OUR COUNTY SCHOOLS

Tawas Schools close five weeks from today.

Miss Florens Oakes will use the McMaster History in her school this spring. It is a fine text book.

Miss May Crandall was on the sick list for a part of last week. Miss Teresa Shaver took her place in the school room.

Miss Teresa Shaver has been taking the place of Miss Phinney in the second primary dept. this week while Miss Phinney experimented with chicken-pox.

The report of the last meeting of the State Teachers' Association is now out. Members receive the book free of charge from Robt. Smith Pub. Co., Lansing.

Teachers' Reading Circle will meet two weeks from tomorrow instead of three weeks from that time, the regular date. This is on account of the Association. The teachers wanted this rather than have the meeting put off for five weeks. The work is of great interest at present.

The following topics will be treated in the next Association. Relation of School Board to School and Teacher, Grammar, Music in our schools, Physiology, Nature Study and the uneclipseable "Comet." Miss Florence Oakes has the last named, and all correspondents are expected to send weekly letters to the editor.

Eighth grade diplomas were granted to the following pupils last week. Libbie Kennedy, Elsie Watts, of Dist. 2, of Grant; Allen Sims, Annie Smith, Bessie Clute, Mabel Clute, Jessie Glendon and Vina Phelps, of Dist. No. 4, of Wilber. Papers from No. 5, Tawas, and No. 1, Wilber, are in the office and will be looked over in a few days.

Remember Arbor Day—April 29th. The general idea seems to be that this is distinctively a day for schools to plant trees. There is no reason that the practice of this day should be restricted to the schools alone. Every landowner should plant a few trees on this day. If this were done, in a few days our streets would be well shaded. There is an abundance of fine young trees to be obtained within a short distance of the city, and there is no excuse for any man neglecting this day.

Tawas City High School lost two scholars on Friday, by removal, and gained two new ones on Monday, by new arrivals. The sixth grade are memorizing "The Round of Life," this week, while the seventh are working at "Home." The chemistry class are finding the use of sulphuric acid, or oil of vitriol. Next to food this is said to be necessary thing in the world, to human existence. One of the Teachers' Reading Circle books for next year—Uncle Sam's Secrets—is being used for readings for opening exercises at present. It is a very interesting little book.

The last of the teachers' reading circle, held in East Tawas last Saturday, although one of small numbers was one of the very best ever held in the county. The lesson was of unusual interest and all present seemed to enjoy it from beginning to end. A peculiar fact is brought to light by these meetings. The teachers that need this kind of training the most are nearly or always absent from these meetings. School boards are beginning to notice this. A director came to the commissioner a while ago to look up the record of a certain teacher. He asked if she went to "those teachers' meetings." On receiving his reply the expression on his face was all that was necessary. The impression was fixed, and after a few more questions he decided that she would not do at all in his district. Once in a while the commissioner has a chance to give the school officers points that seem to have an effect on the choice of teachers.

The S. of Vs and War.

In these times of war excitement the natural question is, where are the the Sons of Veterans? Are they as patriotic as their order preports to be? Will they respond, as did their fathers in '61?

Division Comander Cowdin has issued a call to the various camps for the purpose of organizing a regiment of composed entirely of Michigan Sons of Veterans, to be offered so the governor, in case their services are needed.

G. K. Warren Camp, No. 233, of East Tawas, has at present 26 members liable to military duty, out of a total membership of 29. The camp is desirous of enrolling every eligible son in this locality, and has placed it membership fee at $1.50, and hope that all who are eligibile will make application at once.

The camp meets every Wednesday evening for drill and work and all members are requested to be persent.

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

The mean daily temperature for the week ended Saturday, April 16, 50.4 degrees, is considerably above the normal which is 42.3 degrees. The temperature has averaged from 6 to 10 degrees above the normal during the entire week.

There has been practically no precipitation throughout the State. Very small amounts, which occurred in the form of scattered showers, fell in some portions of the state. The average total for the state is only 0.01 of an inch; the normal is 0.52 of an inch.

Sunshine has averaged 58 per cent of the possible amount.

The dry warm weather of the past week has been very favorable for field work but has been much too dry for clover seeding, winter wheat and grass; grains and grasses have been nearly at a standstill and are much in need of moisture to promote their growth. Later reports show that wheat was considerable injured by the dry freezing weather of early April. Plowing has been general in nearly all sections of the state. Much oat ground has been prepared, oat seeding has been quite general and has progressed very rapidly. Some farmers have already finished their oat seeding and are planting early potatoes and preparing corn ground. Fruit of all kinds has apparently wintered well and is now in a very promising condition. An almost unanimous remark of correspondents is that winter wheat needs rain badly; it has been almost at a standstill since the present dry spell commenced although it came through the winter in fine condition. Clover seeding is also badly in need of rain.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION

The next examination for teachers certificates for the county of Iosco, will be held at the county seat, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 31st, and April 1st and 2d, 1898. All grades of county certificates will be granted at this examination.

WAR HAS COMMENCED.

The Squadron at Key West has Sailed for Havana.

The Flying Squadron has been ordered to Porto Rico.

Spain Says War Exists.

THE PRESIDENT WILL ISSUE A CALL FOR 100,000 VOLINTEERS.

The latest advises from Washington brings the information that war with Spain has practically commenced. Troops are being hurried to Key West, and our war ships have already sailed to blockade Havana harbor.

WASHINGTON APRIL 21.—The North Atlantic squadron has sailed from Key West for Havanna.

The squadron will blockade Havana immediately.

Troops will co-operate with the navy as soon as they can be concentrated.

Ten days, it is expected, will be necessary to concentrate troops at Key West.

As soon as congress passes the army bill the president will call for 100,000 men.

Eighty thousand will aid the regulars in Cuba operations and 20,000 to man the sea coast artillery.

Authority to move the flying squadron to Porto Rico has been placed in Secretary Long's hands.

Its a War Declaration.

MADRID, April 21.—3.20 p. m.—A semi-official note, issued this afternoon, says: "The Spanish government, having received the ultimatum of the president of the United States, considers that the document constitutes a declaration of war against Spain, and that the proper form to be adopted is not to make any further reply, but to await the expiration of time mentioned in the ultimatum before opening hostilities.

"In the meantime the Spanish authorities have placed their possessions in a state of defense and their fleet is already on its way to meet that of the United States.

By declining a public reception Gen. Fitzhugh Lee has again demonstrated his sound sense, for which he is so much admired.

PINGREE's recent extra session of the legislature cost the state $40,000. What benefits were gained that could not have waited until next winter?

THE name of Hon. George W. Stone, of Lansing, has been presented as a candidate for Auditor General, for the silver forces, this fall. A better selection could not be made.

President McKinley claims he is anxious to go ahead and drive the Spaniards from Cuba, yet the action of Hanna and his peace-at-any-price associates, who are supposed to represent the administration policy, let no opportunity slip to delay action.

A DECREASE of 50 per cent in imports and an increase of 40 per cent in exports is a pretty good record which the new tariff law thus makes in a single instance.—West Bay City Independent. How much revenue does the figures give the government? The Dingley bill is supposed to be a "revenue raiser."

If the millionaires of the country, who are so anxious to lend Uncle Sam money in exchange for gold bonds, paid taxes in proportion with the toilers who produce the country's wealth, our distinguished relative would have no need to borrow for so simple a matter as preparing a becoming reception to the Spanish Dons.—Ann Arbor Democrat.

THE main question in the present Spanish controversy should have been the "Maine question," yet the administration has forced this to the back ground, in order to take up Cuban independence, a matter in which there is much question as to our right to interfere, but which allows a great amount of talk and little action. Had we had a man at the head of National affairs with a back bone, and not owned by Hanna and other money powers, all would have been settled ere this.

"Bryan of America."

The most ardent admirer of William J. Bryan would find it a difficult task to frame a finer tribute to the brilliant silver leader than the New York Mail and Express paid him the other day. Here is what this uncompromising advocate of "sound money" had to say of Mr. Bryan:

The Mail and Express would be unjust to itself in the course of its continuous protest against Mr. William J. Bryan's political purposes if it neglected any opportunity to pay honest tribute to that gentleman's admirable qualities as an American patriot. It is, therefore a pleasure to say that Mr. Bryan's address last evening in the city of Atlanta was eminently worthy of the time and the occasion, that it was just the sort of a talk that his audience wanted to hear, and that it was in perfect accord with the dominant sentiment of the nation in the present crisis. Here are two or three sentences which sufficiently indicate the tone and temper of his entire address.

"Within the last two weeks we have had an illustration of the unity of the American people in front of the danger which was possible and probable. This danger they have met as one man, declaring their readiness to die in defense of their country. It so happened that the representative of the United States at Havana wore the Confederate uniform, and yet Fitzhugh Lee has discharged his duty with such courage, such prudence, such patriotism, that you cannot find in all the North-land one man who would suggest his removal."

Here again we have the real Mr. Bryan—Bryan the patriotic American, for whom there is no enemy's country anywhere within the broad confines of the Republic, but who with a clear mind and a stout heart gladly joins hands with his brethren of all sections, parties and creeds for the national defense. To those who have honorably opposed Mr. Bryan upon the turbulent field of political controversy his ringing declaration for the honor of the flag will cause no surprise whatever. He has more than once demonstrated that beneath his patrisan armor he bore the patriot's heart, and that it needed only some serious emergency, like that which now confronts the government, to call him to a loftier plan in the confidence and respect of his countrymen that he has occupied heretofore.

This result has been splendidly accomplished, and by his eloquent and inspiring speech in Atlanta Mr. Bryan now presents himself as the fearless representative of a thoroughly nationalized union whose interests cannot be divided by sectional lines, whose welfare is a common cause and whose people are banded together heart, soul and hand in defense of the Stars and Stripes. He is no longer Bryan of Nebraska, but Bryan of America."

Concernign Strawberry Pollenizers.

Prof. Goff has shown in some recent experiments that the ripening season of a pistillate strawberry is more or less affected by the blooming period of the pollenizer. The pollenizers tested were Michel's Early, Wilson and Parker Earle. When Warfield was pollenized by Michel's Early, an early bloomer, 68.8 per cent. of the total crop was gathered in the first six pickings. When the Warfield was pollenized by Parker Earle, a late bloomer, 56.3 per cent. of the total crop was gathered in first six pickings. These results lead Prof. Goff to suggest the importance of using a pollenizer that blooms early enough to pollenize the first blossoms of the pistillate variety with which it is planted. The early-ripening berries are usually worth more in the market than those that mature in mid-season, hence the earlier pickings are usually more profitable. It is of course equally important to use a pollenizer that continues to bloom late enough to pollenize the later blossoms of the pistillate sort with which it is planted.

Berry Patch Rotation.

The ordinary farmer, once he has a patch of raspberries or blackberries started, regards it as a permanent affair in the garden. The idea of working such crops in a rotation never occurs to him. Many men do not even know that commercial growers mostly practice very short rotations with all sorts of small fruits. Yet even on the ordinary farm, where fruit growing is only a convenience for the kitchen department, the short-rotation plan will be found the easiest, best and most satisfactory in all respects. It is necessary only to be foresighted enough to provide plants for the new setting each alternate year. These can be secured from suckers or tip-layers, as the case may be, and will cost nothing. The advantages of short rotations are, they keep a plantation of young, healthy, vigorous plants, which bear much more and much better fruit than old canes; they are easier to cultivate; the fruit is easier to gather; and the rotation destroys many insects and fungous diseases which persist and multiply in old undisturbed berry patches. Remember this and plant a new plat this year, so that the old one may be plowed up next season.—Country Gentleman.

WHITEMORE.

The Stars and Stripes wave o're us,
Nation's honor is our chorus;
We'll make the Spanish ports be porous—
Spanish misrule flee before us.

As soon as the news of congress' action reached here flags were seen floating from the poles. The storm raged but the flag floated proudly on the breeze. May our nation stand the storm of battle as unflinching breast the storm of war float into peace as did the flags floating o're us for fairer weather soon came. Let patriotism reign supreme and war will be a benefit and an honor. Long live Uncle Sam.

THOMAS CURRY.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

By Local W. C. T. U.

A man's value to society should be rated not by what he gets out of the community, but by services which he renders it.

There is not a slave to any vice that may not be set free at once if he will let the Son of God save him. There is not a drunkard reeling down to a drunkard's grave and going to a drunkard's eternity, but that the Son of God will save him if he will call on Him for mercy.—D. L. Moody.

The hydrophobists who hurled whiskey bottles against the sides of the Kentucky as she was launched, in the insane idea that her water chrestianing might otherwise make her unlucky, were doubtless ignorant of the fact that the Constitution, the ship that won more victories in fair fight than any other vessel built was christened with water; and that the Hartford, that carried Farragut's flag through the battles of New Orleans, Vicksburg and Mobile, was also christened with water.—The Voice.

Careful observation for nearly twenty years satisfies me very thoroughly that the use of tobacco, especially in the form of cigarettes, by the boys and young men of our schools and colleges is decidedly enervating. There is no trouble spotting the users. The lack of luster of the eye, the deadened hue of the skin, the mental and physical languor are unmistakable, and almost universal signs of the early use of tobacco, the chances for success in life are ten to one against the lad who uses tobacco.—H. R. Pattegnall. Many a bright boy has forever weakened his physical nature and lessened his mental power by indulging in the use of tobacco in any of its forms.

A Washy Poem.

Two years have come and passed away
Since first we announced our opening day,
And we kindly thank both great and small
For the patronage of you all,
And feel quite sure the time is near
When people will leave their laundry here,
And will also know at an early day
That the Tawas Laundry has come to stay.
Our prospects, we can truly say,
Grow brighter with each recurring day,
And the work we are now able to do
Is not excelled by even the few.
We stay at the wheel day in and out,
Or we would call and see you without a doubt,
So consider this a personal call
When in your hands these lines may fall.
Now a little joke please let us tell
Of a man we're sure you all know well,
He kicked on the work both day and night,
And said "we never get it right."
Now here's a plan we undertook,
And read the plan as in a book,
We secretly sent his work to the town
Where he says "they do work up brown."
But lo, when delivered at the store
The trouble was worse than ever before;
But had he known where it was done
The objections, if any, would have been in fun.
So don't, through your prejudice, be unfair,
And send your work to towns elsewhere,
But have it done at the Tawas, too,
And the money will be left in town 'tis true.
