Congressman Geo. A. Loud, with Secretary Taft and party left Hong Kong Sept. 6 on the steamer Korea, homeward bound. Miss Roosevelt and some others of the party will visit Pekin before returning.

In the last few days considerable has been published in Michigan newspapers about Governor Warner's determination to appoint Congressman Sam W. Smith, of the sixth district, as United State senator, in case Senator Alger should resign. Some of those who know Senator Alger best, however, say that his excellency may as well save himself the trouble of figuring out whom he ought to appoint in such a contingency, because the contingency will not occur. A close political friend of the senator's said yesterday that Gen. Alger told him: "I never had a thought of resigning."
Detroit Free Press.

The last legislature enacted a new law whereby juvenile offenders in counties the size of Iosco will be under the jurisdiction of the judge of probate instead of a justice of the peace. The new law which goes into effect Sept. 16, provides that in counties having 100,000 population the circuit court shall have charge of all minors. In counties of less than 100,000 and more than 25,000 all cases concerning children come within the jurisdiction of the circuit court commissioners. The probate court will attend to these cases in counties having less than 25,000 people. The commissioners will receive the same fees as those now received by the justice of the peace in such cases in addition to their regular salaries.

The governor will call the attention of the people of Michigan to the fact that Sept. 30 has been set aside by act of the legislature as "Memory Day," in response to the efforts of the State Association of Farmers' Clubs, with the object of improving the condition of the rural cemeteries throughout the state. The resolution presented by the organization mentioned and endorsed by the state grange, deprecates the manner in which the country cemeteries are neglected and asks that "all interested in the better care and condition of our rural cemeteries go to them on that day and do whatever is needed to place these hallowed portions of the earth in proper and becoming condition." Of course, the idea includes the general observation of the day and applies to city and village cemeteries as well as those in the country.—Saginaw Evening News.

The New York Evening Post has the following to say about the Russian situation: The Russian authorities, from the czar down, must not imagine that the world will take its eyes off the struggle for Russian liberty. The mere fact that the war has ended will not enable the autocracy to withdraw or nullify promises extorted from it while the conflict was raging. In the czar's address to his "dear army" there is an unpleasant, almost ominous note, as if he were thinking of the possibility that the bayonets which did not save him from Japan, might yet be useful against his own subjects. It is suggestive, to say the least, that the cessation of hostilities in Manchuria seems to have been a signal for renewed acts of rough military repression at home. But even the blindest autocrat cannot for long see the safety and the recovery of Russia in a return to the old policy. That is hopelessly discredited; the plunge into the new has been taken once for all; and freedom's battle in Russia will surely go on—and go on, this is the important thing for the czar's counsellors to remember, before a great cloud of witnesses.

Pensioners Decreasing.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The pension roll reached the maximum in its history January 21 last, the number being 1,004,196, the roll passed the million mark in September of last year and gradually increased for the next four months. The decline began with the first of last February, and by the following May had dropped below the million mark.

These facts are developed in a synopsis of the annual report of Pension Commissioner Warner covering the operations of his office for the fiscal year ending June 30 last.

The report shows the following additional facts: The annual value of the pension roll June 30, 1905, was $136,745,295. By the term "annual value" is meant the amount of money required to pay the pensioners then on the roll for one year.

During the year 42,883 pensioners were dropped from the roll by reason of death and of this number 30,324 were survivors of the civil war. June 30, 1905, the roll contained the names of 684,608 survivors of the civil war, a decrease of over 6,000 from the previous year.

The total amount disbursed for pensions for the fiscal year was $141,142,861 of which amount $3,197,166 was for navy pensions and $3,409,998 was paid to pensioners of the Spanish war, and $133,022,170 to the survivors of the civil war, their widows and dependents. The total amount paid to Spanish war pensioners since 1899, is $11,990,198.

The total amount of money paid for pensions since the foundation of the government is $3,320,860,033 and of this amount $3,144,395 has been paid on account of the civil war.

Weather and Crop Bulletin.

The weather for August was very favorable for growing crops. During the major portion of the month the temperature was several degrees above the average, the departure for the state, according to the Weather Bureau, being 1.6 degrees above the normal. The precipitation was 1.21 inches above the normal in the upper peninsula, about normal in the central part of the state and 1.12 inches above the normal in the southern counties. The departure for the state was 0.34 of an inch above the normal. Corn, beans, potatoes and sugar beets made rapid growth and regained much that was lost earlier in the season. It was too wet to secure oats in the best condition but other than this no serious damage was done.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennington, N. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." G. S. Darling and J. E. News from the Travelers.

The following letter was received from G. L. Cornville and Elmer Whitmore, who are taking a trip through the west:

Salida, Colo., Sept. 4, 1905.

Editor Herald:—We have nothing of importance to speak of that occurred on our trip until we left Chicago on the morning of August 31. On entering our train at the Rock Island station, we found it almost impossible to get a seat although we entered the train some time before it left. The train consisted of twelve coaches besides baggage, all the coaches were well filled, and very little if any space left in the sleeping cars. From the start we began to lose time on account of the heavy train and when we reached Rock Island were an hour late, being late, we lost our right against other trains and from that time on we entered nearly all the sidings between Davenport, Iowa, and Denver, reaching Denver about seven hours late.

At all stations where we stopped some new passengers entered and others left, but more entered than left. At De Moines, Iowa, we were taken by a rush. At this point the State Fair was going on, and being at the time of day when all the good folks were going home, young men and ladies of sixteen and a few bachelor girls and others nearing the seventy point, came with a rush until sitting room was at a premium, this added to what we had before, made it almost suffocation for the next three hours; by the time we reached Council Bluffs, we began to think that we could pass the balance of the night comfortably, this was about 11 p. m. and we settled down for the night, we settled until we reached Omaha, requiring about thirty minutes, when a train load of people for Denver were turned loose on us. Two of the male passengers had got two seats turned together, and were trying to hold them down hard, when along came a long, lean party and says, "you will have to divide up and I guess you may as well begin now." and the divide took place at once, with some little protest, that had no effect. Well, these parties that so joyously (?) gave up half of the space they had, sat bolt upright the balance of the night.

Such was the condition of affairs until Denver was reached. Here we were greeted by a large and enthusiastic crowd of people, many wanting us to go to their house, it being the best and all others being full; well we did not do as Uncle Ben Morgan did, follow the band wagon to find the circus, we turned a deaf ear and found a comfortable place not far away, where we thought all would be peace, and as quiet as Saginaw Bay without a breeze, imagine our surprise on coming down stairs the next morning, we were in it, right in the G. A. R. headquarters of both North and South Dakota. It was a full house.

The city of Denver has done itself proud in its street decorations. At short intervals wire had been stretched across the streets; from the wires at either end a flag was draped and tied back at the bottom, a little farther out on the wire was hung a small flag that floated free. This kind of decoration was followed throughout nearly the whole city; besides the public decorations many of the business houses decorated elaborately. The city placed at intervals across the streets electric wires forming the letter X, and from these wires incandescent lamps were hung about twelve inches apart, at the point where the wires crossed red lamps were used, then white and blue, the effect being, when looking along the street to see the national colors.

The private illuminations were especially fine. Will mention one, that of the Lewis Dry Goods Co. Their illumination covered the front of their store. It represented two curtains drawn to either side and festooned, revealing a large G. A. R. badge studded with lamps appropriate to the colors used in the badge.

Denver boasts of having the largest U. S. flag ever made, being 115 feet long, 55 feet wide, weighs about 475 pounds, and required more than 1000 yards of material in its construction. It is fastened to the side of a six story building at the corner of 16th and Arapahoe streets.

By tonight Denver will have more people within her gates than she ever had, or will have for some time. For the past three days every train has brought visitors. During last night and today trains have been arriving at shorter intervals, bringing people by the hundreds and thousands, every road is running special trains. This morning it was a crush at the Union depot, it was almost impossible to move about, only as the mass of people moved.

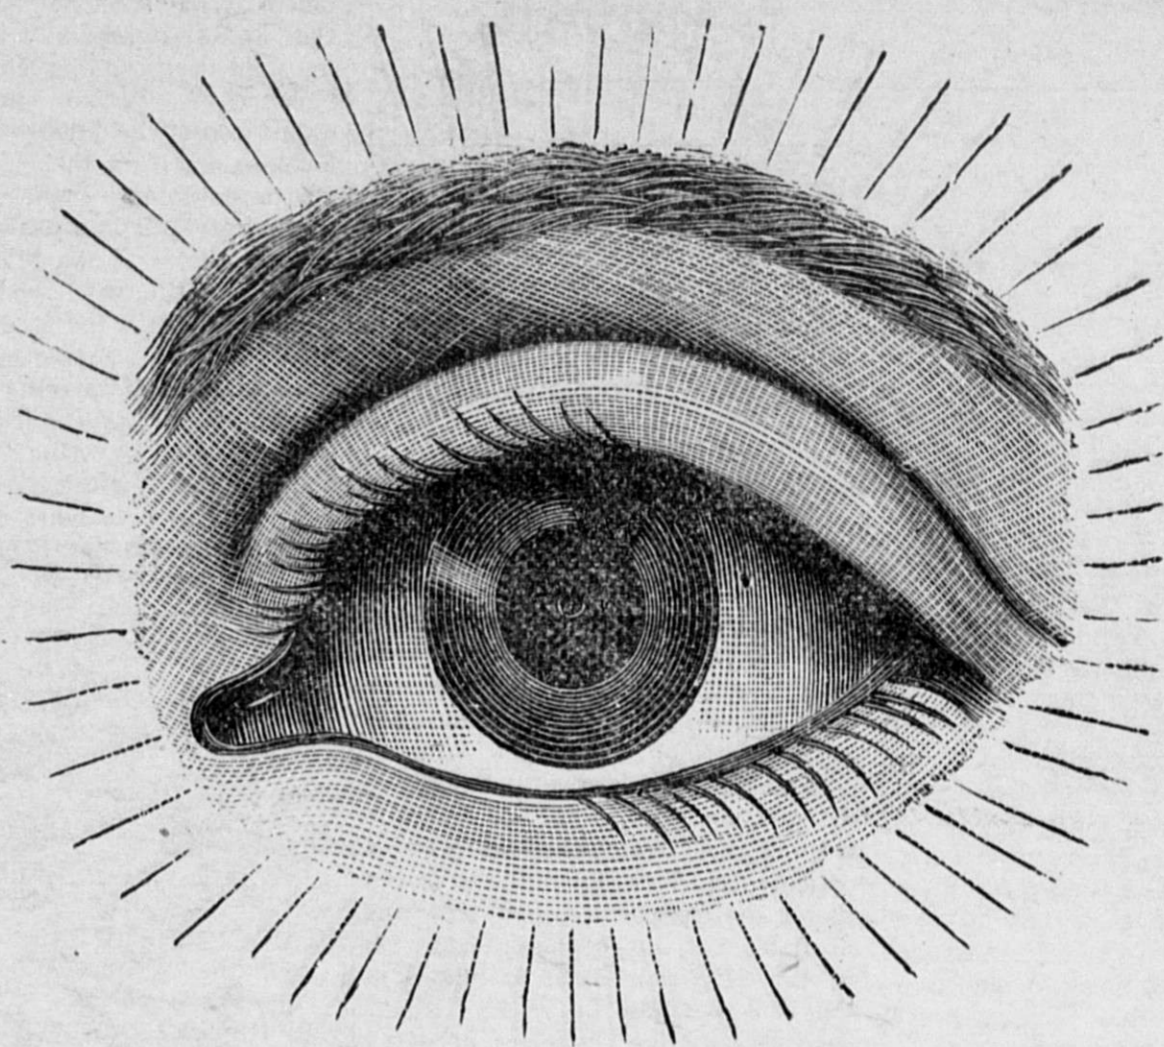

On the arrival of Commander King, of the Grand Army of the Republic, a very large escort met him at the depot and escorted him to the headquarters in the usual military style. For the next few days the G. A. R.'s will have full swing of the city. They are not so young as they once were, or as many in number. Their heads are white and their steps slow with age, but their spirits seem as good as in '61. C. & W.

Was It Murder?
The body of Wesley Kinney, the well known lumber jobber of AuSable was found floating in the bay near the Ottawa Hardwood Co.'s dock last Friday afternoon. Coroner Armstrong was notified and the remains taken to his undertaking rooms. A coroner's jury was drawn and the inquest commenced. The condition of the body and the fact that the neck was broken indicated that it was probable that Kinney had been murdered. The inquest was adjourned until Saturday of this week and the officials immediately began an investigation which resulted in the arrest of Jim Purdy on suspicion of having done Kinney up.
Kinney came to Tawas on business on Saturday, Sept. 2, and was last seen about 11 o'clock that night at the Holland hotel in company with Purdy. It also develops that Purdy told certain parties that he would "knock the head off Kinney" unless he was paid a small amount which he claimed Kinney owed him. The authorities claim to have a strong case against Purdy and it looks very much as if he would hold to answer to the charge of murder.

Hartingh--Walker.
At the home of her parents in this city, on Sept. 11, occurred the marriage of Miss Ethel M. Hartingh and Mr. Phillip G. Walker, of Alma. The ceremony took place at high noon, the Rev. Mr. Hastings officiating, and there being present only the members of the family and immediate relatives, Chester M. Walker, of Alma, accompaning his brother.
The marriage, the table and floral decorations and costumes of the bride were all of a quiet simple but elegant character, in harmony and keeping with the tastes of the bride and groom.
After the ceremony and luncheon the newly married couple with Chester Walker left on the afternoon south bound fast train, and after Sept. 18th will be glad to hear from, and welcome all their old friends at their home in Alma, where Mr. Walker is engaged in business, and where the romance began which resulted in its happy termination this week, and where the bride has many acquaintances and friends among the Alma college girls and faculty. Among the number who sat down to table was Hartingh W. Babcock, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Hartingh, who made the 13th, but who, in spite of the fact that he was told that 13 was an unlucky number, refused to withdraw and enjoyed the occasion apparently as much as any one.

$25 Reward.
The above reward will be paid for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties that broke open the Prescott store in Tawas the night of Wednesday, Sept. 13, 1905, and taking there from a quantity of goods of various kinds.

C. H. Prescott & Sons' store was burglarized Wednesday night. An entrance was gained through a side window at the rear of the hardware. Among the things missed are two pair of shoes, a rifle, razor and some cutlery. No trace of the perpetrators of the crime has been discovered.
Fire was discovered yesterday afternoon in a small woodshed belonging to John Green in this city. Prompt action on the part of the fire department averted what might have been a serious conflagration on account of the proximity of the shed to the house. The fire was caused by a small boy playing with matches.

Auction Sale.—The undersigned will sell at auction at his farm, Saturday, Sept. 16, the following: 4 head of horses, 3 cows, 1 mower, 1 horse rake, 1 disc, 1 pair sleighs, hay, grain, straw and other things to numerous to mention. All sums under $5 cash; six months time given on amounts over $5 on approved notes.
ANTHONY JOHNSON.

She was a bright girl and they were at a ball game. She had won his enthusiastic heart by understanding the game right off, and he loved her more than if she had been his own sister. "It reminds me of the household," he said, "the plate, the batter, the fouls and the flies." And it reminds me of marriage," she added. "First the diamond, where they are engaged then the struggle and the hits, where men go out, and finally the difficulty they have getting home." Then they sat and thought and thought.

The marriage of Miss Susie G., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Wilder, to Claude O. Phelan took place at the home of the bride's parents in Hounsfield, Wednesday, Sept. 6, at 11 a. m. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. L. Crissey in the presence of an assembly of relatives and friends of the bride and groom. They were attended by Miss Christine Gonseth, of Depauville, and Will Wilder of this place. The house was decorated with evergreen, golden glow and golden rod. The bride was dressed in white silk and the bridesmaid in cream nunsvelling. Mr. and Mrs. Phelan left on a short wedding trip and on their return will reside in Dexter.—Dexter (N. Y.) Press.

The Presbytery of Saginaw, met in the Presbyterian church in this city Tuesday and continued through Wednesday. The sessions during the day were occupied, for the most part with the business of the Presbytery. The evening meetings were of a popular nature. On Tuesday evening, the retiring moderator, Rev. Andrew Zimmerman, of Bay City, preached an uplifting sermon. On Wednesday evening, Rev. Anderson, the newly elected pastor the First church, Bay City, presided very appropriately, and Dr. McClelland, Field secretary for the Board of Freedmen, delivered an able and very helpful address upon the problem of the negro in the south. In all, there were 28 delegates present and they were entertained by the church and friends. Considering the location of Tawas City in the Presbytery, the attendance was exceedingly gratifying and the church will long remember the pleasure of having these brethren in their midst.

TEACHERS.
