore it is but a waste of time to say "let the tariff alone."

REPUBLICAN criticism of Postmaster General Bissell because he recently said that one-cent letter postage was out of the question for several years is very unjust in view of the fact that it was republican extravagance in public expenditures that put it out of the question.

THE republican senators must want the earth. Their complaints because they were not allowed to say what should be done in the senate are simply ridiculous. How many times did they ever consult the democrats when a majority of the senate were republicans? If the people had desired the republicans to shape National legislation they would not have elected so many democrats to the senate and house.

THE Weadock bill providing for the creation of two divisions of the eastern judicial district of the state of Michigan passed the House Saturday and is now before Senate. There seems no doubt that the measure will pass the Senate and become a law. This bill provides for the holding of semi-annual terms of court at Bay City and for creating the northern half of the eastern district a division similar to the existing northern division of the western judicial district.

"THE tariff will stand no monkeying at the hands of the democratic party," shrieks a short-sighted republican exchange. That's what's the matter with Hannah! The democrats do not propose to monkey with it. They won't raise a hand to it—they'll take a club to it when the time comes and see if something can't be done to convince some people very forcibly that the tariff has been a tax. No monkeying goes; that's correct.—Menominee Democrat.

THE Saginaw Courier-Herald has the cheek to intimate that it is the fear of the tariff revision of lumber that has resulted in the prospects of little lumbering and small wages this winter. The Courier-Herald knows it lies in making this statement, but that has little to do with hidebound organ. The poor outlook for lumbering and wages, this winter is due to the fact that there is no money to do business with, and with wheat at 40 to 50 cents a bushel out west farmers are not in a position to use lumber, and the growth of cities and towns is stopped. The repeal of the duty on lumber would have no effect on the lumber business, either in price or wages.—Cheboygan Democrat

THE time to revise the tariff is now. Never were the stocks of manufactured goods so low. The people have been expecting a revision of the tariff. Manufacturers have expected that the tariff on raw materials would be reduced, hence they have let their socks run low. Many of the manufacturers make bold to say—take the tariff off of the material that goes into our manufactured product and we will take our chances with the world. Now is the time to revise the tariff and the democrats who opposed it should get right over into the party where they belong. What have we been making the fight for.—Kalamazoo Gazette.

CONGRESSMAN WEADOCK is putting fourth his best efforts to have some of the republican federal office holders of the tenth district removed. This is as it should be. There are several republicans through the district who are holding office who are offensive partisans of the worst type. They are men who have neglected the duties of their office to conduct campaigns, and should have been removed months ago. Some of them were placed in office, and never devoted any time whatever to the duties of the same. While Mr. Weadock is receiving considerable abuse from the republican press for his work in this direction, fair minded men of both parties know that his work is in the interest of his constituents and respect him the more for the stand he has taken.

THAT was a knock-out blow which Gov. McKinley, while taking at Zanesville, received from the gray-haired veteran and republican who did service for the urion in the Governor's regiment. One of the little major's stock arguments all through the campaign has been that the foreigner pays the tax under our high protective system. When the veteran asked, if this were the case, why the McKinley bill provides for the payment of some $12,000,000 to the 1,300 sugar planters of Louisiana, in lieu of the tariff tax removed, the high priest of protection was completely floored and the gallant crowd of partisans assembled to cheer the little Governor could only cry to put the old man out. He had McKinley so tight that he could not so much as wriggle.—Free Press.

Graduation in Income Taxes.

Recent Washington dispatches indicate very clearly that the project of an income tax is likely to command a much strong support, both in the Ways and Means Committee and the House, than has been expected.

Properly adjusted, an income tax is an ideal revenue measure. It taxes wealth and consumption, accumulation instead of industry.

The suggestion of Mr. Whiting of the Ways and Means Committee, however, if embodied in law, would seriously impair both the productiveness and the ideal justice of the tax. It is his plan to impose the tax at a fixed percentage upon all incomes over $2,000, making the rate no heavier upon a great than upon a small income.

But the graduation of rate is of the essence of an income tax, a part of the fundamental idea upon which the tax rests—namely, that men should be taxed according to their ability to pay.

A levy of 5 per cent, would mean two very different things to the man with an income of $2,500, and the man with one of $50,000. To the one its payment would involve some deprivation of the ordinary comforts and necessities of life; to the other it would not involve even the sacrifice of luxury, but would mean only some small reduction in annual accumulation. Such a tax would be grossly unfair as a distribution of public burdens and very unsatisfactory as a source of revenue.

An income tax should bear very lightly upon small incomes and more and more heavily as incomes become larger and able to bear it. That principle is accepted wherever the income tax is a scientific system. It is that principle which exempts very small incomes from all taxation. It is right and just and expedient.—N. Y. World.

Wheat Experiments.

In giving the results of the experiments in wheat for the past year at the Kansas Station, the meagreness of the list of experiments is explained by the winter-killing from which most of the varieties which were being tested suffered.

One peculiar feature of the winter-killing was the fact that the wheat seemed to suffer most where it had the best covering of snow. In the middle of the fields and in unprotected places, where in ordinary seasons the wheat suffers most from the cold, it withstood it the best; but all around the fences, in the corners or in protected situations, where the snow was deepest and remained the longest, there the wheat suffered most.

The early-ploughed wheat gave the best yield. This experience coincides with that of practical wheat-growers generally. Among the varieties tested were thirty-five Australian kinds, all of which, however, were winter-killed.—N. Y. World.

Making the Farm Pay.

In spite of the general depression and low price for farm products, some farmers manage to hold their heads above water and even put by a little for a rainy day. How they contrive to do this is a wonder to their neighbors who are not close observers. The question is, however easily answered. There are no leaks on those farms. If a field will not raise a satisfactory crop of wheat some other crop is tried on it until a yield is obtained which will pay expenses.

These farmers go over their stock at this season and cull out all that are undesirable. The poor milker, the unpromising calves, the inferior pigs, the nonlaying hens add the superfluous males of all kinds are separated from the rest of the stock and fed systematically for market.

The stock which are to be kept are fed a suitable ration, which will prepare them to resist the cold of winter. Their quarters are cleaned out and made ready so as to lessen the discomforts of the weather as far as possible. The prudent farmer has learned that if his stock be properly sheltered and cared for the cost of feeding will be considerably lessened.

Farm implements are put away when no longer needed, instead of being left to rust in the fields. Fences are repaired at once, so that all injury to or by the stock is prevented. In short the leaks are stopped. The farmer has applied to his work the same rules and principles by which the merchant and the manufacturer are guided in their business, and he reaps his reward. He makes his farm pay.—N. Y. World.

S. P. SMITH, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes:

"For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 129 pounds; I now can brag of 159 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."
