SCIENCE AND OUR SENSES

By Dr. ANDREW WILSON, Physiologist

TRUE IS IT THAT ALL THINGS IN THIS WORLD ARE RELATIVE WHEN ALL IS SAID AND DONE, AND IF WE ADMIT SO MUCH THEN THERE IS EVERY REASON TO HOLD THAT, AS IT IS A MORAL DUTY TO MAKE THE MOST AND THE BEST OF THE FAIR WORLD WE LIVE IN, IT MUST BE A MORAL EXERCISE TO CULTIVATE THE SENSES, WHICH ARE THE VERITABLE WINDOWS OF THE SOUL WITHIN.

This topic leads us naturally and easily in other directions of thought. For example, we are led to inquire into the LIMITATIONS OF OUR SENSES and also into the question OF THE POSSIBILITY OF OUR EXTENDING THEIR RANGE through the aids of science, as, naturally, we might pass to an inquiry regarding the senses of our lower neighbors and seek to learn something of their special extent and powers.

The electrical side of the world's phenomena is that to which we naturally turn with the highest expectation of receiving confirmation that the RANGE OF HUMAN SENSES IS BEING EXTENDED APACE. A quarter of a century ago or so Hertz discovered the electric waves which bear his name and made wireless telegraphy possible. A further development leads us to note how certain conditions may interfere with the progress and direction of such waves.

SCIENCE HAS LONG SINCE DEMONSTRATED THAT OUR FIVE SENSES HAVE CERTAINLY TO BE INCREASED BY THREE OR FOUR OTHERS, among them the heat sense and the sense of weight. Our senses and ourselves are the products of a long, long evolution, and it has been asked whether, in the future of humanity, a development of what may be called AN ELECTRICAL SENSE might not be possible. With, say, an eye adapted for the exercise of such functions it has been said we might be ABLE TO SEE FROM LONDON WHAT WAS HAPPENING IN NEW YORK or witness the progress of any movement in Melbourne. But these things are dreams today—ONLY SOME DREAMS "COME TRUE."

TAWAS CITY, MICH., Sept. 16 1904

The fifteenth reunion of Custer's Seventh Michigan cavalry, one of the most famous of the dashing fighting regiments of the civil war, will be held in Saginaw, September 26 and 27.

Russel C. Ostrander, of Lansing, Chas. A. Blair, of Jackson and A. V. McAlvey, of Manistee, were the successful candidates for the nomination for the supreme bench of the state at the hands of the republicans at Saginaw last week.

The last legislature enacted a law which the person who handles the cash for a school district will hereafter be known as the "treasurer" instead of the "assessor," as has previously been the case. Another law provides that when a person elected an officer of the district ceases to be a taxpayer of the district, his office is vacant, and must be filled by a taxpayer. Another act provides that any school district which maintains a school during five months of the year, having children residents therein who have completed the studies of the eighth grade in said school may at any annual meeting vote a tax sufficient to pay the tuition and daily transportation of said children to any high school the school board may select and designate.

Doherty Should be Defeated.

Doherty, the "bell-cow" of the senate, is up again for election in the 28th district. This district is composed of Alcona, Arenac, Clare, Crawford, Gladwin, Iosco, Missaukee, Ogemaw, Oscoda and Roscommon. In the election in 1902 Doherty received a total of 6,771 votes to 3,571 for Robert R. Pointer, a majority of 3,200 for the former.

A candidate having the assurance of 3,200 majority at the outset, ought not to feel anyway doubtful as to his success. No candidate would were he conscious of having represented his constituents to the best of his ability. Mr. Doherty however stands in a slippery place and may be supplanted in the senate by the democratic nominee. If the people of the 28th district become thoroughly aroused and do their duty to themselves they will decide in November to force Mr. Doherty to remain at home.

It is the misfortune of the district not to be more evenly matched politically. The republicans are entrenched behind a large majority and naturally feel secure in the coming contest, yet there have been surprises recorded in elections.

Justin K. Mead, of Omer, is the democratic nominee. He can be vouched for by The Evening Times. He formerly lived in Bay City, his father was an old and respected citizen of this county. He yet has relatives living here. If the people of the 28th district desire a clean, honest upright young man, a candidate who will work for their interests and who cannot be handled as dough by the railroads and corporations, they should vote for Mr. Mead.

Mr. Doherty should be defeated. He is a machine man and was instrumental in the defeat of the primary reform bill in the last legislature. There were 18 others of the same stamp in the senate.—Bay City Times

Why, "See Doherty?"

A Michigan senator who thought more of a Pullman pass than of his own freedom applied to the district agent of the company in this city. He was told to "See Doherty."

Why? Well, there is only one possible reason, and that is that Doherty is depended upon to certify the degree of service which a legislator has rendered to the transportation corporations with which the state machine is in league.

There couldn't be any other reason, could there? The railroads and their associate corporations are not disposed to give something for nothing. The agent knew that Mr. Westover was a senator. If it was the custom to extend courtesies of this kind to public officials without regard to how their votes were cast or their influence thrown, there would be no question about "seeing Doherty."

Evidently Mr. Doherty must be a sort of legislative timekeeper for the corporations that have favors to distribute. He admits that he has "got transportation for some of the boys now and then."

Again, why? Why do the "boys" need Doherty or any other particular person to attest their deserts in this respect?

Because it is easier for the representatives of these corporations to do business with some one man than with 132 legislators and a few score of state officers. Because it relieves them of the necessity of keeping a card catalogue with debits and credits to each senator or representative showing how useful he has been.

"See Doherty." If he is satisfied that you have neglected the public in our interest; that you can be depended upon to give value received—to use your official influence for such favors as we grant—you shall have it and welcome. He's our man up there, and if you get his O. K., the goods are yours and welcome.

It is something to the credit of the applicant in this case that he indignantly refused to have his influence certified; but Doherty's admission shows that others were less particular. Some of them saw Doherty and got their rewards.

If no quid pro quo were required, why should any legislator "see Doherty"?—Evening News.

The people of the 28th senatorial district should "see Doherty" stay at home, and allow J. K. Mead to represent them instead of Doherty representing the railroads.

A Boy's Wild Ride for Life.

With family around expecting him to die, and son riding for life, 18 miles, to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, W. H. Brown, of Leesville, Ind., endured deaths agonies from asthma; but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night." Like marvelous cures of consumption, pneumonia bronchitis, coughs, colds and grip, prove its matchless merit for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at G. S. Darling's and J. E. Dillon's drug store.

A Fall Race Meeting.

The management at Saginaw is to give a fall race meeting next week at Union Park. Those of our people who attended the summer meeting will remember the sensational racing of that meeting and will feel like going again. One thing can be said of the Saginaw races and that is that they are free from suspicious holding of horses, that should win, and the management is to be commended for its zeal in giving the patrons of racing their money's worth. This meeting is in no way connected with a fair and is in every sense a fall race meeting with $300 and $400, certainly very liberal offerings for fall events, and purses that will bring the cream of the county together for the last meeting of the season.

Henry Baker, of Crystal Falls, is visiting his sister Mrs. John McLenan, and renewing old acquaintances in the Tawas. Mr. Baker resided here about twenty-two years ago and can see many changes in the cities.

Wild rice is ripe, and Tawas Lake is the only place in the county where it can be found. If our duck hunters were onto their job, they could plant it in a hundred places within ten miles of here, and thus have a good feeding ground for the wild birds.

Now is the of the time year when the boys and girls sit on the front porch and look scornfully at the stars. Pretty soon she says, "What are you thinking about?" And he says, "Same thing you are." "Don't you try it," she says, "or I'll slap your face."

Sheriff Johnston took Anthony Raymond, of Wilber, to the asylum at Traverse City, Sunday evening. About two years ago Mr. Raymond was arrested and served one and one half years at Jackson for poisoning cattle. He has been an inmate at the county house of late.

One of our nearby exchanges in a recent issue contained the following: "There is a club of women in the city which ought to be called the automobile club, not that any of them own an automobile, but because they meet to 'run everybody down.' We got it in the neck the last time they met."

A Minneapolis man has invented an umbrella which folds up until it can be easily carried in an ordinary pocket. The rods and ribs are hollow and work on the telescope plan, and the inventor expects to make a great fortune out of the scheme. As a matter of fact, however, it is an awful mean trick to play on the man who is occasionally forced by circumstances to borrow his neighbor's umbrella while the owner is not looking.

A new time card went into effect on the D. & M. Ry., last Sunday. The Tawas Beach special has been discontinued. Fearful Odds Against Him.

Bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies: "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Best on earth for liver and kidney troubles and all forms of stomach and bowel complaints. Coaches in France.
 As regards the history of coaches in France, Henry IV. was assassinated in 1610. Soon after his death some engravings were published representing him being murdered in his carriage by Ravallac. It is from these that we get a fair idea of the coaches.

They are simply square boxes, measuring by scale six feet in length by three and a half feet in width, on four wheels of the same diameter, without any springs or straps and seating six persons in all—namely, two with their backs to the horses, two facing them and two more, one on each side of the two "boots" at the side. Each vehicle had a roof, resting on light columns, and curtains to draw or to let down.

This agrees well with the received accounts of the incident, according to one version of which Henry rode in an open carriage, and according to another that as soon as the fatal blow was delivered by the assassin the king's attendant who rode with him in the carriage drew the curtains, and, hiding the king from public view, assured the enraged people that he was only wounded.—Notes and Queries.

Cuban Women.

The Cuban women—and the men as well—are intensely affectionate. They say much in words, often more than their hearts feel. But they are very warm hearted. Every letter that I get from girl friends of six months' acquaintance is a love letter, full of passionate expressions of endearment. The Cuban women mature quickly, and a girl of fourteen in Cuba is as mature as a girl of seventeen here. Early marriages are the rule. The Cuban women are dainty, pretty and very like the French women, with many of the French ways and ideals. They care little for forming themselves into clubs for literary culture, and woman suffrage doesn't agitate them. They are vastly more interested in being clever needlewomen, good musicians, good housekeepers, charming sweethearts than in running the government.—Cor. Cincinnati Times-Star.

Farragut's Death.

Admiral Farragut's death was due to the selfishness of a woman. The admiral and his wife were coming from California, when a woman occupying a seat in front of them in the car opened a window. Admiral Farragut was ill, and the strong draft of wind which blew directly upon him chilled him. Mrs. Farragut asked the woman courteously if she would not kindly close the window, as it was annoying to her husband. The woman snapped out: "No, I won't close the window. I don't care if it does annoy him. I am not going to smother for him." Admiral Farragut thus caught a severe cold, which resulted in his death. A few days before the end came he said, "If I die, that woman will be held accountable."—Exchange.

Easy to Keep Afloat.

If every person knew that it is impossible to sink if one keeps his arms under water and moves his legs as if he were going upstairs, and that one may keep this motion up for hours before fatigue ends it, there would be few casualties. Such is the fact. Except where cramp renders motion impossible, the man who gets an involuntary ducking has small chance of drowning. He can generally keep afloat until rescuers appear. The people who drown are those who frantically wave their arms out of water and lose their self possession.—Chicago Journal.

The Castle in Chess.

The castle in chess owes its shape and name to a misunderstanding of its old Italian name, "rocco," as if it were "rocca" a castle or fortress. The words rocco, rook and roc (French) come from rokk, the old Persian name of the piece, which was in the shape of an elephant. Curiously enough, the elephant carried a little castle on his back, and the position of the piece on the board seemed suitable for a castle.

By Jupiter, Take This.

The letter "R" at the head of all prescriptions is derived from the Latin word recipe, the imperative meaning "take." The little dart over the tail of the "R" is the symbol of Jove, or the Latin god Jupiter, and invests the writer with his authority—by the power of Jupiter. Therefore the sign properly reads, "By Jupiter, take this."

Good Meeting.

The Alpena Baptist Association has just closed an interesting yearly meeting at the Hemlock Baptist church. The association consists of over twenty churches, extending from Onaway to Twining. The exercises closed last evening with a young people's meeting and a "What have you gained?" service. Subjects of great and vital interest were discussed at the gathering. The delegates were strong in their praise of the generous hospitality and kindness shown throughout the time of entertainment. Resolutions were adopted thanking the people of the church and community; special mention was made and hearty thanks extended to the choir who rendered excellent service at all the meetings; to the ladies who supplied the convention with bountiful meals; and the Orangemen who generously donated the use of their hall. An exceedingly pleasant meeting, as well as an inspiring one, was much enjoyed by all present, who will go to their homes to engage in better living and work for the coming year.

Nunn has leased two acres of land of his father, I. B. Nunn, and is erecting a new house. About ten of our Hale people attended the excursion to Mackinac Island Sunday. All report a fine time. A car load of fine cattle was shipped from here Tuesday, also four cars were loaded between here and Rose City. Several Hale Lake people were Prescott visitors this week and Mrs. D. Henry and children have not yet returned. W. H. Esmond who had the misfortune a few weeks ago to lose a valuable horse, is about to lose another. There seems to be an epidemic among the horses. Mrs. Denstep died at her home Thursday night, having been a great sufferer from cancers. The funeral was held at the house Sunday. She leaves a husband, four sons and one daughter. Miss Florence McDonald's resignation was accepted by the school board and Miss Alberta Pringle has taken her place as principal of the school, and Miss Della Shaver is teaching the intermediate grades.

He conducted services in the South Branch school house Sunday evening. Last Tuesday morning a cowardly attempt was made to burn the saloon of Cripps & Perkins. The building and fixtures were damaged to the extent of five hundred dollars or more. Mr. Cripp's family were asleep up stairs and narrowly escaped death. Sheriff Benjamin arrived Tuesday evening to investigate the matter.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Profit in Poultry.
With a fifty acre farm, one-half devoted to poultry culture and the other to the raising of grain, a man can with one hired assistant clear more money in a year than he could had he worked a section of land for all it was worth. He can grow fowls—chickens, turkeys, ducks and geese—both for eggs and meat, and with our rapidly growing population and the consequent increasing demand there will never be a time when a young chicken will beg for a place in the market at from 25 to 30 cents. On the contrary, the market will beg for the fowls at prices from 25 to 50 per cent higher. Poultry is as sure a crop as any that may be grown on the farm. True, you may have cholera or some other troublesome disease, and your flock may be greatly reduced, but are not droughts and cyclones likely to play equally as much havoc with growing crops?—Ohio Poultry Journal.

To Dissolve Bones For Fertilizer.
Farm and Ranch, in answer to the inquiry as to the best method of dissolving bones for farm fertilizers, says: Without expensive machinery sulphuric acid cannot be used to dissolve bones and prepare them as a fertilizer for farm crops. Instead of this, substitute bleached ashes and dissolve bones almost entirely in the following manner: Put down a layer of bones six inches thick in a circular form. Cover these with strong wood ashes six inches deep and on this another layer of bones until a depth of three or four feet has been reached. Keep this pile thoroughly moist for some six or eight weeks, and at the end of this time the ashes will have dissolved a large per cent of the phosphoric acid and lime contained in the bones.

New Milk Process.
A new French process of sterilizing milk—the fat of the milk is thoroughly broken up after heating, thus avoiding the lumpiness of the cream, which consumers have found so objectionable. It is said that when cream is treated by this machine it is rendered quite homogeneous, and the fact that the fat globules are broken up makes the cream look thicker and become more uniform. When milk and cream are treated by a homogenizing machine they mix more thoroughly with tea and coffee. Having seen the advantages of the process, some of the largest dairy companies in London have ordered machines.

Profitable Chicken Feeding.
Many careful tests in chicken feeding have shown that as great gains are as cheaply and more easily made when the chickens, in lots not to exceed 100, are put in a house with a floor space of 75 to 100 feet and a yard of corresponding size as when they are divided into lots of four birds each and confined in latticed coops just large enough to hold them. Four weeks have been about the limit of profitable feeding, both in the large and small lots. Chickens gain faster while young. Birds from 150 to 175 days old give comparatively small gains.

Lime For Fowls.
The best way to give lime to fowls is in the form of bones, either fresh or finely broken or burned and in ash. Then the lime will be digested easily and supply the needs of the fowls healthfully. And, as all animals that feed on vegetable food need salt to refresh the gastric fluid and restore the wastes of the body, this is the best and most safely given in small quantities with the food every day. Salt in excess is a most acrid poison.—Farmer's Advocate.

Handling Hogs.
A test was made recently on two loads of hogs numbering 121 hogs. They were weighed just as they came from the cars before feeding or watering. After being sold, fed and watered they were reweighed and showed a gain of 800 pounds over and above the first weights. The owner of the hogs did not know this test was made. Country shippers who think hogs do not gain when properly handled should "paste this in their hat."—Chicago Live Stock World.

The Best Garden Manure.
The best manure for the garden is that obtained from the barnyard. Some farmers consider horse manure worth twice as much as that of the cow or pig. Experience shows that few crops draw more heavily on the soil than vegetables. This is explained from the fact that sometimes two or more crops are taken from the same garden in one season; therefore it does not pay to stint on fertilizers.—American Agriculturist.

The Valuable Sheep.
Sheep excrement is one of the richest and most valuable fertilizers which can be applied to growing crops, and the animal which makes it brings in many other valuable returns for the feed and care bestowed upon it. The carcass and the fleece are, under ordinary conditions, sources of considerable income to the farmer, and the animal is almost indispensable in subdividing fine lands.—Farmer's Advocate.

Bran as Hog Feed.
Bran is not a very satisfactory ration for pigs, says American Agriculturist. It carries a large amount of protein, but it also contains a lot of fibrous material which the pigs cannot utilize. It is better to feed bran to cows and to buy middlings for pigs.

Feed For Wool.
Wool is a product from feeding, just the same as fat is or flesh, and the flock should be fed with a view to wool growth and that of fine quality.

The SPORTING WORLD

Joe Grim Improving.
After being punched, cuffed, beaten, bruised and hammered enough to earn the title of "human punching bag," Joe Grim, the Italian pugilist whom Jeffries refused to kill, gives every indication of becoming a fighter after all. In his last two bouts he has evinced a desire to fight back that makes him a dangerous man for the average fighter, for he can take unlimited punishment and still stand up. In his battle with Ed Smith in Chester, Pa., recently he fought back hard in every round in place of standing around to be punched, which is supposed to be his forte. As a result Smith was all at sea, and the Italian had him all but out in several rounds. If Grim continues to fight back in accordance with his present style he may make it interesting for some of the pugilists who took delight in punching him about the ring in Philadelphia last winter.

Champion Thomas Kieley.
Thomas Kieley, winner of the all round championship at St. Louis, is without doubt the most prominent figure in the athletic world today. His record is certainly a phenomenal one. He is the holder of eighty championships, the creator of forty records and the possessor of 1,500 prizes. He has for years had the honor of holding the all round championships of Ireland and Great Britain. Not content with these honors, he crosses the pond and adds another championship honor to his list. Kieley's victory at St. Louis was no fluke. He was pitted against the best all round men in America. To see this "son of Erin" in street clothes no one would ever take him to be the great athlete that he really is. His development is so uniform that his gigantic strength is not noticeable. His features are rather sharp, and his face lacks that rugged appearance characteristic of the American athlete. It is only when you see Kieley's enormous chest that you realize from whence comes the force to throw the fifty-six pound weight thirty-eight feet eleven inches with one hand. Kieley is thirty-one years old.

Sport Is Costly.
To give a faint idea of the cost of a wealthy sportsman's summer outing, here is a list of one who was going to take a party with him to his British Columbia camp, which is a very comfortable one, built of logs and completely furnished. He provided ammunition for the party, but did not of course provide arms for them. Here is a list of his purchases:

Long Now With Washington.
Herman Long has signed with the American league Senators. A few years ago such an announcement would have stirred the baseball world, for then Herman was as great a shortstop as the game ever developed. But Herman's wonderful arm of those days is disabled, his batting eye has grown dim and his feet less active, although he still possesses that same good bend for "inside" playing. With no extra infielder to help out in emergencies Herman is a good fellow for Washington to have around.

Heard's Harness Candidates.
John Heard of Venango, Pa., is at the Cleveland track with four horses. Bessie, 2:19 1/4, by Wilton, won all of her four races last year and will go down the grand circuit line this year. Miss Roberts, by Superior Wilkes; Little Jim, by Sentinel Wilkes, and Baron Harold, by Baron Bell, 2:00, are doing nicely.

Jack Doyle.
Jack Doyle's grip on his job with the Philadelphia Nationals is slowly slipping, and the once clever player will likely soon list to the plaudits of the feverish minor league fans.

WHY DO SO MANY PEOPLE RIDE CRESCENTS

Twice as many Crescent bicycles as any other have been bought annually for the last six years.

WHY DOES THE NUMBER OF CRESCENT RIDERS INCREASE EACH YEAR

Crescent sales have increased steadily year after year.

You can answer these questions yourself if you will come to our store and see a Crescent. Probably then we will not need to ask.

WHY DON'T YOU RIDE A CRESCENT
