CLASS OF '95.

Commencement Exercises at the Court House Friday Evening.

FOUR GIRLS AND TWO BOYS COMPRISE THE CLASS.

The commencement exercises of the class of '95, of the Tawas City High School, were held at the court house last Friday evening. The court room was handsomely decorated for the occasion and long before 8 o'clock arrived every seat was occupied and standing room taken, many being unable to gain admittance.

The class was composed of six members—four girls and two boys as follows: Minnie McDonald, Theresa Shaver, Mable Bannan, Mary McCassey, John McRea and Lot Jacobs.

Promptly at 8 o'clock, the school board, teachers and graduates took seats on the platform and the program was carried out in a most satisfactorily manner. Each member of the class rendered their part in a highly commendable manner and showed the effect of careful study and training.

MABLE BANNAN,

the class historian read a carefully prepared paper giving a history of each member of the class and the important events of their school life. Miss Bannan is entitled to much praise for the pleasing manner in which she delivered her paper.

THESA SHAVER

read an essay on "character" which was given close attention and contained many seeds of thought. She also read the class poem, of which she was the author.

LOT JACOBS

had for the subject of his oration, "Practical Education." His effort showed much careful study on the subject and contained a large amount of useful information.

MARY MCCASSEY

told of the "Ideal Girl," in a careful written and well delivered essay, which contained many hints which if followed by the young ladies of today, would add much to their praise.

MINNIE McDONALD

gave that most difficult of all essays, the "Class Prophecy," and proved herself equal to the occasion by picturing a happy and contented future for each of her class mates. May her visions prove true.

JOHN MCRAE

was the valedictorian of the class. His oration was of a high order, and contained many kind words of parting and good advice for the future.

Each member of the class was the recipient of many beautiful flowers and congratulations.

N. C. Harting presented the class with their diplomas and gave them many words of advice for the future in his own well known style.

Obituary.

SCARLET—At her home in Grant township, 1 o'clock Wednesday morning, June 26, 1895; Mary A., beloved wife of John Scarlett, aged 51 years, three months and 14 days.

Mary Ann Curry, was born in the township of Gore P. Q. Canada, nearly 52 years ago, she was married to John Scarlet nineteen years ago, and with her husband settled in Grant township, this county, 14 years ago last May. She is the mother of eight children—6 sons and two daughters—all of whom survive her. She was the sister of Thomas Curry, of Tawas township and Isiah Curry, of Saginaw. For the past ten months she has been a great sufferer from dropsy of the heart, which was the cause of her death. Besides the immediate family she leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. The funeral services were held at the Hemlock Road Baptist church yesterday afternoon and conducted by Rev. Webb, of the East Tawas Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a member. The greatest fad in the way of a "card of thanks" is original with a woman in the west, who thanked through the local papers those of her kind friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted in getting a bill of divorce from her husband.

An exchange says the following which might be applicable to other towns, perhaps our own. "A few young ladies when cornered up on the question, "Do you go to church to hear the sermon or music?" made the following reply: "We go for the hims." One of them was asked which hymn she liked best, and the reply was, "The come an' meet'er hims."

A Word to Country Girls.

The constant influx of girls from the country into our large cities brings with it portentous dangers and evils. Dreaming of self-support and an easy time, good wages, a better wardrobe and more congenial companions; dazzled with the vision of city amusements, and hoping perhaps to find a marriageable partner, and settle down into a comfortable city home, thousands leave the farm or the village and flock to the metropolis. Here many of them confront a situation far different from that which they imagined in advance of their actual experience of city life. The wages they get meager; their lodgings are far from comfortable; they have no home life; they face new temptations and trials, and their life becomes one of hardship and trouble. In the store, factory, shop or office they are beset with danger and annoyance, while all about them are pitfalls spread for unwary feet. Some of them, with unusual aptitudes for stenography, typewriting and kindred occupations, or with fine executive gifts, make their way to the top, and secure first-class posts; but a great multitude struggle and almost starve on five or six dollars a week. This latter class are not able to save any money; a week's illness brings them into debt, and a month without employment renders them objects of charity. How much better it would be for most of them were they to stay at home; held in the household, or accept such work as might be available on the farm or in the village. Our large cities now contain thousands of girls in a sorry plight, either without employment or struggling for bread—girls who might have remained in comfort at home, or who could have found work of some sort in a country town, to support them, with less cost of strength, nerve power and vital force—to say nothing of the dangers which now beset them in the city. What a kindness it would be to thousands who are heedlessly planning to rush cityward, "to find something to do," could a persuasive word reach them and say: "Better stay at home!"—Sunday Times.

A Sign of Peace

is the downcome of war time prices.

The during-the-war price of baking powder was 45 to 50 cents a pound. Cream of tartar was then 49 cents a pound, soda, 6 cents. Cream of tartar is now 18 cents, soda, less than 2 1/2 cents.

Still the would-be monopolists want the same "war" prices (45 to 50c. a pound) for their products.

CALUMET Baking Powder

is sold at a "peace price"—brings peace to homes where the high priced baking powders have been breeding dyspepsia and disagreement.

$1,000 to you if you find Calumet isn't perfectly pure. A pinch of it has power enough to do a pound of leavening.

Times continue to improve, mills are starting up, and wages advancing; calamity howlers are weeping, and prosperity is again smiles on the land. Yet the McKinley law is dead.

THE meeting of the National League of Republican clubs, at Cleveland, last week, shows that party to be in a sorry plight. They are as usual afraid to make a declaration of principals on the silver question, but adopted a "we-don't-know" resolution, aimed to catch both gold and silver fish.

THE Chicago Times-Herald, the new republican paper, is compelled to admit that hard times and low wages which came upon the country under the McKinley law are rapidly disappearing under the Wilson law. It published a two column article last week upon the advancement of wages and improvement in business. Its headlines are:

"Wages are going up. Crane's company's increase. Ten per cent more to all employes because times are better. Linseed oil industry booming. More steel works to be started."

The article says there can no longer be any doubt that the better times are at hand, as witnessed by increased activity in manufacturing centers, and in the establishment of new industries, and also in the increase of wages. The Crane Co., employing 2,000 people, made an increase of ten per cent in wages of all employes. It is one of the largest concerns in Chicago. The Illinois Steel company is preparing to open their plant August 1st, and will employ 1,000 men. They have leased a plant at Hammond, Ind., and will set 400 men at work there.

How's this for the new tariff law?
—Petoskey Democrat.

A Womanly Art.

Sewing is a womanly art. A woman is never more feminine than when she has a needle and thread in her hand. It is the right of every little girl to be taught to sew neatly even if it costs the mother some self-sacrifice. Very few women are wholly exempt from the needle. On the contrary, almost every woman must take more or less care of her own wardrobe, even if she has no family responsibility. Machines can not sew up rips in gloves, replace buttons, or mend. Some stitches must be taken, and how to sew neatly is an accomplishment quite as necessary, if not more so, to the happiness of a majority of women than any other. If a little girl be taught early how to use her needle, sewing will soon be come a sort of second nature to her.

Nebraska Sugar Beets.

Prospects this year are favorable for an unprecedented yield of sugar beets in Nebraska. At Norfolk the acreage is greatly in excess of that of any former year. The crop is somewhat in advance of the season. There has been sufficient rainfall, and the beet fields are in a most excellent condition. Most of them have already been thinned and some cleaned for the first time.
At Grand Island the beet fields have never been more promising. The recent heavy rain has done them great good. The acreage of beets put in by individual farmers this year is more than twice that of last year. While the total amount of acres in beets for the local factory was 2,500 last year, it is 4,000 this year. The crop in the vicinity of Arlington is also in fine condition.—Prarie Farmer.

Tribute to a Mother.

Children, look in those eyes, listen to that dear voice, notice the feeling of even a single touch bestowed upon you by that hand! Make much of it while yet you have that most precious of all good gifts, a loving mother. Read the unfeigned love of those eyes; the kind anxiety of that tone and look, however slight your pain. In afterlife you may have friends; but never will you have again the inexpressible love and gentleness lavished upon you which none but a mother bestows. Often do I sigh in the struggles with the hard, unceasing world, for the sweet, deep security I felt when, of an evening, nestling in her bosom, I listened to some quiet tale suitable to my age, read in her untiring voice. Never can I forget her sweet glances cast upon me when I appeared asleep; never her kiss of peace at night. Years have passed away since we laid her beside my father in the old churchyard; yet still her voice whispers from the grave, and her eye watches over me, as I visit spots long since hallowed to the memory of my mother.—Lord Macaulay.

Where are your Boys?

To some this may appear a foolish question, others may think it of no importance and not effecting them in and manner whatever.

Much valuable time talk and newspaper space is devoted to the subject of reforms. Men and women of mighty minds have freely given the best years of their lives and accomplished much good in reforming men, but, nevertheless, there never was, apparently, a time in the history of our country, when so many men and young men, are going wrong. When so many turn out badly, default, and even marder. When so many fail to reach even the ordinary standard in life where they consider "an office a public trust" and one not to be betrayed by mere pelf, or public plunder. Everybody is asking what is the matter with our nation and its people? What are we going to do about it? How can a change for the better be brought about?

Women of noble hearts and wonderful minds are pushing to the front to "save the perishing" in many ways but this difficult problem of human lives seems to partially evade their best efforts, because no matter where she may appear in the struggle, she is always best at her own fireside as a wise guide and instructor of life's dangers.

"The hand that rocks the cradle Rules the World."

A certain church claims if it can have the first seven years of a child's life it can make it a life believer. How important then is this fact of right training in early childhood. No true mother if she truly loves her boy her God or her native land, can afford to allow her young boy to run on the streets at night and thus form associates and habits which will sooner or later ruin his health and happiness and perhaps bring him to a felon's cell. Parents, millions of people are interested in knowing "Where your boys are to-night?" and if they are receiving the right instructions to make them an honor to their home and native land.—Ex.

Live Stock Outlook.

The sheep and lamb market has shown some activity in the past few weeks, and prices are a great deal higher. We believe a reaction has set in and prices will rule higher for the next couple of years than they have in the past. The woolen mills are running on full time; prices of wool have shown an advance, and the constantly increasing. European demand for mutton makes prices active. One thing to be regretted is the quality of sheep and lambs being offered. The majority of our sheep are far Western stock which has not the quality or favor of our breeds of state sheep. Owing to the poor satisfaction these sheep give our people take to eating lambs raised in the States which do not allow of any mature mutton from these breeds, so says the National Provisioner. We are fast depleting our flocks in the States of our fine breeds by killing off the lambs and in the near future may have to adopt a law passed in England some time ago prohibiting the killing of lambs or yearlings.

Our latest advices indicate that cattle will remain as high during the month of June as any time this season. Those who have fat cattle on hand are holding them, and are looking for higher prices.

In relation to the assertion being made that feeders are making colossal fortunes on their holdings this year, it must be considered that during the past two years they had to pay high prices for stockers and feeders, coupled with the high cost of feed, so it is plain to be seen there is only a living profit in the business.

Since the large packers have opened up branch houses in every little hamlet and town, and shipped fresh meats to these places every day in refrigerator cars, they have created a demand for pork never before known. The average farmer does not have to rely on salt and smoked meats, but can have fresh cuts. This is a great innovation in the business, and the packer who formerly operated his business during the winter month now runs his plant nearly all the year round, as he can sell his fresh cuts during all seasons. It costs him less to put these goods on the market, as he saves time, labor, and the cost of material in preparing and packing. Another point is that he is not out of his money so long, and has a quicker turnover.

Another article of the farm that is bringing good returns is poultry. All kinds have ruled high since the holidays, and from information gleaned the scarcity at present, is caused by the lateness of the season, which tends to keep back spring chickens, and very little stock is arriving.

The most noticeable feature of the live stock business is the scarcity of calves both East and West. After careful inquiry the following deductions must be made. We find that in the markets the bulk of the calves coming are bull calves. The reason set forth for this is that during the past few years our farmers who have enjoyed a remunerative business, from the dairies consequently needed the milk, and sent the calves to market. And again during the present high prices obtained for cattle they have sold off their old cows for beef, and are now holding all the heifer calves to replenish the dairies.

In view of the high prices obtained for cattle it would be well for farmers in the Eastern and Middle States to study the economic methods employed by the English and German farmers in feeding and preparing cattle for market. It is only a question of a short time when the feeding and raising of cattle will revert back to these States again where it was once a profitable business. The high cost of land and heavy taxes on it could not compete against the big branches and cheap grazing lands of the West, consequently the farmers were forced out of the business. Recent developments show that the big ranches have been cut up and abandoned for other branches of agriculture, thereby making grazing lands scarce. The high rate of taxes and cost of farms in the West has put the Eastern farmer more on an equal footing. The Eastern farmer has another advantage in being nearer to the large consuming centers.—Prarie Farmer.

Clover-Sick Land.

It has been noticed that it is almost impossible to grow red clover year after year upon ordinary farm soil. Old fields of clover become thin and yield little, and are then said to be clover-sick. The experiments at the Rothamsted farm have shown that when land is in this condition none of the usual manures or fertilizers can be relied upon to secure a crop of clover, and the only means of insuring a good stand and yield is to allow some years to elapse before repeating the crop upon the same land. The general result of the trials on field soil was that either organic matter rich in carbon as well as other elements, nor ammonium salts, nor nitrate of soda, nor mixed complete fertilizers, availed to restore the full clover-yielding capabilities of the soil. However where some of these were applied in large quantity, and at considerable depths, the results were better than where they were used in only moderate quantities and applied only on the surface. On a rich garden soil, however, red clover has grown luxuriantly every year for forty years, so that the primary cause of failure is neither fungus nor insect diseases, nor noxious excretions, nor shade of grain crops, but is probably due to the exhaustion of mineral fertilizers, or available combined nitrogen, or nitrifying microbes within range of the roots. Rotation, however, cures clover sickness.—Orange Judd Farmer.

Do You Want To Stop Tobacco? You Can Be Cured While Using It.

The habit of using tobacco grown on a man until grave diseased conditions are produced. Tobacco causes cancer on the mouth and stomach; dyspepsia; loss of memory; nervous affections; congestion of the retina, and wasting of the optic nerve, resulting in impairment of vision, even to the extent of blindness; dizziness, or vertigo; tobacco asthma; nightly suffocation; dull pain in region of the heart, followed later by sharp pains, palpitation and weakened pulse, resulting in fatal heart disease. It also causes loss of vitality. Quit, before it is too late.

To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco—to an inveterate user, becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Bacco-Curo" is a scientific and reliable vegetable remedy, guaranteed to be perfectly harmless, and which has been in use for the last 23 years, having cured thousands of habitual tobacco users—smokers, chewers and snuff-dippers.

Dear Sir.—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being, at least. I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Bacco-Curo." Three weeks ago today I commenced using your horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Bacco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours very truly,

There are men in every city and village—dead beats—who will move on an average of every six months, to save paying rent. That same class of people change grocery stores, clothing stores, bakeries, shoemakers and printers for the same reason, and when this class get entirely played out in one town, they pull up stakes and move to another to apply their vocation. And when a man strikes a new town the great question among business men is not whether he is married or single, rich or poor, learned or ignorant, religious or ungodly, but, "Does he pay his debts?" All other pretensions pale before this one.

Everybody knows what "wit" is, but not one person in ten can satisfactorily define it. A London journal had a contest on the definition, and awarded the prize to the man who declared wit to be "the power to say what everybody else was about to say if he had only thought of it." The definition is also an example of wit.

The business man who does not advertise saves himself a great deal of vexation and expense. He saves clerks' salaries and needs but a small stock to supply his customers. This makes insurance and takes a small expense. Only a small capital is required and a small building is sufficient. The money saved by not advertising will come back handy bearing funeral expenses of a dead business.

CHURCH NEWS.

Don't hope to win others to the truth till you have won yourself.—Golden Rule Proverbs.

Religion presents few difficulties to the humble man, many to the proud, insuperable ones to the vain.—Hare.

He who loves God most loves God's creatures most, and them for God's sake and God for their sake.—Charles Kingsley.

Praying once in our emergency is not praying once for all. Earnestness of purpose is shown in persistency of prayer.—Amos R. Wells.

The Church should be "high" in exalting Christ, "low" in saving the degraded and "broad" in comprehending the truth.—Christian Standard.

It is estimated that the Protestant churches of America, Great Britain and Europe have expended during the past year for missionary work about $13,500,000.

An international exchange of pulpits has been arranged. Dr. Lorimer, of Boston, goes to London to preach in Dr. Pentecost's church, at Marylebone, and Dr. Pentecost comes to New York to preach for Dr. John Hall.

An English journal publishes the following statistics: There is one Christian minister for every 900 persons in Great Britain, one to 114,000 in India, one for every 165,080 in Africa and one for every 437,000 in the Chinese Empire.

The Evangelical Lutheran Zion congregation will celebrate their 25th anniversary on the 4th of July. Divine services at 10 a. m. being conducted by Rev. Kuehle, of Alpena. Exercises in the afternoon at the church ground. The Young People's Society of the church has nicely decorated the church building for the occasion.

The National Christian Citizenship League, which was organized in Chicago in 1894 and has now auxiliaries in various States and Territories, has issued a request to ministers of the Gospel to preach on the subject of Christian Citizenship on June 30, the Sunday preceding the Fourth of July. The league has prepared helpful and suggestive literature, which will be sent free to ministers on application, postage inclosed. The President of the league is Edwin D. Wheelcock, and the Field Secretary Rev. Carlos Martyn, D. D., No. 153 LaSalle street, Chicago.

That is a queer Bible which Mr. R. W. Mason, of Springfield, Mass., has contrived to aid in the evangelization of the immigrants. It is a fact well known that many of the Chinese who enter our Sunday-schools do so chiefly to learn English. The same is true of other nationalities. Upon the basis of this fact, Mr. Mason intends to issue a book, resting in parallel columns the New Testament in English, and by the side of it the same thing in the phonetic style showing by special signs the exact pronunciation of each word. When the book is published he will advertise it at all places where foreigners can best be reached, by pasting signs in their native languages telling of this mode of learning English. He is firm in his belief that many will be lead to read the spirit of the words as well as the letter, and in this way be drawn by the message to the Giver of it.—N. Y. World.
