Weekly Crop Bulletin.

The mean daily temperature for the week ended June 19 was 67.1 degrees. or 0.4 of a degree above the normal; the average precipition was 0.60 of an inch, or 0.15 of an inch below the normal; the sunshine averaged 64 per cent of the possible amount.

Warm, drying weather has greatly mproved the condition of all outstanding crops and flooded low lands. The precipitation was comparatively light in the lower peninsula and the latter part of the week very warm. Wheat, rye, oats, barley, peas, meadows and pastures continue in very good condition. Wheat and rye have made splendid growth, are heading well and * beginning to turn in the southern counties. The condition of oats is generally improved and quite promising. The hot weather has greatly forwarded the growth of corn, which has made rapid progress, but on ac count of the previous wet weather is not well cultivated. Bean and late potato planting are well advanced in most counties. Sugar beets are making good stand. Early potatoes are in need of cultivation, but are making good growth and in the extreme southern conaties have begun to blossom. Field work at the beginning of the week was much in arrears, but the drying weather has greatly forwarded cultivation. The hay crop is generally promising, especially from new meadows. Young clover is about ripe and cutting will begin this week.

The condition of fruit has continued about the same, the prospect for apples, peaches, pears and plums being fairly good. The strawberries are ripening fast and the yield is quite abundant.
