FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Successful Meeting, but Very Few Farmers.

The sixth annual institute of the Iosco County Farmers' Institute Society, occurred at the court house Monday and Tuesday of this week, and was most satisfactory in every way, except as to the attendance of farmers. There appears to be only about two dozen farmers in the county who have interest and enterprise enough about them to attend an institute, or any other institution that is arranged for their benefit. Other counties with even less population than Iosco, have institutes which are supported and attended by the farmers in large numbers. When the state goes to the expense of arranging and carrying on this work, why do the farmers not support it?

Can some one answer?

The state speakers present were H. S. Fulton, of Grand Traverse, P. B. Reynolds, of Shiawassee, J. W. Cochran, of Midland, and Mrs. Campbell, of Ypsilanti, had charge of the women's section. The speakers were all thoroughly familiar with their subjects and the informal manner in which the discussions were conducted brought out all the good points relative to every topic.

Mr. Fulton is a practical fruit grower and familiar with all departments of the business and his talk on planting and caring for fruits adapted to this locality was practical and to the point. Special attention was given to spraying and destroying insects.

Mr. Reynolds is a successful general farmer and gave many valuable suggestions on crops, stocking, etc. The silo and the feeding of silage was of special interest as this is a new process of feeding in this county and a number of our leading farmers are contemplating adopting it the coming year.

Mr. Cochran, gave special attention to sugar beet growing, and successfully demonstrated the advantages and profit to be gained by beet raising as one of the regular crops on the farm. He also gave the farmers of Iosco county some good sound advice which could be taken with good results, if it had only been heard by those for whom it was intended.

The only local speaker that was present was J. M. Waterbury of this city, who took up a discussion of the question of building roads, and the manner in which the country road system is conducted. We did not hear the address but understand from those present that it was highly satisfactory to all.

The women's section was held at the Baptist church Monday afternoon and largely attended and reported as being greatly enjoyed by all.

Pneumonia Can be Prevented

This disease always results from a cold or an attack of the grip and may be prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. That remedy was extensively used during the epidemics of lagrippe of the past few years, and not a single case has ever been reported that did not recover or that resulted in pneumonia, which shows it to be a certain preventive to that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained a world wide reputation for its cures of colds and grip. For sale by Dr. G. S. Darling.

Our Relations with Japan.

Japanese students have been welcome in our universities; and it is a source of strength and advantage to us that so many of them, who had formed associations and friendships here, are now influential in their own land. Japanese public men do not favor the policy of encouraging the emigration of their own people. The population of Japan is not increasing at an undue rate, but, has, on the contrary, made only a few moderate gain in the past twenty-five years. Meanwhile, the fields of employment have been greatly increased in Japan and it is and will remain the policy of the Japanese Government to employ the whole population, either in the present island territories of Japan, including the newly acquired Formosa, or else on the neighboring Asiatic coasts. Furthermore, the Japanese are too well instructed in economics and sociology to misunderstand the objections that are felt in California against the subjection of white labor to competition from labor of other races having a different standard of living.

The Government of Japan has such power of control as to be able to prevent the emigration of Japanese coolie laborers to countries where their arrival would have a tendency to disturb governmental relations. The growth of foreign trade must result in the establishment of numerous branch business houses, manned by Americans, in Japanese as well as other Asiatic cities. On the other hand, it is equally natural that the growing market in the United States for Japanese goods should result in the establishment here of a gradually increasing number of Japanese importers and business men. There should be no agitation against these men, any more than against European importers in New York. The coolie labor question is a wholly different thing, and that we may safely leave to the discretion of the Japanese Government. The main point to be born in mind is the great desirability of doing nothing to offend the nation which of all others in the world probably entertains the most genuine and unfeigned feelings of friendship toward our country. Japan will apply the tests, and we may safely be hospitable to those who come.—From "Japanese Immigration," in the American Monthly Review of Reviews for February.

To Prevent Women Voting.

Kansas has a bill before the legislature taking away from women the right, granted some years ago to vote. It seems that most of the trouble arose from the habit that was formed of sending carriages for the women voters, and now they simply dress up on election day and wait to be conveyed to the polls. It is said that in Topeka scores of colored laundresses step from the washtub or ironing board into carriages each election day, to be carried in state to the polling place. The system is expensive, but once started, the only way to break it up is thought to be a summary removal of the right of suffrage.—Saginaw Courier Herald.

How to Cure the Grip.

Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed and a quick recovery is sure to follow. That remedy counteracts any tendency of the grip to result in pneumonia, which is really the only serious danger. Among the tens of thousands who have used it for the grip not one case has ever been reported that did not recover. For sale by Dr. G. S. Darling.

THERE is little doubt that as a temperance reformer Mrs. Nation will become a striking figure in Kansas if she is permitted to remain out of jail long enough at a time. In the minds of serious-minded temperance people, however, she is cutting a sorry figure. You cannot make men temperate with intemperance. Men cannot be reformed with an ax.—Chicago Times Herald.

ABOUT Feb. 15 the battleship Illinois, which is nearing completion at the Newport News shipyards, will be ready for its builders' trial. This trial has been postponed because of the delay in furnishing the armor plate for the ship. Much interest is manifested in the trial of the Illinois, at it is expected that this magnificent fighting machine will exceed the speed record of the Kearsarge and Kentucky which are the sisters of the Illinois.

A FEW years ago the appropriations of the "billion dollar congress" caused a stir in the country, but the people bowed in submission to the extravagance that was excused by the statement that "this is a billion dollar country." Now, however, the watchdogs of the treasury have figured out that the appropriations of the present congress are likely to exceed $1,500,000,000, exclusive of the ship subsidy grab or the Nicaragua canal project.

Millions of people are familiar with DeWitt's Little Early Risers and those who use them find them to be famous little pills. Never gripe Dr. G. S. Darling.

SPEAKING of the proposition to repeal the state law requiring the inspection of salt, a contemporary says: "Such a bill would do a vast amount of harm. It would abolish the state salt inspectors. No great harm would come to the salt, which would be sold on its merits, just as flour, sugar and cement are but think of the dreadful effect of abolishing so many offices."

THE funeral of Queen Victoria will take place at Windsor castle, Saturday, Feb. 2. A London dispatch says that in her last lucid rally before death Queen Victoria summoned the Prince of Wales and the kaiser to her bedside and besought them, as they loved her, to avoid war and maintain peace. The prince and kaiser knelt and swore to do all in their power to reign in peace, never to allow England and Germany to clash, and to endeavor to induce all other nations to do likewise.

Where Michigan should Gain.

The threat made by Mr. Carnegie to establish huge steel mills on the lake coast, seems to have brought home to the people of Pittsburg a realization of the fact that owing to the superior transportation of the lake ports they are destined some time to parietically monopolize industries of this kind. In the rearrangement of the iron and steel industry due to the causes mentioned, Michigan ought to gain immensely. Almost any city in the state located on a good harbor is better situated than Pittsburg with reference to iron ore, and the discovery of coal in workable veins near Saginaw makes that one of the finest locations in the north for a steel plant. Detroit is another and, perhaps a still finer, location for such a plant, being on the commercial highway along which nearly all of the lake business is obliged to pass. It is a little further from the coal fields, but is nearer the market for the finished product.—Grand Rapids Press.

On'y One Policy Toward Cuba.

Of all the excuses for an extra session the weakest is that congress must have time to debate the Cuban constitution.

According to the most solemn pronouncement of this government the members of the Cuban constitutional convention represent a people who "are and of right ought to be free and independent." Provisions should be made for the recognition of that government as soon as it comes into being and for the withdrawal of American authority and American officials immediately thereafter.—Chicago Times Herald.

Will Boom His Business.

S. Laval, a merchant, of Dallas, Texas writes, "I thought I would have to give up business, after two years of suffering from general debility brought on by overwork and long hours, but four bottles of Electric Bitters gave me new life. I can now eat anything, sleep well and feel like working all the time. It's the best medicine on earth." It's a wonderful tonic and health builder for, tried weak, sickly and run down people. Try it. Satisfaction guaranteed. Only 50c at Dr. G. S. Darling or J. E. Dillon's drug stores.

Inheritance Tax.

The supreme court unanimously sustains the constitutionality of the inheritance tax law, except the provision allowing the use of a portion of the revenue for cost of litigation. The entire revenue must go into the primary school fund.

The inheritance tax law of 1899 imposes a tax of 5 per cent upon the clear market value of the property inherited when transfer is by will or by the interstate laws of this state, from any person dying, seized or possessed of the property while a resident of this state; or when the transfer is by will or interstate law of property within this state; and the decedent was a nonresident of the state, at the time of his death.

Like bad dollars, all counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve are worthless. The original quickly cures piles, sores and all skin diseases. Dr. G. S. Darling.

Danger of Too Many Laws.

While many will dispute the general proposition that the number of laws should be kept as small as possible, there is always difficulty in putting the principle in practice. Legislators are assailed on every hand by persons seeking the passage of new laws in which they are specially interested. The tendency is toward a multiplicity of acts, with all the evils that follow in the train of hasty legislation and overcrowded statute books. The task of keeping down the number of bills passed is not an easy one, but this has become one of the most urgent duties of legislators. The defeating of a useless measure is often as great a public service as the passing of a needed law.—Chicago Tribune.

LaGrippe Quickly Cured.

"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called the LaGrippe" says F. L. Hewett, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with grippe." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack of pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable and one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale by Dr. G. S. Darling.

For the weakness and prostration following grippe there is nothing so prompt and effective as One Minute Cough Cure. This preparation is highly endorsed as an unfailing remedy for all throat and lung troubles and its early use prevents consumption. It was made to cure quickly Dr. G. S. Darling.

This disease always results from a cold or an attack of the grip and may be prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. That remedy was extensively used during the epidemics of lagrippe of the past few years, and not a single case has ever been reported that did not recover or that resulted in pneumonia, which shows it to be a certain preventive to that dangerous disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained a world wide reputation for its cures of colds and grip. For sale by Dr. G. S. Darling.
