CHURCH NEWS.

The Mission church in Japan, composed of two or three exceptions, of missionaries of the American Board, of whom barley sixty are now in Japan, has sent a contribution of $106 for the debt of the board, together with their indorsement of the "dollar-a-member" plan.

The American Sunday-School Union has done an extensive work during the past year, in spite of business depression. It has kept 140 men in the field, 1,763 new schools have been formed and 513 reorganized. These missionaries made 107,230 visits, distributed thousands of Bibles and Testaments and in 180 cases organized churches.

The most recent statistics of the Congregational Church show 5,342 churches, with 583,539 members, of whom 387,693 are women. The total additions were 62,846, of which 38,853 were in confession. The number of churches added to the roll were 215 leaving a net gain over the previous year of 111. There are 677,973 Sunday-school scholars, showing a gain of 30,979.

One of the important religious bodies in the United States, the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, recently held its regular biennial sessions in Hagerstown, Md. It was organized seventy-five years ago in this city when there were in the whole country only 170 Lutheran ministers, 850 congregations and 35,000 communicants. Since then it has grown so rapidly that now the General Synod alone includes over 100 synods, 1,127 ministers, 1,505 congregations and 180,000 communicants; while the whole Lutheran Church, with 5,554 ministers, 9,376 congregations and 1,330,442 communicants occupies a foremost rank among the church denominations of the republic.—N. Y. World.

It is not generally known how elaborate a missionary enterprise is elaborated in the Congo Free State. A very prominent work in that far off land is the Livingstone Inland Mission, carried on by the Baptists of America. This Mission has had a grand career. It was founded by English workers, Rev. and Mrs. H. Grattan Guinness. Desirous of going still further inland, Mrs. Guinness offered to the American Baptist Missionary Union, in 1883, the entire plant, consisting of six stations, twenty-five missionaries and the whole equipment. Since then the work has grown wonderfully. The Methodists also have self-supporting missions in Congo, as have likewise the Swedes, English Baptists and the London Missionary Society.

An Old Resident Gone.

Mrs. Christina Scheffler, died at the home of Fred Gaul, in Tawas township, last Friday, aged 96 years. Mrs. Scheffler was born in Germany, in 1799, and has been a resident of Tawas for the last 30 years. For more than 20 years, and until about a year ago, she resided in a house on Bay street, just west of the Presbyterian church, and was well known by all older residents of this city. It was generally supposed that the old lady was well off, but for some unknown cause she was at the time of her death, a county charge. She leaves one son, J. F. A. Scheffler, who recently left here for Virginia, having traded his property here for property in that state.

Si. Plunkard Coming.

The great impersonator of Yankee character, J. J. Lewis, supported by a grand double company, is to appear at the East Tawas opera house, July 24th. The play is one of the most realistic pictures of country life ever drawn. It has three acts which are brim full of funny situations and comic situations. The company has a brass band and full orchestra, of which every member is a solo artist, and make the famous Burlesque Farmer Street Parade.

J. C. Lewis has no peer as a delineator of down east Yankee character. Go and see him in Si. Plunkard, at the opera house next Wednesday evening, July 24. Reserved seats for sale at Dillions.

The social given by the Forrester band Tuesday evening was largely attended and the boys reaped a snug sum for their treasury. The K. O. T. M. band, of Tawas City, was present, and played several pieces. All report a pleasant time.

Rev. R. T. W. Webb preached his farewell sermon at the Episcopal church last Sunday. He has accepted a call to a larger church at Mt. Clemens. During his residence here he has made a host of friends whose best wishes accompany him to his new field of labor.

The splended band of the 3d Regt. National Guard of Bay City, will give a grand concert at the opera house, East Tawas, on the evening of Monday, July 29. This is one of the finest musical organizations in the state and a rare treat is in store for our citizens. The concert program will appear in next weeks issue.

Last Saturday evening G. K. Warren W. R. C. gave a reception to the Sons of Veterans and their friends at the G. A. R. hall and a highly enjoyable time was had. Rev. R. L. Cope was present and gave a highly interesting account of his visit to the battle fields of Tennessee, while at the recent national convention of the Epworth League at Chattanooga. Herbert L. Cope entertained the company with several of his highly pleasing impersonations. The ladies served refreshments to which all did ample justice. All voted the evening one of the most enjoyable spent in many a day.

"Is there a man in all this audience," demanded the female lecturer on woman's rights, fiercely, "that has ever done anything to lighten the burden resting on his wife's shoulders? What do you know of a woman's work? Is there a man here," she continued, folding her arms and looking over her audience with superb scorn, "that has ever got up in the morning, leaving his tired, worn-out wife to enjoy her slumbers, gone quietly down stairs, made the fire, cooked his breakfast, sewed the missing buttons on the children's clothes, darned the family stockings, scoured the pots and kettles, cleaned and filled the lamps, swept the kitchen, and done all this if necessary, day after day uncomplainingly? If there is such a man in this audience let him rise up, I should like to see him!" And away back in the rear of the hall a mild-looking man in spectacles, in obedience to the summons, timidly arose. He was the husband of the eloquent speaker. It was the first time he had ever had the chance to assert himself.—Ladies' Every Saturday.

STRANGE things happen. Mrs. Elliott Shepard, who was a Miss Vanderbilt, is indignant because her daughter has married a son of Morris, the late lottery king. She objects to money obtained by such methods, but hasn't a word to say against some of the methods of the founder of the Vanderbilt fortune, of which she inherited a share.

Wool Up!

The attention of our farmers is called to the fact that wool is increasing in price, a fact that was never known to occur under a protective tariff. The following from the Prairie Farmer is worth your attention:

The wool market continues active with the prospect of another 1 per cent pound increase all around. Few Montana wools have come forward, while new washed fleeces are yet scarce, the prices largely nominal. Australian wools are in good demand at prices about 1 per cent all around. The following are quotations of leading descriptions: Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces XX and above, 16 1/2 cents X and above, 16 cents; delaine, 18 1/2 to 19 cents; unwashed, 11 to 12 cents; X American, 15 to 16 cents; No. 1 Michigan 18 to 19 cents; X New York, New Hampshire, and Vermont, 14 to 14 1/2 cents; X Illinois, 15 1/2 to 16 cents; No. 1 Illinois, 18 1/2 to 20 cents; Kentucky and Maine unwashed, 14 1/2 cents; blood combed, 17 to 18 1/2 cents; Texas spring medium 12 to 13 cents; Texas spring fine; 11 to 12 1/2 cents; scoured, 33 to 35 cents; Montana fine medium and fine, 10 to 13 cents; scoured, 33 to 35 cents; Montana No. 2 medium, 12 to 14 cents, scoured, 30 to 31 cents; Australian combed superfine, 41 to 43 cents; Australian combed good; 36 to 37 cents; cross-breeds, quarterblood, 29 to 30 cents; cross-breeds, three-eighths-blood, 32 to 33 cents.

Crop Report.

The Secretary of the State's July crop report says:

For this report on wheat more than 1,100 returns have been received, representing all parts of the state. The correspondents estimate the yield per acre in bushels and not in percentage of previous or average crops. The average of the estimates for the state and each section is as follows: State, 9.88 bushels; southern counties, 9.14; central counties, 11.13 bushels; northern counties, 11.82 bushels, and upper peninsula, 14 bushels. The estimates for the state is the lowest ever made July 1, it is nearly 6 bushels lower than the estimate of July 1, 1894, and nearly 7 bushels lower than the average yield in the eighteen years, 1876-1893.

The light crop is mainly because of the drouth that has prevailed all the season and still continues, yet other causes have worked more or less injury. A correspondent well says: "Light top last fall, freezing and thawing in spring, frosts in May, and drouth in April, May and June." To these should be added extensive damage by insects.

The number of bushels of wheat reported marketed in June is 522,311 as compared with 866,361 reported marketed in June, 1894, and the amount marketed in the eleven months, August-June, is 10,569,800 bushels as compared with 14,298,306 bushels in the same months last year.

The acreage planted to corn is slightly in excess of the acreage, and the condition is 91 per cent of condition, in average years.

Oats are estimated at 61 per cent of an average crop. The average for the southern counties is only 75 per cent.

The acreage planted to potatoes is 6 per cent in excess of average years, and in condition the crop promises 86 per cent of an average. Corn and potatoes seem to have stood the drouth remarkably well. If an abundance of rain comes soon both crops may be expected to yield fairly well.

Meadows and pastures were probably never in poorer condition at this date, and the spring seeding to clover is nearly all lost.

The outlook for apples and peaches is not encouraging. The former promises perhaps one-third, and the latter five-eighths of an average crop.

The Christian Endeavor Society.

The history of the Christian Endeavor society, its aims, the power and scope of its work are well known. Probably no other religious movement of the times approaches it either in size or effectiveness. An organization in which nearly 2,500,000 of people are banded together for a common object must possess tremendous power. That this great power has been directed steadily to the achievement of its avowed purpose is due, more than to any other one thing, to the wisdom and inspiration of the founder and leader, the Rev. Francis E. Clark. He and his faithful coadjutors, Secretary Baer and Treasurer Shaw, are even on the lookout for the welfare of the society and ever alive to the dangers into which it may fall. These men realize that the giant they have reared must be given plenty of work to do, so an outlet for this enormous storehouse of energy is found in the varied tasks of the societies. Civic reform, good government, temperance and missions are some of the objects of their labor.

It is perhaps unjust to ask so young a society for great results other than those which can be expressed mathematically and geographically. History alone will decide what its true influence has been. One danger with which such a vast organization is confronted is that of falling under its own weight, unless there is a very substantial foundation.

It is comparatively easy to arouse a vast assemblage to high enthusiasm; it is another thing to impress it with an abiding purpose. These high conventions, like the one which is now gathering in Boston, must inevitably give place to smaller ones, and the proposition to have a number of rallying points is even now under advisement. When this happens it will be more nearly possible to tell how much of the zeal of the members comes from the contagion of a great meeting and how much from a steadfast belief in the principles of the organization.

The only test work applying to the work of this, like that of all other federations with similar objects, is the ultimate effect upon individuals. The only result worthy the cause will be expressed in a distinct advance in the morality of the world.—Chicago Record.

How to Supplement the short Hay Crop.

From one end to the other of this land as ours the wail goes up, "What can be done to make up for the wonderfully short hay crop?"

Probably never before in the history of this country has grass been such a failure as now, and every farmer is looking about for something to help him out. Here in western New York where three months ago hay was plenty and selling for from $6 to $8 per ton, it is now hard to get at double those prices. But while I have noticed that in times like these hay usually sells for more money in the fall and the following spring, it is well for farmers to avail themselves of every means to provide plenty of forage for their stock the coming winter. And what they are now particularly desirous of knowing is what can be best grown as a substitute for the hay which they will not have next winter.

While in most sections it is now too late to plant corn with the expectation of its ripening, it is not too late to sow some of the earlier millets, such as Hungarian grass or Russian millet. Russian millet is probably a little earlier, but I much prefer the Hungarian, as it makes a larger growth and better hay. Either of these will grow to a point of maturity and make the best hay in sixty days from the time of sowing, and not much matter how dry the ground after they come up, for the hotter the weather the better they grow. Of course these millets will grow much larger crops on rich land, so it is well to select such if to be had; but they will make a fair crop on any good land, and a little manure, especially if fine, worked into the surface will pay a large profit on its application.

Millet may be sown on any piece of meadow ground, but will do extra well following clover. The land should be plowed as soon as possible and well done, and then harrowed and cultivated until very fine, and the millet sowed and slightly covered. If the ground is freshly harrowed and the seed sown and the ground at once rolled, it will be an ideal way.

Nothing further is needed until fit to cut. The great danger is that millet will be left to get too nearly ripe. It heads out quite unevenly, and by the time the last heads are fully out many of the earliest haye matured the seed.

It should be carefully watched, and when the earliest heads have seed not beyond the milk state the crop should be cut, and if left longer the early stalks, which will be much the larger part, will ripen their seed and the stalks become so woody as to be not very much better than straw.

If millet be cut on a bright morning as soon as the dew is off, and is not too heavy a growth, it will be fit to rake and cock in the afternoon. If very heavy it may be stirred out or tedded in the afternoon before the dew falls, and it will then be in good shape to rake and cock the next day.

I prefer to put it in large cocks, taking pains to make them as small on the ground and as high as they will stand well, and leave two or more days, according to the weather, and then if the weather is dry, draw from cock to barn or stack.

When millet is cut at proper stage of ripening and nicely cured, it makes fine food. All kinds of stock do well upon it.

Flat or English turnips may also be used to supplement the hay crop. In many parts of Canada I have seen stock wintered almost entirely upon straw and turnips. There is plenty of time yet to grow them, and when raised as indicated on page 6 of The Prairie Farmer of June 29, the cost is a mere nothing, and he who has an abundance of flat turnips; with plenty of millet hay and a good straw stack, need not lie awake at night worrying because of a scanty hay crop.—J. S. Woodward, in Prairie Farmer.

Advice to Young Men.

Eight excellent suggestions by the late Prof. J. Stuart Blackie:

Never indulge in the notion that you have any absolute right to choose the sphere or the circumstances in which you are to put forth your powers of social action, but let your daily wisdom of life be in making a good use of the opportunities given you.

We live in a real and a solid and truthful world. In such a world only truth, in the long run, can hope to prosper. Therefore avoid lies, mere show and sham and hollow superficiality of all kinds, which is at best a painted lie. Let whatever you are, and whatever you do, grow out of a firm root of truth and a strong soil of reality.

The nobility of life is work. We live in a working world. The idle and lazy man does not count in the plan of campaign. "My father worketh hitherto and I work." Let that text be enough.

Never forget Paul's sentence: "Love is the fulfilling of the law." That is the steam of the social machine.

But the steam requires regulation. It is regulated by intelligence and moderation. Healthy action is always a balance of forces, and all extremes are dangerous. The excess of a good thing being often more dangerous in its social consequences than the excess of what is radically bad.

Do one thing well; "be a whole man, as Chancellor Thurlow said, "do one thing at a time." Make clean work and leave no tags. Allow no delays when you are at a thing. Do it and be done with it.

Avoid miscellaneous reading. Read nothing that you do not care to remember, and remember nothing you do not mean to use.

Never desire to appear clever and make a parade of your talents before men. Be honest, loving, kindly and sympathetic in all you say and do. Cleverness will flow from you naturally if you have it; and applause will come to you unsought from those who know what to applaud, but the applause of fools is to be shunned.

A Vast Army of Workers.

A Statistician writer has figured it out that more than 200,000 women in New York City earn their living. Of these, 7 per cent, are widows, or wives divorced from their husbands, and 27,000, or more than 10 per cent, are married women. The wages vary from $1.50 to $13 per week; the poorest pay is given to women who seam linen, etc. In the bookbinding shops, in the glove factories, in the carpet weaving factories, etc., the wages range between $4 and $7. Bookkeepers receive about $7 a week; women engaged in cigar manufactories, $9; milliners, silk weavers and typewriters, $10 a week; shorthand clerks, $12 and women sewing furs, $13. In connection with the above, it should be understood that a weekly pay of $1.50 must be considered rather as a remuneration for a child than for a woman—viz., to the so-called cash girls, who in the large shops bring the sold goods and the cash from the counter to the cashier, and then take the goods back to the person who sold them. These girls are generally thirteen to fifteen years old, although they are not legally allowed to begin work till fourteen years old. The price paid for making cheap petticoats and underlinen is becoming lower every year, and in order to earn $3 a week one has to work excessively hard. This kind of work is almost monopolized by emigrant women, married and single, who spoil the prices of each other. While reference to typewriters and shorthand clerks, they often receive more than the pay mentioned above $10 and $12 a week. Ladies who combine the two vocations may, in good houses, obtain as much as $18 a week; but then, of course, they have to be exceedingly clever. On the other hand, there are thousands of girls who only earn their $6 or $7 weekly as typewriters, and, perhaps, tens of thousands who would gladly accept such a situation, but they have not the requisite ability. The other wages enumerated above must also be considered as an average the workers can earn within each branch, and they are, perhaps, rather put too high than otherwise.

With regard to the cost of livelihood for women workers, it is stated to vary from $3 a week to $7 a week; in many cases the women live together in a sort of barracks, have joint cooking, etc., and are stated in many cases hardly to taste meat once a week. It is especially the women coming from Poland, Hungary and Italy who lower the wages by offering cheaper work, and they have, in many cases, quite deprived the American women of their work. Female hands are treated very roughly and harshly in many factories; they are not allowed the smallest accommodation, and are fined for the most trifling disorder.—Ladies' Every Saturday.

Do You Want to Stop Tobacco? You Can Be Cured While Using It.

The habit of using tobacco grown on a man until grave disease conditions are produced. Tobacco causes cancer on the mouth and stomach; dyspepsia; loss of memory; nervous affections; congestion of the retina, and wasting of the optic nerve, resulting in impairment of vision, even to the extent of blindness; dizziness, or vertigo; tobacco asthma; nightly suffocation; dull pain in region of the heart, followed later by sharp pains, palpitation and weakened pulse, resulting in fatal heart disease. It also causes loss of vitality. Quit, before it is too late.

To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco—to an inveterate user, becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Bacco-Curo" is a scientific and reliable vegetable remedy, guaranteed to be perfectly harmless, and which has been in use for the last 23 years, having cured thousands of habitual tobacco users—smokers, chewers and snuff-dippers.

You can use all the tobacco you want while taking "Bacco-Curo," it will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to permanently cure any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent interest.

"Bacco-Curo" is not a substitute, but a reliable and scientific cure—which absolutely destroys the craving for tobacco without the aid of will power, and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine, as the day you took your first chew or smoke.

Sold by all druggists, at $1.00 per box, three boxes, (thirty days treatment, and guarantee cure), $2.50, or sent direct upon receipt of price. Send six two-cent stamps for sample box, booklet and proofs free. Eureka Chemical & Manufacturing Company, Manufacturing Chemists, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

IT'S INJURIOUS TO STOP SUDDENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so; as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most all cases, the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about BACCO-CURO. It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with BACCO-CURO. It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you took your first chew or smoke. An iron-clad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, of money refunded. Price $1.00 per box or 3 boxes (30 days treatment and guaranteed cure), $2.50. For sale by all druggists or will be sent by mail upon receipt of price. SEND SIX TWO CENT STAMPS FOR SAMPLE BOX. Office of THE PIONEER PRESS COMPANY, C. W. HORRICE, Supt. St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 7, 1894.

Eureka Chemical and Mfg Co., La Crosse, Wis. Dear Sir,—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being, at least, I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Bacco-Curo." Three weeks ago to-day I commenced using your horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Bacco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it. Yours very truly, C. W. HORRICE.

T. W. Davidson, of Bay City and W. J. Terney, of Rosecommon, have taken a contract from J. T. Hurst, of Wyandotte, to cut and bank 35,000,000 feet of pine in Houghton county at Ontanogan. The logs will be run down the Ontanogan river six miles to Kenton, where they will be sawed into lumber by the Sparrow Kroll Lumber company. The lumber will be shipped over the D. S. S. A. railroad to Marquette docks where it will be shipped by water. It will take two years to make the cut.

Belle, the ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. G. McPhee, had a very narrow escape from drowning last Wednesday forenoon. She in company with several little play mates were bathing in the bay in front of the court house, and were riding on a log when they got beyond their depth, and Belle fell from the log. She had sank the second time when Ezoa Smith, rescued her by holding her head above the water until help arrived. The little girl was unconscious and it required over an hour's word by Dr. Darling and Miss Anna Johnson, before she revived. She is now out of danger and will soon be around as usual. Had it not been for the forethought of little Ezoa, nothing could have saved the child, and much praise is due the little girl for the bravery shown.

When your neighbor requests the loan of your paper, just ask him why he does not subscribe for himself. You are generous enough and public spirited enough to take your home paper, while he would cheat the publisher and wrong you by keeping his dollar in his pocket, and making you pay for his reading. Give him the reply given by a friend of ours a few weeks ago. He was asking for his Critic shortly after receiving it from the post office, and promptly asked the man why he did not subscribe for it. "Oh, it wouldn't do me any good to take it," was the reply. "Then it wouldn't do you any good to take it, and you can't have it," was the prompt rejoinder. If all borrowers were treated in like manner, publishers would give better value to those who did pay.—Caseville Critic.

"Is it possible" that the editor of the Gazette was not "onto" the fact that the East Tawas ball team was desecrating the Sabbath, until he read our report of the East Tawas-Alabaster game in last week's HERALD. Why, Bro. Jackson nearly every other citizen of the two cities knows that some of the East Tawas "blood and thunder fellahs" have had a ball game at some point almost every Sunday this summer. As for the HERALD editor knowing what he is talking about, when he reported the game last week, he certainly did, as he got his authority from those who were there. We hope that our brother will recover from the shock to his nervous system, and if he keeps his ears open he may be able to report a game or two for next Sunday.

John McCollum, who is slightly deranged, owing to an injury once received, was sentenced last week to 60 days in the Detroit House of Correction for being drunk and disorderly, and placed in the lockup here until Monday. He got hold of a match and Sunday night started a fire in his cell, it was thought intentionally with a hope of escaping. It was with difficulty he was rescued. The building was entirely destroyed. Sheriff Nelson boarded the train Monday with his prisoner, and when within 14 miles of Grayling, "Jack" went and got a drink and then leaped from the train while it was at full speed. The train stopped but the Sheriff could not find him. Yesterday Sheriff Nelson and Deputy Stevenson caught him near the AuSable river, and Martin started again today for Detroit with the prisoner.—Lewiston Journal.

Salt for Stock.

The craving of an animal for salt is most imperative when the diet consists largely of food very rich in potassium salts, such as the cereal grains—wheat, barley and oats—potatoes, peas and beans. On the other hand, when there is an excess of salt there is a craving for water to wash it out in the excretions through the kidneys and the skin. Animals that are given much salt and are allowed to quench their thirst freely not only pass more urine than ordinarily, but also sweat more freely than on more equable diet. Too much salt throws too much work on the kidneys, and serious complications may follow an injudicious quantity supplied. The pig has few sweat glands by which to excrete an extra amount of salt. Those which it possesses are congregated around the snout. These are not sufficient to eliminate any excess of salt administered, even with the aid of healthy action of the kidneys, and therefore brine poisoning takes place, a disease not unfamiliar to the owners of swine.

The addition of salt to the ordinary food of animals does not increase the digestibility of the substances consumed, but it increases their appetite, tends to promote repair of tissue by its searching diffusion through the body, while it stimulates the rapid "using up" of its waste products. Experiments show that salt increases muscular vigor and activity among oxen, and approves their general appearance and condition. Where muscular strength is the object of feeding, a regular supply of salt improves health and vigor, thus it is that horses derive such benefit from partaking of it—especially when corn and beans form an important part of their dietary. Fattening oxen should only have as much salt as will increase their appetite for food, and so improve their condition. It should not be given to them too freely, as the more sluggish they are, and the more inclined to rest, the more rapidly will they acquire wealth of flesh.

The quantity of salt given to an ox is a matter of some importance. The quantity found suitable to give to oxen feeding on hay, straw, turnips, &c., is from half an ounce to one and a half ounces per day to every 1,000 pounds live weight, but if food rich in potash salts, such as potatoes, corn beans and peas, is being fed to stock, the quantity of salt may be considerably increased with good effect.—*N. DON'T STOP TOBACCO.

How to Cure Yourself While Using It.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco, as an inveterate user becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. Baco-Curo is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin Physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872, without a failure, purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want, while taking Baco-Curo, it will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to permanently cure any case with three boxes, or refund the money with ten per cent interest. Baco-Curo is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day you took your first chew or smoke. Sold by all druggists, with our ironclad guarantee, at $1.00 per box, three boxes, (thirty days treatment,) $2.50, or sent direct upon receipt of price. Women Censorship in Baltimore.

The women of Baltimore have set about their work of theater censorship in a sensible way and one that is likely to prove most efficient. They have organized for the purpose of discountenancing plays of an immoral tendency, and they will act by staying away when the performances are given. There is, however, to be no public or concerted action.

"The society as a whole," says one of its members, "will not boycott any particular play which may be considered improper, nor do the members pledge themselves to any such united action. If they join the society, they will simply promise to weigh carefully in their own minds whether they honestly ought to attend the performance of any play which is generally considered immoral or whether they ought to encourage bad conduct among persons on the stage by going to see stars whose general reputation is that of being immoral persons. Any other course, any vote against any particular play, would, if made public, very likely have a result directly opposite to the purposes of the society by sending hundreds of persons to see the play."

In addition to this voluntary censorship the club will have fortnightly meetings through the theatrical season, at which papers on the drama, critical, historical and otherwise, will be presented, together with discussions on current theatrical productions. At these meetings actors of good reputation will be invited to present their views on the same subject.

The club is the outgrowth of an idea in the direction of Mrs. Franklin, wife of Professor Fabian Franklin of the Johns Hopkins university.—Baltimore Letter.

Live Stock Points.

What to do with idle horses in winter is a hard problem. A good plan in districts where the ground is not frozen solid to the depth of several feet is to use them to do the hauling while you dig a pond for irrigation purposes in summer. Many farms have a brook or spring or springy soil in a place high enough to afford considerable fall. At a convenient place dig a good sized pond. Cover the bottom and sides with clay, water cement, or wall it, as you like best. It will fill full and stay full. In the hot dry weather of summer you can connect it by hose pipe with your farm garden or berry patches and raise bounteous crops in spite of drought. Thus your horses will more than pay their way in winter.

The kind of stock that you can't keep because it is so good that buyers snap it up at once is the kind that you want to raise every time.

Breed for size and speed in the American road horse. There is no better in the world.

Shropshires and Oxford Down sheep have wool growing well down on the legs, while the Southdowns have smooth, hairy legs.

There is many a time good work for farm horses in winter, if their owners will just hustle around and find it, either at home or in neighboring towns.

Tennessee is rapidly rising into fame as a live stock state, especially in the production of mules and trotting horses.

Sows bred at 12 months old will bring vigorous litters. It does not pay to breed them till they are at least 8 months old.

Microscope With a Sad History.

A microscope belonging to Marie Antoinette has been recently discovered in a city in the center of France. A little before her marriage the young archduchess of Austria expressed the strange desire of possessing a microscope. When asked what she intended to do with it, she answered with a sad smile, "I would like to see my happiness, which is so small that I cannot see it with the naked eye." The microscope, which was incased in a delicate little box and bore the mark, "Angelo Gozzi, Optician at Parme, 1752," figured among her wedding corbeille, or presents. It was constructed according to the directions of Dr. Lieberkühn, who had made many improvements in the microscope, invented in 1590 by a spectacle maker of Middleburg, Zacharie Jansen, and its magnifying properties are nearly as good as those of the latest manufactured microscope.—Art International.

South Carolina Women.

The South Carolina Equal Rights association has elected as president Mrs. Virginia D. Young, Fairfax; vice president at large, Mrs. Viola Neblett, Greenville; secretary, Mrs. Marion Mergan, Buckner; treasurer, Mrs. Georgia Bailey, Greenville; press reporter, Miss Mary Hemphill, Abbeville. General Hemphill's paper, the Abbeville Medium, was made the organ of the state society.

Mme. Henry Honored.

Mme. Henry of Paris, the superintendent of the Paris Maternity hospital, has had her name added to the list of Lady Knights of the Legion of Honor. This high distinction is awarded to her for the excellent service rendered to the important and useful institution of which she is the guiding spirit.

When It Goes.

Mme. Bodichon, foremost of pioneers to provide a higher education for English girls, is to have a memorial at Girton college in the form of a scholarship named for her. She was one of the founders of Girton, and the sum of the scholarship is precisely that of one at Radcliffe, $5,000. But the governors of Girton do not seem to be getting on as rapidly as did Agnes Irwin's girls in Philadelphia. They raised the sum in a few summer months and had the Agnes Irwin scholarship ready to present to the college almost before the new dean was settled in her rooms there. When Philadelphia women determine that something shall "go" and set about it in the right way, "it goes."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Decline of Half Mourning.

Half mourning is no longer worn to any extent, lavender and all the violet shades, gray, and black and white being now used as out of mourning colors too generally to give them their former significance. Of course the bereaved one does not change abruptly from deep mourning to bright colors. She naturally adopts substitute colors first and returns to habitual wearing apparel by gradual transition, but the hard and fast rules regarding the manner of it are left to individual preference.—Philadelphia Press.

A Brave Woman.

Louise Cronse, an Indian girl of 20, a direct descendant of the Algonquians, is at the normal school in Oswego, N. Y. She is penniless, her mother is dead, her father is a dipsomaniac, and there are no relatives or wealthy friends to aid her. Nevertheless she is determined to have an education and has managed to pay her way so far and to clothe herself as well by hard labor of all kinds and at all times. She is completing her course, but works as hard as ever in order to put by something with which to educate her youngest sister. After completing her studies in the normal school she hopes to enter some medical college and become a physician.—Woman's Journal.

Masculine Tact.

Here is an instance of masculine tact: It was at a reception, and the witty woman had been talking to the average man half an hour. He was trying his best to seem interested, and when she paused for breath he said with an air: "Do you know, you interest me so much. I am so sick of pretty women, you know." And all the palms in that corner wilted.—New York Sun.

Mortgage Sale.

Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated the 30th day of December, in the year 1891, executed by Francis A. Esmond, of the Township of Plainfield, county of Iosco and state of Michigan, to Elmer Brigham, of said county Ionia and state of Michigan, which said mortgage was recorded in Iosco, in the register of deeds, of the county of Iosco, in liber 10 of mortgages on pages 283 and 284 on the 31st day of December, in the year 1891, at 1 o'clock p. m., and whereas the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of four hundred and fifty-three dollars and seventy-eight cents, of principal and interest, and the sum of three hundred and thirty dollars and which is the whole amount claimed to be unpaid on said mortgage and no suit or proceeding having been instituted at law to recover the debt now remaining secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative.
