The Agricultural Society.

The annual meeting of the Iosco County Agricultural Society was held at the court house last Monday and was largely attended. The report of the officers show much good work done during the past year. Improvements on the grounds to the amount of nearly $175 have been made and over $300 of back indebtedness paid. The total indebtedness of the society at the present time, including nearly $375 of back taxes against the ground before purchased by the society, is about $1,200. An effort will be made during the coming year to raise a large portion of this amount.

Officers for the following year were elected as follows:

President—John Sullivan.

Secretary—G. C. Anschuetz.

Treasurer—W. G. Richards.

Directors—N. Murchinson, Ruben Wade, P. C. Goldie, John Preston, Thos. Curry. John Stockman was elected as director to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of John Sullivan.

Life Savers Getting Their Reward.

After some years of neglect the life savers received needed consideration at the hands of the last congress the passage of the bill for the increase of salaries being due largely to the efforts of several prominent citizens of Alpena. The present congress will now be asked to pass a bill, which will be introduced simultaneously in both houses, and which will provide that all the general officers, captains of stations, and surfmen, shall, upon request, be retired on half pay after twenty years consecutive service. It further provides that the widows of captains and surfmen who die in the service shall receive, so long as they remain widows, a pension equivalent to one half the pay received by their husbands. Orphan children of captains and surfmen shall receive collectively a like amount until they are sixteen years old. The bill is only justice to one of the hardest working and most deserving branches of Uncle Sam's service and it should be passed. —Harrisville Review.

How To Kill A Town.

Some things to do to stagnate business, says an exchange:

There is no way to kill a town quicker than by an observation of the following rules, which are the guiding action of the croaker:

Buy of peddlers as often and as much as possible.

Denounce your merchants because they make a profit on their goods.

Make out your town a very bad place and stab it whenever you can.

Refuse to unite in any scheme for the betterment of the people.

If a stranger comes to your town tell him things are overdone and predict a general crash in the near future.

If you are a merchant, don't advertise in your home paper, but buy a rubber stamp and use it.

When you have anything to say of your town, say it in such a way that it will leave the impression that you have no faith in it.

For Sale or Exchange.

Having about 8 or 10 good work and driving horses more than we need in our livery business, we will exchange for stock or produce, or sell for part cash, balance on terms. Inquire of Johnson & Murphy, Tawas City, Mich.

From Our Correspondents.

VINE.

There is to be a social in the church on Friday evening, Feb. 24. All are cordially invited.

While returning from the social at Mr. Chase's, of Tuesday evening, one of Mr. Thos. Curry's horses stepped off the end of a culvert and got its leg so fastened that it required an axe to chop it out. At last report it was standing on three legs.

PLANK ROAD.

Ernest Chase returned to Owosso on Friday of last week.

Mrs. M. Wade, who has been sick for some time, is slowly improving.

Mr. Mann, of Owosso, spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Chase.

Mrs. Brabon and Mrs. Stickney made Mrs. Wade a pleasant visit last week.

J. W. King is hauling logs down the plank road, but the sleighing is quite poor.

Miss Maggie Nisbet, of Tawas City, led the C. E. prayer meeting at Laidlawville Friday evening.

Frank Long, Will Tompkins and Fred Force attended the C. E. meeting last Friday night.

Messrs Mann, J. E. Chase, W. Chase and C. Chase went out rabbit hunting last Tuesday. Their hunt was a failure and they came home tired and hungry. The same old story—more hunting than game.

I. X. L.

GRANT.

Our sleighing is very good at present.

Mr. Jesse Carpenter has again moved on his farm.

Mr. Chas. Curry's mill will be closed for a few days.

We are sorry to learn that Mrs Wm. Bamberger is quite ill.

Mr. Crego, of Reno, called at Grant school No. 3, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irish went to Reno Wednesday, to attend the funeral of Mr. Delbert Horton.

Mrs. Robert Watts entertained Mr. and Miss Lake, her father and sister, on Wednesday of this week.

We were somewhat surprised to learn that one of our neighbors, who has a large family of boys, has engaged a young man to build fires every morning.

Found, between Hemlock Road and Curry's mill, a pocket book, owner can obtain same by dividing the contents. Enquire of John Watt's or Calvin Wixon.

A party of young folks enjoyed a sleigh-ride Tuesday night. Did we go to the social at W. Chase's? Yes, but not any of our crowd walked to Tawas for the sake of a free ride back.

Mr. Hall is finishing the interior of his house this week. When it is finished 'twill be a model farm house. Although he has lived on his farm but a few years he has made many improvements.

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE

Held Last Week Was a Grand Success.

The first Annual Institute of the Iosco County Farmers' Institute Society was held at the court house, in this city, Thursday and Friday, January 9th and 10th. The Institute was conducted by Prof. H. P. Gladden, of the state Agricultural College and was beyond doubt, a huge success in every way. Below we give a brief outline of the meeting, which, we feel has been of vast benefit to the farmers of this community. It appears to us that this meeting and interchanging of ideas, must prove of infinite value to those interested.

THURSDAY MORNING SESSION.

This being the first session, as is usual in such cases a comparatively small gathering was present. What was lacking as regards numbers, however, was abundantly atoned for by the enthusiasm exhibited by those fortunate enough to be present.

It being learned that it was impossible for Senator Prescott to be present, the address of welcome, which he was to have given, was dispensed with, but look you! the address was dispensed with, not the welcome, it being apparent that each extended to his neighbor the heartiest welcome. This state of affairs having been tacitly arrived at, the meeting was continued, with the fraternal tone uninterrupted.

Prof. H. P. Gladden then made a few general remarks to the meeting, preceding his address on "Apples and Plums." This was a very interesting subject and was fully appreciated, doubly so, as the soil and climate of this county are, perhaps, better adapted to the culture of the fruits indicated, than any others.

Reuben Wade, E. Laidlaw, Geo. Anschuetz, W. Chase, and others discussed this subject, and the discussion waxed warm. So interesting, indeed, did it prove, that when time was called, Rev. A. C. Kay, who was to follow with an address comparing English and American farming, arose and expressed his wish that the discussion be proceeded with, and that he would speak on the following day, during the time allotted to Mr. J. M. Waterbury, who was unable to be present. The balance of the morning was then devoted to this discussion, which evinced the fact that many experiments have been made along this line in this county. The modes of planting, cultivating, draining, etc., were handled very intelligently.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session was opened by a solo by Miss Charity Schermerhorn. She sang "The Ship that never Came," in a ripe and mellow voice. She was accompanied by Miss Effie Graham, who cultivated the organ to such an extent that an abundant harvest of harmony was reaped.

Prof. Gladden followed with a very instructive address on "How and when to Spray." He insists that a large amount of indiscriminate spraying is useless. The first important point in spraying is to determine what particular insect you wish to destroy by spraying, and then to locate it, after which it is an easy matter to procure a solution intended to exterminate that particular insect. You must know what you want to kill and what will have the desired effect before you attempt to kill it. What is poison to one insect is a very wholesome diet to others. He emphatically recommends doing away with any pile of rubbish which may accumulate in the orchards. This furnishes a good harbor for all kinds of destroying insects.

The discussion following this address was long and varied. Powerful agencies for the destruction of all kinds of insects and worms which attack trees and vegetables were taken up, and, doubtless, every man present was greatly benefited thereby.

Prof. H. E. VanNorman, of the Agricultural College dairy department, than gave a very practical address on "Good Butter Making." He illustrated his address by means of dairy apparatus, of which he had a full equipment. He exhibited and explained the use of various instruments for determining the quality of the milk, the temperature, the proportion of butter fat, etc. He explained the use of a "starter," by means of which cream may be prepared for the churn in twenty-four hours after it is gathered. To illustrate his methods Mr. VanNorman made a few pounds of butter; explaining as he went, the why of everything. When the butter came from the churn his "worker" was found to be away ahead of the old way—a paddle and a good strong arm.

The ladies discussed this subject at length and intelligently. They know a great deal about it, and they can sometimes be induced to talk, even though it be reluctantly.

EVENING SESSION.

It was expected that the city band would be present in the evening and discourse a few sweet strains, and the program boldly announced music for the first number, but owing to a misunderstanding the band did not arrive, and consequently the expected strains did not strain.

Following the music which failed to muse, Prof. J. K. Osgerby, of East Tawas, entertained the audience by a brief address on "What shall we Read?" His remarks, though brief, were very much to the point. His advice in regard to reading applied not only to the farmer, but as well to any person, no matter what his calling might be. He drew particular attention to the importance of educating the children to read intelligently, and then to interest them in the beauties of good literature rather than condemn the poorer grade. He pertinently remarked that "what we read will enter the foundation of our characters." Mr. Osgerby recommends for children biographies and histories, believing that the example of what others have done, will, in many cases, prove of great value to the student. He recommends particularly for general reading the Bible, "Little Lord Fauntleroy," and the "Youths' Companion."

The chairman then suggested that the audience unite in singing "America," which was done with a will.

The principal address of the evening was made by Lieut Lewis, of the military department of the Agricultural College. His subject was "Military Training; Its Relation to Citizenship," and was handled in a very able manner. "Our National army," he said, is very small, and the practical safe-guard of our country must be the volunteers." It is apparent then, that a large number of these volunteers should have some military training. The American people are patriotic to a high degree, and willing to sacrifice self for country, but there should be "method in madness," hence, military training for the citizens is highly important. Military training promotes patriotism and it is not impossible that at some future time patriots may be in great demand. The present indications are or seem to be, that warfare is not a relic of the past. With many of the most civilized countries of the world, even at this moment, watching each others movements narrayly, with thousands of fingers resting on thousands of triggers, it would not seem to indicate that warfare was a thing of the past. Lieut Lewis, as many others, has been deeply greived to see that brave old flag of ours bearing a star on its face in the shape of an advertisement, setting forth the virtues of some particular brand of tobacco or whisky. He explained the workings of the military department of the agricultural college and concluded his address with a few very patric remarks which called forth vigorous applause.

As this was the last number on the program for the evening, and it was still early, a very pleasant half hour was spent in discussing the last two addresses. Mr. P. C. Goldie, in outlining the every day life of a farmer, seemed to prove conclusively that a farmer had really very little time to read anything. Mrs. Goldie followed and indicated briefly a few omissions in Mr. G.'s remarks. Her talk was replete with good things, and she was frequently interrupted by outbursts of applause.

FRIDAY MORNING SESSION.

Miss Charity Schermerhorn was present and sung in a pleasing manner, "Alice, Where Art Thou?"

Prof. Gladden, in his address on "Potato Growing," gave a large amount of useful information in regard to the manner and time of planting, laying particular stress on the importance of preparing the land. His talk in regard to the diseases of potatoes was very comprehensive. To prevent scabs he recommended soaking the seed potatoes in a solution of mercury, using two ounces of mercury to fifteen gallons of water.

Rev. A. C. Kay read a very exhaustive paper on "Wheat, and Wheat Culture." This paper contained many interesting statistics, and many practical suggestions which could be adopted with good effect by our farmers.

The balance of the morning session was given up to the discussion on the above topics and brought out much which would tend to be of great mutual benefit.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

This session was opened with a solo by Miss Nettie Darling. She sang "A Winter Lullaby," in a rich and sweet voice. Miss Darling's voice betrays much culture, being full and very expressive.

Hon. W. E. Boyden's paper on "Breeding Improved Live Stock," was very practical. Mr. Boyden has been for many years engaged in horse and cattle raising, and the results of his experiments can not but be of great value to those who are engaging in that branch of farming. At the close of his paper he was assailed by a multitude of questions, all of which he disposed of in a very clear and concise manner.

Dr. W. J. Beal, Professor of Botany, Michigan Agricultural College, illustrated his address, "Clovers and Grasses for Northern Michigan," by means of a large number of samples. His suggestions, if followed, will prove invaluable to farmers. The hour having already arrived for the business meeting, the discussion on this topic was cut rather short, but every branch of his subject was handled so exhaustively that there was really but little left unsaid.

At the business meeting the following officers for the society were elected for the ensuing year:

President, John Preston.
Secretary, Geo. C. Anschuetz.
Treasurer, John Sullivan.
Vice presidents, R. Wade; Tawas City, J. M. Walkér; AuSable township, Wm. Angell; AuSable City, Wm. McFarlane; Wilber, Geo. Davis; Grant, Thos. Low; Alabaster, John Anderson; Sherman, James McIvor; Plainfield, Ed. Evans; Reno, H. Lamb; Burleigh, Maynard Butz; Oscoda, James Barlow; Baldwin, Eneas Gray; East Tawas, Rev. A. C. Kay.

EVENING SESSION.

As was evident by the audience which assembled for this, the last session of the institute, its virtues had been noised abroad, and a large number who had failed to attend the former sessions came now, and received what benefit and pleasure there was to be gained from one short evenings program.

After the audience had sung "The Red, White and Blue," Prof. Woodworth gave an able address on the "Boiling Point." In explanation of his subject the professor said that his lecture would be merely a talk, similar to those he gave each morning to his class in physics at the agricultural college. He had his apparatus with him and illustrated by an experiment on each point he made. He dropped a large number of useful hints in regard to canning fruit, how milk is condensed, etc. Prof. Woodworth is young and gallant, complimented the ladies, and was a prime favorite with them.

Prof. Beal's lecture on "Forest Fires," was pronounced by all to be an extremely instructive and entertaining one. The stereopticon views which were used to make this subject clear were very fine indeed, and doubtless, because of them, all who were present, now have a much better idea as to the origin of forest fires as well as to the nature of the construction of our most common kinds of timber.

Prof. Beal is deeply interested in the subject of forestry, and if the time ever arrives when the citizens and legislators of our country become more awake to the importance of perpetuating some of our forests it will be due to the efforts of such men as Prof. W. J. Beal.

Thus ended the First Annual Institute of the Iosco County Farmers' Institute Society.

A. S. BUSHNELL was inaugurated as governor of Ohio last Monday, at Columbus.

THE success of Cuban independence is now beyond doubt. Havana, will undoubtedly surrender before many days.

UNLESS the present congress intends to get to work and do something, it would be to the interest of their constituents to adjourn and go home.

GEN'L GORNEZ, commander of the Cuban insurgents, has proven himself one of the most successful and able commanders of modern times.

Gov. RICH has appointed George A. Farr, of Grand Rapids, to succeed C. H. Hackley resigned, of Muskegon, as regent of the State University.

THE engagement of Ex-President Harrison and Mrs. Caroline Dimmick is again announced by the papers but the parties most concerned are saying nothing.

THE British government are making active preparations for war, but chances are that it is a case of bluff, which will not stick with her German grandson.

THE Cuban insurgents are certainly entitled to recognition by the United States as belligerents, and such a resolution should be passed by congress without delay.

THE tail of the British lion has received so many twists of late, that it would make an excellent cork screw for the Prince of Wales to crack champagne bottles with.

 A very pleasant time was had Tuesday night by the people who attended the social and sleighride at Mr. Wardwell Chase's. The night being fine made the ride pleasant for the six large loads that left from here and the Hemlock. The evening was spent in playing games, eating and having a good sociable time. The verdict of all was, that Mr. and Mrs. Chase know how to entertain company. The social was a success financially also.
 An exchange prints the following article which is applicable in every community and is worth reproducing: "We would like to offer a suggestion to the people of this town for winter. Don't ship a big box of clothing and provisions a thousand miles away when there is a little boy freezing just around the corner, probably within a foot of you. It is right to send away, but take care of the destitute at your own doors before going any further away."
 About the 15th of last November, George Goodwillie, of Tawas township, was arrested on the complaint of the deputy game warden for killing a deer in the waters of Tawas bay. The case was brought before Justice Allard, of AuSable, and on one pretext or another has been adjourned from time to time, until last Thursday when it was tried by a jury. Thos. Pugh appeared for Goodwillie and the Prosecuting Attorney for the game warden. The testimony was decidedly shy and the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. It appears that the entire case was trumped up as a piece of spite work by a man who had previously been bluffed into paying a fine for a violation of the game law. Mr. Goodwillie is an honest, hard working man and the verdict is a just one.

When the contribution plate in the church reached a Mt. Clemens lady, she noticed a note addressed to herself. It came from a lady friend and read: "Your new hat is a loo-loo."

It is reported in Mancelona that preliminary steps have been taken towards calling a special election early in the spring to vote upon the repeal of the local option law in Antrim county.

Bay county took its first step toward good roads 20 years ago, and claims to be the pioneer county in that direction. With in 15 years 60 miles of stone roads have been constructed at a cost of $550,000.

A green Saginaw lad, who wanted a marriage license, was asked the color of his bride. He hesitated, blushed, and replied: "I don't know, but I think she is white, with a few pink spots on her cheeks."

A bright little Standish boy has a great aptness in learning new hymns and songs, and a few days ago he surprised his parents by singing: "There's no flies on me and there's no flies on—Jesus, lover of my soul." The effect can be imagined.

Last week's Oscoda Press drops into rhyme and proceeds to put the girls of that village "onto" some of the marriageable bachelors in a very artistic manner. If white, Whitelaw, Cosgrove and a few more escape this year, they are forever safe.

F. Byron Zua, one of AnSable's most promising and prominent young business men, died at his home in that city Jan. 8, of typhoid fever. Mr. Zua was in his 33d year and leaves a wife and two small children, besides a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

James Cowley, of Indian River, credits Francis Schlatter, the Mexican miracle worker, with curing a genuine case of asthma of 10 years standing. The blessed handkerchief removed all traces of the disease. It is said a friend of his is holding the handkerchief in his toothless jaws, hoping to hatch a new set of teeth.

When working on the new Washington school at Bay City got down the other morning they found 30 pounds of steam in the boiler and the horizontal engine wrecked so it could not be used. It is believed vandals wanted to blow up the building, though no motive is assigned. The heating apparatus had not yet been accepted by the board of education.

A local editor has a new way of addressing papers to his Indian subscribers. As their names are too lasting to be written each week, he has them go by numbers. The Indian who pays best is honored with the title of No. 1, and so on up. They wear their numbers on their coats, displaying them with great pride, and they hustle around all the year to see who will be the "bes' kin' man me, number wan."—Harbor Springs Liar.

The merchants and clerks of Cheboygan are very hot at L. E. Hamilton, a dry goods merchant, because he refuses to follow their example and close his store at 6 o'clock. A committee called upon him the other night, but received no encouragement. Soon afterwards a crowd of clerks armed with pipes and tobacco, burst in upon him with the intention of smoking him out. Hamilton, who weighs 175 pounds, threatened to throw out the first man who entered, and they retreated. They now talk of giving a grand torch-light procession.

A Harbor Springs jeweler wrote a "recommend" for a dusky damsel. In his haste he got mixed with a business letter, and this is what the poor squaw handed to a preacher. "I take pleasure in recommending this case to you. It is washed on the back, has a plain, open face, and is a 16 beauty. The movement is slow and has no jewels, but it keeps good time, and when wound up, will not run down for 24 hours. Give it a trial." The girl secured work at once, and now the jeweler is hounded to death by squaws who want "recommends."—Harbor Springs Liar.

HEART DISEASE, like many other ailments when they have taken hold of the system, never gets better of its own accord, but constantly grows worse. There are thousands who know they have a defective heart, but will not admit the fact. They don't want their friends to worry, and don't know what to take for it, as they have been told time and again that heart disease was incurable. Such was the case of Mr. Silas Farley of Dyesville, Ohio who writes June 19, 1894, as follows:

"I had heart disease for 23 years, my heart hurting me almost continually. The first 15 years I doctored all the time, trying several physicians and remedies, until my last doctor told me it was only a question of time as I could not be cured. I gradually grew worse, very weak, and completely discouraged, until I lived, propped half up in bed, because I couldn't lie down nor sit up. Thinking my time had come I told my family what I wanted done when I was gone. But on the first day of March on the recommendation of Mrs. Fannie Jones, of Anderson, Ind., I commenced taking Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart and wonderful to tell, in ten days I was working at light work and on March 19 commenced framing a barn, which is heavy work, and I haven't lost a day since. I am 56 years old, 6 ft. 4 1/2 inches and weigh 250 lbs. I believe I am fully cured, and I am now only anxious that everyone shall know of your wonderful remedies."

Dyesville, Ohio. SILAS FARLEY.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. All druggists sell it at 50c. 6 bottles for $5 or it will be sent, prepaid on receipt of price by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
