

THE TAWAS HERALD.

Volume XXII.

TAWAS CITY, MICHIGAN, October 27, 1905.

Number 44.

Some men will buy a suit or overcoat of shoddy at eight ninety-eight, rather than pay ten dollars for an all-wool Clothcraft.

They think more of the dollar and two cents than they do of the months of longer wear, the style, and the shape retaining qualities to be had in the better garments.

Clothcraft Clothes are absolutely all-wool. There is not a thread of anything but wool in any fabric ever used in Clothcraft. Clothcraft styles are the very best product of the most expert designers. These designers are more skillful and up-to-date than any local tailors can possibly be, for they are constantly in touch with the styles of London and New York.

We positively assert that we can give you a better fitting, more stylish suit, in Clothcraft Clothes, than you can possibly get elsewhere for the same money.

The styles illustrated are the London and Paddock raincoats, in gun-metal greys, oxfords, tans and blacks—the very height of fashion—priced from $12 to $30.

SPECIALS FOR NEXT

James Foley, son of Mrs. Margaret Foley, of this city, died at his home at Boyne City early Monday morning from heart failure. While the deceased had been ailing for a few days death was wholly unexpected and came as a great shock to his relatives and friends here, in which city he grew to manhood. The deceased has been employed by the White Lumber Co., of Boyne City for the past several years as foreman and was highly respected by a large circle of friends. He leaves a wife and little son besides his mother and one sister, Mrs. A. P. Murphy, of East Tawas, to mourn his death. The remains were brought to East Tawas and the funeral was held from the Catholic church at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, Rev. Fr. Kinney officiating.

All roads for bargains lead to M. E. Friedman's, the leader of low prices.

That the sugar factory will be removed is now practically conceded by all, but that beet rasins will continue to be an important industry in this locality is also conceded to be a fact. According to what information the Herald has received it would seem that the whole matter would be greatly simplified for next year and should prove very satisfactory to the growers. Agriculturalist Carton informs us that he will be in charge of the affairs of the Michigan-Bay City Co. in this section, and that he has secured the consent of the company to erect three weigh and tare stations, one of which will be in the Tawas, one at Au Gres, and the other at some central point. The plan will then be to contract with the growers at a flat rate for their beets, weighing and taring the beets on delivery and paying for them at that time. This will do away with the necessity of growers waiting for their returns, and if a satisfactory price is paid by the factory should prove most acceptable to the growers.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., OCT. 27, 1905

Admiral Dewey is in favor of making the two battle-ships, Michigan and South Carolina, ordered at the last session of congress 18,000 ton vessels, instead of 16,000 tons as contemplated by the naval board. This would make the new battle-ships equal in size to the British battle-ship Dreadnought, the keel of which was laid last week.

The anti-cigarette bill was defeated by the last session of the state senate, the happy hunting ground of the grafter," said Mrs. Augustus Barnes of Howell, wife of a state senator, in speaking before the Michigan State Federation of Women's clubs at Kalamazoo last week. "The tobacco manufacturers spilled their money and the legislative grafter dived for it." Mrs. Barnes later was asked if she knew directly of any bribery, but said she knew only by inference.

Somehow it seems incredible that the old party managers in New York city should just now be showing great fear of the new municipal ownership movement. But they really are seared. Of course everyone who knows anything about the tendencies in American affairs is aware of the growing sentiment in favor of the people retaining or regaining control of those things which most concern them; but it is astonishing to find that the professional politicians are not aware of any such sentiment.

District Attorney Jerome of New York delivered the first speech in his two week's campaign for re-election as an independent to the New York Jobbers' and Shoe Manufacturers' association, in fulfillment of an old dinner engagement. He defined his position in the following words: "I've given you the issue, and I've given it to you clean. They did not seek it. I sought it, and I drew it deliberately so that no boss could take me without accepting his own destruction.

ion. They could not take me because I would not stand with my hat in my hand before a boss. It is the glory of my father's son that no boss wants him.

A writer in the Review of Reviews sums up the qualities of the country weekly paper as follows—"Each copy is read not only by the people usually credited to the ordinary paper, but twice or thrice that number. In many instances subscribers pass their papers on and on to inmates of less fortunate homes. These publications are pre-eminently the home papers of newspaperdom. They are not superficially scanned while men travel to business, then left to brakemen to gather up. They go directly into homes and the reading of them is a duty as well as a pleasure. Hence their peculiar value as moulders of public opinion."

Parents of school children may find considerable gospel in the following: "Before listening to the complaints of your children about the partially and general feindishness of their teachers and getting all worked up and excited over it, it is better to reflect a little. Remember that one half of the cherubs drive you crazy about half of the time, and bear with the teacher who is making intelligent men and women out of as unpromising stuff as they were twenty or thirty years ago. Remember that besides your boy, whom everybody knows is an angel, the teacher has to contend with that awful boy of your neighbor's and you know what a terror he is."

Here is a good fellowship story that is going the rounds: Give a man a 10-cent cigar and he will beam all over and love you for six hours; offer him the 10 cents with which to buy it for himself and he will throw it in your face. Give a man a pass to a show and he will call you a good fellow in all the languages at his disposal; offer him the money to buy a ticket, and he will call you a fool. Ask a man to your home to take "pot luck" and he will jump at the chance; give him $2 and tell him to get a good meal at a cafe with your compliments, and he will knock you down. The dollar is mighty, but it isn't warm. Nothing chills hospitality and good fellowship more than a touch of cold metal.—Washington Post.

At one time in history, improving a farm was a matter of muscle; now it is brains. The soil is gradually losing fertility and the man who thinks is the only one who will be found equal to the conditions, for there is too much taken off and not enough put back on. In the past the farm equipment was very simple, but now a man can go broke buying implements unless he exercises caution. At one time it cost but little in actual cash to live, since most of the living was produced on the farm. Now all we eat and wear means money. Once a ruinous rate of interest was paid by farmers who now find difficulty in loaning their surplus money at any reasonable rate. This is the day when all kind of information has an intrinsic value. It is nonsense to abuse land or own a scrub animal of any kind. It is nonsense, because it is a losing game.—Rural Home.

Some New Features Regarding Chattel Mortgages.

A piece of legislation passed at the last session of the state legislature, and which is a considerable innovation in this state, and of general public interest, is the amendment to the state chattel mortgage law.

Heretofore the execution of chattel mortgages in Michigan has been very simple, merely requiring the signing and delivery, including the signature of the wife, if any, where the property mortgaged is exempt from execution, except as to implements of trade. It was then up to file the mortgage or a copy thereof with the proper officer, namely, the township or city clerk, in order to protect himself as against other or future mortgages or purchasers for value without notice. The filing was not necessary as between the mortgagor and mortgagee, but was desirable on the part of the mortgagee for protection as against other mortgages and purchasers of the chattels, the law recognizing the mortgages on file on the basis of first come first served.

These conditions remain practically the same, except that there is something more to the execution. Act No. 248 of the last session of the legislature provides, that the mortgagor, or some one in his behalf, shall before the filing of the mortgage, make an affidavit setting forth that the consideration in the mortgage stated is bona fide, actual and adequate, and was given for the purpose therein set forth, and not to hinder, delay or defraud creditors. No township or city clerk shall receive any chattel mortgage for filing until such affidavit is attached thereto and a false oath on the subject lays the affiant liable to prosecution for perjury.

While the apparent object of the law is to prevent the making of fake mortgages, it will have a still further effect upon borrowers from chattel mortgage sharks. Not many will care to take oath that they borrowed $55 when they only borrowed $50, and furthermore if they should take such oath they would hardly dare deny it and take their chances on a perjury charge. The amendment, for that is what the new law is, is fashioned after the new laws of a number of other states, notably Ohio, Oregon, Iowa, Washington and several others in the northwest, only in some of these cases on affidavit as to the good faith and fullness of the consideration is required to be filed not only by the mortgagor but also by the mortgagee while in others the affidavit is required of the mortgagee only. In all of these cases, the prevention of fraud by filing a fake mortgage to stand off creditors, is the object and it works remarkably well, putting, as it does, a charge of perjury before anyone making misrepresentations.

Full of Tragic Meaning are these lines from J. H. Simmons, of Casey, Ia. Think what might result from his terrible cough if he had not taken the medicine about which he writes: "I had a fearful cough, that disturbed my night's rest. I tried everything, but nothing would relieve it, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, which completely cured me." A SPECIAL CATALOGUE
(COLOR PLATES) OF
Carpets, Rugs, Linoleums, Etc.

BUYING Carpets and Rugs by mail heretofore has been a rather unsatisfactory proposition as it is hard for one to form a proper conception of patterns and colors from type descriptions or black and white illustrations. But we have just published a catalogue from which you can select Carpets and Rugs just as easily and satisfactorily as if the goods were right before your eyes. The designs and colorings are accurately reproduced in this book by the aid of photography, engraving and high art color printing. None but standard makes and all are the very latest patterns produced for this season's trade.

Carpets from 25c. up to $2.00 per yard
Room Size Rugs from $13.50 to $47.50

We buy direct from the mills in great quantities and by thus eliminating the usual wholesalers' and jobbers' profit, we can save you considerable money on whatever you buy from us in these lines.

Freight Charges prepaid on all purchases amounting to $5.00 or more.

This catalogue of Carpets and Rugs, although one of the most costly books of the kind ever issued, will be sent absolutely free of charge to all prospective buyers who promptly send us their names and addresses.

Tuller and Meredith, of New York City.

"Ever notice how a man rubs his thumb over the crystal of his watch when he looks to see the time?" And half the time if you ask him what time it is after he has looked, he can't tell you. That's one of the peculiar stunts of a person's brain. Common thing too. Generally the man is talking about something. He knows he wants to find out the time of day. He fingers his watch while he talks; he rubs his thumb over the glass; he looks at the face of the time piece; then he replaces the watch in his pocket and isn't able to tell you what time it is. He is so interested in matters more immediate that his brain receives no permanent impression of hours and minutes, although it is satisfied because the time does not conflict with any idea or intention. Watch yourself and see if you don't do it."

The Japanese Minister writes a Thanksgiving Message to the Women of America." President Eliot, of Harvard, and Coach Sanford, of the Yale Eleven discuss from different standpoints the question "Shall Our Boys Play Football?" There is a weirdly interesting article "Some Amazing Cases of Multiple Personality;" while "Around the World with Alice Roosevelt," illustrated with excellent photographs, gives details of a momentous trip. Thanksgiving menus and receipts are also provided in abundance. Published by The Crowell Publishing Company, Springfield, Ohio; one dollar a year; ten cents a copy.

Mortality During September.

The total number of deaths returned to the Secretary of State for September was 3,050, an increase of 253 over the number returned for the preceding month. The death rate was 14.6 per 1,000, as compared with 12.9 for August. There were over 400 more deaths in Michigan during September, 1905, than during September, 1904.

By ages there were 804 deaths of infants under 1 year, 257 deaths of children aged 1 to 4 years and 789 deaths of persons over 65.

Important causes of deaths were as follows: Tuberculosis of lungs, 175; other forms of tuberculosis, 38; typhoid fever, 68; diphtheria and croup, 22; scarlet fever, 4; measles, 3; whooping cough, 11; pneumonia, 65; diarrhea and enteritis of infants under 2 years, 527; cancer, 146; accidents and violence 230.

There was a slight increase in the mortality from typhoid fever and a very considerable increase in that from diarrhea of infants.

There was only one death from smallpox during September, which occurred in Caseville village, Huron county, and 1 death from tetanus reported from Bay City.

Saves All Wasted With Other Stoves
 For Hard Coal, Soft Coal or Lignite

The waste of gas in burning hard coal is shown by opening the magazine cover of an ordinary base burner, when the oxygen supplied fills the entire stove with flaming gas. Cole's Hot Blast stove burns this gas in hard coal which, in ordinary stoves, escapes, on account of their leaky construction, causing great waste and endangering health and life when it escapes into the rooms.
 In the ordinary magazine hard coal stove, three-fourths of the coal is partially consumed in the magazine, where it gives off no heat, as it is not in contact with the radiating surface. The one-fourth of the coal in the fire pot must be kept at a white heat combustion to throw the heat into the rooms, thus causing great waste.

Cole's Original
 Hot Blast

The combustion chamber and the magazine are combined in this stove and the Combustion is Perfect. The stove is filled to the top of the inside cast iron lining. This large body of hard coal is burned under perfect control by means of the absolutely air-tight construction of the stove giving perfect control over the drafts. The coal is kept at a slow, economical cherry red combustion and as the heat is in direct contact with every square inch of the sensitive steel radiating surface, all the heat is radiated into the room where it is wanted and not blanketed in and sent up the chimney. Hard coal at Cherry Red Combustion burns 48 hours, while at white heat it is consumed in from 2 to 5 hours.

Sold Under a Positive Guarantee
 We Guarantee Cole's Original Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner with the same heating surface.
 Requires attention only morning and night with hard coal. Warm rooms day and night. No escaping gases to endanger life. The heat wasted up the chimney with other stoves is saved.
Burns Any Fuel—Saves Half

Cole's Hot Blast is not only a perfect hard coal stove, but is generally recognized as the most economical and cleanest soft coal stove made. Soft coal is half gas and a $3.00 ton of soft coal or a $2.00 ton of slack is made to do the work of $9.00 worth of hard coal, as the gas half is utilized as a heat producer. It burns soft coal, hard coal or wood without any change of fixtures.

Scientific Construction
 Cole's Original Hot Blast has an absolutely air-tight and gas tight construction throughout, by reason of its numerous patented improvements. The patented Hot Blast draft saves the gas. A patented steel collar connects the elbow draft to the stove body and cannot be made to leak air by action of the fiercest heat. The patented compound hinge on the ash door cannot warp and the door closes air-tight by its own weight. The heavy fire box protects the joints, where other stoves burn out first. The guaranteed smoke-proof feed door prevents smoke, soot or dust from escaping into the room when fuel is put into the stove. Perfect cleanliness, therefore, from soft coal.
CAUTION. Like all original improvements, Cole's Original Hot Blast has many imitations: They are failures, because they do not have the above patented features. The words "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago" will be found on the feed door of every Cole's Hot Blast. None genuine without it.
