

THE TAWAS HERALD.

Volume XXIII.

TAWAS CITY, MICHIGAN, February 9, 1906.

Number 7.

Notice to Subscribers.

On April 1, next the subscription price of the Herald will be advanced to $1.50 per year, payable strictly in advance. This advance is caused by the increased cost of paper and other material, and to meet extensive improvements which we contemplate making at that date. After careful estimate we find that printing a country newspaper at $1.00 per year is a losing proposition and will not permit of improvements.

Until April first all subscriptions, either in advance or those now due, will be received at the rate of $1.00 per year, but after that date $1.50 will be required. It will be to your advantage to pay at least one year in advance before that date.

A special treat is in store for all at the East Tawas opera house next Thursday evening, Feb 15, when a musical entertainment will be given by the sidewalk committee, under the direction of Mrs. Emma Buel Pearce and Mrs. James Poppelton. The program will consist of vocal and instrumental music, impersonations, etc. Admission 15 and 25 cents. Reserve seats 35 cents, on sale at Hanson's Bazaar.
August Miller, a highly respected German citizen of this city, died at the U. of M. hospital in Ann Arbor last Sunday. He went to that institution about three weeks ago to undergo an operation, but the physicians decided that the operation would be useless as his condition was beyond help. The remains were brought to his home here Monday evening, accompanied by his son, Herman. The funeral was held from the Emanuel Lutheran church Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Emmel officiating. Besides the bereaved wife he leaves one son, Herman, and four daughters, Mrs. Fred Reinke, Mrs. Herman Lange, and Miss Tillie, of this city, and Mrs. Henry Festerling, of Bay City. The deceased was about 55 years of age.

C. V. Hicks. Domestic Machines,

The entertainment at the court house last Saturday evening by the Chicago Glee Club was one of the very best ever given in connection with the entertainment course. Everybody who attended expresses the highest satisfaction.
Dr. Gibson, of Millersburg, was looking over this place Monday and before leaving informed the Press that he thought he should locate here. He has just sold his practice at Millersburg to Dr. Monroe, of Rogers City and expects to come here soon. The doctor is a fine fellow and one that this place will be glad to welcome. Tower Press.
Nels Brabant has just received one of the newest lines of spring and summer samples for men's made to order clothing ever shown in the Tawas. They come from the celebrated custom tailors Ed V. Price of Chicago. Call and see his fine large woolen samples and beautiful cut of styles. Prices right for clothes that are guaranteed to fit and wear.
A new graft which is working this way is to try to sell farmers a water tank which, among other virtues, possesses the magic power of preventing the water freezing, no matter how cold the weather may become. If the agent fails to sell one he wishes to leave a sample on the farmer's hands to be tried in the cold weather, and requires a signed contract for leaving it. The contract later turns up at the bank as a note for the signer to pay.
Cards of Thanks.
We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to the many friends and neighbors who so kindly extended to us their help and sympathy during our recent bereavement in the loss of our husband and father.
MRS. A. MILLER AND FAMILY.
We desire to extend to the friends our sincere thanks for the kindness and expressions of esteem shown our son and brother during his illness and for the sympathy and assistance rendered us after his death.

How You Can Plow More Land In Less Time and With Fewer Horses.

You can lift most anything if you get the right "purchase" on it. And plowing is just lifting soil and turning it over. Hence—the better "purchase" you get on the soil, the easier and faster you plow. The lifting power of Oliver Plows comes from "Horse Sense" worked into the shaping and balancing of the parts—especially the share and mold board. The "purchase" is right. They lift the soil easily. The adjustment and centering toward the pull make them—
The "Lightest Draft" Plows Known.

Not an ounce of pulling power is lost. They are easy on your horses. Which explains why an Oliver will help you plow more land in less time with fewer horses than you can with any other kind of plow (but two horses are needed in soils where most plows would require three.) And there are other items that help. Take for example—
This No. 11, Sulky
Which is a plow especially designed and adapted to soil conditions in the state of Michigan. It is the result of experience in that section and study of what must be accomplished there. It scours perfectly—and can be fitted with steel bottoms or

Oliver's famous chilled metal bottoms. The soil is turned and thrown off at exactly the right angle. You can use this plow with or without a tongue. Either a rolling coupler or jointer can be used. The plow bottom can be lifted out of the ground with little exertion. It has no "land-side," which lightens the draft. No needless parts to increase weight and impede progress. Is moderate in price. Gets into the land easily and quickly. Plows a furrow of even depth and finishes clean. Turns square corners without lifting the plow out. And this year we are putting better material into our plows than we have ever before been able to get. Their finish is also a bit finer. Oliver principles of construction cannot be improved. That explains why we are the largest exclusive plow works in the world. That's why we are today turning out more plows than any other concern in Christendom. There are over
Two Million Oliver Plows in Use at the present time. The quantity we make enables us to produce at low cost and sell you the best plow you can get anywhere for the money.
It Will Pay You to investigate our claims before you buy. See your dealer today. If he hasn't the Oliver, you can afford to put off buying and take time to write to us immediately. Do so, and we will have you taken care of right. You can't attend to this matter too soon. Why not see to it at once? Address

TAWAS CITY MICH., FEB. 9, 1906

With Senator Alger, W. C. McMillen and Arthur Hill in the republican race for U. S. senator, the prospects for "grease" in the next legislative campaign is most promising.

State Game Warden Chapman reports 61 complaints of violations of the state game laws investigated during the month of January, 21 arrests resulting. Convictions were secured in 17 cases and fines and costs aggregating $361 were collected.

The latest reports from Washington indicate that without the democrats in congress, President Roosevelt wouldn't cut much of a figure in national affairs this winter. It is the president and democrats against the republicans, and the republicans seem to be too much for both of 'em.—Alpena Argus.

The talk of some of the machine papers of this district that Col. Loud is the only man capable of representing us in congress is disgusting. We have no desire to criticize Mr. Loud who has made a very good record, but it is a fact that the district has had just as good representatives, and there are hundreds of men within its borders fully as able as he, and who would accomplish just as much, and such talk as this does not elevate him any in the minds of the thinking people.

In an interview with the Detroit Journal Frank Buell, the Bay City lumberman who has been mentioned as a probable candidate for the republican nomination for congress against Col. Loud next fall, says he is not now a candidate, as he is too busy looking after his seven lumber camps and other business. He admits that going to Washington is a laudable ambition and closed his interview by saying, "I have nothing to say for publication. If later events change the situation the Journal will be the first to hear my final determination."

In his opening address before the state association of supervisors at Lansing Tuesday President Kimmerly, gave the state tax commission one of most scathing denunciations that was ever administered to a set of public officials, and closed his remarks by demanding the removal from office of at least one member of that board. The address contained much of sound argument and is worthy of careful attention. His statements were of an undeniable nature and shows the injustice of the commissioners actions in raising the general taxation of the state while lowering that of the railroads.

Senator Alger has announced himself as a candidate for re-election to the U. S. senate, and Arthur Hill, of Saginaw, and W. C. McMillen have announced themselves as candidates for his seat. Besides these there are a number of other Michigan republicans who are only waiting for an opportunity to get into the race. It now looks as though the election of members to the legislature would overshadow state issues next fall. This is a bad thing for the state, as the question of fitness for the office will not be considered, the only question being, "who will be support for senator?" The voters of the state will show good judgment if they make it a question of ability to make a good legislator rather than party when they come to vote next fall.

At the election to be held on the first Monday in April, 1906, the question of calling and holding a convention, for the purpose of making a general revision of the Constitution of this state, will be submitted to the qualified electors. The ballots upon which this question will be submitted will be separate and distinct from all other ballots used at this election. If a majority of the qualified electors, voting at such election, shall decide in favor of calling a convention for the purpose of revising the Constitution, it will become the duty of the legislature at the next session to provide by law for the election of delegates to such convention, whose duty will be to prepare a general revision of the Constitution, which shall be submitted to the qualified electors at some future time for adoption or rejection.

There are in the world a few individuals who do not like to "face the music." They are the ones who refuse to take a paper from the mail man and compel the postmaster to notify the publisher of their breach of good faith. In other words they want somebody else to do their "dirty work." A publisher will not object to this method of cancelling a subscription if all arrearages are paid. But to have a delinquent subscriber who owes one, two or three years, or even more, resort to this method of "quitting," is it to compel a publisher to work his Adam's apple to swallow his anger. If you don't think a paper is worth the price, or if for any other reason you don't want it sent to your address, go manfully to the office, square up all arrearages and tell him frankly to "cut it out." He will respect your manhood if he does not admire your judgment and you can safely run for office thereafter and not suffer from his resentment.—Ex.

Men At Church.

What's the matter with men going to church? Nothing. Then why don't we go to church?

You ask why? What's the use? Well there are several reasons, says the Jackson Citizen Press.

Suppose we drop the salvation side for the moment and put up another argument. To begin with, it only takes about two hours a week to do the job all up. If we men will go to church in numbers the ministers will limber up and liberalize. If they do not just tell them to break away from tradition and theology for fifteen minutes and talk to us. A minister runs dry preaching to empty benches. Preachers, like lecturers and orators, get inspiration and enthusiasm from numbers.

If one hundred of us men were to stampee a church for three Sunday mornings in succession we would find the preacher talking along lines of current events, philosophy, history and science. He would go among us and get our ideas and then would fire broadsides from the pulpit which would make us feel at ease and thoroughly entertained. It isn't necessary to join a church, or go around all the week with a sanctimonious string dangling from our whiskers, just to go to church once on a Sunday. Tell the minister what we would like to hear him talk about and its doreasnes to doughnuts he would give us something awakening and of value and he would not finge us either.

Ministers brighten up, like any other species, by a show of interest or appreciation. They would be highly pleased to see a good crowd of us men in church regularly. They would search heaven and earth to find things to interest us.

Sermons will cease to be prosy when men go to church. Shall we try it?

He who smells woods' smoke at twilight knows the glamor of the wild, Understands its fascinations—how its lovers are beguiled.

He who snuffs the scents of Autumn and the fragrance of the pine, Feels primeval wildness in him—but another song is mine:—

Winding down the rugged mountain with a deer, my guide and I,

Hardly knowing where our camp is, toiling on with grunt and sigh,

How! what savor floats to meet us, borne upon the evening breeze,

Sweeter than the spice of homelocks, or the balm of good, green trees?

'Tis a savor from the tropics, from the gurgling, hissing spout

Of the camp cook's pot of coffee, panting now to be poured out.

Whiff! The load we bear seems lighter. Whiff! That's sweeter than the rose!

No more need of eyes nor compass—move your feet and chase your nose.

The Social Life of the High School.

In a paper read before the State Teachers' Association on the above subject, A. J. Volland says:
"The second class of social life among pupils of our high schools is that which takes place outside of the control of the school and of the teachers, and is supposed to be under the supervision, more or less, of parents. This life is the source of the greater dissipation of physical, moral and mental strength among high school pupils. This form of social life is promoted for the most part by members of fraternities and sororities and their friends. But the fond parents who give dances, card parties and other social functions for their children, whether members of fraternities or not, or who allow their children to participate in them during the school week, are wholly responsible for the wrecking of the school life of their children. It is unnecessary, among teachers, to enumerate the dissipating influences of this phase of social life among high school pupils. You all have had, undoubtedly are now having, sad experience with pupils addicted to this form of dissipation and with parents who either openly foster and encourage it or supinely connive at it or ineffectively try to combat it. In my opinion the question of whether a boy or girl shall belong to a society, secret or otherwise, or shall go to a dance or other social function, shall take part in theatricals—this question in my judgment, is not one for the school to settle, but is a home problem to be settled by the parents of the children concerned. It is with great regret, deep indignation that we see a pupil's mental and physical and sometimes moral strength deteriorate, because of this kind of dissipation. It is my belief that more children break down under the strain of keeping up the society pace than under the burden of school work."

A Healing Gospel.

The Rev. J. C. Warren, pastor of Sharon Baptist church, Belair, Ga., says of Electric Bitters: "Its a God-send to mankind. It cured me of lame back, stiff joints, and complete physical collapse. I was so weak it took me half an hour to walk a mile. Two bottles of Electric Bitters have made me so strong I have just walked three miles in fifty minutes and feel like walking three more. It made a new man of me." Greatest remedy for all weakness and all stomach liver, and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at G. S. Darling and J. M. Wuggazer & Co. drug store. Price 50c
