Bicycles, Shewing Machine.

A great many women do not get the proper benefit from bicycle riding because of a wrong position. They set too low and too far back, and bend over to reach the handle bars. In this position they are sitting more as if at a sewing machine than on a wheel. Dr. R. L. Dickinson, an eminent gynecologist, lecturer on obstetrics to the Long Island College Hospital and the Kings County Medical Society, has some interesting remarks to offer about this. Dr. Dickson is an ardent advocate of bicycle riding for women, and he is practical. He confesses himself to be a horseman converted to the use of the bicycle as a superior medium for exercise. He says: "The question has been often asked how it is that we will advise women to ride a wheel, while a strong stand has been taken against the sewing machine on account of the harm it may do to the pelvic organs. It seems to me that the conditions under which the two forms of exercise are taken differ very radically. A woman at the sewing machine must stoop to focus her eyes accurately on the point at which the needle is at work, and must drive the material along in accurate lines under the rapidly moving needle within the margin of one-sixteenth of an inch. Such a position in the corseted woman brings a strong pressure to bear on the pelvic contents by means of the lower part of the busks, or metal front pieces, of the corsets, at a time when her pelvic circulation is lessened, while it permits increased abdominal pressure to act on her pelvic cavity directly from above. This causes an injurious venous congestion about delicate organs. The action of the limb is distinctly a constant one and somewhat resembles the tension on the lower leg in working the pedals of an organ, but without the free and compensating body balancing that the arm work of playing the organ necessitates. Lastly, the indoor motion is a series of very short excursions in rapid succession, while the road machine calls for a full, slow sweep of the whole leg—the difference between jerking and swinging.

"If a woman rides a bicycle, stooping well forward, while dressed in a snug corset, with her saddle rather far back so as to be obliged to thrust forward on her pedals, rather than to walk up and down on them, and with a very low gearing, we have conditions somewhat analogous to those under which she plays on the sewing machine; but should she wear loose body clothing and sit upright, with a level saddle placed fairly well forward, the thrust is chiefly downward the increased intra-abdominal pressure is lacking, the leg work is very different from that on the sewing machine, and all the objectionable features are eliminated except the liability to excessive indulgence."

Gossip.

Gossip is a product of a low order of humanity. Both sexes seem to be given to this idle practice when once the scandalous habit is formed. But it seems that women, by their untiring efforts far outstrip the men in the amount of gossip produced. It may be that man has sunk to such a depth he has not enough ambition left to seek far to find willing ears to receive his vile tales. But woman, the very occupation gives her increased activity.

It is not to be thought that all women are given to the gossip's habit. Far from it. Many are too pure, too high minded to concern themselves about such a low calling.

The gossiping class is as thirsty as desert sands to receive some tale, some suspicion, anything to carry to some victim of her artifice.

It is part of the gossip's skill to include some well meaning persons and then leave them in their embarrassment to free themselves.

The actions of such persons would not be of much consequence if they would confine their abuse to those of their own level. Their field of operation is almost limitless. The object of their idle talk may be a young lady pure and modest. They wait not for facts. The least suspicion may set their busy tongues going and they will cast about their victim a gloom that will obscure for a time the bright horizon of her hopes and crush her to regard life as a desert waste.

They may cross the threshold of a peaceful home; the one green spot on earth for two souls and change its very happiness to despair.

Whatever their doings the result is evil. They do not calculate that that should remain locked in human breasts for purposes of good, but to bring others to their low position.

But we have always had them and cannot hope to be without them. They will perhaps carry the satanic majesty's messages even when he shall be chained one thousand years.

Making Money.

It requires a peculiar kind of mechanism in a man to cause him to accumulate or save money. It is largely a question of taking in 15 cents and saving 10 of it. If you have an income and keep part of it, you will soon be rich. A slot machine for example: It takes in more than it pays out. Lots of fellows think they can beat a slot machine, but they can't. You feed it a dollar in nickels and it may or may not cough up a quarter or even a half dollar. Young man, behold the slot machine. Take everything that comes to you and cough up but mighty little, and you will be rich. There are always plenty of suckers who will furnish the nickels. The thing for you to do is to be the slot machine—let the other fellow be the sucker.

Old Soldier's Experience.

M. M. Austin, a civil war veteran, of Winchester, Ind., writes: "My wife was sick a long time in spite of good doctor's treatment, but was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Life Pills, which worked wonders for her health." They always do. Try them. Only 25 cents at G. S. Darling's and J. E. Dillon's.

Circuit Judge Nelson Sharpe, of West Branch has consented to become a candidate for the republican congressional nomination.

A young lady has secured transportation on a Government ship to Manila to marry her intended. Is this the beginning of an export trade in girls?

Hanna and Hill have now declared that they are not candidates and even Bryan seems to be hesitating. Who in the world shall we find to run in 1904?

Almost every county in the Tenth congressional district has from one to a dozen candidates for the congressional nomination. There will not be so many by the time the conventions meet.

The Rothschilds are said to have bluffed J. P. Morgan down on the Northern Pacific matter. If so it might be wise for them to look out. J. P. isn't the man to forget a little thing like that.

Will somebody please explain how it was possible in less than a month to send a postoffice thief in Porto Rico to jail for 32 years for stealing $2,000 while neither Niely nor Rathbone has yet been brought to trial.

How much longer have the people of Michigan got to endure the farce now going on at Lansing, under the name of the state legislature? Of all the incapable and useless legislatures ever inflicted on this state, the present one is the worst.

J. Pierpoint Morgan is reported to threaten that if the big operators do not stop making trouble he will come home and straighten things out. It does seem as if it were impossible for the big city to behave itself with both Morgan and Croker absent at the same time.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The Alpena Echo mentions Hon. C. R. Henry, of that city, as a possible candidate for the democratic congressional nomination. Mr. Henry has a host of friends in this county who would be pleased to give him their support. There is no man mentioned on either side who would make a better congressman.

Whenever anybody says anything that strikes a popular chord, some one is sure to pop up and declare that he said it first. Probably he did, and probably a thousand others said it before him. Anything that catches the hearts of the people must be measurably familiar to them. Brand new things do not catch on.

Most of the stocks whose manipulation at the whim of grasping capitalists has wrought such havoc are based upon franchises granted by public authority. The Northern Pacific is notably such a property. It is a road that was built by the direct aid of the United States, extended not only through a franchise, but through a colossal grant of public land. There would have been no corner in it if the nation had adopted the policy: Public ownership of public franchises.—New York Journal.

There is a reason to believe that the movement of population from the country to the city is subsiding and that farming is becoming more popular. It ought to. Farming properly followed is as sure and good a business as any other. It may be a slow process of acquiring a competence, but it is the most certain and the most independent one. With industry and economy a comfortable living can be made by cultivating the soil, with less labor and less risk than any other honest method known.

No changes were made in the congressional districts under the bill passed by the house last Tuesday. The Iosco representative district is composed of Alcona, Iosco and Ogemaw, Roscommon having been taken from this district. The 28th senatorial district is composed of the counties of Alcona, Arenac, Iosco, Ogemaw, Oscoda, Galdwin, Clare, Roscommon, Crawford and Missaukee. This is the same as at present with Arenac county added.

The weather crop bulletin issued by the United States department at Lansing Tuesday says that ample opportunity and very beneficial showers have occurred in nearly all counties of the state; their effect on all vegetation has been wonderful. Wheat, rye, meadows and pastures have generally been greatly improved. Oats have germinated rapidly and are now in promising condition; barley and peas are above ground and look healthy. Pasturage is quite generally furnishing fodder and early potato seeding is germinating nicely. Winter wheat, although uneven, has made its best growth of the season during the past week. The frequent showers have, however, delayed field work; corn planting is advancing slowly and sugar beet seeding, in some counties, was almost stopped. Plowing for corn, beans and late potatoes has made fair progress. All fruit prospects continue generally good.

The Railroad Tax Bill.

The compromise measure for taxing railroads agreed upon at Lansing does little credit to the legislature which will pass it and may involve a certain amount of loss of money which might properly be obtained from the companies, but inasmuch as the principles of ad valorem taxation and of assessment by the general state board are established we may be thankful for so much.

The increase of the state board from three to five, along with the expiration of the term of one of the present board, will put the nomination of a majority into the hands of Gov. Bliss, who may be expected to appoint members who will give the railroads all that can be possibly accorded them, but this is after all a passing matter.

The exclusion of telegraph, telephone and sleeping-car companies is another matter which can be remedied later.

The most encouraging feature of the matter is the demonstration that the railroads cannot do everything. They may be able, with a spineless legislature, to modify bills opposed to their interests, but, where the people are fairly aroused, they cannot prevent them. Corporations are powerful but not all powerful.—Today.

Not A Death from Smallpox in April.

The monthly bulletin of vital statistics, issued by the secretary of state Monday, shows that notwithstanding the large number of cases of smallpox in Michigan not one death occurred during the month. There were 2,999 deaths reported, equivalent to a death rate of 15.3 per thousand population. This number is 489 less than the number reported for the preceding month, and 47 less than the number reported in April last year. There were 497 deaths of infants under one year of age. 175 deaths of children aged 1 to 4 years inclusive, and 884 deaths of persons aged 65 years and over. Important causes of death were as follows: Pulmonary tuberculosis, 207; other forms of tuberculosis, 34; typhoid fever, 32; diphtheria and croup, 42; scarlet fever, 17; measles, 5; whooping cough, 15; pneumonia, 361; influenza, 142; cancer, 101; accidents and violence, 132. The principle decline during the month was shown in the death rate from pneumonia and influenza, which were considerably less than those reported for March. Scarlet fever and typhoid fever showed a slight decrease.

His Bumps.

They were newly married and were calling upon one of the friends of the bride who had been particularly pleasant upon the occasion of their wedding. The bridegroom, apropos of nothing, began to talk about phrenology and told how his wife had discovered two very prominent bumps on the back of his head. He was proud of them; so was she, and she passed him around the host and hostess might feel the bumps and know their existence. Then she explained: "My book on phrenology says that they mean good memory and generosity." It was evident that she was proud of the facts and so was he. But the host being of an inquiring turn of mind, wished to satisfy himself; so he got down a phrenological work from one of his library shelves and after much labor found the bumps on the chart. Turning to the notes he read seriously at first, then unsteadily. The bride became suspicious, but she was game and said: "Read it out loud please do!" and the host read: "These bumps are most frequently found on cats and monkeys."

Other topics consumed the remainder of the visit which was brief.—New York Evening Sun.

Your committee has found it has been necessary to paint a large portion of the work two coats where the committee thought one coat would be sufficient. The Michigan City News truthfully says, "If there is no public spirit in a community, if every man is looking out for his own selfish interests, the conditions will be such as to benefit nobody. If the leading citizens are broad minded, are alive to the public interests and are active in trying to improve the facilities and advance the welfare of their city, the spirit of life will enter in the arteries of every line of business, the best there is in the place will be brought to the front, and every resident will be proud of his home city. A few men can arouse this spirit in any town by an organized effort. Every good citizen should have a hand on the rope."

For Buffalo Exposition.

It is probable that the Thomson steamboat line will run the new steamer City of Holland, which it bought from the Holland and Chicago line last winter, between Detroit Buffalo during the months of July and August for the benefit of the Pan-American visitors of this city.

The plan is to have the City of Holland make weekly trips out of Detroit, leaving here Sunday and stopping at Buffalo five days, returning here the following Saturday night. Passengers are to stay aboard the boat during the visit to the exposition, and there are stateroom accommodations for 42.

For the round trip, including meals and berth, it is proposed to charge $20.

The City of Holland is now being painted at St. Clair. In the fall she will be placed on the Detroit and Lake Huron north shore run, with the Pilgrim and Douglas.—Evening News.

Cement Walks.

The committee in charge of repairs on the county buildings have decided to replace the old plank walks in front of the court house with Portland cement. C. H. Prescott & Sons will also put in some cement walk around their store. For this purpose a car load of cement has been ordered from the Alpena cement factory and experts will come here and put in the walk.

This is a step in the right direction, and if the city council will now pass an ordinance, as has been done by many cities and villages in the state, whereby the city will pay one half or one third the expense of all cement walks laid, it will be but a few years when our old, delapidated plank walks will be a thing of the past.

A cement walk is estimated to cost about double what a plank walk does, and will wear four or five times as long. It can easily be figured wherein it is economy to use cement. The city can well afford to share the expense, as the saving in repairs, etc. will easily equal the expense.

A cement walk along Lake street would make a vast improvement in the appearance of our city and would be appreciated as much as any one thing that could be done.

On A Serious Charge.

Sheriff Johnson went to Bay City on Friday last and arrested John Glaza, of that city, on the charge of attempting to wreck a D. & M. train some weeks ago. The facts in the case are as near as we have been able to ascertain are these: About May 1 the morning passenger ran into some ties which had been placed on the track between East Tawas and Maxwell station. Fortunately they were discovered in time to prevent a serious wreck. Investigations pointed toward a certain man who had applied for a job on the section the day before and by following up the clue Glaza was arrested on the charge. He was arraigned before Justice Tate, of East Tawas, and waived examination and was bound over to the next term of circuit court, and is now in the county jail.

We understand he admits his guilt and says he wanted to see some fun. He is liable to see some before he is done with it. He is 29 years of age.

Forgetful Mammias.

Of course, everybody knows that the dearest thing on earth to a mamma is her little cooing infant—except where the poodle dog craze is strenuous—and yet a mamma will take that same "little cooing infant" and do some strange things with it. Take the case at Flushing last week, for instance, where, notwithstanding the grade and the wind and the gutter and the teams, a mother left her offspring in an unbraked carriage and stepped inside a store. Then along came a gust of wind. The cab rushed to the edge of the walk, toppled over, spilled out the baby and went into the gutter under the feet of a team, which at once began to dance an "eight step." The baby buggy was presently a wreck, but by the mercy of divinity the baby was fat enough to roll under the carriage and escape the death dealing hoofs. A Trenton lady left her future hope in a cab in the front yard and returned to the house a moment. Coming out, "precious" had absconded with the cab, and search revealed baby and buggy in the shallow water of the river, some distance away. Was the brake put on? "C my, no!" Bless mamma's fluttering heart, she forgot all about it.—Tribune.

"Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. I quickly secured a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure, giving her three doses. The croup was matedered and our little darling speedily recovered." So writes A. L. Spafford, Chester, Mich, Dr. G. S. Darling.

He Is A Wonder.

All who see Mr. C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Iowa, as he is now, cheerful, erect, vigorous, without an ache, could hardly believe he is the same man, who, a short time ago, had to sit in a chair, propped up by cushions, suffering intensely from an aching back in agony if he tried to stoop all caused by chronic kidney trouble that no medicine helped till he used Electric Bitters and was wholly cured by three bottles. Positively cures Backache, nervousness, loss of appetite, all Kidney troubles. Only 50 cents at Dr. G. S. Darling and J. E. Dillon.

Memorial Day.

Arrangements for the proper observance of memorial Day are being completed by the local G. A. R. and citizens. The memorial Sunday services, will be held at the Baptist church in this city, Sunday May 26, Rev. D. Q. Barry, delivering the address. These services will be attended by the members of the G. A. R. and kindred societies of both cities.

The services on May 30, will be conducted separately by each city. The arrangements for Tawas City will be participated by the G. A. R., K. O. T. M. and citizens generally. The line of march will be formed in front of the court house at 9 o'clock a. m. and will march to the school house, when it will be joined by the school children, thence to the cemetery where the exercises of the day will be held.

The program at the cemetery will consist of the G. A. R. and K. O. T. M. memorial services, addresses and exercises by the school children.

Mayor Hartingh has issued the following:

The Common Council of Tawas City, at its last meeting, acting upon the suggestion of the G. A. R. passed an informal resolution that the Mayor suggest to the citizens of Tawas City, and the city schools and such societies and lodges as may wish to participate, the propriety of engaging with the G. A. R. veterans in such exercises upon decoration day, May 30, as will be appropriate and commemorative of the occasion; accordingly.

Notice and mention of the same is therefore hereby made, with the suggestion that all who can conveniently so arrange their business and duties, may kindly assist in making the exercises entertaining, enjoyable and instructive.

If people only knew what we know about Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, it would be used in nearly every household, as there are few people who do not suffer from a feeling of fullness after eating, belching, flatulence, sour stomach or water brash, caused by indigestion or dyspepsia. A preparation such as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which, with no aid from the stomach, will digest your food, certainly can't help but do you good. Dr. G. S. Darling.

American Iron Easy to Work.

The deposits of iron ore in the eastern states, which have been utilized from pre-revolutionary times, gave the country no special opportunity of competing with other nations, but the opening of the splendid ore beds in upper Michigan gave American iron and steel industries a wonderful stimulus. Finally still richer stores were discovered up in Minnesota on the north side of Lake Superior. These lie on the surface of the ground and can be mined with a steam shovel. Something like nine-tenths of the iron produced in the United States just now comes from Lake Superior and nearly half of it from the Vermillion and Mesaba ranges. England's mines are slowly becoming exhausted, and her iron is so deep in the earth that the operation of mining it is much more costly than that of getting out the Minnesota ore. Moreover, she is obliged to import ore from Spain and elsewhere to meet her requirements.—New York Tribune.

A Novel Alarm Clock.

Many persons to whom the bedroom candle is still a familiar article of use must have noticed how apt the flickering of a candle at the point of extinction is to awaken a light sleeper. Acting upon the same principle is an alarm clock that has been suggested, consisting of a small electric lamp occluded rhythmically by a sectoral shutter, constituting the balance wheel of an ordinary alarm clock. This lamp, automatically switched on at the predetermined hour, is focused on the head of the bed, and thus it silently, but (so the inventor declares) none the less surely, awakens the sleeper.—London Optician.

A Great Country Is Australia.

Two-thirds of the Australian continent is a desert, and yet her productivity is enormous. This land contains over 100,000,000 sheep, between 20,000,000 and 35,000,000 head of cattle and horses. It has given to the commerce of the world over 400,000,000 lb in gold, copper, coal and tin. The two provinces of Ballarat and Bendigo alone have produced 100,000,000 of gold, and as much more have come from the great Lamberooora and Laming flat in New South Wales. It sends to England annually over 40,000,000 worth of metals, grains, wool, beef, tallow, hides and mutton.—Ainslee's Magazine.

Meat and Heat.

It has been generally supposed that much meat in warm climates is not a good thing, but one of the ablest army surgeons now declares that under the hot sun the carbon in a white man's blood is speedily oxidized and burned up by the sun, and a great deal of meat must be eaten to supply the waste.

Mandy's New York Trip.

Miss Mandy was the keepest housekeeper high or low!
Warn't no one in the country could make a dollar go
As fur as she could make it in purchash of things
She pulled the eagle's feathers an spread the eagle's wings!
The keepest housekeeper—the grocery man all round!
They shook to see her comin like a earthquake
They couldn't get ahead of her; her motto was, all times,
"The dimes they make the dollars, an the dollars make the dimes!"

Well, she'd never been out Billville since, the town was corporate
Till some of them swell friends of hers took her to New York state—
To the very city of it—the biggest, best hotel,
Whar each minute meant more money than arithmetic could tell!

The waiters thronged aroun' her, all draped up fit to kill,
An ever' time she went to eat she asked 'em,
"What's the bill?"
An, lookin at the bill of fare, she only shook her head,
An to the great surprise of all she hollered out,
"Corn bread!"

It all wuz jest too much fer her; to see a waiter smile
Up thar meant just two dollars, which at home would go a mile!
An so she couldn't stan' it; she left that New York shore
An she's now at home in Billville to economize some more!

THE FARM CORNER.

Newsy Items Gathered From Many Sources.

TENT CATERPILLARS.

The eggs of the forest and apple tree tent caterpillars have begun to hatch, and the little pests have already commenced feeding on the unfolding leaves. This is the time to fight them in localities wherever they are numerous, because they yield much more readily to poison when small, and they do not eat so much foliage before obtaining enough poison to kill them. Spray the unfolding leaves thoroughly with either Paris green, London purple, arsenate of lead or arsenite of lime. The two former can be used at the rate of one pound to 100 gallons of water, provided a pound of freshly slacked lime is added to prevent burning of the foliage. The arsenate of lead, in the prepared paste form, is very effective and can be applied in almost unlimited amounts without danger of burning the tender leaves. It will also adhere to the foliage most persistently, and in the event of frequent showers, it is the most satisfactory preparation to use. Promptness and thoroughness in this matter are the keynotes to success. The eggs of the forest tent caterpillar may not all hatch for some weeks, and it may be necessary to spray at least once more before the leaves are fully developed, in order to catch those hatching late. It is impossible at this time to make a general prediction regarding the abundance of the forest tent caterpillar this season. We hope that as rule, considering the whole state, it will be much less abundant than it was last year, but it is probably present in some localities in sufficient numbers to inflict considerable damage unless checked promptly. It is time for every fruit grower to be very watchful, if he would protect his interests. —E. P. Felt, N. Y. State Entomologist.

GROWING AND MARKETING POTATOES.

I suppose every farmer knows how to grow potatoes successfully so far as fair crops are concerned, but there certainly is a lack of knowledge, or at least want of care to meet and supply the requirements of the potato market. From several years observation I know the farmers suffer serious loss in the price and quantity they might sell if their product was up to the standard the market demands. The market demands white stock. You may have good red varieties; don't plant them; they are not wanted and will not bring as much. Above all don't mix red and white together. One thing more: carefully sort to good size. Keep the small and scabby potatoes and feed them. They are worth about 15 cents to you. If you try to sell them with the good stock they will cost you from five to ten cents per bushel depreciation on the whole lot. To illustrate. B sells 50 bushels poorly sorted potatoes for 20 cent per bushel, receives $10. Out of another load of 50 bushels he sorts 5 bushels, sells 45 bushels at 25 cents, which amounts to $11.25. Value of 5 bushels at 15 cents, 75 cents. Total value of second load, $12, or a difference of $1 in 100 bushels, or from $8 to $10 per acre, with the further advantage of ready sale and a pleased buyer. I have reason to believe that when farmers generally supply the color and quality of potatoes as I have explained, there will be at Standish a good market and good prices. There is no money for the merchant in poor stock, and if farmers will not produce what is wanted there will be little or no shipping from this point. Farmers cannot afford to be careless or indifferent to this matter. Act at once. Secure white seed and be ready next fall to furnish just what the buyers want—good white stock.—G. S. Kùmer in Arena Independent.

KEEP THE CHURN SWEET.

If one wants pure sweet butter it can never be made in a churn the least bit sour. The sooner the milk and butter are removed from the churn, the less trouble it will be to clean. Cold water should be used first to wash off the milk adhering to the sides, and then scalding water must be freely used and in such a way that it will reach all the cracks and crevices, for it is these that hold the milk and make breeding places for the microbes unless they are thoroughly cleaned. The churn will never become sour if plenty of scalding water and perfectly clean cloths are used after each churning. The dish cloth should never be used for washing the churn, as it is not sufficiently clean, and it is easy to keep cloths specially for cleaning dairy utensils. They need plenty of sunshine and hot water to keep them clean and sweet, and what is still more important, to keep them free from disease germs.

Wash the dairy cloths frequently, first in cold water, then put them in a good suds, set on the stove and let them boil twenty minutes or longer. Then rinse and hang in the sunshine until perfectly dry. It takes only a little time and one is well repaid for the trouble, for the cloths and towels will always be sweet and clean, and if washed in this way they may be kept white until entirely worn out.

DAIRY NOTES.

Keep the calves growing. They will need a little extra care now, but the return next year will more than make up for all the grain and grooming you give them.

One man says he puts his cows in the stable nights the first of October. Another the middle of that month. The really sensible man does not consult the almanac when considering this matter; he rather looks at the thermometer.

Whenever the nights begin to get cold, it is time to shelter the cows. Stretch a stout wire across your stable at right angles to the stalls. Put a ring on it first, however. Fasten a harness clasp to the ring. Hang your lantern on the clasp. Run the ring lantern and all wherever you happen to be working. Of course, make the wire high enough to be out of the way of stock and your head. No kicking the light over, nor setting the barn on fire this way.

Much as has been said about keeping cows out of cold and storms in the fall, we frequently see herds wandering about in the wind and rain, struggling to get a bit of grass, or lying on the ground when everything is covered with frost. The cow is endowed with common sense. She knows if she does not keep herself warm under such circumstances, no one will help her and she takes every day a certain amount of all she is given to eat and applies it toward maintaining the heat of her body. If anything is left for the farmer, well and good. If not, the cow is blamed, and she ought not to be; she is simply working out her own plans of self-preservation.

BEWARE OF WET FOOD.

It is a mistake to suppose, because the chicken is small, that it needs to be fed mainly soft food. No other one thing causes so many deaths among young chicks as wet corn meal, left where they can run into it, trampling the food with their dirty feet, and then leaving a large part of it to ferment, which it is sure to do in the warm sunshine. The food for the chicks should be as nearly dry as it can be, to feed conveniently, and corn meal, should never be given to small chicks except as it is mixed in a dry crumbly state. A very good feed for little chicks is corn meal, bran and ground oats, equal parts. For this purpose, the oat meal should be sifted, so as to remove all coarse matter, then mix and bake hard like a Johnny cake. To get this bread in good shape to feed, it should be run through a mill and ground fine. But I believe in giving dry grains from the start pin head oat meal, millet, finely cracked corn and wheat. Some fine grit and charcoal should be placed where they can get at it. Whole corn should not be given to chickens until they are quite large; the kernels are too large for them to digest well, and its heating nature makes it likely to ferment in their gizzards, as corn meal will do, if eaten freely. Wheat is an excellent feed for chickens after they are eight or ten weeks old. —Poultry Monthly.

Beware Of A Cough.

A cough is not a disease but a symptom. Consumption and bronchitis which are the most dangerous and fatal diseases, have for their first indication a persistent cough, and if properly treated as soon as this cough appears are easily cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven wonderfully successful, and gained its wide reputation and extensive sale by its success in curing the diseases which causes coughing. If it is not beneficial it will not cost you a cent. For sale by G. S. Darling, druggist.

Darling, druggist.

"It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "Lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me; 'I really believe that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so over come with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." Sold by G. S. Darling druggist.

Before Treatment. After Treatment.
"At the age of 15 I commenced to ruin my health. Later on as "ONE OF THE BOYS," I contracted a serious blood disease—SYPHILIS. I was weak and nervous, despondent, pimples, sunken eyes, bone pains, ulcers, hair loss, sore tongue and mouth, drains in urine, varicocel—I was a wreck. I was in the last stage when a friend recommended Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. A dozen other doctors had failed in curing me. Drs. K. & K. cured me in a few weeks by the New Method Treatment. I would warn similar diseased men to beware of Medical Frauds. Drs. K. & K. are reliable, honest and skilful physicians."
