 Farmer O. S. Nichols, came down from Reno Tuesday for supplies. "O. S.'s" description of his getting settled on the Renno farm, is certainly worthy of note. He finds it rather difficult to get light on a dark night with no wick for his lantern, and says he is the only man in the county who can set up a stove without a stove pipe. However he thinks he will have things running smooth soon and will be ready to entertain his friends.
Wanted—Girls to work in silk factories. Permanent employment, good wages, clean, healthy work. Car use 50 to 100 more girls. Address BELDING BROS. & Co., Belding, Mich.
 From a letter received from J. J. Renno, we learn of his safe arrival at Farmville, Va. He wishes to be remembered to his friends here, and says he had a fine trip although a little tiresome, being six days and six nights on the cars. He says he received the most courteous treatment from all the railroad officials, but especially commends those of the D. & M. He reports fine weather in Virginia and a most hospitable lot of people.
 A report of the railroad accidents in the United States during the months of October, November and December, 1904, has been compiled by the interstate commerce commission. It shows that in that quarter 53 passengers and 189 employees were killed, and 1,430 passengers and 1,868 employees injured a total of 242 persons killed and 3,298 injured in train accidents. The report indicates a decrease of 175 killed and 624 injured as compared with the preceding quarter.

Don't have pictures enlarged by agents, for they are rarely satisfactory. Our's are guaranteed.
 HUTCHINSON, the photographer.
 The report of the county board of canvassers shows that Joseph B. Moore received 983 votes in the county for justice of the supreme court, Vernon H. Smith, democrat, 320, W. S. Westerman, prohibitionist, 31; John H. Johnson, socialist, 31; Anthony Lowent, socialist-labor, 11.
 The vote on regents of the university was about the same. For county road commissioner, Forrest C. Ebling received 958 votes and Thomas F. Robinson 336. For circuit judge, Main J. Conime received 996. The amendments relative to the salary of circuit judge and providing for a board of auditors for Genessee county, both received very light votes, the vote on the first being, yes 149, no 47, and on the last 178 yes and 58 no. On the amendment to the constitution providing for state aid for public wagon roads the vote was 1110 yes and 223 no.
 Are you going to buy a watch at wholesale? I will be here about four weeks longer so come quick. Second-hand watches at almost your own price.
 G. T. WOOD,
 East Tawas.

The last number of the local entertainment course occurred Monday night, when our people were given an intellectual feast by Robert Parker Miles, with his lecture, "Tallow Dip." A more enjoyable number has never been had since the establishment of the course, and the idea that lectures are the least desirable of any of the entertainments, was most successfully contradicted. This seasons course has been of the highest class and although costing considerable more than previous years, has been a success financially and otherwise.
 For Sale Cheap for cash, or on time, a house and lot, also a blacksmith shop and 145 feet of lake front. Will sell as a whole or separate. Also a set of blacksmith tools. Address Thomas J. Armstrong, Tawas City, Mich.
 A special meeting of the members of the Ioseo county agricultural society has been called for the 29th inst., to consider the matter of selling the fair grounds to Ioseo county. The board of supervisors has interested its self in the society with the idea of putting it in good condition by purchasing the grounds and paying the outstanding indebtedness and then leasing the grounds to the agricultural society until such time as it is in condition to purchase them again. In order to accomplish this it was necessary to have a special act passed by the legislature, authorizing the county to buy and the society to sell. This act has been passed and all that now remains is for the board of supervisors to take the necessary action to purchase and the society to sell.

Non-breakable fronts are a distinctive feature of Clothcraft coats.

The coat cannot sag. It is hung from the neck and shoulders with an overlapping arrangement of canvas and haircloth which distributes the strain on the same principle that a skilled engineer uses in constructing a truss bridge.

The canvas does not extend to the edge, which must be thin. But the edges of all Clothcraft coats are reinforced with a stay of non-elastic tape. No other ready-for-service clothes have this very essential feature at Clothcraft prices.

Clothcraft collars are all padded and felled to the coat. They fit closely and "stay put."

The pockets are thoroughly stayed with an extra thickness of strong thin elastic. There is also a narrow strong tape running from the pocket corners to the sleeve seam thus putting part of the pocket strain on this seam.

These are only a few of many well thought out, scientific and practical points in Clothcraft.

Clothcraft Clothes are made for looks and service and for the money give more of both than any other brand.

New Dress Goods

The ladies of the Tawas and vicinity are invited to call and see our handsome new line of Dress Goods which are now on sale. Orders by Mail.

A number of merchants in Holly and vicinity are greatly affected by mail order houses. Some have made a study of the goods shipped into this locality and their observations are worthy of attention by all readers.

Local merchants have surely learned that considerable trade they should have is supplied by Chicago firms who are catching the public with cheap goods at cheap prices.

Among other facts are those learned by talks with large manufacturers in regard to the goods handled by mail order houses. They all state that in the first place the mail order houses take all the seconds the factories have and order more, directing that the weight be lightened or less work done on the goods or anything to cheapen them.

Binder twine and sewing machines are well known examples. In the former the manufacturer testified that the catalogue house made the price and he made the twine to suit the price offered. Of course, the twine was dear at any price. Sewing machines are quoted from $6.80 up. If you order one of the $6.80 kind you will receive several letters wanting you to try the better ones. They say they will sell you a machine for $18 as good as the local dealer charges $35 for. Local dealers have machines from $12 to $35 with liberal discount for cash. No standard makes of machines are sold cheaper one place than another.

It is on stoves or other articles in which there is much iron or steel that the mail order houses practice their greatest deception. They offer a stove that appears like a standard make $18 to $22 stove for $8. If they have an $8 or $10 stove as good as the one the local dealers sell for $16 or $18, the latter would gladly buy them by the carload of Mr. Mail Order House. But they haven't. They have undersized light weight pot metal, makeshifts that a local dealer would not dare handle. The difference in weight between a firstclass hard coal burner and a mail order burner said to be "just the same" is 215 pounds, which at 7 cents a pound, the price of outside castings, would make $17.05. Scraping is done in the nickle parts that cost from 15 to 20 cents a pound. Then there is the difference in workmanship and material, the one party trying to see how cheap he can turn out his goods. They must figure the freights, drayage, mounting, blacking extra pipe, damper and delivering. "Very often" says the merchant, "we have to go out and close up a flae hole a little, and a great many other things that we have to look after which add on hard coal stoves or range from $3 to $5 each. If you will buy the same goods under the same conditions your home merchant can take better care of you than one several hundred miles away.

"Mail order stoves are made in foundries where the moulders suffer no discounts for poor castings. Defective castings all enter into stoves. If there are big air holes in them they are plugged with rivets and the small holes are filled with 'gumbo' a preparation that answers the same purposes for the stove maker that putty supplies for the carpenter or painter."

Continuing the merchant says: "There are very few people that always have the cash to pay for goods. It comes handy to have a home merchant. Then give him a fair show by giving him your cash when you have it. The home merchant helps you in trying to give you your money's worth as he expects to see you again. He helps to consume your produce or to find a market for it. He is asked for contributions to help build churches and many other things which you would not think of going to Chicago and asking.

"A stove example has come within my knowledge. A woman bought a stove of a Chicago mail order house for $7.65. It weighs 146 pounds and has a 14-inch oven. Without any intention of deerying her choice, we ask that anyone think for a moment of a cooking stove weighing 145 pounds. The lightest one we found in a large hardware store was 270 pounds and the dealer isn't proud of it nor lavish of his recommendations. He calls it a 'cheap' stove. He will sell it for $11.70 cash. It has an 18-inch oven—four inches wider than the other, but that only half tells it, for the 18 in oven is almost square, while the 14-inch loses a third of its length for practical use by the fire box being over the front end of it. The Chicago stove is sold 'sight unseen'. In mere weight alone (remember good castings cost 7 cents a pound) the stove has an advantage of more than twice the metal for only a half more money. The cost is over a cent a pound in favor of the home stove. But, after all, the real test is in quality. There are castings sold for a cent or two a pound. They are old iron recast, and dear at any price. 'Pot' metal that will stand neither strain nor fire."—Holly Advertiser.

Last Hope Vanished.

When leading physicians said that W. M. Smithart, of Pekin, Ia., had incurable consumption, his last hope vanished, but Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, kept him out of his grave. He says: "This great specific completely cured me, and saved my life. Since then, I have used it for over 10 years and consider it an excellent throat and lung cure." Strictly scientific cure for coughs and colds; sure preventative of pneumonia. Guaranteed 50c and $1.00 bottles at G. S. Darling and J. E. Dillon's drug store. Trial bottle free.

ORDER OF HEARING.

STATE OF MICHIGAN,) County of Iosco,) SS.

At a session of the Probate for said county, held at the Probate office, in the city of Tawas City on the seventeenth day of March in the year of one thousand nine hundred and five.

Present Hon. Alfred K. Weir, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of William H. Slingerland deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Benjamin W. Slingerland praying among other things that administration of said estate may be granted to Benjamin W. Slingerland or to some other suitable person. Therefore it is ordered, that Friday, the fourteenth day of April next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be holden in the Probate office, the city of Tawas City, and show cause if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted: And it is further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to all persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Tawas Herald a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous said day of hearing.

ALABASTINE

YOUR WALLS.

Alabastine produces exquisitely beautiful effects on walls and ceilings. Easy to apply, simply mix with cold water. Better than kalsomine, paint or wall paper. It is not a kalsomine, it is a sanitary, permanent, cement coating, which hardens on the walls, destroying disease germs and vermin, never rubbing or scaling. Kalsomines mixed with either hot or cold water soon rub or scale off. They contain glue, which decays and nourishes the germs of deadly diseases.

Refuse all imitations and substitutes. Call for free samples of tints and information about decorating.

This weather makes you think of having your leaky roof repaired or a new one put on. I handle several different kinds of good roofing, which I can perfectly guarantee if I can put it on myself or if it is put on right.
Let me again call your attention to cave-troing, with which every house should be amply provided. I will give attention to small jobs as well as large ones.
Now is also the time to have plumbing done up in good shape, sanitary plumbing I mean, and everything that pertains to such. My Bicycle Repair shop and supplies of all kinds will be favored by the wheelmen. Modern and experienced work guaranteed. I have a number of good customers whose patronage I appreciate and will now heartily thank them for their already expressed satisfaction. You will always find me true to my work and word. To the one who aims to do me I say look out for
