Good Roads.

Those who have occason to travel the country roads at this time may observe the effect of the annual farce of "werking on the road" by those who, from some cause, did not do the work when it should have been done. In many instances clay, road wash, or even sod are unevenly dumped upon the travelled road-bed, to be packed by the first rain and then frozen into a roughness that cannot be fully appreciated until one rides over it. No material so totally unfit for roadmaking should be placed in the roadway at this time of year, and I believe the law should be so amended as to prohibit the placing of any thing excepting gravel or equivalent material upon the traveled road bed of any highway after the time when the same may not now be lawfully plowed up. It is also much to be regretted that the farmers do not take a greater interest in making good roads. No class could be so much benefitted thereby as they. The present manner of working out the is also a much less burden than paying it in money would be. Therefore from many considerations, the work under the existing law should be properly and faithfully performed in each and every road district.

The fallacy held by some that they 'warned out' is entirely wrong; the and thankful that we have assisted in we are you see, old man!" some degree toward making it a more desirable place in which to live. - Ex.

Try It Just for Fun.

Take an ordinary glass tumbler, a quarter, and a piece of thread. Tie the thread around the quarter crossways, hold the thread firmly between distress. C. A. Wakeman, the thumb and forefinger of the right hand, resting the elbow on the table. Let the end of the thread, with the quarter attatched, hang just inside the giass and keep the hand pertectly still. In a moment or two the quarter will be seen to move backwards in 1897, and 66 in 1896. and forwards, and will presently touch the sides of the glass. Listen intently to it. The coin will tell the time exactly to the nearest hour. For example, if it is 25 minutes to o'clock, it will strike the glass seven imes. The coin never fail to tell the torrect hour, whatever it may be .-

A Smallpox Cure.

A correspondent to the Liverpool Mercury says: "I am willing to risk my reputation as a public man if the worst case of smallpox cannot be effectually cured in three days simply by cream of tarter. This is the sure and never failing remedy. One onnce of cream of tarter dissolved in a pint of boiling water to be drank when cold at short intervals. It is known to have cured in thousands of cases without failure. It never leaves a mark, never causes blindness, and always prevents tedious lingering.

Sayed his Lite.

"I feel I owe my life to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure," writes H. C. Chestenson, Hayfield, Min. "For three years I had dyspepsia so had that I could hold nothing on my stomach. Finally I was confined to my bed. Doctors said I could not live. I read your advertisement. of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and thought it fit my case and commenced its use. I began to improve from the first bottle. Now I am cured and recommend it to all." C. A. Wakeman.

This Immortal Weed Seed.

It has been proven by Prof. Beal of the State Agricultural college that various kinds of crop seeds may are not liable for road work unless be preserved indefinitely by burying them deeply in the ground. Lives Lost on Lakes.

The total number of lives lost on the greats lakes during the season of 1901 was 132, as compared with 110 last year; 100 in 1899; 95 in 1898; 68

Despite the improvement of lake ships and the life saving service the number of lives lost this season is just twice as large as that in 1896. and the only explanation given is the fact that the number of vessels on the great lakes has doubled in the last six years.

The greatest loss of life on the lakes this season was caused by foundering, 59 sailors going down with their boats. 24 of this number being the crew of the freighter Hudson which went to the bottom without apparent cause on Lake Superior, Sept. 16.

Twenty-seven sailors were lost overboard or drowned in harbors; eight fell through open hatches; seven were fatally crushed, five met met death by collison, and five committed suicide by leaping overboard. Four lost their lives by fire, three were killed by breaking lines; one crushed beneath a spar, and onescalded. Two lighthouse keepers were drowned by by the over turning of their boat.

Forty-flx were drowned in Lake Superior: 34 in Lake Huron; 22 in Lake Michigan, 11 in Lake Erie and 6 in Lake Ontario.

Eight were lost in the Detroit and St. Clair rivers and five in St Mary's

The loss of life on old schooners shows the necessity for government inspection of these crafts.

Fire at Whittemore.

As the people of the village of Whittemore were about to retire Wednesday evening they were startled by an alarm of fire, and flames were discovered to be issuing from the store and residence of John Cataline. Every effort possible was made by the citizens to save the building but of no avail, and they were forced to leave it and give their attention to saving the adjoining buildings. The store building of J. W. Curtis, only 40 feet distance was in great dauger, but by prompt and energetic measures on the part of the people it was sayed with no greater loss than scorching the south side, The loss of Mr. Cataline's building and contents will be a severe blow to one of or our most enterprising and popular merchants, notwithstand. ing we are informed, that both were insured in a reliable company. All hope that he will receive an early and satisfactory adjustment of his loss.

Much credit is due our citizens for their heroic efforts to save the property and that adjoining. J. R. Kitchen proved himself a nervy and able fire fighter, and is worthy of special thanks.
