The Detroit Journal has made arrangements for the exclusive publication in Michigan, beginning May 20, of, "The Secret History of Today," written by Monsieur V—, an international diplomatic spy. These stories which reveal the secrets of the great powers, and throw light on many dark spots in the world politics, have been forbidden publication in several European countries.

The report of Michigan's coal industry for the 12 months ending November 30, 1904, was published in full in the 22d annual report of the Commissioner of Labor recently given to the public. During the year there was an average of 28 mines, large and small, in operation. The output of coal for the 12 months was 1,414,834 tons, an average of 117,906 tons each month. The average cost of mining this coal was $2.286, 160.21, or an average of $1.62 per ton.

Ephriam Webb, of Tawas township, left at our office this week a copy of the Ulster County Gazette, published at Kingston, Ulster Co., New York, by Samuel Frazer & Son. The remarkable thing about the paper is that it was printed January 4th, 1800, making it more than 105 years old. It contains an account of the opening of congress on Dec. 10, 1799, and President John Adams' message. One of the most interesting things is the announcement to congress of the death of George Washington. In announcing the sad event, the paper says: "Mr. Marshall with deep sorrow on his countenance, and in a low, pathetic tone of voice, rose and addressed the House."

Death of Henry M. Loud.

Henry Martyn Loud, millionaire lumberman of AuSable, and well known throughout the state, passed away at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, May 13th, at the Oak Grove sanitarium Flint, Mich., where he has been for the past two years. He was unconscious at the time of death.

Mr. Loud was 81 years old, having been born at West Hampton, Mass., December 11, 1824. When seven years of age his parents moved to Kirkland, Ohio, where he remained until 1855. While there most of his time was spent on a farm. He then went to Concord, N. H., and entered a Methodist biblical institute, from which he was graduated in 1858. At an early age he became a licensed preacher, and preached at Lowell, Boston and other places until his health compelled him to change his occupation, and in 1865 he removed to AuSable and engaged in the lumber business. Mr. Loud and brother, A. R. Loud, T. Priest and A. F. Gay were the founders of the Methodist church at that place in the autumn of 1865. Mr. Loud often preached there, and on account of his high rank attained in this line it was considered a rare treat when he occupied the pulpit. In politics he was an active and prominent republican. The firm which Mr. Loud first organized was known as Loud, Priest & Shepard, in 1866, and 1884 was incorporated as H. M. Loud & Sons company, which it remained until a few years ago, when Mr. Loud relinquished his interest and it became H. M. Loud Sons' company. Mr. Loud leaves five children, Congress-George A. Loud, Edward F., Henry N. and William F., of California, and one daughter, Mrs. A. F. Gay, of Boston, Mass.

The remains were taken from Flint to AuSable Monday morning, and laid in state from 11 until 1 o'clock Tuesday at the Methodist church, at which place the funeral was held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The remains were then taken to Detroit where they were placed in a vault.

"Uncle Tom."

This famous play which dates back so far that some people have a vague idea that it caused the war of the rebellion, has been presented with religious regularity each dramatic season, sometimes with double little Evas and double Uncle Toms even, but never has it been given with such an elaborate stage dressing and realistic effects as this. In fact, several of the features are in themselves sufficiently novel to make it worth while going to see Uncle Tom's Cabin for the forty seventh time. The company is strong. But the leading feature of the production is the gorgeous transformation scene painted by Sosman & Landis, which represents "little Eva in the golden realms." The tableau is a beautiful and striking one, representing the flight of the angles of death and the opening of the golden gates. There are also several other noteworthy stage settings, representing a cotton picking scene, Eliza crossing the ice, etc. Some very pleasing singing of plantation melodies is given by a colored quartette, and there is some wing dancing that is a great novelty. Palmer's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. will appear under a big waterproof tent at East Tawas on Friday evening, May 26. Admission 25 cents.

A Creeping Death.

Blood poison creeps up towards the heart, causing death. J. E. Stearns, Belle Plaine, Minn., writes that a friend dreadfully injured his hand, which swelled up like blood poisoning. Bucklen's Arnica Salve drew out the poison, healed the wound, and saved his life. Best in the world for burns and sores. 25c at G. S. Darling's and J. E. Dillon's drug store.

Tawas Beach Regatta.

Announcing the dates for the Tawas Beach Yachting association regatta as August 9-12 inclusive, the Tawas Beach association expects to corral a big bunch of yachts from the lower lakes on the return trip from the Detroit-Chicago cruise to Mackinac island. Three days' racing will be given, the cash prizes aggregating $570, while three trophies are up: The Detroit Free Press silver punch bowl for 21-footers, the Bay City Tribune cup for power yacht races, and the D. & M. cup for the free-for-all handicap.

The Detroit & Mackinac railroad has now under construction an addition to the breakwater and pier nearly 500 feet in length, providing ample shelter for as big a fleet as could be gotten together on the lakes. A number of improvements have been made at the beach, 38,000 shrubs and trees having been set out under the supervision of the forestry department of the University of Michigan, and 500 feet of new shore line walk has been laid. Special attention will be paid to social features at the regatta, the meeting opening with a smoker the night of August 9. An orchestra will be in attendance continually. Commodore Fletcher, of Alpena, will again fly his flag from the Winyah, and several other private yachts are scheduled to attend. The program and prizes follow:

August 9—Rendezvous of yachtsmen and smoker in clubhouse.

August 10—10:30 a. m.—Free-for-all power boat race for Bay City Tribune cup and $100 cash prizes. Bay City Tribune cup and $50, $30, $20. 1:30 p. m.—Free-for-all handicap for D. & M. cup and $150 cash prizes. Yachts on D. & M. points only eligible for cup; all yachts eligible for cash prizes. D. & M. cup, pennant and $75, $40, $25, $10.

August 11—10 a. m.—Twenty-one-foot class are for Detroit Free Press silver punch bowl and $150 cash. Boats to comply I. L. Y. A. class restrictions. Detroit Free Press bowl and $75, $40, $25, $10. 2 p. m.—Special cruising class race for boats of forty feet measurement or greater. Prizes to be announced.

August 12—10:00 a. m.—Free for-all handicap race for $150. All yachts under 25 feet racing length to take 25-foot racing measurements. Pennant and $75; $40; $25; $10. 4:00 p. m.—Dingie race for members of yacht crews; first prize, $10, $5, $3, $2. Rules of the Yacht Racing Union will govern with the special rules of the I. CHAPTER XV.

Here is the chemical composition of two typical soils, one sand, the other clay, as given by King in the work from which we have quoted so incessantly, the figures reporting the per cents in dry soil.

	Sand	Clay	Swamp	Subsoils
Potash	.121	.319	.629	.314
Lime	.085	.617	3.786	1.481
Magnesia	.018	.456	.886	.199
Phosphoric acid	.087	.141	.150	.129
Sulphuric acid	.055	.075	.148	.071
Organic matter and water	2.607	4.525	13.943	4.780

It is not to be supposed that these figures apply to all clays and all sands. On the other hand, the two types of soil run into each other in chemical constitution as they do in physical make up. In general, the statement of the table is correct and significant although these chemical differences are to be accounted for partly by the greater fineness of the clay particles and the therefore more rapid solution of parts. Note that the swamp soils contain twice as much potash as the clay, six times as much lime and fully twice as much sulphuric acid and organic matter, yet it is a matter of common observation that these humus soils are rarely as productive as clay lands. This emphasizes the point that you cannot judge of the productivity of a soil by chemical analysis alone. You must know the texture and the presence or absence of the right bacteria. Although the figures showing the per cents of the several important ingredients seem small, remember that they are multiplied into a great weight of soil for an acre so that the absolute amounts of plant food per acre in our common soils is very large. King has calculated for us the amounts of plant foods in the top foot per acre in pounds in the three great types of soils. His results are given in the next table.

	Sand	Clay	Muck
Potash	2.42	6.38	6.39
Lime	1.70	12.81	37.86
Phosphoric acid	1.74	2.82	1.50

In making these estimations the weight of the top foot of clay and sand was reckoned at 4,000,000 pounds and that of muck as 2,000,000 pounds. In this connection it is interesting to note the amount of plant food taken off the soil by the several common crops of the state, again quoting from King to whom we owe to much and who has been of such lasting and important benefit to the farmers of America by his careful and accurate work. We shall have simply the amounts of nitrogen, phosphoric acid, lime and potash carried off in 1000 pounds of straw and grain.

	Nitrogen	Phos acid	Potash	Lime
Corn, stalks	4.3	3.8	16.4	4.9
grain	16.0	5.7	3.7	4.3
Oats, straw	5.6	2.8	16.3	4.3
grain	17.6	6.2	4.8	1.0
Wheat, straw	4.8	2.2	6.3	2.7
grain	20.8	7.9	5.2	2.7
Clover hay	19.7	5.6	18.6	30.1

A study of this table is well worth the while of every thinking farmer. While a comparison of the two tables last given might give him an idea at first that there was plenty of plant food in the soil to last for generations he would soon think that this plant food will have to last for generations and that therefore nature has wisely locked it up in forms almost insoluble and that the farmer can secure enough of the plant food for his crops only by doing two things, first putting his soil in the best possible physical condition so that the air can get at it to aid in nitrification and in feeding the bacteria making soluble the phosphates and to aid in keeping the water supply constant and in right amount, and secondly applying barnyard manure frequently to build up humus, which in turn maintains the waterholding capacity and supplies food for the needed soil bacteria.

The muck soils have plenty of nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash yet will seldom produce crops until a fresh amount of fresh stable manure is added. The function of this manure is not to supply increased amounts of the bacteria for the "life" of the soil. Luckily, no matter how greedy the farmer can be, he cannot deplete the soil below a certain point and must leave a large supply of plant food for coming generations. It will take his skill along lines already mapped out, to secure enough from this storehouse to grow paying crops.

This chapter ends our work for the season. Beginning in late September we hope to take up the way nature grows plants, what the functions of root, stem and leaf are and how they perform them, what crops Michigan farmers should grow and how to grow them. Later we hope to devote many lessons to the great subject of the feeding and care of farm animals, thus giving to young people who cannot leave the farm an opportunity to know something of what is taught along lines interesting to them, at the Michigan Agricultural College.

He has been a resident of East Tawas for the past 24 years, and was a charter member of G. K. Warren Post G. A. R., under whose auspices the funeral was held on Tuesday last, Rev. H. G. Pearee, preaching the sermon. Besides the bereaved wife, he leaves, one son, E. R. Babcock, and three stepdaughters, Mrs. J. L. Frasier, of Grant township, and Misses Amanda and Mina Hamilton. Capt. Felcher Injured.
Captain George Felcher, who fell at the Davidson ship yard, Bay City, last week Monday sustaining a fracture of the collar bone and an injury to his head, was reported in a critical condition yesterday. Though the accident occurred about 2 o'clock, it was not until 4 o'clock that the people at the ship yard knew anything of it, and then they did not regard it serious enough, but they assisted him to an interurban car, and allowed him to come to Saginaw alone. It was after 7 o'clock when he reached his home and he could give no account of himself. The attending physician saw some evidence of a slight fracture of the skull at the base of the brain, but until Sunday it was not thought that his condition was critical. He remains in a partially stupid condition, though it was possible to arouse him yesterday for the purpose of having him execute some business papers. Members of his family have been summoned. He is at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Foster, 116 North Michigan avenue.—Saginaw Courier Herald

Important for District School Officers.
The present legislature passed an act which took immediate effect and it governs the annual school meetings of board of school inspectors, the taking of the census and reports to the departments of public instruction from boards of education. The changes in the law, briefly stated, are as follows:
The annual meeting of all school districts shall be held on the second Monday in July and the school year shall commence on that day. Trustees and officers date their terms of office from said day. The annual meeting of boards of school inspectors is to be held on the first Monday in August. The directors in each school district must deliver his annual report to the school inspectors on or before the first Monday in August. The district board between the second Monday in July and the first Monday in August must make out and deliver to the township clerk a statement of all taxes voted by the district which are to be levied for the ensuing year. The school census in all districts, other than in cities having a population of 3,000 or over, must be taken during the 15 days prior to the first Monday in June. In all cities having a population of 3,000 or over the census must be compiled and the statistical report made and filed with the department of public instruction, direct, on or before the second Monday in July. Formerly the census was taken the first ten days in September. It was also provided in the old law that the directors file their reports in November. The changes made are important ones and the commissioner urges the district school officers to make no mistake in following the provisions of the new act.

A CARD.
I beg to announce that the combination I have organized this season, for the presentation of Harriet Beecher Stowe's immortal drama, "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN," immeasurably superior, in every way, to any heretofore offered the public. To fully accomplish this I have spared no expense in securing the first choice of Historic Talent, Gorgeous and Appropriate Scenery, Mechanical and Electrical Effects, etc. My long experience as an amusement caterer has taught me that the best service offered is invariably the surest means of obtaining a Good Reputation, and by anticipating the requirements and desires of the theatre-going public, I am sure of establishing my own success in a managerial capacity. I therefore assure without fear of dissent, that I have succeeded in placing before the public the Great Drama, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," in a style of equipment that has never before been seen on the American stage.
Thanking the public for past favors, I beg to be Obediently,
A. W. PALMER.
