

Republicanism Endorsed.

President McKinley Re-elected by an Increased Electoral vote over 1896.

Republicans Make Gains in Congress.

They Carry New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and all states which were Counted Doubtful.

Michigan gives Increased Republican Majorities.

Bliss for Governor Runs Many Thousand Votes Behind McKinley, but is Elected Governor by about 70,000.

The Republicans Will Have a Much Larger Majority in the next Legislature than in the last.

A. J. Doherty for State Senator, and Albert E. Sharpe, for the Legislature both Elected.

Isosco County Elects the Entire Republican County Ticket by Increased Majorities.

Tuesday's election was a republican landslide all over the country. McKinley is re-elected by an increased majority having carried several states which gave Bryan a majority in 1896. The republicans have gained about forty members of congress, and will have fifty majority in the next house, against twelve in the last.

The republicans have carried New York by 125,000, Ohio by 80,000 and Illinois by 100,000, and Indiana by 28,000 and Maryland by 14,000. Kentucky and Nebraska gives Bryan small majorities. New Jersey gives McKinley 50,000 majority.

In Illinois, Yates, the republican candidate for governor, ran fully fifty thousand votes behind McKinley, and in New York, Odell, republican candidate for governor is almost as far behind. The republican state ticket in both of these states however, is elected by safe majorities.

In all probability McKinley will receive 281 electoral votes, and Bryan 168. In 1896, McKinley received 271 electoral votes and Bryan 176.

In Colorado Bryan will have 35,000 majority, and the state ticket and legislature is solidly democratic, which insures the election of W. A. Clark as United States senator from that state.

RESULT IN THE STATE.

Michigan gives her banner republican majority this year. McKinley carries every county in the state and will have not less than 90,000 majority and it may exceed 100,000. In 1896 the state gave him a majority of 56,868. The republicans re-elect all twelve members of congress by increased majorities, and have gained several members in the state legislature.

For governor Maybury has run nearly thirty thousand ahead of Bryan, but in the landslide is beaten by a least 75,000. He carried Washtenaw, Jackson, Livingston and Ingham counties by majorities ranging from fifty to four hundred. Wayne county gave McKinley 8,720 majority and Bliss 721. Saginaw county gave McKinley 1,200 majority and Bliss 265. Bay county gave McKinley 1,465, and Bliss 320.

Indications are that senator Helme, of Adrian and possibly senator Ward, of Ann Arbor the only democrats elected to the state senate.

In the lower house of the state legislature there will probably not be over ten democrats. Wayne county elects but one democratic member of the legislature. "Honest John" Donovan, democrat, is elected in Bay county.

In the tenth congressional district R. O. Crump is re-elected to congress by about five thousand majority. Lee E. Joslyn, his opponent polled considerable more than his party vote and made a splendid run, but like the rest went down to defeat under an overwhelming majority.

Progressing and Possessed,

"She owns a beautiful house," said a lady, speaking of an acquaintance. "Oh, no, she does'nt," answered the one addressed; "the beautiful house owns her, and owns her so completely that there is very little of her left for anybody else. I knew her years ago when she lived in a pretty little cottage, and she was a charming and intelligent woman. She kept up with the literature of the day. She wrote bright papers occasionally for our various societies; she was ready to help in the church work, and was interested in whatever was going on in the community. Then the elegant house mania seized her, and they built a mansion, putting into it everything they could spare, and a good deal they couldn't. It is dreadfully hard work to be a millionaire on a limited income, and she is wearing herself out trying to do it. The beautiful house must be beautifully kept; and there are really not hands enough to accomplish it, the mistress must be everywhere. When night comes she is tired to read, and confess that she goes to sleep, if her husband attempts to read to her. She no longer has any interest in religious or philanthropic work; she can talk nothing else but 'house'—new ways of laundering curtains or serving lunch. No, my dear, she does not own that house; it owns her, and she is a veritable slave."—Forward.

His Courage Fleed.

A story is going the round in Washington to the effect that when the late John Sherman was secretary of state he received a call from "Bob" Fitzsimmons, the pugilist, who was making a triumphal tour after having defeated Corbett. Fitzsimmons was ill at ease, and Mr. Sherman, trying to make him feel more comfortable, remarked: "Your contest was a severe one, I believe?" "Bob" uttered a couple of inaudible words and grinned. "It seemed to have pretty thoroughly aroused the county—that contest—did it not?" ventured the secretary of state. Fitzsimmons squirmed uneasily, grinned and remarked: "The United States is a fine country, y'r honor." Having committed himself so far, the man who had pounded Corbett into insensibility ducked his head two or three times in acknowledgement of a bow from Mr. Sherman, and fled precipitately from the statement's august presence.

Million Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, bronchitis, lagrippe and all throat chest and lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on Dr. G. S. Darling, or J. E. Dillon, druggists, and get a free trial bottle Regular size 50c and 100. Every bottle guaranteed.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50 cent bottle of Greene's Waranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25 cent bottle to prove satisfactory

Man, Poor Man.

Man's life is full of crosses and temptations. He came into this world without his consent, and goes out against his will, and his trip between the two eternities is exceedingly rocky. The rule of contrariness is one of the important features of the trip. When he is little, the big girls kiss him, and when he is big, the little girls kiss him. If he raises a large family he is a chump; but if he raises a small check he is a thief, a fraud and is shunned, like a Chinaman with the seven-year itch. If he is poor he is a bad manager; if he is rich he is dishonest; if he is in politics you can't tell where to place him, and he is no good for this country; if he does an act of charity, its for policy, if he don't give to charity, he's a stingy cuss and lives only for himself; if he dies young, there is a great future before him, if he lives to an old age, he missed his calling. He is introduced into the world by a doctor, and into the next world by the same process. The road is rocky, but men like to travel it.—Ex.

Forest Reserve.

LANSING, Nov. 5.—At a meeting of the Michigan forestry commission Saturday, F. E. Skeels, land agent for the state board of agriculture, which has charge of the agricultural lands, submitted the following estimates of lands available for forestry purposes: The state has about 6,000,000 acres of land that has reverted through delinquent taxes, and about 300,000 acres of tax homestead lands. About 75 per cent of these lands were originally covered with valuable timber, and 40 per cent of them are now covered with the second of timber. There are 2,000,000 acres of what is known as jack pine plains in Michigan, the timber varying with the nature of the soil. On the poorer soil these pines are scrubby and of little value, but on better soils they have considerable timber value. The stronger lands bear some black Norways that are quit valuable, and also some scattering white pines, but the latter are of the "buckwheat" variety, do not have clean, long bodies. It has been determined that the character of the timber on the pine plains does not depend as much on the soil as it does on the accident of seed distributions.

The commission decided to employ Charles P. Blair, of Grand Rapids, to put into legal form the propositions and recommendations to be made the next legislature. In the opinion of the commissioners, the first and most important thing to do is to seek legislation on the question of land titles. The state must first make its title to lands acquired through delinquent taxes absolutely sound. The commissioners are also agreed that the proposed forestry reserve should be in one large body rather than in scattered areas. In the vicinity of Houghton and Higgins lakes, in the counties of Roscommon, Crawford and Missaukee the headwaters of the Muskegon, Manistee, Au Sable and Big Thunder rivers, there is a suitable body of land, and the commission will recommend that this tract be set apart as a reserve for experimental purposes on reforestation.

In the matter of legislation relative to fire laws, the commissioners believe there should be a co-operation with the railroads of the state, and they have already promised hearty co-operation.

It was decided to have one of the commissioners visit the Biltmore estate of Geo. Van'terbilt, at Ashville, N. C., for the purpose of gaining information on the economic side of the forestry question.

The commissioners will seek to have the trespass laws strengthened.

Iosco County

Goes Republican by a Largely increased Majority.

The Majorities Range from 724 for McKinley to 351 for Judge of Probate.

Iosco county rolls up the largest republican majority in her history. There was an increase of nearly four hundred votes of two years ago and two hundred larger than in 1898. McKinley carries the county by 724 majority. Four years ago his majority was 558. For governor, Bliss run seventy behind McKinley, having 651 majority. Crump carries the county by 589. Doherty for state senator has a majority of 617 and Sharpe has 483 majority for the legislature.

On the county ticket the republican candidates ran considerable behind. A. R. Wier, for judge of probate has a majority of 351; for sheriff Collie Johnson has 356; for clerk John A. Mark, has 635; for treasurer, James Richards, get 598; C. A. Jahraus, for prosecuting attorney has 477; Edgar A. Crandall, for register of deeds gets 674; and George L. Cornville gets 660 for circuit court commissioner.

The constitutional amendment receives almost a unanimous majority, not to exceed one hundred votes being cast against it.

A WALK WITH ISHBEL "I don't mind talking to you, you know," said Ishbel—she insisted on being spelled that way—"because you are not a stupid boy, and you have a nice detached point of view, but you must promise when I tell you things not to imagine I mean myself."

"How could I imagine you a thing?" I asked reproachfully.

"You know what I mean," said Ishbel, with severity. "When I was quite young," she pursued—she is 22—"I used to fancy that authors put themselves into their stories. Now I know they never do."

"Well, I am not quite young," I said crossly. "Go on."

"But you didn't promise me."

"I promise."

Ishbel adjusted her hatpin. "Once there was a girl," she began, "who at the age of 17 was sent to England to visit her father's people. That's rather a nice beginning, isn't it?" she interrupted herself. "It sounds as if it might be printed. Do you think if you saw a story with a beginning like that you would read it?"

"Candidly?" I inquired.

"Of course."

"I don't think I should."

There was a dangerous glitter in her eye.

"But," I hastened to add, "reading a story is very different from having you tell it, you know. I could listen to you for a thousand years."

She was mollified. "I won't take that long," she assured me, with a smile. There is no word for her smile but delicious.

And so, you see, she didn't have as good a time as she might exactly. But she did have a love affair."

"Oh," said I.

"Yes," said Ishbel, poking the ground with her parasol; "with a detrimental."

"Oh," said I again.

"Yes," said Ishbel; "he was a sort of distant connection of hers, a lawyer—what they call over there a solicitor, you know. He—she said—she was very much in love—and so was she."

"Confound"—I began.

"I beg your pardon," said Ishbel.

"I meant," I said sternly, "it is very wrong of detrimentials to make love to girls."

"It is," agreed Ishbel. "But he was very, oh, very honorable. Things had gone—well, they had gone rather far, you know, but the week before she sailed, when he proposed—at least he didn't exactly propose, but he told her he had only 300 a year, and that, of course, it was out of the question in England to marry on that, and he couldn't bear the idea of hampering her with a long engagement and—what did you say?"

"Oh, nothing."

"Are you sure? You put me out. Well, he said she mustn't be engaged to him, but he would hold himself engaged to her, and some day, when the senior partner dropped off—I do wish," petulantly, "you wouldn't mutter like that."

I groveled.

"Where was I?" demanded Ishbel.

"Oh, well, then they said goodbye, you know, and she was perfectly miserable—if you look so horribly cross I shall send you home—oh, dreadfully miserable. She felt that she didn't care a straw about other men, and there were—she said—there were some very nice men on the steamer coming home too. Balls and parties had no attraction for her, and fancy, for ever so long she hardly took any interest in her frocks. Oh, it was horrid. She only lived for his letters—and somehow they—well, they were not exactly satisfactory. She supposed it was because he was so very honorable, and they were not really engaged, you know. But one day she thought it all over and decided that sort of thing would have to come to an end. She knew she would never be happy for a moment till he came out, as she knew he would some day, to claim her, but she made up her mind to stop thinking about him as much as possible and to try to seem happy, no matter how perfectly miserable she was in reality. The idea was, you see—I think she got it out of a poem—to lock his image up in her heart."

"I see," said I. "And how did it work?"

"It worked very well," said Ishbel, reflectively. "She knew she was wretched, but she didn't allow herself to think about it."

"And what happened?" I asked briskly.

"Well, after three years he came."

"Oh, he did?"

"Of course," said Ishbel sharply. "Did you imagine he didn't?"

I coughed. "And she unlocked her heart?"

"Yes," said Ishbel.

"And the image?"

"It's a very odd thing," replied Ishbel slowly, "but it wasn't there."

I coughed again. "Was her heart—did she find the receptacle—er—empty?" I asked.

"She didn't tell me that," said Ishbel. We walked on. "So that," I remarked presently, "was the reason why that long legged English fellow?"

"But you promised!" cried Ishbel.—Boston Post.

FARM NOTES.

Get the fall work well in hand A good shelter is a good feed saver.

Don't depend on this kind of weather to long.

A great deal of good time is wasted nursing failures on the farm.

The trust may grind the farmer but it won't grind the tools or scour the rust off in the spring.

You may get more for your timothy hay in the city, but cows and sheep pay more for clover hay.

Peter Tumbled down's motto is "Always leave your farm implements in the field, so they will be there when needed next time."

A number of farmers who are good cattle men are mighty poor speculators in grain margins on the board of trade.

Scab, ticks and foot rot in sheep are easier to get rid of than a balky horse. But you can't get rid of a pest and keep it too.

Calf fat isn't half as important as calf blood. Given the proper blood anybody can put on the fat, at any time in the calf's life.

Pick out some good pumpkins for those pumpkin pies. A winter without the old fashioned pumpkin pies is no winter at all.

A sickly scrub calf and a crippled colt often get attention that would make a man money were such efforts bestowed upon anything but a doomed failure.

Properly prepared winter food for the dairy cows has nothing taken out of it but the water, and this element can be supplied from a deep well.

The dairy cow has no kick coming even if she does knock the bottom out of the pail occasionally. The price of butter should make her contented.

When a hog gets a pound of grain more than he can eat and digest two pounds are wasted.
The value of one pound is consumed relieving the system of the other.

Nothing shows a finer sense of the fitness of things than that the farmer boy is willing to drive himself to town on a bicycle while his team stays at home to rest.

Some people have difficulty in making good cottage cheese, and are unable to tell where the difficulty lies. Generally when poor cheese is made the milk is too sour or is heated too high a temperature before being made into cheese. With milk at an ordinary degree of sourness it is necessary to heat it only 140 degrees before putting into a bag and draining. The higher the milk is heated the dryer and harder the curd will be, and we might add the more unpalatable.

The Public Debt. By ten Washington, Nov. 2.—The mo-statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business Oct-$1, 1900, the debt, less cash in treasury, amounted to $1,104,492,324 decrease as compared with last month of $1,754,351.

albumen in large proportions and the best of our albuminous feeds are wheat, oil meal, milk and animal meal. For the oil of the yolk she needs feed that contains oil and this is furnished by corn.
Much has been said against corn as a feed for poultry but I consider it one of the necessary grains in keeping poultry up to the highest state of productivness.

It is often desirable to fatten poultry quickly. In fact poultry that is fattened as quickly as possible is always better better than that which has been fattened slowly. The best way to accomplish this is to confine the fowls where they have little exercise. Give them finely cracked corn, grit and all the pure water they will drink. Keep them as quiet as possible and for this purpose it is better to confine them where they can not see out of a building if this kind is available. Fed in this way for ten days or two weeks even old and ordinarily tough fowls become tender and very fat and their meat is much superior to that of fowls fattened out of doors and having full liberty, that it would seem as if they had been changed to something else. One who has once eaten of poultry fattened in this way will never want any other kind. It is almost as well as rattence capon, which is the highest quality of poultry.

STUFFED FEED STUFFED.

Bulletin No. 176 of the New York Agricultural Experiment Station (Geneva), "Inspection of Concentrated Feeding Stuffs during 1900," has just been received.
This pamphlet records the results of the first official inspection of feeding stuffs made in the state; and we trust that it will inaugurate as great a change in the feeding stuffs trade as the first fertilizer in-pection bulletin of the station did in the fertilizer-traffic.

Room for improvement in the sale of feeding stuffs certainly exists as all careful feed purchasers have long known; for there has been not only a great multiplicity of brands and trade names for by products without any means of knowing the actual composition and value of the feeds, but also deliberate adulteration of the common milling offals whose value when pure is fairly well known to the feeder.

The bulletin reprints the feeding stuffs law, interprets it in simple language and gives the policy of the station in regard to its enforcement. This is followed by a list of 81 firms who have secured licenses and whose goods can be legally sold in the state.
The names of the brands offered by each firm are given with guaranteed percentages of protein and fat which feed contains.
This list, corrected in some cases by the official analysis which the following list gives, should be the feeders guide in purchasing.
The latter list also gives prices of the feeds in the markets where they were sampled.

The necessity for inspection is shown by the fact that 50 percent of the brands fall below the amount of protein and 80 percent of them fall below in fat.
The bulletin will be sent free, so long as the addition lists, to all who apply to this station for it.

COLD WEATHER'S EFFECT ON MILK.

Probably we all know that as the weather grows colder there is a greater necessity for setting milk for cream when a separator is not used after it has been taken from the cow. The reason of this is that the rapid cooling which is bound to occur when we have a cool or frosty temperature causes the cream to rapidly come to the surface and if this cream is again mixed with the

FEED FOR COWS AT CALVING.

A writer in the Practical Farmer claims cows that are expected to be fresh should not have any grain for several weeks previous to the event. It is often the case where a farmer has an extra butter cow that he overfeeds her at this critical period, or gives her such quantities of grain, in the hope of making her do a little better the next time, that she is liable to have milk fever or other disease that may cause death. It is better to be on the safe side and not feed any grain for at least three days after calving. A cow will, undoubtedly, make as much butter in the long run when this is done, as if she were fed grain right along. Even if this were not the case, I for one would prefer to avoid risk which heavy grain feeding always entails.

PLAN A CAMPAIGN.

The progressive farmer is one who sets down and plans out his campaign in advance. It isn't the man who toils like a slave from break of day until the shades of night are deep. Farming like any other should be planned ahead and then the plans carried out. Where brain and hand work together there you will find the greatest success.
Many farmers work and toil all their lives, scarcely ever take a vacation or a day's rest and still are always behind with their work and never seem to get ahead any while their neighbor enjoys life, doesn't work half as hard and is prosperous. One is a thinker. He has his farm work laid out along certain lines.
The other is a worker. He proposes to catch up with the world by chasing and keeping everlastingly at it, but he won't. Set down brother, you of this latter class, plan out your work and see how much easier you will get along. It's worth a trial.

ENSILAGE FOR SHEEP.

In some way the impression prevails among sheep raisers that ensilage is not only a good food for sheep, but is dangerous to feed to breeding ewes, more especially when the ensilage is corn. It is doubtless quite probable that there are times when grain fed sheep are quite as well off without ensilage doing much better on rations of cured rape or root crops with grain, but there reason why sheep cannot be fed corn ensilage at the rate of four pounds a hundred pounds of animal weight a day with good results, provided always, that the animals are housed during the winter in warm quarters.

If allowed to be out of doors most of the time, and the houses poor and uncomfortable, the amount of succulent food would be necessary need to be limited.
As to the feeding of corn sile-age to breeding ewes being dangerous, experience goes to show that, with fair rations of concentrated foods, the succulent ensilage is a benefit rather than evil for it will naturally improve the condition of the bowels and increase the flow of milk after the lamb is born.

Many people worry because they believe they have heart disease.
The chances are that their hearts are all right but their stomachs are unable to digest food. Kodol Dyspep-tic cure digests what you eat and prevents the formation of gas which makes the stomach press against the heart. It will cure every form of indigestion. Dr. G. S. Darling.
