THE CONVENTION.

The 10th District C. E.'s held a Profitable three days Session.

All go Home feeling their time well spent.

The Christian Endeavor convention is a thing of the past, and all who attended feel that the time was well spent. Over sixty delegates registered, including delegations fifteen strong from Bay City and Lupton, and eight from West Branch.

Much enthusiasm was manifested from the opening session at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon until the closing meeting Sunday evening at the Congregational church.

The convention opened with a delegates' prayer meeting at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, lead by Rev. P. Schermerhorn, of this city.

At the M. E. church Friday evening, the services opened with praise service, followed by devotional exercises by Rev. Waterbury, of this city. James H. Nisbet welcomed the delegates in a few well chosen remarks, which was responded to by Rev. Grinnell, of Alpena. The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. C. T. Patchell of the Bay City Congregational church, and he had for his subject, "The Endeavorer and the Laborer." The address was one out of the usual lines and contained many advanced thought that could not fail to make an impression on all hearers. The address was undoubtedly one of the best ever listened to in our city.

The Saturday morning session opened with an early morning prayer meeting led by Miss Luella E. Holland, secretary of the State C. E. Union, subject, "The gift that is in Thee." The meeting was largely attended, and Miss Holland handled the subject in such an able manner that all were thoroughly interested.

At 9 o'clock the morning session opened with song service and devotional exercises by Rev. Patchell, followed by the report of the secretary and treasurer, Miss Marion V. Merrell of West Branch.

Rev. S. S. Grinnell, of the Alpena Congregational church, gave the address of this session which was much enjoyed by all. The morning session closed with a paper, entitled "How can our society best interest Young Men—Young Women," by James E. Brockway, of the Frist Presbyterian church C. E. society, of Bay City.

The Saturday afternoon session was held at the Congregational church, and opened with song service and devotional exercises by Rev. Grinnell, of Alpena. The largest portion of this session was devoted to the Junior society and was in charge of Miss Margaret McRea, of Bay City. Miss Jennie Clark, also of Bay City, read a very interesting paper, "The church with a Junior society and without one." Miss McRea, "How to attract Interest and keep it." Miss Holland gave the Juniors a very entertaining talk.

The evening session opened at 5 o'clock at the Presbyterian church with a banquet and reception to the visiting delegates which was enlivened by music by the C. E. Banjo and Guitar club of Bay City, who furnished some excellent music. Following the banquet were the usual song and devotional service, followed by addresses by Rev. Webb, of East Tawas, and Miss Luella Holland.

Miss Holland again lead the early morning prayer meeting at 6:30 Sunday morning, at the Presbyterian church.

The regular session of the day commenced at 9 o'clock at the Baptist church, with song and devotional services, followed by "Bible Endeavor," with a paper, "How to Read it in Private," by Dr. J. H. Botz, of East Tawas; "How to Read it in Public," by M. F. Parker, of Standish; "How to Study it Critically," by A. H. Phinney, of Tawas City. J. M. Waterbury also gave a few interesting and instructive remarks. Rev. Schermerhorn gave a highly interesting talk on "Missions."

President W. H. Strong, of the state Union, made the principal address of the session, and also had for his subject, "Missions."

The afternoon session was at the Presbyterian church and was opened by song and devotional exercises by Dr. Botz, of East Tawas. Rev. P. Schermerhorn delivered the address.

The Question Box was conducted by President Strong, and much useful information was brought out.

The convention closed Sunday evening at the Congregational church with C. E. Prayer meeting, consecration service, subject, "Faith in God—What it is—What it does," lead by the state secretary, Miss Holland. This was without doubt the most interesting session of the whole convention, and was an hour spend that all will remember as the best of the convention.

At 7:30 devotional services were conducted by Mr. Parker of East Tawas, followed by an able and interesting address by President Strong, who also conducted the fare well services. The convention closed with the beautiful hymn; "God be with You Till we meet again," and the C. E. benediction.

NOTES.

The Bay City delegation added much to the interest of the convention.

We fail to get a copy of the resolutions, but will publish them next week.

W. T. Yeo, M. F. Parker and Miss Lizzie Dennis composed the committee on resolutions.

Miss Jossie Russell, of Standish, was appointed Junior superintendent, vice Miss Damek, resigned.

Every session was largely attended, and at the closing session Sunday evening many were unable to gain admittance.

The Bay City Banjo and Guitar club went to Alpena on the Ossifrage Monday and gave a concert in that City Tuesday evening.

N. C. Hartingh placed his elegant yacht, "Comache" at the disposal of the delegates Monday and all enjoyed an elegant sail on the bay.

The musical portion of the convention was under the supervision of J. M. Walker, of this city, while Miss Margaret McRea, of Bay City, presided at the organ.

The program committee are W. T. Yeo, West Branch; T. D. James, Cheboygan; Miss Lizzie Peters, West Branch; W. Prince, Standish, and C. J. Robbins, West Branch.

The District Press Committee are, W. B. Covert, Grayling; Howard Mixer, Standish; Miss Marion V. Merrill, West Branch; L. J. Patterson and E. D. Schermerhorn, Tawas City.

President Strong, of Detroit, and Secretary Miss Luella E. Holland, of Saginaw, aided largely in the success of the convention, and made many friends who wish them God speed in their noble work.

The next convention will be held at West Branch, and the society of that hustling village have already commenced preparations for a royal good time, and they invite all Endeavors to arrange to attend.

THE NEW YORK TIMES recently published a list of twenty woolen factories, having 12,000 operatives, that voluntarily increased the wages of their employees fifteen per cent since the new tariff law went into effect.

THE silver question is so Harrison McKinley that he can no longer Reed his title clear to a mansion in Washington. The republican bosses are giving their elephant frequent doses of gold cure, but whether they administer them with a Spooner a scoop shovel, the new tariff law is bound to keep her sick, no matter how badly they Wannamacker well.—Ex.

MANY a bright young man, after getting an education, throws away his opportunities, his home; his health, and all that makes life worth living, because of the allurements of a fast career. The spectacle, though common is a sad one, and its lessons should not be lost on those whose school years are closed, and who will be exposed to similar temptations. There is no escape from the tempter except by letting him alone at all times and on all occasions.—Jackson Patriot.

REPUBLICAN mismanagement of finances and taxation has done its worst. The depleted treasury is in shape to stand any attack upon it. Business is reviving steadily. The prices of farm products are again reaching a level of profitable returns. Wages has fallen under the McKinley tariff and the republican tampering with the public credit which was behind the public currency. Wages are now improving in manufacturing industries and better trade laws are encouraging the export sale of our manufactured products. The prospect is that we shall soon be selling abroad unprecedented quantities of such goods and will be in possession of foreign markets which will give steady demand. The dangerous overproduction of goods made for a limited home market will not recur so frequently. Labor will have continuous employment. Republican recklessness was a terror, but we have outlived its worst.—St. Louis Republic.

Pleasant and Profitable Ruin.

The democratic party is still at its awful work of destroying the industries of the country!

It is amazing that more than half the citizens of the country should think of bringing poverty and distress, desolation and ruin upon their own land, and all by an enactment for the reduction of taxation upon the people of that land. We know that they were engaged in this heinous work, because we had the assurance of the republican press and of republican orators that when the democratic party passed a bill for the reduction of taxation they entered upon a policy which must destroy the industries and the commerce of the country.

The Chronicle has had frequent occasions to point out how the awful work is progressing. Additions are made daily to the record. On June 17 the National Malleable Casting Company at Cleveland notified 900 employees that a general increase of 10 per cent would take place immediately. At the Eberhart Manufacturing Company of the same city notices were posted that 1,000 employees should have ten per cent increase of wages.

And our eminently respectable and awfully well-meaning contemporary, the Inter-Ocean, notes that "there was great rejoicing among the men about both works today, when the news became known. At noon cheers were proposed for the companies in both plants and heartily responded to. It is understood that other big iron concerns of the city will follow the example set by the two industries named."

The Illinois Steel Company at Joliet notified its employees of a general advance of 10 per cent on July 1, excepting to operatives paid on sliding scale.

If the process of reducing taxation at the custom houses 50 per cent is to result in just such ruin to American labor and to American industries, why not make the ruin complete by reduction of 100 per cent?—Chicago Chronicle.

What is it Worth?

This is the season of commencement exercises—the time when the graduate is asking himself, "What is my education worth and what use can I make of it?" while the parent, who per chance has undergone sacrifice that his children might graduate, besides paying taxes to support the schools, is disposed to ask himself in the midst of the pomp of graduation "Is the free school system in general and the high school in particular worth what I am paying for them?"

It is well at this time to note the result of a recent investigation made by the U. S. Bureau of Education as to the value of a common school education in dollars and cents as shown in the wages of common labor.

The bureau has compiled statistics from the answers of manufacturers and employers throughout the country showing that laborers possessing a common school education receive an average of 25 per cent more than those who lack that training, while the average wages of high school graduates are still 25 per cent higher.

It should be borne in mind that this is the least of all the considerations in favor of an education. But it is the practical consideration—the one which is capable of influencing more of the masses than any other consideration. Without going further into the many advantages which the educated person enjoys we merely drop this one hint for the enlightenment of two classes of persons, first, the man who is always pointing to the uneducated successful man and to the "educated fool" as arguments (?) against a school education; second, the high school graduate who, perhaps this very evening, surrounded by the pomp and ceremony of commencement and flattered by the plaudits and congratulations of friends, forgets for the moment that a high school course is but a means to an end and fancies that he has gained a point of permanent advantage over those who have not gone so far in the curriculum of the schools.

These statistics ought to have weight with the man who cannot see that the uneducated successful man would have been still more successful if he had been educated, and that the educated fool would have been a bigger fool without his education. They ought to encourage every young man and woman who receives a diploma to-night to begin to-morrow, by turning his hand to the first honest toil that presents itself, to show that, when judged by the lowest even of all tests, his education has been a good investment.—Pontiac Post.

Van Buskirk-Dunn.

Married at the residence of the bride's parents, Harrisville, Mich., Sunday, June 30 1895, Mr. Stewart Van Buskirk to Miss Ruth A. Dunn, the Rev. W. J. Bailey officiating.

This happy event was consummated at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the presence of but a few invited guests besides the immediate relatives. Mr. John Macgregor was best man and the bride was sustained by her particular friend, Miss Effie Graham, of Tawas City. At the conclusion of the marriage ceremony the guests were invited to discuss an elaborate menu, but they did not omit bestowing their warmest congratulations upon Mr. and Mrs. Van Buskirk.

The groom is one of Harrisville's rising young business men. Although born in Genesee county he has lived in Alcona county practically all his life and as a boy and man has made many warm friends, who will unite with the Review in wishing him health, wealth and happiness in this new relation of life. His bride was also raised in the county and is too well known to require any introduction. She is a general favorite and her bright and sunny disposition makes friends for her wherever she goes. She is a graduate of the Harrisville public schools, coming out with the class of '90. Since then she has taught several terms of school with signal success, both in Alcona county and at Tawas, where she has been for the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Buskirk, we are pleased to state, will make their home in Harrisville, and will be at home to their friends after July 20th.—Harrisville Review.

Dear Sir—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being, at least, I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Curo," Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours ver truly,

It is a little remarkable that a local newspaper seldom gets credit for the good it does to a community. The preacher holds a revival meeting, tells the people the way of life and warns them of dangers, and he is regarded as a benefactor. The newspapers exposes rascals, keeps men good from fear of exposure; generally advocates what is the best interest of a town or community and its reward is too often be regarded as a common enemy. Many good people take a pride in denouncing the press at the last provocation.

Praise meeting to be held at the Congregational church next Sunday evening, which takes the place of the evening service. If you have a copy of the book, bring it, if not, come and we will try to accommodate you, that you may join us in the Praises. Short talks will be interspersed by the Pastor. A cordial invitation to all.

A new way of collecting old debts is being introduced in Maine towns. A young woman of great attractiveness is the advance agent and between her own attractions and those of her scheme she is said to be having complete success. She calls on the local merchants and secures there membership in the new agency. A few days after her departure there appears in town a number of men dressed in bright green coats, who get the particulars of old debts and debtor from the members and then proceed to call on the victims. The contract provides that the horribly conspicuous collectors shall make fifteen calls a day on each creditor, meeting them anywhere and everywhere. The scheme is reported to be a big success as most of the debtors are glad to make prompt settlement rather than have the whole neighborhood see them haunted by the green-coated specter.

The surveyors on the Bay City extension of the D. & M. R. R. have decided that the proposed route from Emery Junction to Standish is impracticable. When the surveyors struck the AuGres swamp they quit on that line. A survey has been run direct from Tawas City to Alabaster, thence to within one and a half miles of Point Lookout, thence to AuGres. The road will then follow along down the bay shore and run parallel with the Michigan Central from a point not far from Pinconning. The survey has been finished, and it will be reported to headquarters to see whether the extension will be made this year.—Bay City Times-Press.

The Gazette, of two weeks ago contained an article in reply to "One Who Knows," in which it stated that many of our citizens were in favor of the pardon of William B. White, and were signing a petition for his release. We have interviewed a large number of our citizens and have yet to find one who will sign such a petition or is in favor of such action. The opinion is that White is the last of the three who should be pardoned. It is a well known fact that White has written to different ones to intercede in his behalf and promised to furnish the money to do the work. While it is not possible to say that those who are now interesting themselves in the matter are receiving pay for so doing it is generally believed that they are. It is strange that men who hold a respectable position in society should lend their influence to inflict on a community, a man of White's reputation, and the citizens of this city do not favor such action. Our people do not believe the killing of young Sholtz an accident. If every murder could be pardoned because he claimed the killing of his victim was an "accident," law for such cases would be unnecessary. It should bring a bluth of shame to the face of any respectable man to advocate the pardon of William B. White.
