Be sure and read our great offer of THE HERALD for a year and the Farm Journal for the balance of 1899 and all of 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903, nearly five years, all for the price of our paper alone. Just walk up to the captain's office and draw the greatest prize you ever drew.

When you receive flattering announcements through catalogues sent by mammoth supply houses from distant cities, just step into the store of your local merchant and price the same article that has attracted your attention in the catalogue. In most cases you'll find it as cheap in price, often better in quality and when you purchase save express or freight to say nothing about home industry.

The Werner Co., of Akron, Ohio, is the largest concern of its kind in the world. They write us that they are in position to offer paying employment to an energetic man or woman in this county. We would advise those of our readers who are in position to consider a good offer, to write at once to "Department K," the Werner Co., Akron, O. You must send good references.

Biggle Swine Book is just as valuable for a man with one hog in a little sty as for a man with a hundred hogs feeding on the sheltered side of a barbed wire fence. The price is 50 cents, free by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer, Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

Advertising will not work miracles. It is not a substitute for careful buying, cash discounts, wise arrangements or effective organization. One must have the right article, purchased or manufactured to the best advantage, handled in the best way, offered at the right place, or advertising will prove a useless expense. Advertising is a vehicle on the road to fortune; but is not an insurance policy against bankruptcy in the hands of incompetent men as overseers of business.—Ex

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Davis arrived here Monday from Marion, O. The owners of the mill are to be congratulated on securing the services of Mr. D., as he is well known in this county as a first-class miller, through his connection with the "Daisy" mills of this city. Clate's many friends are glad to again welcome him and his wife as residents of this county.

"If you scour the world you will never find a remedy equal to One Minute Cough Cure," says Editor Flaekler, of the Micanopy, Fla., "Hustler." It cured his family of LaGrippe, and saved thousands from pneumonia, bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung troubles. G. S. Darling.

High Water Advertising Mark.
The New York Herald of April 17 printed an editorial statement that on the previous day (Sunday, April 16) its paid advertising reached the high water mark in that journal's history. The Chicago Tribune on that same day, last Sunday, April 16, printed not only more advertising than the New York Herald, but what is believed to be the greatest amount ever printed in a single issue of any regular publication of a newspaper. Leaving out of account the twenty-two columns of advertising printed by the New York Herald on that day in the special section devoted to the interests of Brooklyn and New Jersey and appearing only in those editions, the record of "The Tribune" for April 16 surpassed that of the Herald for the same day by more than 10,000 agate lines of paid advertising. Even allowing the Herald all it claims, including its Brooklyn and New Jersey supplements, the New York Herald on that day still fell short of "The Tribune" by more than 1,000 lines in the actual amount of paid advertising.
The exact figures are given as follows: The New York Herald of April 16 printed in its main edition, exclusive of its Brooklyn and New Jersey supplements, 77,323 agate lines of advertisements. Including those supplements it claims 86,760. "The Chicago Tribune" printed that day 88,450 agate lines of paid advertisements. The comparison should be made in lines of agate measure, because the columns of "The Tribune" are longer and contain 305 agate lines, 258 lines of agate each.
For the four Sundays ending April 16, the number of columns of advertisements in the New York Herald, according to its own claims and including its Brooklyn and New Jersey special section, was 1,067.25. In the same period of time "The Tribune" printed 1,084.43 columns of actual paid advertisements. These, reduced to agate lines, give the New York Herald 307,308 lines and "The Tribune" 330,751 lines. In "The Tribune" there were printed in that period 23,383 more agate lines than in the New York Herald. This excess was equal to eighty-one columns of the size of those of the New York Herald. Therefore the New York Herald printed an average of 20.25 columns less each Sunday than "The Chicago Tribune."

OAKLAND county farmers are tumbling over each other to get the record of having the poorest yield of wheat. One farmer in South Orion had nine bushels off of 50 acres. Another used $15 worth of fertilizer on 25 acres and threshed 15 bushels of wheat which, under the gold standard, is worth $9.60 in the markets at Pontiac.

THE Chicago News gives this illustration of a new reporter's first effort: A man killed a dog belonging to another man. The son of the man whose dog was killed proceeded to whip the man who killed the dog of the man he was the son of. The man who was the son of the man whose dog was killed was arrested on complaint of the man who was assaulted by the son of the man whose dog the man who was assaulted had killed.

THE Chandler medical registration law, which is now in effect, requires the re-registration of all physicians practicing in this state, and provides that an examination be passed by all physicians coming into Michigan after the taking effect of the law. The new law will prove of great benefit. It will keep out quacks and result in cleaning out many of the incompetents now practicing throughout the state on bogus or insufficient certificates. There will be a lively time among the practitioners when the board gets down to work.

In the August bulletin of the state dairy and food commission, grocers are cautioned against purchasing an adulterated vanilla extract sent out by a New York company, as no leniency will be extended to persons found with such an article on sale. Attention is called to the new law which took effect last week governing the sale of "process butter." Such butter must be labeled. Six prosecutions were commenced during the month, and 18 cases were pending Sept. 1. Dairies at Marquette, Newberry, Munising and Sault Ste. Marie were inspected. Ninety-six samples of food were analyzed during the month, 54 of which were found pure and 42 adulterated.

The farming out of cases by the attorney general to lawyers all over the state, the establishment of Detroit offices by state officers who want the state to pay their board bills, the sending out of vast quantities of Pingree speeches and campaign documents at public expense, the custom of state boards to go to the furthest-most extremities of the state whenever they want to hold a meeting so as to increase their mileage, the employment of useless clerks in the department for purely political purposes, useless legislative junkets and

The Fair.

THE 25th annual fair of the Iosco County Agricultural society closed last Friday, and it is to be regretted that it was not up to expectations either in attendance or exhibits. The raw, disagreeable weather undoubtedly kept many away; and the poor season for crops in this county possibly accounts for the poor display. However, the quality of the exhibits was very satisfactory.

The stock exhibit was fairly good, especially that of horses and cattle. The display of grain was fair, one exhibit of several different kinds, by Thomas Conklin, being worthy of special mention. The exhibit of fruit was very small but of a good quality. John Schriber, of Wilber, had an excellent display of thirteen varieties. In the culinary and fancy work departments the displays were the best of the fair.

The races were the poorest witnessed in a number of years, only part of them filling. Chas. Curry won first in the farmer's race. John Kinney second, and J. Cooper third. In the 3-minute race, Cody, of Oscoda, won first; Chas. Curry, of East Tawas, second, and Charlie Curry, Tawas township, third. Sam Anker's mare won the running race, while second and third places were taken by Phelps, of AuSable. Tom Dean took the bicycle race, Frank Oaks getting second and Joe Flint third.

The officers estimate that the gate receipts will pay all premiums and expenses and leave a balance to apply on the society's indebtedness.

The "Plow Boy Preacher" Rev. J. Kirkman, Belle Rive, Ill., says: "After suffering from bronchial or lung trouble for ten years, I was cured by One Minute Cough Cure. It is all that is claimed for it and more." It cures coughs, colds, grippe and all throat and lung troubles. G. S. Darling.

TAKE NOTICE.

All subscribers, advertisers and those who had job work done in the Tawas Herald, previous to Mr. L. J. Patterson assuming charge, and as proprietor of same, are requested to pay me on or before January 1, 1900, or all delinquent accounts will be placed in the hands of a collecting agency for collection. The amounts are small but will aggregate about $3,000.

Ex-Publisher of The Herald.

Tribute from the South.
[From the New Orleans Times-Democrat.]
[Apropos of all this, and other news from Paris, we take this opportunity to express our admiration of the extremely able and interesting news service from Paris and from London which "The Chicago Tribune" has been running daily in its columns for several months past. Several of the New York dailies have excellent cable letters from London and sometimes other European capitals in their Sunday issues, but they appear as a rule only once a week, the brief dispatches which they get on the other days of the week not amounting to much in the way of an intelligible and adequate presentation of European news. "The Chicago Tribune's" foreign service, under "Grace Corns" from Paris and "E. J. Whigham" from London, taking all the week around, is a long way ahead of the foreign news service of any of the New York papers. One or two of the New York papers have had for years a deservedly high reputation for presenting their readers with news of interest from foreign parts, and the public will not forget its indebtedness to them on that account. But it is beyond dispute that the star of journalism is westward taking its way, and that the journalism of Chicago is beginning to be the metropolitan journalism of the present, and will certainly be, if things move as they are moving now, the metropolitan journalism of the future. We do not generally, if at all, approve the politics of "The Chicago Tribune," but, apart from its politics, it is, in our opinion, superior to any of the New York papers. Not only is its foreign news service the best in the United States, but its home news service covers the country with a fullness to which the New York papers are strangers. "The Tribune's" edition last Sunday must have caused qualms of envy to the journals of New York. It was a journalistic effort to which hitherto none of the Gotham papers has been equal.

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION

Almost a Daily--At the Price
Of a Weekly.

The most widely circulated "weekly" newspaper in America is the Thrice-a-week edition of the New York World, and with the presidential campaign now at hand you cannot do without it. Here are some of the reasons why it is easily the leader in dollar a year journalism. It is issued every other day and is to all purposes a daily. Every week each subscriber receives 14 pages and often during the "busy" season 24 pages each week. The price is only $1 per year. It is virtually a daily at the price of a weekly. Its news covers every known part of the world. No weekly newspaper could stand alone and furnish such service. The Thrice-a-Week World has at its disposal all of the resources of the greatest paper in existence—the wonder of modern journalism—"America's Greatest Newspaper," as it has been justly termed—The New York World. The political news is absolutely impartial. This fact will be of special value in the presidential campaign coming on. The best of current fiction is found in its columns. These are only some of the reasons; there are others. Read it and see them all. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE HERALD together one year for $1.65. The regular price of the two papers is $2.

In speaking of the death of Mrs. Bradley last week, the Gazette said: "Mrs. Bradley has been ailing for nearly a year, but not until a few weeks ago was a physician consulted." Mrs. Bradley was taken ill last May, and while she was able to be around most of the time until a few weeks previous to her death, she was continuously receiving medical treatment, four different doctors having been called to see her.

ADVANTAGES OF GREEN MANURING.

It is impossible to take crops from our lands annually and at the same time keep up their fertility without applying some kind of manure. There are three practical and effective ways of doing this. One is by applying such commercial fertilizers as the requirements of the crop and soil seem to demand. Another is the good old way of applying barnyard manure—returning to the soil the surplus refuse of all crop products. The third way is by green manuring, which is nearest like nature's own way of renewing fertility. Nature has gradually increased the fertility of soils for centuries back by returning each year's product through the gradual process of decay, for the benefit of the succeeding crops. The first of the above plans proves to be very beneficial under certain conditions and with favorable seasons or when used to supplant other supplies of plant food, but it can hardly be considered superior to barnyard manures for general farming. But in seasons of severe drought even barnyard manure is of little effect, and sometimes an injury to the crop when applied in large quantities. Better results are usually obtained from the plowing in of green crops than either of the above methods. And under ordinary conditions it is a difficult matter to get too much vegetable refuse worked into the soil where much grain is sown. And using a crop while it is green and sapry is better than to have it dead, dry and woody before using. When a good heavy green crop has been turned down and incorporated with the soil it assists greatly in consuming soil moisture which we always need to carry our crops through the seasons of drought.

By plowing under a crop when in full bloom it is then full of sap and decays very rapidly, while if not plowed until the plant has matured it will have a tendency to cure and turn into straw, especially if the ground is dry, and it will consequently take a long time to sufficiently decay to become a fertilizer and be in condition to furnish food for plants. Besides when a crop is allowed to mature before it is turned under it is not quite so rich in plant food that it will become rapidly available. To turn under a strewy crop just before planting or seeding any crop we think is a mistake. It makes the surface soil dryer than it no crop had been turned under, for the reason that it obstructs the free passage of moisture from below to the roots of the plant.

One of the chief values of a green crop is the fact that it gathers from the atmosphere large quantities of organic matter and if turned under at the proper time there is a distinct addition of new matter to the soil, capable of exerting very marked influences upon the productiveness of the farm, for in this way valuable nitrogenous and carbonaceous materials are added. Decaying vegetation also evolves gases and ferments which makes the soil mellow, porous and light. Soils that are enriched by the application of vegetable manure become darker in color and absorb solar heat much more rapidly and by this means they are earlier and more quickly warmed than other soils, allowing earlier seeding and giving earlier maturity. We often wonder why it is that so many farmers remain ignorant of the value of green crops for manure, or if not ignorant, are careless about following up this plan of enriching the farm. If there are those who are skeptical upon this subject we would advise them to try a fair trial another season and be convinced of the error of country every year. A lesson learned by many the past season is that the quality of the crop is improved as well as the quantity, and in many instances this increase alone is sufficient to warrant a liberal investment in chemical manures for the wheat crop. We know of instances where fertilizers were used the past season on lands that were quite fertile, where soil enrichment was not at all necessary or, at least, was not thought of, and the result was the very finest quality of wheat. Phosphoric acid is usually the element that is necessary to produce a fine quality of grain on lands that are considered fertile. If your crop has been deficient in either quantity or quality you know there is some element of fertility lacking and it is your business as a good farmer to go to work and find out what the deficiency is and supply it. Even in those sections of the country where fertilizers have been used longest and are best understood their sale gradually increases, and we suppose it is profitable to buy them or their use would be discontinued.

PICK-UPS.

You'll soon have time to look back over the past season's farm operations and decide what crop didn't pay a living profit.

It is much more economical to keep up the soil's natural supply of fertility than to let it run down and then attempt to renovate it.

Save up everything now that will make feed for stock next winter. It is an exceptional case when you have more feed than you need before winter is over.

A good sheep in the hands of a careful, observing and painstaking farmer, will bring in an annual income of five dollars. What other stock will do as much in proportion to cost?—Guide.

The man who makes a big profit out of a small flock of sheep is usually disappointed in results when he builds up a large one. Keep your flocks small if you want them to give satisfaction.

The farmer who doesn't think he needs any special training for his business won't be able to compete very long with those who do prepare themselves for their calling. There would be very few race horses if they were not trained for the track.

There is nothing that livens up a soil quicker than a clover crop. We would rather have one good clover crop properly managed, than a dressing of barnyard manure to give life and productivity to a soil. And its effects will be more enduring as well. Too few of us properly appreciate clover as a soil renovator.
