The following is from an Otsego paper, but there are victims to whom it will apply in about every village in the state: "Send two dollars and get ten yards of silk, any color," is the way the advertisement read. She saw the statement, sent two dollars of hard earned money to the shark and received ten yards of good silk thread."

All bicyclists of East Tawas, Tawas City, and surrounding country are requested to meet in front of the court house, Tawas City, at 8:30 o'clock, a. m., Tuesday, July 4th, 1899, to participate in a bicycle parade to start from that point at 9 a. m. This parade is one of the special features of the celebration and all bicyclists are earnestly requested to turn out.

Thomas Rhoads, Centerfield, O., writes: "I suffered from piles seven or eight years. No remedy gave me relief until DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, less than a box of which permanently cured me." Soothing, healing, perfectly harmless. Beware of counterfeits. Dr. G. S. Darling.

Arrangements have been made whereby Rev. G. H. Long, of Princeton College, will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church during the summer vacation. Services will be held each Sunday at the usual hours. Although a young man, Mr. Long made a most favorable impression with his first sermon, last Sunday.

Cows with artificial tails are not numerous, and Hartford boasts of the only one in this state, so far as known. A few seasons ago a dog deprived a cow belonging to a resident of that town of half her tail, and every season since then the owner ties a bunch of rope-ends to the stump so that bossy may hold her own in fly time. It is a simple method, but it is said to work as well as the real thing.

Circuit court adjourned until the regular August term, last Tuesday. The case of John Dawes vs. John Stockman was given to the jury last Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock and they could not agree until 10 o'clock Saturday, when they brought in a verdict in favor of Mr. Dawes. Court then adjourned until Tuesday, when the arguments were made in the case of Emil Kunze vs. Selig Solomon. The judge has the case under consideration and will probably not render a decision before next term.

OUR CELEBRATION

Is an Assured Success. Everything is Ready for the Best Ever Held.

Next Tuesday Tawas City will be dressed in holiday attire and everything points to the biggest old fashion Fourth of July Celebration ever held.

The various committees have been hard at work during the past week and all is in readiness.

In the forenoon will occur the bicycle and calathumpian parades and reading of the Declaration of Independence.

At one o'clock the yacht races will be started, which will be followed by the bicycle races and other sports.

In the evening a fine display of fireworks will be had from a large float anchored in the bay opposite the court house.

Music will be furnished during the day and evening by the city band.

The following gentlemen have been named as judges for the Calathumpian parade: Thomas Galbraith, Tawas City; Frank F. Taylor, East Tawas; John Preston, Tawas township.

The sports and games will be in charge of Collie Johnson.

The Yacht Races.

The yacht races to be held on the Fourth are sure to be a success, so far as the number of boats are concerned. The races to have been held at Bay City on that date will be sailed tomorrow and the Bay City boats will immediately leave for here to compete on the Fourth. It is expected that twenty of the best boats from Bay City will be here, including several new ones, and a most exciting race may be expected.

The handsome and valuable silver cup, which is offered as a prize, has arrived and is on exhibition at G. W. Mount's shoe store. It is pronounced by those who have seen both, to be a much more handsome cup than the one given by the D. & M., for which races are held each year. This cup becomes the absolute property of the yacht winning it this year and does not have to be won again.

The prizes offered for the smaller boats is a fine standard bunting U. S. flag.

Alumni Banquet.

The first annual reception and banquet of the Alumni of the Tawas City High School was held at the Masonic Hall, on Friday evening last. It was attended by about sixty and was one of the most enjoyable and successful affairs ever held in this city. The hall was handsomely decorated with the National colors, while the banquet room was draped with pink and white, the class colors of the class of '99, in whose honor the affair was given.

A delightful program consisting of addresses, recitations, vocal and instrumental music was rendered, which received well merited applause. At the close of the program the guests were invited to the banquet room where elegant refreshments were served, after which John C. McCray, acting as toastmaster, called for responses to a number of well selected toasts, which were responded to in a most pleasing manner by different members of the Alumni.

The members of the Alumni are to be congratulated on the success of their first banquet.

Annual School Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that the annual school meeting for Fractional District No. 7, of the city of Tawas City, and the township of Tawas, will be held at the high school building in Tawas City, on Monday, July 10, A. D., 1899, at 7:30 p. m. (standard time), for the purpose of transacting such business as may properly come before it.

Dated at Tawas City, June 29, 1899.

A RECENT act of the legislature makes it unlawful to wilfully ride or drive wagon, cattle, horse, sheep, swine, etc., on side paths and sidewalks, whether built by private persons or public authority, or to throw grass, metal, stones, etc., thereon or on any public highway so as to do harm to bicycle, or animal. This is especially to protect bicycle paths. There is a fine of one to ten dollars for violation, and the offender is liable for injury to any person or property.

In the American Monthly Review of Reviews for July the editor reviews the work of our delegation at The Hague up to date, presenting the latest phases of the arbitration question with some consideration of its bearings on the present international situation. WELL, "Billy" French has adjourned! "Billy" needs a long rest now—he's entitled to it. After five years of arduous labor as state land commissioner, and two sessions of the legislature, the people will feel that a long rest is a good thing for William. As a crowning climax, however, the Governor was vigorously mean to cut Billy out of that fat job as commissioner for the Buffalo exposition. It was a good thing—spending $40,000 in boosting Michigan. "Billy" could have spent the money, and spent it right!—Sugar Beet.

THE citizen who is of the most value to a community, town or city is not always the man who possesses the most wealth, the highest intelligence or the most aristocratic lineage. Of course the former will increase a man's usefulness, if he will exert it in the right direction. The valuable citizen, par excellence, is the man who believes thoroughly in his own town, its people and its business and professional men. He does not make it his business to decry the honesty of his local banker or merchant, or the ability of the resident lawyer or physician. But, instead, he is an enthusiastic advocate of all things that pertain to the welfare of his own locality. He has the interest of its schools, churches, societies and people at heart and exploits their excellence abroad.

UNLESS some of the shrewdest politicians in Washington are much mistaken, the death-knell of Algerism was sounded when Gov. Pingree announced his deal with Alger to try to put the latter into Senator McMillan's seat. Secretary Alger, who has just returned to Washington, is said to be as mad as a hornet because Pingree gave out the deal before he was ready to have it made public. He wishes to remain in the cabinet and to make as much use as possible of the many plums at the disposal of the war department, before the deal got out. Now, friends of senators McMillan and Burrows say that if Alger doesn't resign voluntarily, they have the means to compel Mr. McKinley to ask for his resignation. Some think that Mr. McKinley will do that without any compulsion, not only because of his friendliness towards Senator McMillan, but because of his dislike for Pingree on account of his free criticisms on several occasions of McKinleyism. At any rate, everybody is again hoping that the end of Algerism in the war department is near.—Washington Correspondent.

The City of Tawas City Ordains:

SECTION 1. Whenever it shall appear to the council by petition or otherwise that a sidewalk or crosswalk shall be built, constructed or repaired upon either side or across any of the streets, lanes or alleys within this city, they may order by resolution the construction or repair thereof and such walk shall be constructed or repaired as hereinafter provided, unless the council shall expressly direct its construction to be different.

SEC. 2. Such walks shall be built and repaired under the supervision of the committee on streets and sidewalks of this city, unless otherwise directed by the city council.

SEC. 3. All sidewalks hereafter built, may be of stone, brick, cement, asphalt, cedar blocks or plank, and shall not be less than four inches higher than the grade of the street. On Lake street the sidewalks shall not be less than five feet wide, on all other streets sidewalks shall not be less than four feet wide.

SEC. 4. All crosswalks hereafter made shall be at least three feet wide on top and shall be made of good sound plank, pine or hemlock, not less than three inches thick and not less than twelve inches wide, running across the street from curb to curb and raised not more than three inches above the grade of the street, and shall be so constructed as to afford an easy and regular grade from the street on either side onto the top of said walk and so as to protect the plank from being moved or injured.

SEC. 5. Plank sidewalks shall be constructed of good pine or hemlock plank, which shall not be less than two inches in thickness, nor more than twelve inches wide, and shall be laid on cedar, hemlock or pine sleepers, not less than four inches square, to be placed not more than four feet apart on sidewalks five feet wide, and not more than three feet apart on sidewalks four feet wide. The plank shall be laid crosswise and shall be nailed with nails not less than thirty penny and at least two at each bearing, and said sidewalk shall be made straight and level, so far as the same is practicable.

SEC. 6. All crosswalks required to be built by the council, shall be constructed and maintained at the expense of the city, and all sidewalks at the expense of the owner or occupant of the lot or premises adjacent to and abutting upon such walk.

SEC. 7. If any person shall not comply with any of the foregoing provisions of this ordinance, and shall build any sidewalk in any other manner, than as herein prescribed, or as the council may direct, the council may order the street commissioner to tear up such sidewalk and build the same as herein described, unless they shall otherwise direct, and the expense incurred thereby may be assessed and collected as though such sidewalk had been built in the first place by the street commissioner.

SEC. 8. Whenever the council may order any sidewalk to be built, it shall be the duty of the owner, agent or occupant of the lot or premises in front of or adjacent to, which such walk is to be constructed, to build the same within fifteen days from the date of notice. If such agent or occupant refuse or neglect to build such sidewalk within the time specified in said notice, it shall be the duty of the street commissioner by order of the council, to cause the same to be done in the manner herein provided, and the expense thereof shall be a lien upon the lot or premises in front of or adjacent to which such walk is required to be built. The street commissioner shall file with the clerk of the city a copy of all such notices served by him, with a certificate endorsed thereon and signed by him, showing the date and manner of service.

SEC. 9. If any sidewalk shall be built by the street commissioner under the provisions of this ordinance, he shall keep an accurate account of the cost of the same, and after such walk shall have been built he shall immediately file with the city clerk, for the use of the council, a certified statement of the cost of said sidewalk and shall present to the owner, agent or occupant of the lot or premises in front of or adjacent to which said walk shall have been built, a copy of the bill of such costs and demand payment thereof and in case such owner, agent or occupant shall neglect or refuse to pay the same within fifteen days from the time of such demand, it shall be the duty of the street commissioner to report the fact of such neglect or refusal to the council.

SEC. 10. All sidewalks in the city of Tawas City shall be kept in good repair by the owner, agent or occupant of the house, lot or premises adjoining or fronting on such sidewalk and wherever any sidewalk within the limits of said city shall require repairing, it shall be the duty of the street commissioner of the city, whenever directed by the council or committee on streets and sidewalks, to notify the owner, agent or occupant of such house, lot or premises adjacent to or fronting on such parts of said sidewalk needing such repairs, to repair same within five days after being notified in writing by said street commissioner and if the person thus notified shall refuse or neglect to comply with such notice, then the said street commissioner shall cause such repairs to be made and shall report the same, together with a detailed statement of the cost of making such repairs to the council, and the expense of repairing said sidewalk shall be a lien upon the lot or premises in front of or adjacent to which said walk is required to be repaired, as in this ordinance provided.

SEC. 11. If the owner or occupant of any lot or premises shall fail to build any sidewalk mentioned herein, or shall fail to keep the same in repair, or shall fail to perform any other duty required by the council in respect to such sidewalk within such time and such manner as herein specified, as the council shall require, the council may cause the same to be done as herein stated and such sidewalk to be built, rebuilt or repaired and the expense of such part hereof as the council shall have determined, shall be assessed to such owner or occupant, and the council may cause the amount of such expenses incurred thereby, for which such owner or occupant shall have become liable, together with a penalty of ten per cent in addition thereto, to be reported to the board of special assessors to be levied by them as a special tax or assessment upon the lot or premises adjacent to and abutting upon such sidewalk, which special assessment shall be subject to review, after proper notice is given as in all other cases of special assessments, as provided for in chapter XXIV of Act No. 215 of the Public Acts of this state, for the year 1895, and such tax when certified shall be a lien upon such lot or premises the same as other special assessments, and the council shall order the supervisor of the ward in which such lot or premises are situated, to spread said amount, together with such penalty upon his roll as a special assessment upon such lot or premises and the same shall be collected in the same manner as other city taxes, or the city may collect such amount together with the penalty aforesaid, from the owner or occupant of such premises, in an action of assumpsit, together with costs of suit.

SEC. 12. Cow Peas.

When this member of the legume family becomes fully known and appreciated our farmers will grow more of them to take the place of winter killed clover. Concerning their uses an Illinois farmer writes the Rural World as follows: I am using them in a systematic four-year crop rotation with satisfactory results. We have corn planted where we had clover last year and are now breaking and preparing a corn-stalk field and using a wheat drill set at three pecks to the acre to the cow peas. Will drill a row between every row of corn in the cornfield, using corn drill, at the last cultivation, to make a rich stock field for winter. I have found cow pea hay excellent feed for all kinds of stock. It makes a fine late pasture when other pasture has dried up. Just the thing to help fatten off the spring pigs before the cold weather comes.

Like other plants of the legume family it does in some way get more nitrogen that can be accounted for in the soil. A careful study of these plants has shown that there are developed on the roots of legumes little nodules that contain living organisms of microscopic size, which are able to act on the free nitrogen of the air as it penetrates the soil and change this into a connection that makes it fit food for the other plants that follow, but which cannot feed on free nitrogen. Cow peas grow during the hottest months when nitrification is most active in a fertile soil and their deeply penetrating roots enable them to get mineral matter from the sub-soil at depths beyond the reach of other plants and bring it to the surface soil.

My wheat, sown after cow peas, has a dark green color and is of uniform size, except where the snow blew off and it was winter killed. Now it is stooling out and will make a fair yield. The clover I sowed this spring on the wheat has made a fine stand. The soil does not wash as badly as on the land where no cow peas was turned under.

Killing a Weed.

We are now in the midst of the weed killing season. The frequent rains and hot sunshine have brought them up in garden and field in countless numbers and the plow and hoe have been kept busy to head off these troublesome fertility consumers. It is usually on our very richest and best land that we have most weeds to kill. When working with the hoe make no false motions if you want to push along the work. Never cut off the weeds before uprooting them, but get under them the first lick and bring them out root and branch. To cut of the tops and then dig up the stubs not only requires more labor, but if rain follows, these stubs are in the very best condition to grow right off, having much root and little top. When weeds are left till they make a kind of sod it requires a good deal of hard work to eradicate them, the best plan being to go through the crops as soon after rains as the ground will do work with some light implement that will go over ground fast.

Ventilating Farm Buildings.

Too little attention is paid to the proper ventilation of farm buildings in summer. To put horses into a stable where there is no circulation of air and have them come out all wet with sweat is harder on them than the work they do. Basement stables as a rule are more poorly ventilated than stables above ground, for the reason that there is little chance for air to circulate as only one end of the stable allows air to come in. A cellar stable that is damp and musty does not furnish pure air for stock and they should not be kept in such a place long at a time. If you don't want your horses to have any grass during the night, allow them the privilege of running loose in a barn lot, as there the air will always be purer than it is in any stable. Stables should be as dark as possible also, to keep flies from bothering the horses at this time of the year. An animal rests but little at noon or out of harness if it has to keep up a continual switching and stamping to keep the flies from eating it up.—Ee.

Things to Avoid on the Farm.

There are a good many foolish things in this world and these are a few of them: To winter calves around a straw stack and in the spring find fault with their pot bellies and curved backs; to yell at the cow as though she were deaf and emphasize it with a whack from the milking stool; to trade stale butter for groceries brought home in a jug and which are usually denominated wet groceries; to keep scrubs and despise pedigree; to drive cows with a dog and plant potatoes in the dark of the moon when it is known that the bug is no respecter of seasons; to go to a fair and spend the greater portion of the time in the side shows; to let the hens roost on machinery for which a note has been given; to put off fixing the ditch until the irrigating season comes on; to let grass get dead ripe before making into hay; to sit down and say, "I have no luck," to say that you have forgotten more about farming than the papers ever knew. There are others.—Field and Farm.
