THE ELECTIONS.

The State Goes Republican by a Small Majority.

The Entire Republican City Ticket is Elected.

The Democrats Make a Gain of One Supervisor and One Alderman.

RESULTS IN THE TOWNSHIPS.

The state elects the entire republican ticket by small majorities, C. B. Grant is re-elected justice of the supreme court by about 30,000, over Thomas E. Barkworth. Eli R. Sutton and H. S. Dean are re-elected regents of the University by forty thousand, running far ahead of Grant, who was badly cut in nearly every city in the state.

In the municipal elections the result is about evenly divided, the democrats making many gains.

Main J. Connine, as a matter of course, was elected judge for the 23d judicial circuit, having no opposition, as was also John A. Campbell, for commissioner of schools for this county. Each received his entire party vote and many democratic votes besides.

TAWAS CITY.

The election in this city was very spirited, and while the republicans elected their entire city ticket was only by the hardest kind of work. The race for mayor between George W. Mount and Thomas J. Armstrong was close and exciting, Mount winning by the small majority of six votes. Orlando Elliott received a majority of 26 for city clerk and James H. Nisbet was re-elected city treasurer by 27 majority.

In the wards the democrats elected Henry Gale supervisor in the first and Nelson Braban in the second, Luke Murray alderman in the first and Edward M. Schlechte in the second, and Martin Bay constable in the second. The republicans elected W. W. Ramage supervisor in the third ward, and John Stone alderman in the first and George Phelps in the second ward. Orrin Beemer in the first and John Braban in the third are the republican constables.

On the state ticket, Grant for justice of the supreme court, had a majority in the city of 22; Sutton and Dean for regents of the University, by 23 each. For circuit judge, Main J. Connine received 145 votes and for county commissioner of schools, John A. Campbell received 140 votes.

The question of the adoption of the county road system, was carried by a majority of 52, there being 134 for and 82 against.

On the amendments to the constitution, part of them carried and part of them did not. The amendment relative to circuit courts was defeated by five; relative to state printing office by 10; relative to an intermediate court by 5. The amendment relative to county and township supervision of roads and bridges carried by a majority of 42.

THERE is no end to the possibilities of invention. Over in Berlin, two prominent doctors have invented a camera for photographing the interior of the stomach. The foremost end of a stomach tube contains a microscopic camera and an electric light. When the stomach is emptied and filled with air the apparatus photographs the most secret recesses. The negative is about the size of a cherry-stone and can be enlarged.—Ex.

A bill amending the game law passed the senate Tuesday which fixed October 15 to December 15 as the open season for grouse, quail and prairie chickens and from September 10th to December 1 as the open season for snipe, woodcock and plover. The shooting of pheasants and pigeons is prohibited until 1905, and jacksnipe, blue bill, canvas back, pintail, whistler, spoon bill, butter ball and saw bill ducks may be shot from September 1 to May 1.

In the case of Drain Commissioner Scholtz, of Gratiot county, vs. Supervisor Smith, of Pine Ridge township, an important decision was made by the supreme court. A special levy was ordered by the board of supervisors to be spread upon the roll of the township for certain draining purposes. The supervisor refused to place it on the tax roll on the ground that he had not been ordered to do so by the township board. The court holds that the township board has no power to interfere with the board of supervisors and orders that the assessment be made, delivering a lecture to Smith in the opinion.

ADJUTANT General Case has completed the draft of the bill providing for the reorganization of the state militia, the term of enlistment being three years. One of the most important changes, is that colored men are not restricted from becoming members. Provision is made for a rigid examination of all applicants, which will be the same as in the regular army, and for an examining board whose members will examine all applicants for commissions and promotions. The number of companions is made forty, the same as present, and to conform to the Hull bill the maximum number of men to each is 122, but stipulates that the commander-in-chief can fix the number at 45 to 86 as occasion may demand.—Ex.

THE life-saving department, at Washington, says the service given by the men in the great lakes stations, is the best in the history of the life-saving service. The storms on the lakes are the worst known to the department, and the work of the men the most daring. They are frequently called upon to go long distances to save life and property. There are cases on record where the great lakes life-saving crews have gone from forty to fifty miles in answer to signal of distress. There is one case where the men traveled 110 miles and saved every person on the wrecked craft. Taking this all in all, and the fact, the men are rated the highest on the records, the officials think they should receive the proper recognition and be placed on an all the year round pay roll.

The benefits to be derived from advertising are in the future as well as what you may get at the present. Advertising is something like making a snowball—the further you go the bigger it grows. If, after you have rolled your snowball a little distance, you stop rolling it, and begin another one; you are expending an extra labor instead of accumulating, while if you had kept on rolling the old ball it would soon grow to much larger proportions than any new one you could start.—Fame.

Laidlawville News.

The session of the Clay Lyceum, held in Laidlawville, last Saturday evening, was a decided success. A most interesting program was given and enjoyed, especially the paper "edited" by Miss Grace Laidlaw. Miss Laidlaw made some most remarkable "hits," no one escaping. The officers were all present except the secretary. The next meeting will be held at the Vine school house Saturday evening, April 8.

Miss Maude Shippy left for Hale Saturday to again take up her duties in the school room after a vacation of three months.

Mr. Elze Laidlaw is putting in logs at Mr. Culham's mill. He intends to build a fine barn on his farm in the spring.

Mr. Murry Wade intends to leave for Montana next Monday. His family will remain here until next fall.

Miss Mildred Laidlaw starts for Gladstone next Monday where she will remain indefinitely with Mrs. A. H. Powell and Mrs. R. Lesway.

AGRICULTURE.

Pick-Ups.

When the cherry blooms, plant the garden seed.

If you don't want your seed potatoes to sprout before you are ready, spread them out.—Farm Journal.

If properly managed a blue grass sod improves with age and when it is adapted to the soil makes the very best permanent pasture.—Guide.

The smoothest, cleanest, nicest potatoes are raised in sandy soil. It takes lots of humus to grow the best potatoes in clay soil.

Farmers who try to be very saving of their grass seed frequently fail to get a good stand. It is better to sow too much than too little. We often lose much by not having our grass thick enough.

You are going to be powerful busy from this time on and if you don't want any late meals or delays be sure before starting out to the fields that there is an abundant supply of good stove-wood left for the cook.—Ex.

Give some attention to the weak stock before putting out to pasture. It is best to divide stock, if pastures are arranged so it can be done, and then grain the thin ones a while after they are turned to grass.

If you expect to grow any early crop for market remember that frequent cultivation and keeping down all weeds will cause same to mature several days earlier than if neglected and the weeds allowed to take them.

Remember that the manure you have made the past winter will bring you profitable returns the coming season if you put it on the right crop. Use it where you intend to farm most intensive for best results.

We find very few farmers now who advocate cooking feed for stock. The labor required to do this extra work exceeds the advantages in too many instances, let alone the cost of furnaces and fuel necessary to carry on the work.

No farmer can so direct his labor that everything he does will bring in appreciable returns. There is a good deal to be done to keep up appearances, house, barns and fencing must be kept in repair and many other things we do have their reward in the distant future.—Ex.

If you want to get the quickest possible results from manure applied to any crop use a little lime. It is not generally advisable to lime lands to make manure available, for commercial fertilizer will furnish the cheapest available manure we can use.—Guide.

Many farmers do not prune their fruit trees because they don't know how. Follow this rule and you can't go far wrong: Head all trees low, thin out and cut out all cross limbs, and branches that grow out long and slim or tall should be kept out back to a proper length.—Ex.

Corn is a hot weather plant. You say of a hot night, "This will make the corn grow." Then don't put the seed into the soil until it is warm enough to grow. Most of the seed corn this spring is very weak any way, and if put into a cold soil it will be slow to grow, and will produce only a weak plant, that will not grow strong and vigorous. Wait until the conditions are right before planting. Corn won't rot as quickly in the sack as it will in a cold soil.—Farmer's Guide.

When to Spray.

The first spraying should be done early in the spring before the buds open and it must be done thoroughly. The second be done after the trees are through blossoming, while the third may come in twenty days later. The fourth spraying is due about three weeks later. A tree is sufficiently sprayed when the drops of the mixture are seen hanging from the branches and leaves. Many orchard trees besides spraying need a thorough scraping, as in the case of the elm trees. Then the brush and other waste matter, including all dead leaves and rubbish, must be removed from the ground and burned. Do not leave it near the trees or in the roadway, for the eggs deposited therein will hatch in the spring. If there are dead trees or badly diseased ones here and there in the orchard cut them down and burn them.—M. Goldman.

Milk Your Cows Clean.

It is a well-known fact that cows not milked clean will tend to dry up in short order. Another important reason for milking clean is to get all of the butter fat, which is contained in a much larger per cent in the last than in the first milk drawn, as is shown by the following experiment.

The college dairy has conducted an experiment showing the importance of clean milking. Five cows that were given a fair quantity of milk were selected and their milk collected in half-pint bottles, each test contributing its share to every bottle. These samples were tested with the Babcock test with the following results: Cow No. 6 varied from .6 of 1 per cent to 7.2 per cent, cow No. 10 varied from .2 of 1 per cent to 6.6 per cent, cow No. 14 varied from 1.6 per cent to 5.8 per cent, cow No. 15 varied from 1.5 per cent to 6.8 per cent, cow No. 20 varied from .8 of 1 per cent to 7.8 per cent.

The results show a gradual although not entirely uniform increase in the per cent of fat from the beginning to the last of the milking except with the last two samples drawn from each cow. Here the per cent of fat would take a sudden leap, amounting often to a third or a half of the total valuation. This shows very clearly how important it is to get all the milk. By averaging the results it was found that the last quarter of a pint was worth from three-fourths to one and a half pints of milk first drawn from the udder. Moral: Milk clean and get fat.—National Stockman.

Fresh Water for Hogs.

Hogs frequently suffer from lack of water because farmers do not remember that whatever comes in liquid form is not a substitute for the clear and fresh water which all animals need. Put a little rennet in skim milk or heat it, and it soon turns into a curd which no one would think of taking as a drink. Yet both the rennet and enough warmth to make it effective are present in the stomach of pig or hog. The rennet from pigs is by some preferred to that from calves. Always the first process in digestion of milk is to turn it into curd. Milk, says American cultivator, is regarded as constipating, especially after it has been heated, which brings it more nearly to the curd condition, and thus absorbs the water in the stomach. A man needs a drink of water after he has eaten a bowl of bread and milk. Possibly the milk dealers use this as an argument for putting water and milk together and selling it as milk, thus becoming, as an old milkman said he was, "like Pharaoh's daughter, because he took a little prophet (profit) out of the water." Most of the water that pigs get is as bad for drinking as skim milk. It is largely the water used for the washing of dishes or the freshening of salted pork. In this way the hogs get more salt into their stomachs than they require, and this also makes the hogs feverish and injures the quality of the pork. This sometimes makes the western pork, which is fattened in large droves, and gets little salt, better than the pork made by the farmers who keep but two or three pigs, and feeds them from the swill barrel filled with a mixture of skim milk and salt water. If fed as it should be, with only enough corn at the close of the fattening, and without an excess of salt, the eastern pork is much the best. The water in which salt pork and beef is freshened is highly nutritious, as a good deal of its strength goes out with the salt when it is freshened for cooking. But the great majority of hogs would be healthier if they had enough fresh water, fruits and vegetables to offset the excess of salt that most of their drink contains.
