CHURCH NEWS.

Religion is man's groping through the darkness to God.

There are thirty-one Methodist deaconess homes in this country.

Adversity borrows its sharpest sting from our impatience.—Bishop Horne.

Resignation is putting God between one's self and one's grief.—Mme Sweet-chine.

A man of integrity will not listen to any plea against conscience.—Horne.

Other men's sins are before our eyes; our own behind our backs.—Seneca.

Men are born to be serviceable to one another; therefore either reform the world or bear with it.—Marcus Aurelius.

The misfortune that the stimulant used to attract at first must be not only continued, but heightened to keep up the attraction.—Hannah More.

Home is the chief school of human virtue; fears, responsibility, joys, sorrows, smiles, tears, hopes and solitudes form the chief interests of human life.

Find your niche, and fill it. If it be ever so little, if it is only to be hewer of wood or drawer of water, do something in this great battle for God and truth.—Spurgeon.

"Deeds, not words," is my motto. Remember, we can judge better by the conduct of people towards others than by their manners towards ourselves.—Maria Edgeworth.

The apostle calls love the bond of perfection; it is the old, and it is the new; it is the great Commandment, and it is all the Commandments; for it is the fulfilling of the law.—Jeremy Taylor.

School teachers professors the Catholic religion have been barred out of the public schools of Kansas City, Kan., the School Board of that town being evidently ignorant of the fact that Protestant bigotry is quite as objectionable as Catholic bigotry.

The Board of the American Baptist Publication Society has appointed the Rev. A. J. Rowland, D. D., Secretary, O. W. Spratt, esq., Business Manager, to visit England, Germany and Sweden, with a view to securing a larger outlet for its publications.

A ladies' sewing society connected with a church in Brooklyn intended holding a fair and disposing of some of their goods by a lottery. Objection being raised on the ground that such a lottery would be an infraction of the law, the pastor of the church asked advice of Mr. George A. Elliott council for the Law Enforcement Society, who promptly gave his opinion against the lottery. The law of the State of New York does not countenance these makeshifts for filling the church treasury.—N. Y. World.

Resolutions of Respect.

The following resolutions were passed by Baldwin Tent No. 22, K. O. T. M.:

WHEREAS, it has passed the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, in his infinite wisdom, to remove from this earthly abode the beloved and respected wife of our esteemed and worthy brother, Sir Knight George Terry, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That we Sir Knights of Baldwin Tent No. 22, K. O. T. M., extend so him our heartfelt sympathy in his affliction and bereavement. Be it further

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be spread on the records of this Tent, and a copy be sent to our bereaved brother, and also published in our local papers and in Michigan K. O. T. M. Maccabee, and Michigan L. O. T. M. Maccabee.

Might be Worse.

We heard a farmer remark the other day that he'd about made up his mind to leave Northern Michigan. He'd be blanked if he'd stay in a locality where he has to reckon about nine months winter every year, and frosts during the other three; where potato bugs and grasshoppers kept him busy trying to save what the frost hadn't killed, while the drouth got the remnant he had saved from the insect, pests, etc. Of course he felt blue and naturally looked upon the bluest side of the picture. But when we asked him where he proposed to go to better it, he couldn't for the life of him tell. It has been in some respects a mighty tough spring, but when you take birdseye view of the situation it is easy enough to satisfy most any reasonable man that the country generally speaking, is temporarily in a bad way, and to start out to find something better is liable to put one in the situation of the traditional Irishman who was dissatisfied with purgatory and landed where the climate was even more sultry. Id brief, "its better to bear the ills we have than fly to those we know not of."—Ex.

For Tired Eyes.

Take a cup brimful of water. Add sufficient salt to be just perceptible to the taste. Hold your eyes to the water so that your lashes touch it, then wink once, and the eyes will be suffused. Do not wipe them. This so refreshes the eyes that they feel like a new pair. Do not forget the good old rule. As soon as you "feel your eyes" stop using them. By following this treatment very little time will be wasted waiting for tired eyes.—Exchange.

The Times are Here.

"The Democratic Times" is an utterance that the McKinley papers are very careful to keep out of their columns at present. The busy hum of the machinery of the country is also drawing out any of the calamity howls that may have been left over from last year. Truth is mighty and it will prevail. The American people are no longer deceived as to the causes of the panic and hard times. They know that the depression was the result of years of bad legislation mingled with natural causes with which the Democratic party had nothing to do and they now realize that it only needed a reasonable time under favorable administrative conditions to recover from their troubles. Even the election of a Republican congress with its threat to McKinley the tariff again, has not had the effect of checking the industrial improvement. A Democratic President, who will sit during the whole life of the "threatening" house, will see that no such disturbance of the tariff shall take place, even if the temper of the people were not such as to defy the Republican party to ever attempt another McKinley outrage. "These Democratic times" are worrying the high tariffites in no small degree.—Saginaw News.

Kelly's Wants.

A Lansing dispatch to the Detroit papers of the 17th says: Honorable Robert Kelly, of Alpena judge of the twenty-sixth judicial circuit, which comprises Alpena, Presque Isle and Mountmorency Counties, will tomorrow institute mandamus proceedings against the state board of auditors, to compel them to pay a bill of $767.59 incurred while he was away from his place of residence on official business. The board refuses to pay because it says it is expressly forbidden in the constitution. He is a state officer at a salary of $2,500 a year, and the constitution says that he shall receive no fees or perquisites whatever for the performance of his duties. Judge Kelly sets up that the board has allowed the claims of the governor, state treasures, secretary of state their expenses, while away on state business. He is a state officer and incurred legitimate expenses which he should not be made to stand.

The outcome of the proceedings will be watched with interest by the entire corps of judges in Michigan, as well as by the taxpayers, as there are twenty-seven of the judicial circuits composed of more than one county. All the other judges in these circuits will have bills to present to the state.

The Star Spangled Banner.

At an entertainment given in Central Music Hall some years ago, Thomas W. Keene, the actor, said, when he came upon the stage: "I'll recite something that you all think you know, yet I'll bet there is no one else present who can speak a verse correctly." Then he began the recitation of "The Star Spangled Banner," and it is probable Mr. Keene was very near right as to the mability of any one in the large audience being able to say the words of the song that is national in its character. How many know who wrote the verses? How many know anything about Francis Scott Key?

He was District Attorney of the District of Columbia when, in 1814, the British expedition landed on the coast of Maryland with a view of laying hold up on our government. While he was negotiating the release of a prisoner on board a British frigate he was himself detained as a prisoner, and from the vantage point of a vessel's deck witnessed the bombardment of Fort McHenry, which was continued through the night. "By the dawn's early light he joyously beheld the Stars and Stripes still waving, and inspired by the spectacle, he at once wrote upon the back of an envelope the first lines of the song that has thrilled many a soul with material pride and patriot devotion, and did much to create the spirit that dipped the starry banner anew in baptismal blood for national perpetuity.

It is right that we should show as much love and reverence of the writer of an inspiring battle song as of the leader who, under the inspiration of that song, conducts his intrepid soldiers to hard-won victory. We rear monuments to all sorts of heroes; we should be as quick to build memorials of the men who make us fit to win victories by filling us with sentiment. This is the opinion of Maryland's State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who thinks it would be an excellent plan to raise money for a monument by the subscriptions of school children on flag day and Independence Day.

Superintendent Prettyman's suggestion was not intended to influence schools outside of Maryland perhaps, but we see no reason why this should not be an honor in which all the States might participate, and it would be a fine thing if all the public schools of the Union would make contributions June 14 and July 4 for the building of a monument at Frederick Md., where sleeps the author of "The Star Spangled Banner."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Saving Soil Moisture.

The presence or indications of severe drought is again the chief source of anxiety to a multitude of farmers, so far as the yield of their crops is concerned. Few farmers have faith in any "rain-making schemes," and certainly the individual farmer can do nothing in the way of causing rain. He can do something in the way of reducing evaporation of the moisture now in the soil. He may do this, first, by mulching. This is not applicable to large areas nor to some crops, but young trees and bushes, vines, and some garden vegetables may be helped by covering the soil about them with a good mulch of almost any kind. In some localities the plats planted to potatoes are covered with straw, either when the planting is done or after there has been some cultivation. The results are often satisfactory. Mulching is especially indicated as a sensible and much-needed thing to be done in the case of newly-planted trees. The writer has already noticed serious injury or probable death of hundreds of shade and fruit trees planted this spring, many of which might have been saved had a liberal mulch been applied. The application of a little water to the surface is a poor substitute for this mulching.

A means of preventing evaporation of moisture to a considerable degree which can be applied to many crops is keeping a "dust mulch" on the surface by frequent shallow cultivation. The effect of this is much the same as that secured by applying a mulch on the surface. The more nearly the surface is reduced to dust the better. So, too, the more nearly the surface is kept level the better. There is no reason for deep stirring so far as making this "dust mulch" is concerned; in fact, deep cultivation needlessly increases evaporation.

The third method of reducing soil moisture evaporation to a minimum is by preventing the growth of plants that are not needed, or weeds. Shading the surface by growing plants has some tendency to reduce evaporation but not nearly as much as the increase of evaporation of moisture from the leaves of the plant. The quantity of water taken up by plants in their growth is very much greater than most persons have thought. The quantity of water in a soil covered with a growing crop is less than that in a similar soil with a bare surface, especially if that surface is frequently stirred. Cultivation destroys weeds so that a double good purpose is served by frequent cultivation during dry weather. Just how frequent cultivation should be must be decided by the best judgement of the farmer. So long as the ground is free from weeds and the surface finely divided and loose, there is little reason for cultivation. If weeds appear or the surface tends to become packed it is desirable to cultivate at once if possible.—Michigan Farmer.

A FEW FACTS.

About the Case of William B. White.

The East Tawas Gazette of June 8, contained an article on William B. White, now serving life sentence for the Sholtz murder, which occurred April 4th, 1884, wherein it favors his pardon and conveys the idea that the best citizens of this country favor such action. The Gazette also attempts to show that White, together with his confederates Katterman and Reynolds, had no intentions of committing murder, but only robbery. Yet the fact remains that these men attacked an old man two women and a simple minded boy, and roughly handled them, and in the fight the boy was killed. How honest citizens can excuse this conduct as accidental is a query.

The Gazette article says "that in some unaccountable way the boy was killed, and that White had no revolver." The testimony taken in White's trial shows that White and Katterman each had a revolver, and that White bought a new one for the occasion. The insinuation that the boy was shot by his parents seems strange as no testimony introduced indicates that the old folks had any fire arms.

Another mystery of the case is why certain persons who were not even acquainted with White, take so much interest in his case, while Katterman and Reynolds are almost friendless. It would appear that money was the prime mover, or that "birds of a feather flock together."

White's previous reputation was not that which would commend him to the best citizens nor is it a fact that in this town, where he was best known that many of our best citizens favor his pardon. Those who are working in his interest are those the least interested.

Do You Want To Stop Tobacco? You Can Be Cured While Using It.

The habit of using tobacco grown on a man until grave diseased conditions are produced. Tobacco causes cancer on the mouth and stomach; dyspepsia; loss of memory; nervous affections; congestion of the retina, and wasting of the optic nerve, resulting in impairment of vision, even to the extent of blindness; dizziness, or vertigo; tobacco asthma; nightly suffocation; dull pain in region of the heart, followed later by sharp pains, palpitation and weakened pulse, resulting in fatal heart disease. It also causes loss of vitality. Quit, before it is too late.

To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco—to an inkyeretic user, becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Bacco-Curo" is a scientific and reliable vegetable remedy, guaranteed to be perfectly harmless, and which has been in use for the last 23 years, having cured thousands of habitual tobacco users—smokers, chewers and snuff-dippers.

You can use all the tobacco you want while taking "Bacco-Curo," it will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to permanently cure any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent interest.

"Bacco-Curo" is not a substitute, but a reliable and scientific cure—which absolutely destroys the craving for tobacco without the aid of will power, and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine, as the day you took your first chew or smoke.

Sold by all druggists, at $1.00 per box, three boxes, [thirty days treatment, and guarantee cure], $2.50, or sent direct upon receipt of price. Send six two-cent stamps for sample box, booklet and proofs free. Eureka Chemical & Manufacturing Company, Manufacturing Chemists, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

IT'S INJURIOUS TO STOP SUDDENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stopping of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about BACCO-CURO. It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with BACCO-CURO. It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An iron-clad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, of money refunded. Price $1.00 per box or 3 boxes (30 days treatment and guarantee cure.) $2.50. For sale by all druggists or will be sent by mail upon receipt of price. SEND SIX TWO CENT STAMPS FOR SAMPLE BOX. Booklets and proofs free. Eureka Chemical & Mfg Co., La Crosse, Wis.

Dear Sir:—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being, at least. I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Bacco-Curo." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Bacco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours ver truly,
C. W. HORNICK.

A. A. Shantz, general passenger and ticket agent of the D. & C. line of steamers, predicts that there will be more travel on the lakes this season than for several seasons past. He says state rooms have been engaged on their steamers of the lake Huron division, two months in advance. The fact is no greater pleasure or enjoyment for the amount of money expended can be had than by a trip on the palatial steamers of this line.

There is a good story told about a remarkable head of Bonaparte which appears in McClure's Complete Life of Napoleon. The head is a copy of the first plaster cast made for a figure of Napoleon, which appears in the pediment of the Pantheon in Paris. It seems that in the region of Napoleon III, the Archbishop of Paris persuaded the Government to destroy the pediment of the great temple because Voltaire appears in it. The order had been given to execute this piece of vandalism when Baron Larrey, son of the chief surgeon to Napoleon I., and himself ex-military surgeon to Napoleon III., happening to be with the emperor at the camp at Chalons, conceived the noble idea of trying to save the sculptures. At the emperor's table, Baron Larrey adroitly turned the conversation to David, and informed the sovereign, to his surprise, that the proudest effigy of Napoleon was to be seen on this pediment. Bonaparte, in fact, is represented as seizing for himself the crowns distributed by the Fatherland, while the other personages receive them. On hearing this, Napoleon III., was silent, but the next day the order was given to respect the pediment. We believe this is the first time that this cast has been reproduced.

The Commissioner of Schools, Rev. A. C. Kay, reminds the teachers of the county of his offer of Encyclopedias for the best essays on (1) the teacher, his work, attainments and qualifications, (2), the education of the state of Michigan, (3), the education of the county, both chartered and country schools, (4), theory and art of teaching. The time for receiving essays is extended to the end of June and although some have already sent their essays, more are expected. Remember a full Encyclopedia, either Chambers or Britannica. Such an offer may not again be met with.

The spasmodic advertiser is like the moon. He waxes and wanes. Occasionally, when he thinks he is outshining all others, he is eclipsed. His boom trade is knocked out and, not having any regular reliable custom, he is left stranded on the sands of credit, while he sees the trim built craft of his competitor, who has always kept up advertising steam, sail away over the bar of hard times on the tide of trade into the broad ocean of success. The multitude of big dollars he spent when the tide was naturally coming his way only run him so much higher aground; so when the quick ebb come it left him high and dry, a monument of unwise advertising.—Ex

The Coming Convention.

The Young People's Christian Endeavor Convention of the 10th District to be held at this place, June 28th to 30th, promises to be of considerable importance. An excellent program has been arranged and among the many strangers to be present, we are to be favored with the presence of some of the state officers of Detroit and other cities of the state. The convention will be upon the Union Plan, all churches being invited to take part, and the sessions will be divided equally between the four churches. The Presbyterian church being included in the arrangement, which will have the reception and banquet. Tawas City is highly honored in this, and we should open our hearts and our homes and give the visiting friends a royal welcome.

Budding Fruit Trees.

July and August are the principal months for the budding of fruit trees. Budding affords the fruit grower and farmer such an excellent chance to add to the list of sorts, and to change the character of worthless trees to good ones, that it deserves to be more practical than it is.

The work has to be done in summer while the sap is flowing, to allow of the parting of the bark from the wood, to admit of the bud. Nurseriesmen, whose business is to bud largely do not commence the work as soon as the snap flows.

As this inserted bud is to be the leader, the shoot above it is to be cut off, but not until the following spring. In the meantime it will be in a dormant state, just as the bud on any other tree would be.
