It won't be long before our local sports can go out in a dog cart instead of a spring wagon. An inventive Yankee has gotten up a beer tablet whereby a man can carry a keg of beer in his vest pocket when he goes fishing. Whenever he gets to spitting cotton all he has to do is to make a mug out of the crown of his hat, dig up a piece of the lake, drop a tablet in, and thus build a first-class jar.

YACHT RACES.

For the Tawas City Boat Club Trophies next Sunday.

THE D. & M. RACES SUNDAY, MONDAY AND TUESDAY.

Next Sunday will occur the yacht race for the handsome silver cup and flag offered by the Tawas City Boat Club, which was to have been sailed for July 4. This race will be for all boats and time allowance will be given according to size and amount of sail. The race will be sailed over the Club's course off Tawas City, starting and finishing off Prescott's dock. Six of the best boats from Bay City and the Commanche, of this city, have already been entered and several others are expected. The race will be started promptly at 1 o'clock standard time, and an exciting struggle may be looked for, as much rivalry is manifested by the crews of the various boats. These prizes become the absolute property of the boats winning them and do not again have to be sailed for.

THE D. & M. RACES.

The third annual yacht races under the auspices of the D. & M. Railway Co. will occur next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. In addition to the Silver Cup, $150 in cash prizes are offered, which assures the presence of all the best boats from Bay City and Alpena. The prizes will be given as follows:

Weekly Climate and Crop Bulletin.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Climate and Crop Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Michigan section, for the week ending Aug. 5, 1899:

The mean temperature during the week ended Aug. 5th, 66.7 degrees, was 1.3 degrees below the normal; the average total precipitation was 0.27 of an inch, or 0.24 of an inch below the normal; the sunshine averaged 60 per cent of the possible amount.

Frequent showers have continued to interfere with haying in the upper peninsula, but otherwise the weather condition of the past week have been generally favorable for harvest work and crop growth. Wheat and rye harvest is about completed in the most northerly counties, while threshing has been general in all parts of the lower peninsula. With favorable weather the oat harvest has progressed rapidly and in the four southern tiers of counties the crop is nearly all cut and mostly secured; threshing returns show that the oat crop is generally good. Corn has made good progress and is earing nicely; it is silking as far north as Emmet and Leelanau counties. Late potatoes and beans have also made good progress and are in a promising condition. Sugar beets are growing nicely except in a few of the more northerly counties.

Light scattered showers which have fallen in the lower peninsula, have been very beneficial, but more rain is needed for pastures and for fall plowing on clay ground. Fall plowing is general in the southern counties and just beginning in the central and northern counties. The condition of apple trees at present indicates a light and rather poor apple crop; apples have been dropping badly, while those remaining on the trees are rather poor and scabby.

Is it Mayor Maybury's intention to try and ride into the governor's office at Lansing on the "three cent trolley?" He may "slip his trolley."

FLORENCE K. JEWELL, a handsome and wealthy American girl, announces that she will marry "Prince" Lebengula, a south African negro. The nigger may get a Jewell, but for our part we would want one of better judgement.

MICHIGAN editors who hold post-offices by the favor of Senator McMillan are out with long editorials as to why the senator should succeed himself for the third term. Great is the system of spoils and you-tickle-me-and-I'll-tickle-you.—Grand Ledger Independent.

WHY the newspapers of the country should slander the Hon. Mark Hanna, of Ohio, by announcing that he has retired from business, is a mystery. He has simply changed his business, probably because there is more money in his present occupation and less risk of the loss of his own money.

DURING the fiscal year ending June 30, the state land office disposed of 39,287 acres of land, as follows: Agricultural college land, 17,653.88 acres; swamp land, 8,269.40 acres; patented homesteads, 836.05 acres. Of these lands over 12,000 acres of land were sold to parties interested in copper mining. The 39,287 acres of land were sold for $170,815.83, of which $165,587.55 has been received, $5,228.28 remaining unpaid. The sales of land during the year have been the largest in the history of the department, the demand for hardwood and mining lands being chiefly responsible for the increase.

WHAT is said to be the richest zinc mine thus far discovered in North America has recently been sold at Duluth for $254,000. It is on the north shore of Lake Superior, was opened last fall, and has been shipping 55 and 60 per cent zinc to Belgium ever since, at the rate of about 300 tons per month. The zinc ore rose from the surface in a great cliff, and could be quarried like rock, and Lake Superior and the Canadian Pacific road is but 10 miles away. The property originally belonged to the Messrs. Hunter, of Duluth, and McKellar, of Fort Williams, and for 14 years they had unsuccessfully tried to dispose of it to many of the leading zinc consumers of the United States at a price that now seems ridiculously low. A few days ago a vein of pure zinc, 600 feet long and 24 feet wide, was discovered on the property, and its sale to eastern parties followed.

THE factory inspectors under Labor Commissioner Cox have canvassed the keepers of seventy-eight hotels in the state as to business and its prospects. Of the above number 41 report business prospers, and 37 assert that it is not prosperous, showing that nearly 50 per cent of the hotel men are not enjoying the increased business which the better times ought to bring. Forty-six hotel men report a falling off of 25 per cent in the number of traveling salesmen, while 32 say there has been an increase of about 20 per cent. The cause for the decrease is mostly attributed to trusts and combinations, while the increase is due to local causes and better times. About 50 per cent of the hotel men canvassed followed their answers by general remarks on the situation and boom, summer resorts and improvements in certain cities have increased the hotel business in many localities, while in some instances increased hotel facilities is the cause for increased business.

Tax Law Amendments.

According to the amendments to the general tax law, which were enacted into law by the last legislature, there are several which are of the greatest importance to tax payers of this county.

Section 59 of the tax law, which formerly provided for interest upon delinquent tax lands at the rate of 8 per cent per annum and a 4 per cent collection fee, which was added when the taxes became delinquent, now provides for interest at 1 per cent a month or 12 per cent per annum, with addition of the 4 per cent collection fee. This increased rate of interest will take effect on and after September 23, next.

Formerly there has been no charge for expense for advertising purposes or other expenses, on lands subject to sale for unpaid taxes, until the same had been advertised and subject to sale. This advertisement was made in April of each year and thus there was no charge for these purposes until the land was actually offered for sale, which was the first Tuesday in May of each year. This section of the law has also been amended to increase this expense which has been 70 cents on each description, the $1 and makes the same a lien upon the land on the 1st of October next preceding the time prescribed for the sale of said land.

The land which is now held for unpaid taxes of 1897 will be sold for the taxes, if not sooner paid, in May next. Under the old provision, the expense of sale which will now be $1 for each description would not become a lien until that date, but under the new provisions of the law the said charges become a lien on the 1st of October next. Taxpayers who are delinquent for the taxes of that year, can therefore save this additional expense by paying same before that time.

Another change in the law which is of interest to property owners, is the replacing of the fee for the county treasurer's certificate to warranty deeds. This fee formerly 25 cents, was reduced to 15 cents, and afterwards abolished entirely, but owing to a recent enactment which takes effect on September 23 of this year, the fee for this certificate has been restored to the original rate of 25 cents.

A Drawn Bet.

A down East minister in poor circumstances had a purse made up for him by his congregation, and on the same day that it was presented his wife obliged him with a bouncing boy.

Two members of the congregation were very curious as to which he would refer to first in his opening prayer on the following Sunday, and a bet was made thereon.

The two members duly attended the church and listened very intently for the prayer, and the minister began:

"Oh, Lord, we thank Thee for this timely succour!"—and the bet was drawn.

The Farm Journal is cheap, but not too cheap to be good; it is full of ginger and gumption, and has as many other good things in it that you can see as any paper at any price. It will be sent for the balance of 1899 and all of 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, nearly five years, to subscribers of the HERALD who pay one year in advance.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Ruth VanBuskirk, of Harrisville, gave a lecture at the Congregational church, on Alaska. Mrs. VanBuskirk spent ten months of last year in that country, and organized and taught for three months the first school in Dyea. She also made a trip over the famous Chilkoot Pass and visited the gold fields. Her lecture was of the most entertaining character and contained a vast amount of valuable information of this interesting country which is not properly understood by people in general. All who attended were well repaid for the time spent.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to take this occasion to thank our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness extended during the long illness of our wife and mother, and for the sympathy and aid given us in the hour of our great bereavement, and to assure all that it will be most gratefully remembered by us.

"Our baby was sick for a month with severe cough and catarrhal fever. Although we tried many remedies she kept getting worse until we used One Minute Cough Cure,—relieved at once and cured her in a few days."—B. L. Nance, Prin. High School, Bluffdale, Texas, Dr. G. S. Darling.

The editor of the Farm Journal asks: "Why have a mortgage on the farm, poor crops, rheumatism, sour bread, grip, leak in the roof, hole in the pocket, skelton in the closet, or any other pain or trouble, when you can get the Farm Journal for the balance of 1899 and all of 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, nearly five years, by paying a year in advance for the HERALD? This you can do if you are not too late.

There is a law against allowing thistles or other weeds to go to seed in this state, and making it part of the duties of pathmasters to see that the law is enforced. So generally disregarded is the statute, however, that it is something unusual to hear of a single instance in which its provisions are carried out, but the Hastings Journal notices one such in Baltimore township in that county, where the pathmaster has cut thirty-eight acres of the thistles himself, besides compelling the farmers of his township to toe the mark also.

A story is related about a young man who was terribly broken up a short time ago when he visited a neighboring city where he had young lady acquaintances, two of whom he proposed to take to ice cream. When he reached the ice cream stand he looked up and read the sign, "$1.25 per gal." then he said he had been taken suddenly ill and must go home. The girls afterwards found out why he had been taken sick and persuaded the ice cream dealer to spell out the abbreviation sign and have it read "$1.25 per gallon."

At Rest.

Mrs. Sophia Schlechte, wife of F. W. Schlechte, died at the family residence in this city, at 9:30 a. m., Friday, Aug. 4, 1899, after a long and painful illness.

The deceased was born in Eigenstedt, Westphalia, Germany, March 16, 1850, and came to America at an early age. She was married to Rev. F. W. Schlechte, at Worden, Ill., May 26, 1867. For a number of years they resided at Strasburg, Ill., where Mr. S. served as minister. Later they resided at Stewardson, Ill., and Otis, Ind., removing to this city in 1894, where her husband has since been proprietor of the Daisy Roller Mills.

She leaves, besides her husband, an aged mother, seven children, four sons and three daughters—August, of Mishawake, Ind., Edward, William and Martin, of this city, Mrs. Emma Walters, of Matton, Ill., Mrs. Rosette Stormer and Miss Louise, of this city,—twelve grandchildren and a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. She was a constant member of the Lutheran church, a true christian, a faithful and loving wife and mother, and highly respected by all who knew her. The bereaved family have the heartfelt sympathy of all in their sad affliction.

The funeral services were conducted from the Zion German Lutheran church of this city last Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the remains laid at rest in the Lutheran cemetery.

Earnest William Marquardt died at his home in this city, Sunday, Aug. 6, 1899, aged 60 years, after an illness of several months, from a complication of diseases resulting from an attack of la grippe. The deceased was one of the pioneer German residents of this city and was universally respected and beloved for his honorable and kind manners to all. The funeral services were held from the Zion Lutheran church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and were largely attended.

Help the Cause.

There has never been a political campaign that will equal in importance that of the one to be fought next year. The republican party, backed by the money power of this country and Europe, is alert and aggressive. Flushed with the victory of three years ago it will seek by every means in its power to maintain its supremacy.

Democrats must be up and doing. They must wage an unceasing war upon their enemies. In no better and more effective way can this be done than by the circulation of good, sound democratic newspapers. The publisher of the Chicago Dispatch, the great national democratic weekly, will send to every new subscriber for three months a copy of The Chicago Dispatch for ten cents. If you are not already taking the great political weekly, send in ten cents at once. You should not only do this yourself, but you should induce all your friends to join with you. PICK-UPS.

If you would have well behaved cows treat them humanely and feed liberally.

Bran, peas and corn make one of the best producing rations for cows, mix all together.

We are glad to note the fact that in most places the smooth wire fence is fast superceding the barbed wire.

Only cultivated crops should be allowed in orchards early in the season. Grain and hay should never be grown.

In the summer time, especially with the laying hens, wheat should be made the principal ration. It will promote egg production.

If you like birds and want to have lots of them around you, have plenty of shade trees about the lawn and drive off the English sparrow.

Corn, close confinement, filthy quarters, and no shade or good water to drink, prepares a sow for milk fever and "bad luck" at farrowing time.

In dairying a very little food when it is needed will make the difference between profit and loss not only for the present, but for some time in the future.

Do you live up to all your privileges on the farm and enjoy yourself, or are you worrying and making life miserable because you can't have everything everybody else has?

Hogs don't want to be too fat for the market demands now. Packers are not looking for lard, but rather for nice, streaked, tender meat. Always cater to the demand, don't try to change it.

Usually a very good stand of grass may be had by sowing seed in the corn this month or first of next. If wheat is not to follow corn, sow something to keep the ground from washing during the winter.—Guide.

When an animal has matured and is ready for the market, there will never be a better time to sell it. It seldom pays to hold anything for an advance of price, especially live stock that requires a good deal of labor and feed to keep up.—Ex.

Within the memory of some of our oldest inhabitants the time was when one of the most serious problems the farmer had to solve was how to get rid of the forests. A great many now want to know how to go about the work of starting a forest.

The Farm Journal is cream, not skim-milk, and just the paper for the man who keeps cows. We give it for the balance of 1899 and all of 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, nearly five years, to every subscriber to the HERALD who will pay a year ahead. Walk right up to the captain's office without delay.

The green worm not only attacks cabbage, but turnips and all members of the cabbage family. While dry substances will kill, they do not always reach the worms nor adhere well to the foliage. We give here the treatment found most efficacious at the New York Station, at Geneva, reported in bulletin No. 141. A compound was made of pulverized resin, five pounds; concentrated lime, one pound; fish oil, one pint; water, five gallons. Place oil, resin and a gallon of water in an iron pot and heat until the resin is softened; add lye solution as for making hard soap and stir well; then add rest of water and boil about two hours, or until the mixture will unite with cold water, making a clear liquid. For use, one gallon of this solution is diluted with sixteen gallons of water, and afterwards three gallons of whitewash is added. To this one fourth pound of Paris green is added and well stirred in.

In all lines of products and especially in the dairy the farmer should aim to be at the top of the market.

Now is the time of times to clean out all fences and rough places left by the mower. What you can save if stacked will make bedding in winter, and you will be surprised to see how much the cattle will eat even with the best rations.

Any sudden change in temperature, feed or care may not permanently affect the percentage of butter fat in milk, but it will cause a temporary change both in quantity and quality, and may in a large measure account for the fluctuations in the butter fat test experienced at so many of our creameries.

Bare soil soon loses its humus and becomes infertile. This must be prevented. Here is one way of preventing it. Plow the orchard in the spring, cultivate both ways and keep all weeds down till September 1st, at which time the soil will be in fine condition for a seed bed. Sow rye at the rate of two bushels per acre. This will cover the ground well before winter and therefore protect the ground from blowing or hard freezing during the winter. Let the rye stand till knee high in the spring, then turn under and proceed with clean cultivation through the summer.—Kansas Experiment Station Bulletin.

Sometimes a mistake is made in having the watering trough too small so that even though there may be ample water supply it is not always available. Fifteen or twenty cattle drink a great deal of water, and is frequently so happens that the trough is emptied before all of the animals have had enough. Then, of course, they fret, because unable to reason that a little time will give them all the water they want. A worried, fretted animal, whether a dairy cow or a fattening steer, is not the one to turn a profit, therefore see that the watering trough is large enough and the supply pipe is adequate to fill it quickly.—Ex.

DON'T FORGET THE MANURE.

After harvest it is well to pay some attention to the manure that has been made on the farm since things were cleaned up early in spring. Manure being the foundation of a farmer's business, deserves more attention than anything else on the farm. We can easily tell whether a farmer is prosperous or not by the way he cares for his manure. The time was in this country, say fifty years ago, when farmers paid very little if any attention to the manufacture or saving of manure on the farm. In a very few favored localities manure is not considered much of an object yet. While virgin fertility lasted farmers had very little thought of the future. When a farm became unproductive a half century ago it was easier to pull up stakes and move out on the frontier, where new lands could be had for a song and the supply seemed inexhaustible, than it was to try to renovate the old farms. But the case is very different now, and a partial failure of crops is almost certain unless we adopt the very best modes of fertilization and cultivation. We can, now that the rush of work is about over, put in some time cleaning up the old stock yards, and putting them on the thin points where land is to be turned for wheat. There is a good deal of manure about the stables that should be put where it will do the most good, not only in the matter of crop production, but in building up the soil. The

MUST ALL FARMERS BECOME STOCKMEN?

The problem of maintaining soil fertility is always a difficult one, and there is none that seems to me more interesting and important. For many years, says a writer in National Stockman, I have watched with interest the methods of a few noted farmers in the eastern and central states who kept no live stock other than that necessary to furnish power for the farm, and who believed that their conditions were such that the questions of maintaining fertility and securing income from their farms did not have ought to do with the keeping of stock. It was my hope that the problem would be worked out for the benefit of the many who do not want to graze or feed stock, but in the last few years, three at least, of these gentlemen have become stockmen in a greater or less degree, and some of them now strongly advocate the purchase of nitrogenous feeding stuffs, coming out of other farmers' soil, for the maintenance of fertility, the strength of these feeding stuffs passing through the stables to the cultivated fields. When men of wide experience change their methods and go more and more into the business of stockmen, this question of the possibility of profitable agriculture without live stock becomes more prominent than ever. The experience of a short term of years appears not to be conclusive, and the man engaged in plain farming without stock, feels that there may be pitfalls ahead. When the claim has been made that safe farming demands the feeding upon the farm of the crops of the farm so that the most of the plant food might be returned to the fields, I have wondered how a marked for so much animal product could be expected. The use of a pencil quickly shows that such practice would lead to enormous overproduction of meat and dairy products. The production along those lines is already sufficiently great, and we are in a bad way surely if maintenance of fertility depends upon such a course. The advocates of this method usually add that the farmer should buy addition feed, in form of nitrogenous foods, to make good the loss occasioned by sale of stock and by necessary waste in converting food into manure. As a rule of universal adoption the plan is, of course, absurd.

TEST SOME NEW VARIETIES.

There are probably more farmers taking the whole country over, that grow wheat more than any other crop. It is adapted to all localities and soils. But some varieties do better in some places than others, and taking the run of several seasons some kinds will give a better average crop than some variety perhaps which for a single year would give the largest yield. For instance the largest yield we ever had was from a smooth wheat, but taking a series of years together we have had the best average yield from the bearded wheats. A farmer makes a mistake when he gets "stuck" on any one variety of wheat and won't try anything else, to see whether or not there is anything better. It costs so little to make an experiment with wheat every season that there is in fact no excuse for not doing it, and knowing to a certainty what variety suits our lands best and will bring us the largest profit. Enough to sow an acre is sufficient to buy of any of the new varieties that are somewhat expensive. If it then proves to be worth continuing we have enough seed another year to sow a good large field, and if it isn't desirable, no very great loss will be sustained on an acre of wheat. If we don't care to send off to some originator of new wheats for seed, we can at least look around among our neighbors and get some seed from those who have had the best crops and in this way keep up with the very best that can be found in the country. Besides ag or a small yield. As long as wheat is one of our principal money crops we ought to try and grow maximum crops, and there is no better way of doing this than to secure first of all, good seed, the very best there is to be had anywhere.—Farmers' Guide.
