Diseases Dangerous to Public Health.

Lansing, Oct. 10.—Under authority of a new law passed at the last session of the legislature the state board of health has designated the following diseases as dangerous to the public health, and they must be reported. The diseases are consumption, pneumonia, cerebro spinal meningitis, typhoid fever, diphtheria, whooping cough, measles, scarlet fever, small pox, glanders and rabies. Circulars giving information to health officers regarding the action of the board will be published.

The board decided to hold the regular annual conference of health officers in Ann Arbor, January 7 and 8. The next examination for embalmers' licenses will be held on January 6 at Ann Arbor. Secretary Baker was instructed to prepare an exhibit to be made at the St. Louis exposition. The board decided to issue a circular giving a model ordinance providing for the inspection of slaughter houses and meat supplies, to be passed by the common councils in compliance with a new law passed by the last legislature at the instance of Rev. Caroline Bartlett Crane.

Mammoth Beet Ranch.

Owosso, Oct. 10.—Nine thousand acre farms are so much the exception in Michigan, the one in Saginaw county owned by the Owosso Sugar Co., is the occasion of much talk. This company, which owns the big sugar factories in Owosso and Lansing, does not intend to be at the mercy of the farmers in the years to come and it has decided to possess land on which to grow beets for its immense plants. Nine thousand acres will not grow enough beets to run both factories, but they will help, and the company is negotiating for the purchase of 7,000 acres more.

"The Prairie Farm," as this big piece of land is called, is in James, St. Charles and Albee townships. Its most northerly point is at the junction of the Shiawassee and Flint rivers and was once under water. Not many years ago the general level of the farm was but 18 inches above the low water mark of the rivers.

The water on the inside will be pumped out and led off to the river. It is a gigantic piece of work, but the company has the money. It will be several years before the work is completed.

Under the land are large deposits of soft coal, and the company can get all it needs in its two factories. The farm is but four miles from St. Charles and will soon have excellent shipping facilities over the Michigan Central.

That Big State Tax.

The state tax to be levied this fall is the largest ever made in Michigan, more than four millions of dollars, $4,063,024.82. This exceeds last year's state tax by $1,333,081.17; and in 1901 the state tax was but $3,835,844.97 and $3,725,875.01 in 1899.

These increases year by year are most alarming and the people should see to it that this tax piling-up shall be stopped and that expenses are cut down and proposed extravagances cut out of future appropriation bills. Elect to the legislature only such men as will favor in the legislature a return to economy in the administration of government. And legislative conventions should nominate only such men as are outspoken for reform in taxation.

The last legislature was profligate in money for almost anything proposed. The university is a public good, but not so valuable as to require so large a sum as $397,525. There is no real need of the so called "Western Normal School," and its appropriation of $30,000, nor of the "Bliss monument," "Employment Institution for the Blind" with its $85,000 appropriation. The state gives, besides the $85,000 for Saginaw and honor to Bliss, $48,400 for school for the blind at Flint. State prisons must be in a wretched condition to need so much for improvements as $173,435. The appropriation of $121,049.10 for the National Guard (state militia) looks as if we had the expense of a standing army in time of peace. Voting $50,000 for an exhibit at St. Louis fair is largely in the interest of a comparatively few manufacturers and is not an enterprise so much of general benefit as to justify so large an appropriation. If it is absolutely necessary to have so large an appropriation as $25,000 for the state dairy and food commission, then it is high time that this commission were abolished. And with it should go other commissions of expense but of no commensurate good.—Greenville Independent.

this stylish CLOTHCRAFT overcoat is decidedly the proper thing. Note the broad, swell shaped shoulders—the narrow, close-fitting collar—the graceful outlines of the full skirt. Come in and try on the coat for yourself, and see how much more justice it does you than the ordinary ready-made kind. It will help you look your best—and a prosperous air is half the battle, these days. You can pay twice as much to a custom tailor, but you cannot get better value. Suits and overcoats, $10 to $25. A book of styles is here for you—better call for it.

Our Pretty Dress Goods:

WE again call attention to the handsome line of New Dress Goods which we have this Fall. It is not necessary for us to specialize as we have them all. The latest in colors, and weaves, both Domestic and Imported. Their is nothing you want that we cannot supply you.

IN fact our stock is the most complete to be found in this section of the state, and we can save you money. Our prices are guaranteed to be from 15 to 25 per cent. lower than elsewhere.

That our efforts to make the Herald the only advertising medium in Isosc county are appreciated is evidenced by their crowded condition. Advertisers have learned that there is no other medium in which they can reach the people. We do not require our subscribers to be of any particular quality, but endeavor to print a paper that is appreciated by both rich and poor, the farmer, the laborer, or the merchant, and we are proud to say that all classes are our subscribers, not because we belong to their political party or church, but because they get what they pay for—a newspaper.

Anxious mother: No, dear madam, your little daughter, who has been out for the twentieth consecutive evening was making no attempt to deceive you as to her whereabouts. She was only down to the postoffice looking after the evening mail, and standing around where she could see and be seen to the best advantage. How can you keep her at home? Oh, don't try. She enjoys going after the mail, you know, and after she has been at it a few weeks you cannot keep her at home anyway. Let her go, by all means. She may wish you had been more strict, in after years, but she doesn't think so now and of course you must let her be her own judge, as her judgement is much better than yours.—Felton Independent.

The following Bay City dispatch to the Evening News is of local interest from the fact that this is the "smooth duck" that did the Holland house out of $67, about the same time: Henry Cohen, a noted forger, who has worked hotels all over the country, is serving time in Joliet for a job done in Chicago. Just before going to Chicago Cohen did the Fraser house proprietors out of $100, and as his term at Joliet is nearly out the local police department is trying to have him brought here for trial. A warrant for his arrest is in the hands of the warden at the prison, along with similar documents from several other cities, but Bay City's was the first one sent in. Kalamazoo also wants him.

C. V. Hicks, Domestic Machines,

In the U. S. district court at Bay City, last week, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, against Emil Kunze, of East Tawas, and A. J. Rodman, of Wilbur, who were charged with cutting timber on government lands. In the case against Reuben Wade, of Tawas township, charged with willful trespass a verdict of 6 cents was awarded, which is practically an acquittal.

Married, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brown, in Grant township; Wednesday last, Andrew J. McIvor, of Sherman, and Clara J. Brown, Rev. John Pearson, officiating. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and about sixty invited guests were present in honor of the occasion. After the ceremony a bounteous repast was served. The happy couple were the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents as tokens of the esteem in which they are held by their many friends.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

Some Suggestions as to the Care of Kitchen Utensils.

Wooden spoons, which are a great boon to the housewife, should be scrubbed with a brush and dried in the sun. The habit of placing wooden utensils in dishwater and letting them soak brings ruination in its wake, and drying them in the range warps them and renders them unsightly if not entirely useless.

Wash the clothes hamper with a solution of salt water, using a fresh brush. Rinse in clear water and dry in the shade.

Brooms will last longer and perform their service better if occasionally dipped in boiling water and left to dry in the open air. The broom should stand in the water until it cools, as the fiber absorbs the moisture and is thereby rendered less brittle.

Wooden bowls if rubbed thoroughly with glycerin until they are soaked will not crack. If washed in a hot solution of bicarbonate of soda and dried in the open air the unpleasant odor which wooden utensils are apt to have will be done away with.

Hongkong Chairs For the Piazza.

Hongkong chairs are delightful for a lounge or a rest in a cool corner of a broiling hot afternoon. These are patterned much of a kind with "steamer chairs" with the extension piece to hold the feet up. There are comfortable arm rests, much broader than the little slipper arms of the regular steamer chair. You could stand a glass of lemonade, a book or a plate of biscuit on the broad arms of the chair. Instead of being flat along the seat there is a little rise beneath the knees on this chair. Another agreeable detail is the foot rest at the end. This has a raised border high enough to keep your wraps or shawls from slipping off the end, and it also supports the feet and braces the body comfortably.

Hongkongs are not folding chairs. There need be no fear of the foot rest slipping down. They are made of brownish wicker, very strong, and may be fitted with orange, brown, sea green, dark blue or reddish copper hued cushions. Naturally a Hongkong chair is somewhat expensive.

Bread and Cakes.

All breads and cakes must be very light and porous to be digestible, and batter breads or cakes must be especially light and delicate to be enjoyed. While eggs, baking powder and yeast are used for this purpose, much depends on the amount and thoroughness of the beating they receive. The object should be to force in as much air as possible, especially in the thick batter, in order to separate the solid particles and give an evenness of grain. While a batter may be made thick enough to drop from a spoon and keep its shape on a griddle or baking tin, it is too soft to knead. The liquid used in a batter should be added to the dry ingredients and stirred in gradually to prevent the batter becoming lumpy.

Care of Matting.

Matting never should be subjected to an oversupply of water. Care should be exercised toward keeping it unstained. When it becomes soiled, however, use a soft cloth well wrung out in a suds made of borax soap and water and air thoroughly by leaving a window open until the spot is dried. Dampness must be removed from matting as speedily as possible. Use a pliable, not too stiff, broom for matting. Always sweep well first any flooring or floor covering which may be spotted or soiled and needs a damp application.

STRAY STOCK.

STRAYED from my place in Alabaster township, about September 28th, 1903, a dark brown Bull Calf with light nose and a red and white Heifer Calf. Sent information to THOMAS MURPHY, P. O. Tawas City.

Oiling and Drying Floors.

In oiling the floor with linseed oil use a half gallon of boiled linseed oil mixed with a quarter of a pound of burned sienna, and rub it on the floor with a large woolen rag. A strong decoction of the inside of red oak bark set with copperas makes a nice dye for floors. After rubbing it in thoroughly and letting it dry rub the floor with a waxed brush.

Beefsteak and Onions.

A delicate variation of the somewhat coarse dish, beefsteak and onions, is achieved by rolling three or four chopped onions in a beefsteak, tying securely and leaving the beefsteak overnight in the ice box. Remove the onions and broil, turning frequently. The onions may be fried separately if desired and served as a side dish to those who like them.

White Wood Furniture.

White enameled furniture in complete sets is lovely decorated with clusters and garlands of roses with buds half blown and foliage that suggests a riot of garden bloom. Of course many furnishers cling to the brass and enameled iron beds, but the white woods are more elegant.

S. Le Quinn of Cavendish, Vt., was robbed of his customary health by invasion of chronic constipation. When Dr. King's New Life Pills broke into his house, his trouble was arrested and now he's entirely cured. The guarantee to cure; 25c at G. S. Darling's and J. E. Dillon's drug stores.

The Supervisors.

The board of supervisors are holding their annual meeting at the court house this week. They have transacted considerable business of importance, including the annual equalization of the tax rolls of the county. There is but slight changes from last year. The election of a member of the board of school examiners and a member of the superintendents of the poor was held Tuesday. Superintendent L. G. Morrel, of AuSable, was unanimously elected as school examiner. The contest for superintendent of the poor, brought out four candidates, Thomas Davison, Thomas Armstrong and A. W. Lowe, of this city, and T. G. McCausland, of Alabaster. Thomas Davison, was elected to succeed himself after six ballots. The board voted only $4,000 to be raised for general taxation this year, which will give us a very light county tax as compared with last year.

Confessions of a Priest.

Rev. Jno. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes, "For 12 years I suffered from Yellow Jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters and feel that I am now cured of the disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years." If you want a reliable medicine for Liver and Kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It's guaranteed by G. S. Darling and J. E. Dillon. Only 50c.
