Domestic Troubles.

It is exceptional to find a family where there are no domestic ruptures occasionally, but these can be lessened by having Dr. King's New Life Pills around. Much trouble they save by their great work in Stomach and Liver troubles. They not only relieve you, but cure. 25c, at Jas. E. Dillon and Dr. Darling's Drug Stores.

$6,000,000.

The Michigan Central railroad Saturday afternoon began suit in the Wayne circuit court for $6,000,000 against the state of Michigan, the amount claimed in damages to the plaintiffs by reason of the repeal of its special charter at the special session of the state legislature in 1900.

The suit begun Saturday is in the ordinary assumpsit form and the summons will be served on Gov. Bliss by Sheriff Dickson next week, when the state executive will be in Detroit.

"The suit is to recover compensation from the state of Michigan for the repeal of the charter," said Attorney Russell in the suit begun Saturday.

"When the repeal was made it was provided that the Michigan Central might compel the state to pay damages if any could be proven as a result of the repeal, and the placing of the Michigan Central under the general railroad law.

"Our damages, generally speaking, have resulted from the decrease in fare from 3 cents under the charter to 2 cents under the law, and from an increase of taxation as a result of the repeal of the charter.

"We have been doing considerable figuring on the proposition of losses as a result of the change, and we have estimated our damages pretty closely when we place them at $6,000,000."

The suit has been expected for some time, as when the repeal of the charter was made the legislature provided that the company might bring suit against the state for damages, if they could show any, before Jan. 1, 1903. If this provision had not been included in the repeal, the company could not have proceeded against the state. Being a law case it will be tried by a jury.

It will not be possible to try the suit during the January term of court, and it will probably be heard in the April term.

Associated with Mr. Russell in the prosecution of the case are the following attorneys of counsel: Ashley Pond, Detroit; John G. Milbourn, Buffalo, N. Y., and John G. Johnson of Philadelphia, Pa., eminent corporation lawyers.

Save the Quail.

The Lexington News thinks it would be a good scheme to prohibit altogether the shooting of quail and domesticate the little birds. It says: "The quail is not only ideal scavenger of orchards, wheat fields and potato lots, but also is most excellent human food. A pair of quail, given the same humane treatment as the turkey, chicken and other farm poultry, will raise thirty young in one season, at an expense of less than ten cents. This rate of increase would mean 4,000 birds in the third year. Isn't this branch of the bird question worthy of consideration? Couldn't we afford for three years to lay aside the murderous shotgun and let our best birds manufacture our surplus insect life into delicate food?"

A Marvelous Invention.

Wonders never cease. A machine has been invented that will cut, paste and hang wall paper. The field of inventions and discoveries seems to be unlimited. Notable among great discoveries is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. It has done a world of good for weak lungs and saved many a life. Thousands have used it and conquered Grip, Bronchitis, Pneumonia and Consumption. Their general verdict is: "It's the best and most reliable medicine for throat and lung troubles. Every 50c and $1.00 bottle is guaranteed by Jas. E. Dillon and Dr. Darling, Druggists. Trial bottles free.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25 cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

The Visiting Prince.

Crown Prince Chowfa Maha Vajiravudh of Siam, who comes to make a tour of this country, is a rather handsome and intelligent young fellow and seems to take a keen interest in the affairs of this republic and the strange contrasts they present to those of the oriental monarchy over which he will some day rule. The prince is twenty-two years of age and was proclaimed heir to the throne of Siam on his fifteenth birthday in accordance with a custom of that country whereby a reigning monarch names his successor, who need not necessarily be his eldest son. In this case the crown prince is the oldest child of the king's second wife, all his children by his first wife having been daughters. Prince Chowfa has passed much time in England, where his education has been mainly acquired. He studied there under private tutors, graduated from the Sandhurst Military academy and attended Oxford university, of which he is an undergraduate. He represented the king of Siam at the coronation of King Edward and is now making a tour of the world as a finishing touch to his education. His father, King Chulalongkorn I., is regarded as the most enlightened and progressive potentate of the orient.

Artist Whistler's Acknowledgment.

James A. MacNeill Whistler, the artist, in the witty letter in which he recently acknowledged the courtesy shown him by friends in his recent illness, wrote: "It is my marvelous privilege, then, to come back, as one would say, while the air is still warm with appreciation, affection and regret and to learn in how little I had offended. The continuing to wear my own hair and eyebrows after distinguished conferees and eminent persons had long ceased this habit has, I gather, clearly given pain. This, I see, is much remarked on. It is even found inconsiderate and unseemly in me as hinting at affectation." Whistler promises in coming years to lose these "outer signs of vexing presumption."

An August Month.

"Do you believe in the superstition that June is a lucky month in which to get married?"

"Why, no," dissented Mrs. Porque Paque of Chicago decisively. "August is my favorite month."

"On what do you base your belief?"

"Well, you see, I do all my marrying in that month, and the divorce courts give alimony and counsel fees every time."—Baltimore Herald.

Tongue Reading.

According to the disciples of linguistics or the science of tongue reading, it is a demonstrated fact that a big tongue indicates dissimulation; a long and broad tongue, garrulity and generosity; a narrow tongue, concentration and talent; a short, broad tongue, garrulity and untruth. The man with a very short and narrow tongue is a liar of true artistic merit.

Inconsiderate.

"I really shall have to leave this hotel," said the weary man to the proprietor. "There is a baby in the next room to mine, and he cries all night."

"I don't see why you should complain," said the proprietor. "His father and mother have him in the same room with them, and they haven't said a word."

Supply at Hand.

Employment Agent—I have a cook that will just suit you. She is a young widow and is very fond of children.

Mrs. Ritchie—But we have no children.

Employment Agent—Oh, that'll be all right, ma'am. She has six of her own.—Chicago News.

The Mother's Ruse.

"Here," said Mr. Snaggs as he laid a volume on the table—"here is a book that I am very desirous Lucy shall read."

"Very well," replied Mrs. Snaggs; "I'll forbid her to touch it."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Bulldog Kinder Than Child.

An incident related by George Elliot proves that kindness and devotion are characteristic of the bulldog breed. The distinguished author was on a visit to the house of a friend where a bulldog and a child, each of the age of six, were among the household possessions. During dessert after dinner, while all were absorbed in conversation, they were startled by a loud howl of pain from the dog, evidently proceeding from under the table. An investigation immediately made discovered that the child, equipped with a pair of scissors, was under the table also and trying to cut the dog's ears with them. From one ear of the bull the blood was running, and yet the dog was making not the slightest effort to escape or defend himself. The host and father, outraged by the evidence of such cruelty on the part of the child, determined on immediate punishment. But when he undertook to carry the punishment into effect the dog interfered, pushing himself between the master and the child and heaving the face of the latter.

What a Convict Does in Prison.

If I had little work to do in prison, how did I spend the time? At Auburn, where I lived the greater part of my first term, the routine of my life was as follows: After rising in the morning I would sweep out my cell, turn up my bed and blankets and clean up. Then to breakfast; then, if there was no work to do, I would go back to my cell and eat a small portion of opium. Then I would exercise with dumbbells and take a sponge bath with cold water. Next would come a nap till dinner time. After dinner I would read and think in my cell until 3 o'clock, when I would go to the bucket room or exercise in the yard in the lock step with the others for half an hour; then back to the cell, taking with me bread and a cup of coffee made out of burned bread crust for my supper. The count was made at 6 o'clock to see that all was right for the night. After that I read in my cell as long as the oil lasted.—"Autobiography of a Thief" in Leslie's Monthly.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Social Secretary.

Miss Isabel Hagner, who for some months occupied the unique position of social secretary to the "first lady of the land," has lately fallen heir, through the death of an aunt, to $100,000 and a handsome Washington residence, and it is intimated that she is shortly to become the wife of Lieutenant Thomas H. Hicks, a paymaster in the United States navy. Miss Hagner is one of the most beautiful and accomplished young women of Washington and is an example of the pluck and energy of the American girl. Seven years ago she made her debut in Washington society. Her father was one of the leading physicians in the national capital. From her mother she had inherited a fortune of nearly $100,000.

MISS ISABEL HAGNER.

900. Through unfortunate speculations her money was lost. Her father became a confirmed invalid. From being a belle she was placed under the necessity of providing not only for herself, but for her father and small brothers. She bravely set to work and in a short time was appointed to a clerical position in the war department. Her friends had been accustomed to consult her in regard to social forms, and she finally resigned her position and devoted her talents exclusively to this line of work, finally becoming Mrs. Roosevelt's secretary.

A Curious Grass.

A curious grass grows in Ceylon the peculiarity about which is that when it has attained a certain length it takes fire by spontaneous combustion.

Like All Gossip.

Mrs. Abel—How Mrs. Cuttle did run on about the Perkinses! I have no patience with a woman who talks so about other folks.

Mrs. Cain—Neither have I. It's perfectly disgusting! But what Mrs. Cuttle said about the Perkinses was awfully interesting.—Washington Times.

New Musket for the Army.

The new musket to be used by the United States army has been completed and tried with satisfactory results, the various changes not only improving the weapon, but cheapening and accelerating the production.

The rod bayonet is a feature of the new rifle. Its advantage is said to lie in the fact that it lightens the weight of the gun and dispenses with the bayonet and bayonet scabbard now in use, and in the place of which intrenching tools may be carried by the soldier. The new piece weighs a little less than nine and a half pounds, which is considerably lighter than the German rifle and the Mauser, yet has greater velocity and greater penetration. It is noted that opinions differ as to the value of the rod bayonet. The construction of 5,000 of the new muskets has been authorized.

Tried To Conceal It.

It's the old story of "murder will out" only in this case there's no crime. A woman feels run down, has backache or dyspepsia and thinks it's nothing and tries to hide it until she finally breaks down. Don't deceive yourself. Take Electric Bitters at once. It has reputation for curing Stomach, Liver and Kidney trouble and will revivify your whole system. The worst forms of those maladies will quickly yield to the curative power of Electric Bitters. Only 50c, and guaranteed by Jas. E. Dillon and Dr. Darling, Druggists.

Have You a Cat?

Better than any silver-tongued thermometer or costly barometer is an old scratched, lop-eared cat. If he stands grass it is a sign of rain; if he stands with his back to the stove look out for cold weather; when he washes his face wash yours, for company is coming; if he is nervous at the time he is usually sleepy, look to your lightning rod, an electrical storm is brewing. Everything he does is a sign of something. If you haven't got a measly old cat you had better get one at once.—Reading Telephone-News.

Wonderful Nerve.

Is displayed by many a man enduring pains of accidental Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Sore feet or stiff joints. But there's no need for it. Bucklen's Arnica Salve will kill the pain and cure the trouble. It's the best Salve on earth for Piles, too. 25c, at Jas. E. Dillon and Dr. Darling, Druggists.

No Further Delay.

A couple had been engaged to be married for about fourteen years, and still the swain had not mustered up courage enough to ask her to name the happy day. The other evening he called in a peculiar frame of mind and asked her to sing something tender and touching. Imagine his surprise when she sat down at the piano and sang, "Darling, I am growing old." There was no further delay.—Scottish American.

A Clerical Conundrum.

Archbishop Whately once asked the question: "Why can a man never starve in the great desert?" and answered it himself as follows: "Because he can eat the sand which is there. But what brought the sandwiches there? Why, Noah sent Ham, and his descendants mustered and bred."

Taking Pains.

"Genius," quoted Smuthers, "is an infinite capacity for taking pains."
"Then," remarked Smuthers, "old Groannache must be a genius. He gets every ailment he hears any one else has."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The Love of Mothers.

Among the lower animals the mother's love for her offspring lasts only until the offspring is able to shift for itself. The hen will fret and fight for her downy chicks, but when they become feathered and commence to do their own foraging the mother hen becomes indifferent to them and thinks only of hatching another brood. The mare lures her foal and the cow her calf only during the suckling period. Canine dams cease to show affection to their progeny after the puppy age, says the San Francisco Bulletin. So through the entire animal kingdom below the human species the maternal instinct endures only while the young ones are helpless and ceases when they have grown up.

How different is the love of a human mother for her children! That love never dies and seems to grow more intense according as the children become less and less worthy of it. The black sheep is often the best beloved.

Vol. XX, No. 1.

This week the Herald enters the twentieth year of its existence, and for almost ten years has been under the present management, and in this connection our readers will pardon us if we make a few pertinent remarks. During the time we have had control of the Herald, we have worked under many difficulties, and yet we are justified in saying that the Herald is a better paper than it was ten years ago, and that it is more appreciated, from the fact that more people read it each week. It has gained what standing it has on its own merits, as it has not been kept in existence by the support of "public pap," but by legitimate business methods. That it has not been, or is not now what we would like to make it are frank to confess, but we guarantee to continue to improve as rapidly as our support will permit.

Today we are conceded the distinction of being the leading paper of the county, by virtue of having the largest circulation and largest advertising patronage. All of which we appreciate, and will endeavor to continue to merit. Our every effort will be to give our patrons full value received for business extended.

It is with much pleasure that we are able at this time to add a new press to our office which will greatly aid in caring for our patronage and at the same time improve the appearance of the paper. In addition to this we are adding considerable other new material and will continue to do so until we have the most complete, up-to-date office in this section.

These improvements cost a large amount of money and we hope our patrons will appreciate our efforts sufficiently, to pay all outstanding amounts due us, thus aiding us to complete these improvements as rapidly as possible.

The future of our cities and county was never brighter than at present, and the Herald will continue in the future as in the past, to give all possible support to everything that will advance the interest of Tawas City, East Tawas, Iosco county, or the residents thereof.

To those who have largely supported us in the past we return our most sincere thanks, and ask a continuance of that support. To those whom we have not had the pleasure of doing business with we invite to come and see us, and assure them that their business will be appreciated and every effort made to make our business relations agreeable. It is our endeavor to publish a paper for all, and not for any particular class. Our columns are always open to all legitimate matter of public interest, and all are invited to use them.

Again thanking our friends for the liberal patronage extended us, we wish one and all happiness and prosperity for the coming year.

Whittemore Whittlings.

Mrs. W. A. Speril is serious ill. H. M. Belknap, was at Tawas on business Monday. Eli Dutton was in Tawas City, on business Wednesday. T. G. Leslie was at East Tawas, on business last Saturday. Sam Fletcher went to Bay City on business, last Saturday. Mrs. John A. Campbell, is recovering from her recent illness. Mrs. John Murphy, of Fiber, is the guest of her friends in this village. Oliver Koyle is home from Onaway, for a visit with his wife and children. Henry Duceap, of Onaway, has been visiting his many friends here this week. Harvey C. Bayes, who is teaching school in Wilber, is home for holiday vacation. William Horton has recently purchased two fine cutters from Louks & Williams. John Mooney has been visiting neighboring towns this week, disposing of mill products. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sheldon, of Onaway, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. McNeil, of this village. Mrs. Harper and Miss Nellie Goodwin, of Pittsburg, Pa., are the guests of Mrs. Goodwin, of this village.

The Christmas tree and entertainment at the M. E. church was largely attended, and was a most enjoyable occasion. Charles Stone and Miss Bertha Goodwin, two of our popular young people, were united in marriage last Sunday, at the home of R. H. Goodwin. We all unite in wishing them happiness and prosperity.

Reno Rustlings.

Our schools are closed for a two weeks vacation. J. C. Emheke was at Tawas City on business Monday. Seth McKeen, of Hale, was here on business Tuesday. Mrs. A. Dodder is able to be out after a long illness. Mark Robinson was at Tawas City, on business Tuesday. Mrs. Renno, has returned from a visit with friends in Canada. The Christmas entertainment at the Baptist church was a grand success. Mrs. J. P. Colvin, of Whittemore, spent Christmas with friends at Siloam. Mrs. Andrew Cooper is in very poor health, owing to an attack of pneumonia. Mrs. James Shepherd arrived home after a short visit in southern Michigan. A Christmas dance was given at the home of Will Gillispie, Thursday night. W. H. Hartley is attending the state teachers' association at Saginaw this week. Mr. and Mrs. John Huston spent Christmas with Mrs. H's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hartley. James Robinson leaves this week for Bay City where he has accepted a position with the Maltby Lumber Co. Miss Ezoa Smith, of Tawas City, closed a very successful term of school and is spending her vacation at her home. We are pleased to note that Mrs. Henry Thompson, who has been confined to her bed for many weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to be out for a drive on Christmas.

The Christmas tree at the home of William Gillispie on Christmas eve, was a pleasing affair, and much enjoyed by old and young. The presents were numerous and useful.

Charles Smith has been making many improvements around his farm in the shape of new building and wire fence. He also added a hundred dollars worth of sheep to his flock this fall. Keep right on Charley, we are glad to see you prosper.

Oven Temperature For Cake.

The correct temperature of the oven for various cake mixtures is often a vexed question for the amateur cook. A cake which is made with butter needs a moderate oven; a cake made without butter wants a quick oven. For small cakes and cookies the oven should be moderately quick. Cakes that have an admixture of molasses burn more easily than others and should be watched closely. They require a moderate oven. If the cake browns quickly after going into the oven, there is too much heat. Remove a lid from the top of the stove or put into the oven a dish containing cold water.

Jellied Bouillon.

If bouillon is not made a first course, it may be served jellied and with almonds as a salad course. It is particularly pretty when served in individual molds. The jelly is easily made from extract of beef, well seasoned, diluted with hot water and made into a delicate jelly with dissolved gelatin. A little is put in the bottom of the molds, and the almonds, blanched and cut into strips, are arranged in a pattern in the jelly before the molds are filled. When ready to serve, turn out on a bed of lettuce hearts and send around with the course a stiff mayonnaise.

Counter Confidences.

"Liz," confided the girl at the ribbon counter, "you know I told you I got engaged to a German count at the summer hotel?" "Yes." "Well, he isn't a count at all. He is a cashier in a dairy luncheon room down street." "Ain't that nice, though? You'll get to see him this winter again. I was lucky too. A TRYING TIME!

Confronts many people at the present time. A man sits with disheveled hair, his hands deep in his trousers pockets, a far-away stare in his eyes, totally oblivious to his surroundings. His spirits are 10 below zero. His groans disturb the neighbors. Listen!—you can hear him cry. "What shall I get for Christmas? What shall I get for Christmas? Your heart goes out in sympathy for the poor fellow when you see the misery he is undergoing. But look! What has happened. His groaning ceases, he comes face to earth, the world once more assumes a rosy hue. "I have it," he cries! "I will go to Davis, Kishlar & Co. They will have what she wants and will help me out of my dilemma."

He shakes hands with himself. How his face beams as he comes away from the store—his arms full of packages—and what makes him all the more happy is the fact that he still has money left. We have helped others. We can help you.

If women must wear bird plumes why not confine them to the ostrich which survive the operation and the barn cock that makes fine pies? Let the song birds and wedding dresses of the other birds alone. Women are supposed to have hearts, but the evidence points to the fact that their love of finery is much stronger than their love of nature.

The winter time card of the Detroit & Mackinac railroad went into effect last Sunday, but it makes very little change from the one in vogue the past summer. On the main line there is no change in time of passenger trains leaving or departing from this city. A slight change has been made in the time card of freight trains.

C. M. Smith, director of the Citizens Bank, was the recipient of a crisp ten dollar bill for one of his Xmas presents. The ten spot came from the members of the band, who remembered him in this pleasing manner. It is unnecessary to say that band boys' leader was most agreeable surprised.—Grand Marias Herald.

The rapid advancement made by a new department of our postal service is well brought out in an illustrated article on "The Rural Free Delivery Service," contributed to the Review of Reviews for January by Day Allen Willey. It will be news to many that it is now seriously proposed ultimately to establish a free delivery of mail to every farmhouse in the United States.

Our New Press.

Our new press has been installed this week, and while it is not yet working as smoothly as it should, an improvement in the appearance of the Herald will be noted. The press is known as the "New Monona Leverless," manufactured by Walker & Co., of Madison, Wis., and is one of the best presses made for country newspapers. Our friends are invited to call and inspect it.

The happy couple have a host of friends who will join us in wishing them a happy and prosperous wedded life.

The federal authorities are at work on one of the cleverest counterfeiting jobs that was ever done in this country. Somewhere in Michigan, Indiana or Ohio a band of counterfeiters are manufacturing a $5 Indian head silver certificate that is so good that any number of them have been passed. Secret Service Agent Burns and his subordinates gathered several hundred dollars' worth of the bills in Detroit and they are also circulated in Toledo Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Cleveland and other cities.

Card of Thanks.

It is with a grateful heart that I wish to thank the friends, one and all, for their many acts of kindness to me. May God who sends joy and sorrow alike, ever bless them is our prayer.

Wonderful Nerve.

Is displayed by many a man enduring pains of accidental Cuts, Wounds, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Sore feet or stiff joints. But there's no need for it. Bucklen's Arnica Salve will kill the pain and cure the trouble. It's the best Salve on earth for Piles, too. 25c, at Jas E Dillon and Dr Darling, Druggists.

The Baby at Home.

It is always a good sign for a baby to sleep a great deal, and delicate and puny infants who sleep much become strong and healthy children. Even babies who are large and thriving at birth, unless they get a great deal of sleep, become weak and sickly. A baby should have few toys and these of the simplest kind. The infant with a lot of amusements—always being tossed in the air, danced on the knee, having a rattle shaken in its ear or surrounded constantly with all sorts of playthings—lives in a state of unhealthy excitement. It grows bored. It wants something new all the time and frets and cries if it doesn't get it. The average healthy baby can find its own amusements. It plays with its toes, stretches its legs, bites its fists experimentally, watches its mother as she walks around the room, and all this is fun, besides being just what baby needs.

What a Man Thinks.

"When a man of twenty considers a woman, he thinks of her beauty, but at thirty he thinks of her loquacity."
"What does he think at forty?"
"Oh, he thinks only of himself by that time."—Indianapolis News.

Grief.

Grief never sleeps. It watches continually, like a jealous husband. All the world groans under its sway, and it fears that by sleeping its clutch will become loosened and its prey then escape.

It Makes Them Squirm!

THE SPOOL COTTON COMPANY,
80 & 82 White Street,
New York, December 24, 1902.

Mr. M. E. Friedman,
Tawas City, Mich.

Dear Sir:--We notice from the Tawas Herald of the 9th inst. that you are advertising Coat's thread at 4c a spool. As this is below the prevailing price of the market, we must ask you to withdraw that advertisement, and until we receive your assurance that you will restore the price to 5c per spool, we shall be unable to make you any further shipments.

Yours truly,
THE COTTON SPOOL COMPANY,
W. P. NEIL, Sec.

Our reputation as the "leader of low prices" seems to have spread even to New York, as indicated by the above letter, which evidently originated on the complaint of our competitor, who is unable to meet some prices, and has taken this manner to force us to raise the prices of thread. Fortunately for our customers this is almost the only article in our stock which competitors can force us to raise, and we will continue to supply your wants at from 15 to 25 per cent lower than others can on Dry Goods, Clothing, Furnishings Goods, Shoes, etc.

We conduct our business on economical basis, buy direct from manufacturers for cash, and we prefer to sell at a reasonable profit, giving our customers the benefit, and increasing our business accordingly.

Come and see us, and you will find your pocket book grows lean much slower than when you trade elsewhere.
