HOLIDAY SHOPPING

Made Easy For the People of this Vicinity this Season.

Never before in the history of the Tawas have the merchants displayed such enterprise and taste in selecting large and beautiful stocks of holiday goods. The people of this locality, and for that matter, from adjoining towns, cannot do better than accept the invitations extended them through the advertising columns of the HERALD, and purchase their holiday goods of these enterprising merchants, who have shown their desire to please their patrons and give them desirable goods at right prices.

M. E. FRIEDMAN

Has this year departed from his usual custom and in addition to his carefully selected stock of dry goods, clothing, ladies' and gents' furnishings, shoes, etc., has put in a most beautifully selected stock of fancy goods, consisting of decorated china, celluloid goods, dolls, books, toys etc., especially for the holiday trade. Mr. Friedman proposes to maintain his reputation as the "leader of low prices" in this line as well as in his general line. Don't miss inspecting his stock.

C. H. PRESCOTT & SONS.

As is usual at this season of the year this reliable firm are giving their patrons "something for nothing," and in a manner which furnishes considerable amusement. Their holiday goods are selected with the same good judgment which characterizes their manner of doing business, and besides special additions to regular lines they have a nice line of fancy china, books, pictures, toys, etc. Their stock of candies, nuts and fruits for the holidays is fresh and of finest quality. They will make you welcome.

HANSON'S BAZAAR.

Here is where the eye of an artist never wearies. Such a display of beautifully decorated china and lamps is seldom seen in cities of many times the population of the Tawas, and Mr. Hanson is to be congratulated on the taste here displayed. Lovers of the beautiful cannot fail to appreciate his efforts. In addition he has an immense line of toys, books, fancy articles and everything usually found in a first class bazaar. He will be glad to see you.

GWEBER & STICKNEY.

It will be to the advantage of our readers to visit the "Corner Grocery" when making preparations for their Christmas dinner, as they are sure to find a full line of "fixin's" that will add much to its flavor and enjoyment. Besides, they will also find a nice line of toys, and the usual line of fresh and nutritious groceries, candies, nuts and fruits. There may be larger stocks but none selected with greater care than this.

THOMAS GALBRAITH.

Is ready to furnish your Xmas turkey, goose, duck, chicken, or any other kind of meat. He always has a full stock of fresh meats of best quality, in addition to staple and fancy groceries, canned goods, etc. Don't buy that turkey until you have seen him.

PETER EVERTZ.

Will sell you a substantial and useful present in the shape of an easy chair or a full suit of furniture and sell it at right prices.

ABE BARKMAN.

Has not forgotten his patrons for this year and has put in a fine line of pretty furnishing goods for both men, women and children, in addition to his always complete line of clothing dry goods, shoes, etc. He will make you welcome and endeavor to please you with anything in his line.

JAMES LABERGE.

Has, in addition to his fine line of shoes, hats and caps, a specially selected stock of fine neckwear, in all the latest novelties, which makes the most acceptable and appropriate present. Your mother or wife could not fail to appreciate a pair of his nice warm slippers.

DAVIS, KISHLAR & CO.

Have added to their excellent line of dry goods and ladies' furnishings, a large line of novelties which are not found elsewhere, and in making your selections of holiday presents you will do well in examining their lines. Their goods are all of the best quality and their efforts are always to please their patrons.

G. T. WOOD.

Carries the only complete line of jewelry and silverware in the two cities, and while he has almost an exclusive field he proposes to give his customers no reason to complain, and has selected what is without doubt the most fascinating line of these goods ever shown here. He will sell you anything from a german silver novelty to a diamond or a solid gold watch. It is well worth the time to call and see this handsome line.

E. L. KING.

Is never behind the procession at this season of the year. His handsome line of furniture is most complete. He also has many novelties, pretty pictures, musical instruments, etc., which are always among the most desirable holiday presents. Don't miss calling on him while doing your holiday shopping.

G. H. BROWN.

Is also looking after a share of the holiday trade and is offering a large and well selected stock of pretty decorated china, fancy goods, toys, books, games, etc. His line is strictly up to date and his prices right. Don't miss him.

A. G. EMERY.

No more acceptable present to friends and relatives can be made than a well furnished photograph. These are the kind Mr. Emery makes.

Health and Beauty.

Poor complexion is usually the result of torpid liver or irregularity of the bowels. DeWitt's Little Early Risers stimulate the liver. Promote regular action of the bowels. Never distress. C. A. Wakeman.

STATE GRANGE.

Held the Most Successful Meeting in Its History Last Week at Lansing.

The twenty-ninth annual meeting of the Michigan State Grange was held at Lansing last week, and was the most enthusiastic meeting in the history of the state organization. The Michigan Grange stands at the head of the state organizations of the National Grange, showing that the farmers of Michigan are in the leading matters of mutual advantage and self protection.

The Michigan Grange under the leadership of George B. Horton, has made wonderful advancement during the past few years, and today numbers among its membership many of the brightest men and women of the state, who are working for the best advancement of the agricultural interests and the farm home.

Many matters of importance, not alone to the farmer, but to every taxpayer of the state, were discussed at the recent meeting and work necessary to accomplish the desired results started, the results of which will be found to be far reaching and beneficial.

The grange unanimously passed a resolution opposing the calling together of the state legislature in extra session, as there is no apparent reason why such steps should be taken and would entail a large extra expense on the state. This is but an example of the matters of importance which the grange takes up and uses its influence to the best interests of the people. It is to be regretted that the farmers of this portion of the state do not take a more active interest in this organization while we have one or two live, wide-awake, grangers in this county, and two or three which are practically dead, there should be twice as many, and all wide-awake, and working for the betterment of the conditions of the farming interests of this county. Those that are now in existence should have a membership double what they have now.

In addition to the pecuniary advantages, there are also the social and intellectual advantages to be gained which will more than off set all the expense.

Farmers, of Iosco County, wake up to your own best interests; join the grange, and reap the benefit.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with lame back or pains in the side or chest, give it a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. Pain Balm also cures rheumatism. One application gives relief. For sale by Dr. G. S. Darling.

FARM GARDEN

GREAT THINGS.

The Southern Cowpea and Tall Corn From the Philippines.

The following are among the notable things of which mention is made in Rural New Yorker:

The cut shows a single volunteer plant of the Black Renovator cowpea, which grew in the garden of a Pennsylvania farm the past season. The plant completely covered a circle twelve feet in diameter. The stem was three-quarters of an inch in diameter where it entered the ground and was still growing rapidly when taken up Sept. 23. This plant did not come to the blossoming stage owing to the abnormal season. Last year the Black Renovator matured seed on this same ground. The grower says:

"Cowpeas have come to stay at this farm. It was formerly claimed that this plant was of doubtful value this far north (latitude of Cleveland, O.), but our experience has proved the error of such claims. We have grown chiefly the Early Black, but have also tried other varieties, notably Warren's Early and Renovator. On the whole, the Early Black gives as good growth of vines as any. Besides, the seed is much cheaper to buy and much easier to shell if we save our own seed. With us all the varieties mentioned matured seed in 1900.

"Our favorite method in the future will be to mow a portion of our meadow land, say, during the fore part of June, immediately fit the soil and seed to cowpeas, using a small quantity of chemicals. As soon as the vines are frosted plow under and seed to rye, using lime, the rye to be turned under the next spring for potatoes. Soy beans have promise with us. We shall try sowing a mixture of cowpeas and soy beans next season."

A Massachusetts man writes: "June 28, 1896, I sowed cowpeas in a worn-out pasture—light, sandy soil. In October, after several severe frosts, I plowed the peas—a light crop—and sowed rye. In the following spring the rye was plowed in and corn planted, with no manure to speak of. The result was a crop of corn which was a surprise, considering the soil, due to the peas. These were the Black. Since then I have sown cowpeas every year for green manuring and fodder with good results, using the Whipperwill, which is smaller, earlier and makes a better growth than the Black. This variety readily matures a crop here in central Massachusetts."

A northern New York correspondent considers cowpeas a grand thing in light, sandy soil and would as soon have a good growth of cowpeas to turn under as the general run of manure, and they are a great deal cheaper.

In New Hampshire, in latitude 43, they made a fine growth and opened seed.

A Long Islander sends The Rural New Yorker a picture of corn in his place 16 feet 6 inches to 18 feet in height. The seed came from Luzon, Philippine Islands, but the corn is said not to grow to that height there. It was planted without any care or cultivation and with an idea that it would not grow on Long Island, not to speak of its enormous height. The corn is red, round, braidlike and very easy to shell. The stalks are very hard and strong, withstanding the winds better than the domestic, regardless of its height. The leaves are long, wide and sweeping.

The quality of apples this season does not correspond with the high price.

Winter Care of Calves.
Fall calves should be kept in a warm, dry, light stable and fed skim milk until the following spring, says New England Homestead. Skim milk, however, should not form the entire ration. Oil-meal is needed in place of the butter fat removed and some crushed oats and wheat bran to make growth. Silage, if you have it, or sweet clover hay should be given daily in small quantities. Calves for beef may have some cornmeal.

Two Pig Litters a Year.
Why should a hog man be content with one litter of pigs a year when he can have two at no more cost? asks Farm and Ranch. Encourage the two litter a year habit in sows, and they will live longer, do better and be productive at a greater age than one litter a year sows. It is the opinion of many experienced hog men that sows will bring more pigs at a litter twice a year than once a year.

Among the tens of thousands who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds and la grippe during the past few years, to our knowledge, not a single case has resulted in pneumonia. Thos. Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash avenue, Chicago, one of the most prominent retail druggists in that city, in speaking of this, says, "We recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe in many cases, as it not only gives prompt and complete recovery, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia." For sale by G. S. Darling.

Wheat Screenings For Sheep.
In some feed tests carried on at the Utah station with sheep to determine the comparative value of wheat, frosted wheat and wheat screenings it was shown that it is more profitable to feed the screenings than either good or frosted wheat, cost considered.

Feed For the Brood Sow.
A brood sow should be fed a variety such as bran, roots, etc. Corn is fattening and should not be fed in large quantities. It promotes neither the growth of the sow nor the pigs. Some green vegetable food should be given to winter.

How to Cure Croup.

Mr. R. Gray, who lives near America, Dutchess county, N. Y., says, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and never fails to cure." When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This should be borne in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as these symptoms appear. For sale by Dr. G. S. Darling.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS: Baltimore, Md., March 30, 1901. I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever. I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours, F. A. WERMAN, 720 1/2 Broadway, Baltimore, Md.
