Judge John A. Edget, late of the Saginaw circuit bench, died at Oak Grove retreat in Flint at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, aged 44 years. The immediate cause of death was pneumonia, although he had been in failing health for some time. He had been under treatment at Flint for about three months.

The Bay County Ministerial Association, at its regular meeting Monday, decided to ask Dr. Chapman not to come there to hold a revival in November, as was at first intended, but to wait until later. The extra work of the pastors consequent upon the recent Munhall meetings is the cause of the postponement.

Duluth lumbermen are beginning to make large sales for water delivery in the east this spring, and at prices at least $1 better than last fall. Careful and profitable work is being done at the Michigan School for the Blind at Lansing, and every blind child or child so nearly blind as to be unable to receive instruction in the public schools should be there if possible. Died, at Duluth, on Friday, Feb. 9, 1894, of pneumonia, Miss Sarah McMullen, aged 28 years. The deceased was a daughter of Wm. McMillen, of Tawas township, and well known hereabouts, where she taught school for several years. She went to Duluth about six years ago, and for the past four years has held a responsible position with the Western Union Telegraph Co. The remains were brought here for burial, and the funeral services conducted at the M. E. church, by Rev. A. C. Kay, yesterday afternoon. The remains were accompanied by her brothers, Jehn and William, and her sister, Mrs. Anna Smith, all of Duluth. George, another brother, from Alpena was also present at the funeral.

George W. Robinson passed from this life, at the home of his sister, Mrs. T. P. Cox, in this village, at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, February 13, 1894, aged twenty-five years and seven months. For the past year George has been a great sufferer from that dread disease, consumption and has spent a large portion of the time traveling through the west and south, hoping that a change of climate would be beneficial to his health. He returned from Florida a few weeks since fully realizing that his recovery was impossible, from which time he was a patient sufferer to the end. The deceased was well known in this county having lived here since early boyhood, and leaves a large circle of relatives and friends who sincerely mourn his early death. The funeral services will be held from the East Tawas M. E. church at 2 o'clock next Sunday afternoon, and will be under the direction of the F. & A. M. Reverends C. T. Jack, A. C. Kay, R. L. Cope and P. Schermerhorn will officiate.

It is not generally known what a vast plant it requires to publish and circulate a metropolitan newspaper. The Chicago Inter Ocean has in its circulating department alone nearly one hundred men and women, not to mention the carriers who deliver the paper to all parts of the city before breakfast in the morning. It may be mentioned that no kind of weather, however severe, is permitted to interfere with this delivery in anyway. Of this large force about one-half work through the day at ordinary office and clerical work and the other half begin late at night and work until about daylight, preparing and addressing the wrappers, counting and wrapping the papers, "routing" and mailing the bundles. Their work is of the most difficult nature and is done in the quickest possible manner, and yet so well it is done that it seldom happens that a single bundle or paper of its immense edition of nearly 100,000 reaches its destination on other time, unless delayed by accident. The system is wonderful and its operation almost perfect.

SENATOR VORHEES says: "You may depend upon one thing. What ever is done with the Wilson bill by the senate and finance committee, no changes will be made that will help any trusts."

Why are our republicans friends so opposed to the Wilson bill, if it is to be the death knell of the democratic party? If we were of the opinion that a certain thing was going to be the cause of the down fall of an opponent whom we were trying to defeat, we would not oppose it. The facts of the case are the death knell is on the other side of the house and our opponents know it.

Among the articles too highly protected, and so high that the duties are prohibitory, are steel rails and rolled iron, steel beams and all structural iron. The steel rail trusts and the Carnegie steel beam and structural iron trusts are so highly protected that none of these products are imported into this country. This permits these trusts to advance the price of their products by nearly the amount of the tariff and force the consumers to pay tribute to them. They are practically given a monopoly of making steel rails and beams and pay no revenue for the privilege. This tribute the Wilson bill removes, by displacing the prohibitive taxes by renewing duties.—Bay City Times-Press.

COMMISSIONER of the State Land Office Berry, a member of the board that did that wonderful canvassing, endeavors to put all the blame on to Jochim and Hambitzer, by declaring that he did not attend the session of the canvassing board, was in Ohio at the time the board met, and merely signed the report when he returned, accepting the statement of Jochim and Hambitzer that it was correct. To this the Lansing Journal responds that the statement sounds a trifle queer in view of the fact that the records of the board of auditors (the same three) show that a voucher was issued to him for attendance at that meeting of the board and adds: "If Mr. Berry drew pay for the meeting, why wasn't he there? If he wasn't there, why did he draw pay for his services.—Free Press.

The relief committee report that of the 5,447 persons who have received aid in Gogebic county up to the present time, 1,011 are Scandinavians, 838 English, 742 Finns, 702 Irish, 626 Poles, 391 Germans, 383 Bohemians, 254 Italians, 251 French.

Remember that this destitution exists among the workmen employed in one of the industries most highly protected by the McKinley tariff law, and also remember that the "American workingmen" who are the one supposed to get work from protected industries is an unknown quantity. In other words, protected industries do not employ Americans, but the cheapest pauper labor imported from the old world. And moreover the workmen who are actually employed in the protected industries receive such pauper wages that they are wholly dependent on charity the moment they are out of work.—Petoskey Democrat,

A BURDENSOME TAX.

What is free trade?

It is the right to exchange goods, wares and merchandise—all products of labor—with others, without being taxed on what you buy or sell.

Isn't that a natural right?

Certainly.

Why is it denied?

In order to collect revenue for the government and to pay indirect bounties to persons, firms and corporations engaged in certain kinds of business.

What is a revenue tariff?

Where duties are levied on goods for no other purposes than to support the government. This is a tariff for revenue only.

What is protective tariff?

When duties are imposed, not for public revenue, but for private gain, and to give persons engaged in certain favored industries a monopoly of the home market and higher prices for their products.

You regard tariff as a tax?

Most assuredly, and whether levied for revenue or protection, the tax is always paid by consumers of the taxed and protected articles.

But the public never see a tax-collector?

Of course not, as the tax, whether for revenue or protection, is always concealed in the price of the goods sold to consumers.

How do you make that out?

For example, goods are imported that cost one thousand dollars. At the custom house the wholesale merchant pays a tax of five hundred dollars on them. The goods have then cost him fifteen hundred dollars. He adds the same profit on the tax money as on the purchase money in selling to the retail merchant, and the retailer does the same thing, so that often the goods that cost only a thousand dollars in the first place are sold to the consumers for fully twenty-five hundred dollars.

Can you make this plainer?

We can try: First cost of goods, $1,000; tariff tax at custom house $500—total cost, $1,500; wholesale profit at 20 per cent, $300—total, $1,800; retail profit at 40 per cent, $720—total cost of goods to consumers, $2,520.

Isn't that a rousing tax?

Of course it is. The wholesale merchant, in effect, advances $500 in taxes for the consumers, who pay about 60 per cent, on the tax money, or $300, making $800 in all, every cent of which is concealed in the price of the goods. It is equivalent to 60 per cent interest on borrowed money.

Plainly, then, the tariff is a tax?

Yes, and the most burdensome, cruel oppressive and unjust system of taxation ever devised by the wit of men. It is not levied upon property, wealth or ability to pay, but solely upon consumption.

How did the system originate?

By pirates levying tribute upon ships and commerce at the cannon's mouth, and then it was enacted into law, because in that way it plunders people without their knowing it.

You think, then, that free trade is best?

Beyond question it would be better for everybody except the protected monopolists; for then the mass of the people would exchange products, what they have for what they want, without being taxed on what they buy or sell.

Thank you.

Good day, and remember the tariff, whenever it furnishes revenue or protection, is a very burdensome tax.—Jackson Patriot.

CROP REPORT.

The following crop report was issued by the Secretary of State Feb. 3, 1894:

The weather during January was variable but not severe. The ground in the southern and central counties was bare from about the 25th of December until about the same date in January. On the 23d, 24th and 25th of January it snowed generally throughout the state and covered the ground to depths varying from lightly to several inches. The average depth of snow in the southern counties on the 31st of January, was about 4 inches; in the central counties, 5 1/2 inches; and in the northern, 7 inches. The average on the 15th of January in the northern counties was over 5 inches. Correspondents are about evenly divided as to whether or not wheat has been injured at all during the month. At this date, February 8, the weather is warm with indications that the snow, in the southern part of the State at least, will all be melted off.

The total number of bushels of wheat reported marked by farmers in January, is 1,350,601, and in the six months, August-January, 9,249,636, which is 107,108 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year. At twenty-six elevators and mills from which reports have been received, there was no wheat marketed during the month.

The condition of live stock averages not quite so high as one year ago. The figures range from 93 to 97 per cent, comparison being with stock in good, healthy and thrifty condition.

WITHOUT THE

BOW (RING)

It is easy to steal or ring watches from the pocket. The thief gets the watch in one hand, the chain in the other and gives a short, quick jerk—the ring slips off the watch stem, and away goes the watch, leaving the victim only the chain.

This idea stopped that little game:

The bow has a groove on each end. A collar runs down inside the pendant (stem) and fits into the grooves, firmly locking the bow to the pendant, so that it cannot be pulled or twisted off.

Sold by all watch dealers, without cost, on Jas. Boss Filled and other cases containing this trade mark—

M. MURPHY.

Taken From the Jury.

The case of Prof. J. E. McDonald vs. School District No. 7, Tawas, occupied the attention of the circuit court Thursday and a portion of Friday. After hearing the testimony Judge Simpson took the case from the jury, and decided it on the points of law, against Prof. McDonald. This case is pretty thoroughly understood by our citizens and a review of it is not necessary at this time. The School District offering no testimony whatever and the court dismissing the case after plaintiff had rested his case, the following being his finding:

I don't see anything in this case for the jury. He is either entitled to this money, or he isn't, without any question of dispute. I am inclined, under the law, to believe that the action of the school board making this contract, was void. Their tendering to him the school as a board of course must be considered upon the understanding that he is qualified. I am satisfied that the contract was not made until sometime about the 10th of July; and that he had no certificate at all, and I think that there is no suspension about it; I think that it was void at its inception because I think the board are forbidden to make a contract with disqualified teachers,—by that I mean a teacher that has no certificate. Consequently I am inclined to think, because it is void it never could be ratified.

In fact, I think there is no ratification that could be made. I think the only person to blame in this case is Mr. McDonald himself. I think the situation is of his own fault. He has not done anything under the situation; he has not performed any services, and consequently the equitable question is out of the case. I think at the time this contract was made, he was not such a person, under the law that the board could make a contract with. I think when the new board came in it had nothing to take notice of, so setting the question as to whether the certificate that he afterwards received, would have been void by reason or not submitting himself and undergoing the examination provided by law, I say, throwing that out entirely, and supposing it to be a valid certificate, I think he is in default in not complying with the law in regard to that. I think it was his duty to send a certified copy to Mr. Kay and have him file it and keep it; I think that the statute makes that requirement, and with Mr. Kay particularly, or the School Commissioner of the county, to show that he is qualified. Probably it is for that purpose also, but I think it is more particularly notice to the School Boards that such a person is qualified, so they will know how to make a contract. This he failed to do. I don't think he complied with the law until about the 21st of September, as that was the first time that he had offered the certified copy and at that time it should have borne the endorsement of the State Sup. of Public Instruction, and I think that the amendment applies to all certificates that are not filed, so that I think if the new board saw fit to hire a teacher, it had nothing in the county directly to notify them that this man McDonald was qualified. In fact, I think that the records of certificates in this county were to the effect that he was not a qualified teacher. I think under the provisions of that statute, when a school district board should go and ask the Commissioner if he has issued a certificate to such a man, and he says he has not, and when they ask him if he has on file a certified copy issued by another commissioner, and he denies knowledge of it, I think that Board is right in saying that he is disqualified, and even if they had made a contract with him, I think they would have a perfect right to rescind it and hire another teacher. I think in this matter Mr. McDonald is the only one really in fault; he has not performed any services, and I think the question of equity is out of the case, and for that reason I think as the case stands now, there is nothing for the jury. I think it is purely a legal question, and if I am wrong I can't place the record in better shape than to say he cannot recover. If the statute is for any purpose it seems to me, it is just for such a purpose as this, I think the requirements of examinations and certificates and qualifications of teachers is the most vital thing in the statute. I think it is a rule that is created by the statute to make persons authorized to teach the public school of this state undergo certain requirements of the law, and I think it is a just rule of the statute; and, I think in this case it has been violated. I don't see anything to the contrary, and so I shall direct a verdict from this jury of no cause of action. That will be your verdict, Gentlemen of the jury, and you are excused from any further consideration of this case.

A Racking Cough

Cured by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Mrs. P. D. HALL, 217 Genesee St., Lockport, N. Y., says:

"Over thirty years ago, I remember hearing my father describe the wonderful curative effects of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. During a recent attack of La Grippe, which assumed the form of a catarrh, soreness of the lungs, accompanied by an aggravating cough, I used various remedies and prescriptions. While some of these medicines partially alleviated the coughing during the day, none of them afforded me any relief from that spasmodic action of the lungs which would seize me the moment I attempted to lie down at night. After ten or twelve such nights, I was and had about decided to sit up all night in my easy chair, and procure what sleep I could in that way. It then occurred to me that I had a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I took a spoonful of this preparation in a little water, and was able to lie down without coughing. In a few moments, I fell asleep, and awoke in the morning greatly refreshed and feeling much better. I took a teaspoonful of the Pectoral every night for a week, then gradually decreased the dose, and in two weeks my cough was cured."

Anderson, administratrix of the estate of Wm. Anderson, deceased, was awarded $5,000 damages against the Michigan Central railroad in the Bay county circuit court Saturday. Anderson was an employe of the railroad, and was killed while on duty in a wreck on the Vanderbilt branch in 1890. His widow began suit against the company, claiming that the accident was due to the breaking of a defective rail and that the company was negligent in permitting it to remain in place. The trial occupied one day, and was quickly settled by the jury.
