The Office Sought the Man.

GEO. D. JACKSON FOR CONGRESS.

It is not often that an office, or the nomination for office, goes about seeking the man, and after having once found him and been rebuffed renews the chase with the firm intention of securing him. From Congressman down to Alderman there is usually some one willing and anxious to accept the nomination even if the hopes of election are smothered by overwhelming majorities of the opposition. —Bay City Times Press. Aug. 27, 1901.

Geo. D. Jackson, candidate for Congress in the 10th congressional district, was born at Algonac, Mich. in Dec. 1862 and came to Bay City in 1877 to enter the employ of his uncle the late G. K. Jackson, for years prominent in the lumber business in the Valley. Mr. Jackson was noted for perseverance and devotion to business, and in 1886 started in for himself as an inspector and shipper of lumber. He is a successful business man, but not a politician.

The readers of the HERALD now have an opportunity to vote for a clean, able, active representative for Congress.

Successful Attorney.

The following brief biographical sketch of H. M. Elliott, a former resident of this county, who has achieved success in his own chosen profession, is from the Marion, Ind., Leader:

Herbert Marion Elliott was born in Rose township, Oakland county, Michigan, September 15, 1863. He received his education in the common schools and schools of Holly and Ann Arbor, Michigan, and was admitted to the bar at St. Johns, Michigan, in 1884. Mr. Elliott began the practice of law in the towns of AuSable and Oscoda, that state, which were in the big lumber districts of Michigan. His beginning was of the humble kind, and his assets consisted of ability, determination and a wife and two children. At the time of beginning the practice in this district, Mr. Elliott had never appeared in court. Soon after his removal he was appointed prosecuting attorney to fill an unexpired term and at the following election was elected to that important office for a term of two years. He was also court commissioner for Iosco county, secretary of the board of education and assessor for the city of AuSable. In 1891, Mr. Elliott moved to Detroit where he practiced law for a year and a half, retaining his practice in AuSable. In 1892 he again returned to AuSable from which place he removed to Marion in 1893, where he has since resided, engaged in the practice of law and dealing in real estate and farm loans.

ESTRAY STEER.

There came into my enclosure in Tawas township, about Aug. 1st, a red and white spotted steer, past one year old. Owner can have same by proving property and paying expenses.

F. C. CHAMBERS,
Vine, P. O. Mich.

In cases of cough or croup give the little one One Minute Cough Cure. Then rest easy and have no fear. The child will be all right in a little while. It never fails. Pleasant to take, always safe sure and almost instantaneous in effect. Dr. C. A. Wakeman.

SEPT. 25-26-27

Are the Dates for the 27th Annual Fair.

Every effort is being put forth by the officers to make the 27th annual fair of Iosco County Agricultural Society a success, and every person interested in the advancement of our county should lend their aid to the officers in accomplishing this end.

The most encouraging reports are being received from all parts of the county as to exhibits and the prospects are that this year will see more stock, more vegetables and more grain, and in fact more exhibits in all departments than has ever heretofore been shown.

The balloon ascensions and races, with other special attractions which, are being arranged for, will give a three days exhibition well worth seeing.

Let every farmer bring the best that they have, of at least one article and a showing will be made which will be a credit to the county, and place our society where it belongs. Do your part and you will never regret it.

The races promise to be of more than usual interest, as many local horses are being fitted to take part in them, and some good races may be looked for.

Remember, that your officers cannot make a fair. They must have the support of all. The preparations are most complete, with liberal premiums, and it the exhibitors do their share a successful fair will be the result.

Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Holloway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by Dr. G. S. Darling.

The Game Laws Now in Force.

The day of the duck and quail is close at hand. Recent monkeying with the game laws by the legislature doubtless leaves many hunters in the air as to the provisions now in force.

The rail is considered a game bird and protected by the laws of the state. The open season, under the new law, extending from Oct. 1 to Nov. 30. The rail is classed under the water fowl, the same as ducks, plover, snipe, etc. As to the open season with respect to quail and partridge, section 10 of the new law, covering these birds is, in the opinion of the attorney general, unconstitutional, and the old law is revived, making the open season the same as last year, viz: from Oct. 20 to Nov. 30, inclusive.

Eruptions, cuts, burns, scalds and sores of all kinds quickly healed by DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Certain cure for piles. Beware of Counterfeits. Be sure you get the original DeWitt's. Dr. C. A. Wakeman.

Demand For Horses.

The excessive drain upon the supply of horses for military purposes in the last few years has practically depleted this country's number of good horses, and there exists today an actual shortage which cannot be made good for several years. The demand has been chiefly for heavy horses, those suitable for cavalry and for dragging heavy provision trains.

OUT OF DANGER.

The latest news from the bedside of President McKinley is to the effect that he is now entirely out of danger, and will be able to return to his duties at Washington within a few weeks at most.

This will be hailed with joy by the people of the country, and if some way could now be found whereby the red-handed anarchist who attempted his life could be dealt with as deserved much more satisfaction would be felt.

Why not begin by drawing the immigration laws a little tighter. Too many budding anarchists are getting in nowadays.

Constitution has been playing in hard luck ever since the Spanish war both in the halls of Congress and on the waters of the deep blue sea.

A European scientist says that babies are great conveyers of germs. The first thing we know, the doctors will be telling us to boil our babies.

The shooting of President McKinley has resulted in bringing to public notice more hair-brained fools than it was generally supposed were in existence, and they do not all come under the head of anarchists, either.

If the daily papers of Detroit continue their present disgusting bickering at each other, they should be boycotted. Everyone of them are giving the most rotten examples of "yellow journalism."

The worse punishment that Czolgosz can get is ten years imprisonment on a charge of assault with intent to kill. But why cannot Emma Goldman be punished on a charge of inciting to murder. She is the real criminal.

The people of the tenth congressional district never had a better opportunity of giving "ring rule" a "dubbing" than by electing George D. Jackson to congress, and at the same time have a representative who will look to the interests of the whole district.

Anarchy is undoubtedly extending all over the world, and, in this country, at least efforts to stamp it out have not been proportional with its extension. It is to be hoped that the recent terrible act will act as a stimulus to the exclusion of these wild beasts.

A Chicago man claims to have invented a perpetual light. It is a simple glass globe containing a combination of chemicals, which sheds forth a brilliant white light. The inventor declines to give further information as to their identity until the patent office has pressed on his application for a patent.

It is estimated that the semi-annual apportionment of primary school money to be made Nov. 10, will distribute about $1,350,000 among the counties of the state, the rate being about $1.90 per child of school age. This will be the largest sum ever distributed, the largest previous rate being $1.65 per capita, in November, 1900.

Working Day and Night.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. These pills change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fog into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by Dr. G. S. Darling and Jas. E. Dillon.

A Determined Stand.

The common people want a plain candid man to represent them in congress. This is not a test of political strength between political parties, it is a contest between two men for a position. The gentlemen selected for the place are well and favorably known in their respective lines of business. Mr. Aplin, the republican candidate, is recognized far and near as one of the ablest men in the Tenth congressional district in his line of business. What is his line of business? Holding political jobs for the past 30 years, and manipulating caucuses and conventions. During all that time no political job that required slick management was undertaken with out his assistance. The Tribune of this city on Wednesday last, in giving several reasons why Mr. Aplin should be elected, referred to the successful manner he has managed the campaigns of ex-Congressman Crump, and the increased majority year after year. This may be good arguments for a hide bound political machine newspaper to talk, they are paid for every line they print.

What does the honest, industrious business man, or laboring man care for this kind of trash, they have another view of the situation. They want a man in congress that knows something about the general business of the district. A man whose experience and training has been in the various business of the people. Mr. Jackson, the Democratic nominee, is an ideal candidate, represents the best interests of all the people and has a thorough knowledge of the wants of the people. He is not a politician and belongs to no click or ring. Pure and simple, a successful self-made business man. A man of the people, and the choice of all the people.—Bay City Democrat.

A McKinley Story.

Ex-Congressman Seth W. Brown, of Ohio, tells the following story of President McKinley:

"Shortly after I had been defeated for the nomination for my third term as congressman I paid a visit to the White House. I was cordially received by the president, and after duly expressing his sympathy over my defeat, he said with a smile: 'Did I ever tell you my experience in running for a third term in congress?'"

"On my reply in the negative he continued:

"The first time I run for the office my opponent was seeking his third term. I went around among my constituents, saying he had held the office long enough and some one else should have a chance. I told them that no man ought to hold the office the third time unless he was a Garfield or Blaine in statesmanship, and, of course, I was of the opinion that my opponent did not possess these qualifications. I was elected, and in the same course of time I wanted the office for the third term. I canvassed the same old constituents, giving many and various good reasons why I should be re-elected. One day I met a shrewd old fellow, who said with a twinkle in his eye: 'Bill, do you remember what you said when you was a candidate the first time? You told us you thought a man oughtn't to have the office the third time unless he was a Garfield or Blaine. Well, we've figured it out that you ain't either, so we guess we'll have to hold you to your original argument.'"

Stood Death Orf.

E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta, Texas, once fooled a gravedigger. He says: "My brother was very low with malarial fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to use Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued their use until wholly cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life." This remedy expels malaria, kills disease, germs and purifies the blood; aids digestion, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, cures constipation, dyspepsia, nervous diseases, kidney troubles, female complaints; gives perfect health. Only 50c at Dr. G. S. Darling's and Jas. E. Dillon's drug store.

Wonderful Accomplishment.

In the matter of newspapers, the first impulse is, of course, to provide yourself with the local journal, which presents in detail the important happenings in your immediate vicinity, the doing of your friends and neighbors and keeps watch for you over your city or county government. but in these days of rapid transit and electrical communication, the community is no longer a unit in itself. Even the farmer, with his free rural delivery, is beginning to feel himself a part of the whole, and to recognize the necessity for keeping in touch with the world and its doings. This can be effectively realized only by taking a metropolitan daily, and fortunately, the developments of modern journalism have made it possible to do this at so slight an expense that it will hardly be noticed. When you can get The Detroit Evening News for 6 cents a week, you have no excuse for not knowing the latest international, national and state affairs. Its enterprise and activity have laid all the nations of the globe and the islands of the sea under tribute for the information they can furnish, and the news in every department of human endeavor from empire building to berry picking flows into its columns for the benefit of its continually increasing and always satisfied army of readers. It spends money not only to get the news but to have it written and edited in the brightest, freshest and crispest fashion possible, and to provide such intelligent comment and explanation as double and treble its value. If you see it in The News, it's new, and it isn't colored by prejudice, partnership or private interest.

A Shocking Calamity

"Lately befell a railroad laborer," writes Dr. A. Kellett, of Williford, Ark. "His foot was badly crushed, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly cured him. It's simply wonderful for burns, boils, piles and skin eruptions. It's the world's champion healer. Cure guaranteed. 25c. Sold Dr. G. S. Darling's and Jas. E. Dillon's."

"Ole Olson."

Ben Hendricks, the popular actor and comedian, is again presenting the best of Swedish dialect plays "Ole Olson" and with the same results that have attended his previous starring tours in this play a succession of crowded houses that is seldom broken; giving tribute to his well directed efforts in the star part and to the excellence of his supporting company. Mr. Hendricks and "Ole" with all its fun, pathos, musical features, dancing and other specialties, will be at the East Tawas opera house Saturday, Sept. 14th, and will doubtless attract that large class of amusement lovers that gets enjoyment from a wholesome comedy naturally presented. The Swedish Ladies' Quartette is a factor in the entertainment and the singing of this organization of attractive lasses is always an appreciated feature. Prices 25-35 50 cents.

If the action of your bowels is not easy and regular serious complications must be the final result. DeWitt's Little Early Risers will remove this danger safe, pleasant and effective. Dr. C. A. Wakeman.

HAIRY VETCH.

A Forage Plant Now In the Foreground For Fall Sowing.

Hairy vetch is so much in the agricultural foreground just now that the accompanying sketch may not come amiss to those who have not seen the plant. It is a perennial or biennial from western Asia and has given such fine promise in various parts of the United States as to elicit much approval. The seed is generally sown in drills, with some kind of grain to hold it upright.

It is recommended to sow in fall—August to middle of September—for winter and spring forage. If sown with rye and successfully grown, it will give excellent feed at a time when there is usually a shortage. Wheat and vetch also furnish good green fodder in spring.
