Better Navy Needed.

A Washington dispatch says Rear Admiral Crowninshield, chief of the navigation bureau, makes the state ment that the present personnal of the navy would form barely onefourth of the total establishment necessary to fight a first-class European nower. It is barely sufficed for the Spanish war.

The admiral says that the service is proper steps are taken to prevent it. Many of the best officers are being lost as a result of breaking down from overwork. The admiral calls for naval barracks to replace the unsanitary receiving ships. He says that the physical condition of the navy cadets is averaging lower every year to the abandonment of of the weedingout system, which formerly prevail ed. He complains that thus far there has been no recognation by congress of the services of the naval officers during the Spanish war, except of those who shared in the victory at Manila and three who served elsewhere in the war. There were 2,452 desertions from the navy and 86 deaths during the past fiscal year. Over 68 per cent of the men in the navy are native born.

when a foot tub will about fit us for a hat ,it's a mighty good thing to have some wise firend or relative to put 'em under the pump and hold them there until the swelling subsides. A nice young fellow here married into a society family. His father was one of these blunt, honest sort of me, who had accumulated a pretty good fortune by hard labor, and who had no nonsense in him. The young 936. couple began pretty soon to put on fancy timmings with theold man. He was not invited out when they had a pink tea or green breakfast, but was used to fill up the chinks. Well, the old man wouldn't have enjoyed it anyhow, for he was used to plain, substantial eating, and a supper of iittle cakes, ice cream, one croquette, a bab of salad and a glass of frappe would floor him. When he had suppers there would be a big dish of birds, hot biscut, pickles and preserves, coffee, oldstyle chicken salad and a hot punch afterward. But the old man stood the change in the boy for a white until one day he came his wife a chiffenier, pronouncing it "chee-fon ee-ay." This was to much. # POULTRY AND PET STOCK.

Mammoth Lisplay of Feathered Favorites to Be Made at Buffalo,

There are some 45 national associations interested in poultry raising in the United States. The Live Stock division of the Tan-American Exposition, of which Frank A. Converse is superintendent, is in correspondence with all of these, and a most cordial co-operative spirit is shown on the part of every one toward making the poultry and pet stock show of this Exposition the greatest of the kind ever held. The displays of poultry will comprise about 100 breeds. To these will be added six breeds of turkeys, 11 breeds of ducks and nine breeds of geese.

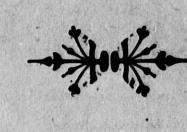

As an evidence of their interest in down home and asked him to give the coming show many of the associations have volunteered to duplicate the prizes offered by the Exposition. It is also proposed by the associations to do all in their power to boom this feature of the Pan-American Exposition at the winter poultry shows to be held in Boston, New York, Philadelphia and other cities. It is estimated that not less than 75 per cent of the poultry associations will offer special prizes.

An important feature of the Pet Stock Show will be the exhibit of Belgian hares. The classification, however, covers all kinds of pet stock. The Belgian hares are being extensively raised in various parts of the country on ac-"There is no place like home," but count of the value of their meat. The fine stock in these animals brings a very high price, and the demand is surprisingly great.
