GROGERS AND BUTCHERS

Of Bay City held their Annual Excursion at Tawas Park.

Fifty cars in four trains brought nearly 5,000 of the Bay City grocers and butchers to the new resort grounds on Tawas Bay, last Wednesday. This was the opening day of what promises to be the most popular resort in Michigan. It is to be regretted that the day was mared by rain, which commenced about noon and continued in showers all day. A conservative estimate placed the crowd in attendance at 6,000 people.

Nothing but praise was heard from the visitors, for the effort of the D. & M. R. officials in opening up what cannot fail to prove a very popular resort. The grounds are most handsomely located with fine shade. A large pavillion, bath house, dock, etc., has been erected, and the grounds are supplied with seats and tables without number.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the crowd seemed to enjoy themselves, and it is a safe prediction that many of the visitors will arrange to visit the Bay for a longer time in the near future.

Keep your eye on Tawas Bay!

Institute Notes.

Some aims of the institute: (1.) It should be regarded as the chief agency at command for communicating some measure of professional knowledge and some degree of professional spirit to the great mass of teachers, especially those who have had no preparatory training.

2. It is to supplement, not succeed normal work.

3. The aim of the institute is rather to communicate the best methods of organizing, governing and instructing those to teach subject work.

The best work of the institute should be regarded as the creation of the scholarly and professional spirit, a desire to reach high scholastic attainments, and an ambition to attain artistic excellence in teaching.

In view of the shortness of the institute, it behoves the teacher to make the best of the opportunities it offers. He should be supplied with a notebook and should make copious notes of the exercises, especially of those matters which will prove most servicable to him in the work of his school.

He should give strict attention to all the work and miss no opportunity for acquiring benefit from it. He should not be reluctant to participate in the work, either in the exercises, reviews and discussion.—King's Interests and Duties.

Trout Supper.

A. J. Rodman, of Wilber, invites all to attend a Trout Supper, at his home on Friday evening, August 27. Supper 40 cents. A good social time is promised. Those who enjoy dancing will be given an opportunity as music will be furnished by Murphy's full orchestra, accompanied by the city band.

Real Estate.

Louis Harrison has moved into his new house.

Mr. Baker has sold his farm to a gentleman from Albion.

Eugene Nunn has rented the Morrison residence and takes possession this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Haywood who have been visiting at Hale the past week left for their home in Marshall last Monday.

A large party of campers are spending a few weeks on Long and Loon lakes. Hale is booming as a summer resort as well as other towns.

Whittemore.

Two little "boys" a camping went! The circus Monday was a grand success.

Mrs. Rolland, of Prescott, was in town Monday.

Miss Lou Pringle spent a few days in Corrihan this week and reports a good time.

Prof. J. A. Campbell is the proud papa of a big boy.

Mr. James Shippy of Laidlawville was in town last Sunday.

Two wheels met with sad accidents while two sports were out on a jaunt a few days ago.

F. F. French accompanied by a friend passed through this place on wheels on their way to Tawas.

Misses Armstrong and Obrien, accompanied by Mr. Wakeman and Mr. Price, rode to Prescott one day this week.

Wm. Harry Price returned to his home in this place last week, after spending a few weeks of pleasure and work at Big Rapids.

Hustling J. B. Mills has returned from Gladwin, where he has been running a store, and is about to commence business at Prescott in his old building. Good luck John.

One of our worthy citizens needs help and any one of a sympathetic nature who wishes to aid suffering mankind can do so by taking one of the many fair sex off his hands.

Miss Sarah Beardslee of this place has commenced a school term at the Horton district in Reno. The best wishes of all her acquaintances are for her success as this is her first term.

Threshing is on the program now, and whistles operated by these machines and rumbling sounds all tell us the dusty work has started and that the time for the farmers to rejoice has come.

The lecture given on "Man and the science of the Mind" last Friday evening, in behalf of Prof. E. L. Russell's Whittemore Summer school, was a grand literary treat, its equal being rarely enjoyed by our town's people.

Sand Lake is the home of the free and the land of the brave. Do the residents of Whittemore and visitors to it go their camping out? Do young men go there on their wheels? Do these young men get lost? Do they break their wheels? Do they walk about ten miles? Do they get to the lake in time for dinner when they leave here at day break? Does it ever hail up at the lake? And what do you think of the lake region any way? If you never were there ask G. W. or E. R. for information and an "official guide" containing maps and photo's of the region where jack pines really grow.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, August 16, 1897.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Boss Hanna's man, Dick, may be relieved of the management of the Hanna campaign in Ohio. He has got the ill will of the republican magnates for having bungled his work in bribing certain Ohio populists. Instead of using cash, he was thoughtless enough to have used checks and these disagreeable proofs of bribery have gotten into the wrong hands. The magnates aforesaid expected Dick to arrange for the nomination of a straight populist state ticket in Ohio, and for other populist assistants to the republican state and legislative tickets, especially the latter, but they didn't expect him to do it so clumsily as to be caught at it.

As no explanation has been or can be put forward by Dick that will satisfy an intelligent and unprejudiced mind that he has not been engaged in wholesale bribery, it is believed in Washington that Boss Hanna will seek to escape responsibility for the bribery by pretending to rebuke Dick by taking the management of the campaign out of his hands. Dick's bribery has greatly strengthened democratic hopes of defeating Hanna.

"Teddy" Roosevelt has shown that the limit of his versatility has not yet been reached by assuming the role of official whitewasher. His letter exonerating Constructor Bowles, who has charge of the Brooklyn Navy Yard and who was charged with political and other favoritism in running that yard, gives Mr. Bowles an unusually thick coat of whitewash. But there is one black streak that "Teddy" may have put in as a sort of tip to Mr. Bowles. It is the following language in "Teddy's" official letter: "The attention of Constructor Bowles will be especially called to that part of Commander Davis' report (Davis was the officer detailed to make the investigation) warning him as to being sometimes over-harsh and following too implicitly the recommendations of leading men and quartermen." Notwithstanding "Teddy's" whitewash, the New York Tribune said editorially since the publication of "Teddy's" alleged opinion: "Politics in the Navy Yard cannot be too strongly condemned. The deplorable condition of the Brooklyn dry docks and the consequent sending of the Indiana to Halifax, form an impressive object lesson." A prominent Navy officer remarked after reading the above: "Roosevelt and Whitelaw Reid ought to hold an executive session and try to get together on Brooklyn Navy Yard matters."

It is a fact of more than passing importance that the bitterest public attack ever made on the present civil service system is contained in a fifty-column speech in one of the belated numbers of the Congressional record, which was occasionally published up to last week for the purpose of giving members of congress a chance to talk to their constituents through the medium of "leave-to-print" speeches which support to have been spoken on the floor. This attack on the civil service system was prepared by Representative Grosvenor, of Ohio, the bosom friend of Mr. McKinley and one of the lieutenants of Boss Hanna. In it he claims to have the records of 271 men who were criminals, but who secured offices under the civil service rule, and accuses the civil service commission of violating the law daily.

Ex-Secretary Carlisle and Ex-Assistant Secretary Hamlin made arguments before the Attorney General against the application of the 10 per cent discriminating duty imposed by the Dingley tariff upon importations from Canada to importations from other countries which come into the U. S. over a Canadian railroad. Messrs Carlisle and Hamlin represent New England railroad and business interests. Secretary Gage asked the Attorney General for an opinion and will withhold his ruling until he gets it.

Mr. Carlisle still has an idea that the gold democrats should keep away from the regular democrats and he has advised the putting up of a gold democratic ticket in every state in which an election is to be held this year, and announced his intention to drop law practice long enough to go to Kentucky and speak for the gold democrats. The regular democrats smile at Mr. Carlisle's talk and say that there can be no future for a gold democratic organization.

POOR Spain! She has been sowing various sorts of wind in widely scattered fields for four centuries and now she is reaping many kinds of whirlwinds all at once.—N. Y. Press.

FORCE the merchant to pay an outrageous tax upon his goods; let the merchant add the tax to the selling cost of his goods. The consumer buys the goods and thus refunds the tax to the merchant, but—the foreigner pays the tax! If you don't believe it, ask Dingley.

MR. SHERMAN says Germany and other foreigners do not understand the new high tariff. As it is not yet understood by those who made it, the Europeans could hardly be expected to do better. Possibly, if the people on the other side would apply to the sugar trust they would get some idea of the new legislation.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

SENATOR Fairbanks is delighted with the passage of the trust tariff bill. So are Havemeyer of the sugar trust, Carnegie, Frick, Alger and all the other beneficiaries of that measure of rapine and spoliation.—As to the people whose pockets are to be picked by these licensed banditti, they will probably have a different song to sing.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

"If the promise of the harvest fields is fulfilled it will be hard for theorists to persuade a thriving people that they need monetary panaceas to keep them out of the poor house."—New York World. It will indeed. But they are fools. They will take a little prosperity caused by short crops in Europe, and a little higher prices for grain here, as evidence that gold is all right, and in a few years they will undergo another gold panic worse than ever and with no hope of relief, for by that time silver will be entirely outlawed.—Saginaw News.

LAST fall in Congressman Holman's district in Indiana that lamented statesman had the entire support of the Democrats, Populists and Silver Republicans against his regular republican opponent and his majority, or plurality, was about 800. This week, when the special election in the district was held the Democratic candidate ran against a republican and a straight-out Populist, too, the latter party running a separate ticket, and yet his plurality was in the neighborhood of 1,500. This does not look much like a decline in Democratic sentiment.

THE Republican leaders are now ready to admit that a new issue of bonds will be unavoidable, in order to carry the McKinley administration through the present fiscal year, and they regard the prospect with anything but cheerfulness. The trouble with them is that they do not place the blame where it belongs. They will not admit that the cause of the approaching embarrassment of the administration is the fact that the Dingley bill rivets tariff fetters upon the lines of trade, which will make a bond issue almost inevitable, in order to meet the obligations of the government.—Minneapolis Times.

THE republican papers and politicians are attempting to excuse and belittle the criticisms of the Dingley bill for the aid it gives the sugar trust. Indeed, some of them assert that the new tariff law is no more advantageous to the sugar trust than the Wilson bill. These assertions were proven false by Prof. H. W. Wiley, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in the address delivered by him at the National Science Convention at Detroit this week. He showed that the protection given the sugar trust was much more under the new law than under the old, and explained the intricate and technical provisions by which the iniquity of the sugar legislation was covered up.—Petoskey Democrat.

It is rather amusing to read the lofty assertions of the so-called single standard Democrats about the party's historic position on the money question and then note the ease with which they swallow the McKinley idea of the tariff. It ought to be just as easy for a single standard democrat to accept the bimetallic theories of his party, as for a tariff for revenue democrat to accept the McKinley doctrines of the "foreigner paying the tax" and "protection for the laboring man." It is every bit as consistent, too. No wonder the gold democrats of Iowa and other states are coming to their senses and declaring to support the regular ticket this year. And what they are doing in Iowa they will be doing in other states. The bunco game that was played upon the people last fall will be avenged at the next engagement.—Saginaw News.

The Significance of Hanna's Case.

In 1890 David K. Watson was Attorney-General of Ohio. He was a conscientious man, mindful of his obligations. Finding that the Standard Oil Company was flagrantly violating the law, he instituted proceedings to stop it from doing business in Ohio. The World yesterday told the story of how Mark Hanna, taking the ground that "no man in public office owes the public anything," endeavored to cajole or compel Attorney-General Watson to abandon these proceedings.

So far as the individual man Mark Hanna is concerned the affair is of small consequence. It only adds to a mountain of proof as to his unfitness for election to the senate, and to the scandal of his recognition as a power behind and close to the Presidential chair. But the case is illustrative. It illustrates the arrogance and insolence of plutocracy. It shows with how little regard for the rights of the people, or for the obligation of public officers, or for the sanctity of their oaths, men of mere wealth assume to control public officers and compel them to serve not the people who pay them, but the trusts, rings and monopolists who contribute campaign funds.

The Hanna system in its last analysis means that all responsible public offices shall be purchased by aggregated wealth for incumbents who will loyally serve their masters; that neither honor nor oaths nor the direct specifications of the law shall count for anything where the interests of aggregated wealth are concerned; that even crime itself is to be treated with respect if committed by men who count their wealth by millions and whose conspiracies against Need are for the gratification of Greed.

The outcome of such a system is not difficult to see, but it is appalling to contemplate. This is what plutocracy means for the people, and if the people would put an end to it they must begin by destroying the influence and the political power of the Hannas who are its apostles and agents.—N. Y. World.

State Library.

The State Librarian will be glad to hear from Granges, Farmer's Clubs, or farming communities who are interested in the traveling library movement and who wish to avail themselves of the privileges offered them by these collections of books. About one hundred of the libraries are now circulating through the state and they have proved to the highest degree acceptable to the people. Fifty more libraries can be prepared under the present appropriation, and applications for these will be filed in order in which they are received. Special libraries are also prepared for the use of study clubs doing special work. These books are sent in the same manner as the miscellaneous libraries and have been very helpful to clubs working in the small towns and rural districts.

Full information and instructions regarding the libraries will be mailed on request. Address, M. C. Spencer, State Librarian, Lansing, Mich.

A Success.

The Isoco County Normal in session at Whittemore under the supervision of Prof. E. L. Russell, has been well patronized by Isoco County teachers.

Much credit is due Mr. Russell for his untiring efforts in keeping Isoco county up to the standard in Normal school work. Three years ago a most successful normal was held in this county and it promised to be the beginning of a number of sessions that would not help bring a benefit to education in this county, but for some unknown reason the matter has been neglected since, and teachers, as a general thing, have had to leave home if they desired a little extra training. Mr. Russell's school, although not so highly advertised as others, has been equal to any in the line of work followed, and it is to be hoped that his efforts in re-establishing a summer normal for Isoco county teachers, will be highly appreciated.***

There is a class of people who seem to take delight in meddling with other people's business. They are always poking their noses into everything they see and hear, and are often in a strife to see which nose can get in first and farthest.

The Widow Larkin yesterday met with a misfortune which will, we are sure, call forth the sympathy of the public. During the heavy rain storm in the afternoon a regular torrent rushed down the gulley back of her house and washed so much gold dust into her pig sty that the pig was smothered. A subscription has been started for her benefit.—Klondyke News.

gans and Bicycles.

The Tawas papers are booming their towns as summer resorts. It is certain that the magnificent bay there would make an elegant waterway for leges are excellent.—West Branch Herald Times.

You find a merchant who will not advertise in his home newspaper and who sends off to other towns to have his job printing done, because, perchance, he can get it a few cents cheaper, and you find a man who will skin his customers to the last cent.—
Ex.

The high wind yesterday raised considerable dust. Jack Buckinbill, who was out on the Eldorado road with his team, says he was nearly blinded by it. "When he came home he coughed up $73.89. One of our greatest needs is street sprinkling.—

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Russell, of Bay City, were among the excursionists Wednesday. Mr. R. was formerly a member of the firm of Russel & Miller, lumbermen, and about 12 years ago lumbered in this vicinity.
This was his first visit since that time to Tawas, and he was much pleased with the improvements in both cities.

Rev. Fr. Bogacki, who is in charge of St. Joseph's church during the absence of Fr. Kinney, and who has become widely known through his connection with Polish church troubles at Bay City, was served with papers in a capias suit started by Joseph Bartkowiak, for $1,000. Bartkowiak was shot during one of the Bay City rows, and alleges that Fr. Bogacki fired the shot. Fr. Bogacki gave bonds for his appearance.

Says a wise man; An editor works 365 days per year to get out fifty-two issues of a paper, that's labor. Once in a while somebody pays for a year's subscription, that's capital; and once in a while some rascally dead beat takes the paper for a year or two and then vanishes without paying for it, that's anarchy; but later on justice
will overtake the last named creature, for there is a place where he'll get his just deserts,—that's horrible.

Chief Engineer Casey, of the Detroit & Mackinac railroad was in the city yesterday and called on the Pfister & Vogel Leather Co., at the tannery, to arrange for securing the right of way through their land in Presque Isle county for the extension of the road to Onaway. We understand the company will set a crew at work on the extension next Monday, with the intention of completing the road to Onaway this fall.—Cheboygan Tribune.

Tuesday afternoon, three children,
all under the age of 14, had a narrow escape drowning. The two boys, accompanied by a little girl, got into an old boat, and when about a quarter of a mile out from the car shops the boat capsized. Fortunately the accident was discovered almost immediately, and Rich and Nick Hartingh rowed out and picked them up, none the worse for a good wetting. They were the children of Mr. and Mrs.
Ruel, who live near the round house.

Col. George E. Waring, Jr., commissioner of street cleaning in New York, will contribute to McClure's Magazine for September an article showing that, by improvements in organization and method, a length of streets greater than the distance from New York to Chicago is now cleaned
daily in New York without noise, confusion, or even dust, and at a constantly diminishing cost; and that thereby the expense of living and the liability to death have been greatly reduced, and the whole tone and character of the life of the city perceptibly elevated. Pictures of all the phases of street cleaning, from drawings and photographs, will illustrate the paper.
