Memorial Day.

Memorial Sunday and Decoration Day are important days in American life. They remind us of our duty to a gracious Providence and the heroic dead. These days should be celebrated, not by the few old soldiers, but by every liberty loving citizen of the Republic. The nation that forgets its glorious history has entered the period of decay.
The citizens of the Tawas are urged to participate in the exercises of both these days this year. Memorial services will be held in the East Tawas Methodist Episcopal church Sunday afternoon, May 27, at two o'clock sun time. Rev. N. Dickie, of Tawas City, will preach the sermon.
Wednesday, May 30, Decoration Day, the procession will form at the Grand Army hall at 9 o'clock sharp, sun time, and proceed to the cemetery where the Grand Army memorial exercises will be conducted.
"Long live the Republic," which means keep a high and noble patriotism burning in the heart.

Obituary.

Alonzo Weldon, father of Mrs. C. A. Curry, of the Hemlock road, passed away at her home on May 3, 1906, aged 82 years, 11 months, 19 days. Deceased was born in New York state, but for nearly 40 years has lived in Caro, Tuscola county Mich., and the last year of his life was spent at the home of Mrs. Curry. For some months previous to his death he suffered much but with great patience. He was a member of the Universalist church and before he passed away expressed a firm belief in a future life.

Those who were with him in his last illness were: two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Tompkins, of Caro and Mrs. Mary Eaton, of Bay City; his daughter, Lillian C. Chase, of Butler, Pa.; his only son, Clyde A. Weldon, of Caro; his niece, Mrs. Harry Clarke, of Alpena; and his sister-in-law, Mrs. E. R. Gould, of Almont.
Besides these he leaves behind two sisters one in California and one in Denver, Colo., and two brothers, one in Bad Axe and one in Roscommon. Saturday morning the remains were taken to his old home at Caro for burial.

Shot His Small Sisters.

Alpena May 14.—Arthur Lumsden, aged eight, shot his little sisters, Vina, aged six, and Lena, aged four, while they were playing alone in the house of Andrew Lumsden, a farmer of Long Rapids township, 16 miles from here. Vina died in a few moments from a wound in the heart and Lena's left jaw, chin and teeth were shot away so that death would be a mercy.

Lumsden had loaded his shotgun to be ready for hawks and while he was in the fields and Mrs. Lumsden was visiting at the home of her parents the children returned from the woods where they had been picking flowers and wintergreen berries. The two little girls were playing on their bed when Arthur in some manner discharged the gun. Realizing that the result was terrible he ran and called his father and as Lumsden entered the house Vina dropped dead at his feet while her frightful wounded little sister clung to him. The Lumsdens have had ten children—but only Arthur and the wounded little girl survive.

A Mountain of Gold

could not bring as much happiness to Mrs. Lucia Wilke, of Caroline, Wis., as did one 25c box of Baeklen's Arnica Salve, when it completely cured a running sore on her leg, which had tortured her 23 long years. Greatest anti-septic healer of piles, wounds and sores. 25c at G. S. Darling's and J. M. Wuggazer & Co's drug store.

Alabaster Dust.

The long looked for belfry of the Presbyterian church has been completed and last week a choir loft, a library platform and a rostrum were constructed, which gives the interior a more church-like appearance. Besides these a bell will be installed this summer. But this is only a promise of what the church expects to accomplish in the very near future. Church property is only a means to an end, and that end is spiritual. Now, we are glad to announce that Alabaster is making rapid strides in this direction, for the evangelistic services now in progress promise great results. The pastor, Rev. C. Wendling Hastings, assisted by a large choir, conducts the song service. The newest and most popular sacred music is brought into service. This alone forms a strong feature of the program. But in addition to this Rev. Griffith of the Baptist church of Tawas City is the preacher. Mr. Griffith is well known in this community as a strong evangelistic preacher, er, and the Alabaster people are showing their appreciation by their large attendance at the meeting. The time is 8:30 Alabaster time, each week day evening except Saturday. It so happens that the pastor will be able to preach next Sunday evening. Very rarely does Alabaster have the opportunity of a Sunday evening service. This alone will add interest to the occasion. All are cordially invited.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist, at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Graysville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest cough and cold cure and throat and lung healer. Guaranteed by G. S. Darling and J. M. Wuggazer & Co. druggists. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

TAWAS CITY MICH., MAY 18, 1906

It is pretty near a certainty that no rate bill will be passed by the present congress that will in any way discommodate the railroads.

Laws are useless unless some one sees that they are enforced. That some one is not the individual citizen. He pays others to do the work for him.—Grand Rapids Press.

Out of the 27,187 republicans in the tenth congressional district considerable less than 3000 of them signed petitions to submit the so-called primary law. This is about the portion in the other districts. Yet the "machine" tells us the republicans are enthusiastic over the law.

The trusts and combinations are certainly getting many a hard whack these days, but they come up smiling each time, and as Vice-President Whiting of the paper trust said the other day, the consumer will pay for it. There is no chance to pass legislation to control illegal combinations until some means are devised to put the United States senate out of existence.

Says Col. Mac Sellers, postmaster of Cedar Springs, in his paper, the Clipper: "The machine-made men in the state senate put up a job on the people in the new primary law. And now this same damnable clique is opposed to giving the people a fair chance to vote for a choice of United States senator. Gov. Warner, take warning. Theodore Roosevelt saved your hide in 1904. That same hide may be tanned in 1906."

There has been much talk and about a dozen candidates named as Gen. Alger's successor in the U. S. senate. It is now almost an assured fact that the powers that control these matters have decided that William C. McMillan, of Detroit, is the best qualified to represent the corporations and trusts, and from now until the fall election every effort of the "machine" will be to elect a legislature pledged to his support.

There are evidences to be found everywhere throughout the state that the Atwood-Warner machine is attempting to speed a report that W. N. Ferris will not be a candidate for governor. The machine is mightily frightened at Mr. Ferris and would rather have any one else nominated by the democracy, and it is using every means at its disposal to make the conditions look gloomy—from a democratic viewpoint. To date, however, the only result to be found is increased strength and enthusiasm for the schoolmaster.

The "machine" editor is furnishing the "machine" papers throughout the state an editorial in which he accuses the democrats of being insincere in their demand for a primary law, because they are not making an effort to give the thing passed by the last legislature and labelled primary law a trial. The Michigan democracy favored a primary law and without a doubt are still favorable to such a law, as are a large majority of the republicans. It is also very evident from the petitions sent in by the republicans that there are a large number of that party who are no more favorable to the present law than are the democrats, and the present indications are that it will be defeated at the polls on June 12.

The rural routes were established for the benefit of rural homes, or in other words the farmers. They have proven a greater benefit and blessing to the farmers than was anticipated by the most sanguine. A farmer who has once enjoyed the advantage of the rural mail service would hardly know how to live without it. It did not come to the farmer, however, until he had many times earned it. The farmers are our heaviest taxpayers. What property they have is in plain sight and is taxed, while the city gent, at least many of them, who deals in notes and bonds is enabled to hide his wealth from the assessor. For a quarter of a century the mail has been carried to the city home, not once, but many times each day. Finally the big heart of Uncle Sam has reached out to the men who feed the world.

If we would teach a child to like that which is good in reading we must establish the liking in his early years. It is not enough that we shall tell him in later days that certain books are good and bid him read them. When he is grown up he will choose that which he likes and our work is to lead him to like good things. We cannot begin to early. The nursery tales should be those which have fed the children of many an age and clime. The song, the hymn, the poem should be those that are worth reading and reciting. Let us make the beautiful story and myth and hymn a part of the child's early environment. More than this, let us remember that in teaching the children to read good books we are re-enforcing them against the ills of life. Accompanied by noble thoughts they shall go to their drudgery and toil with a brave spirit, and make melody in their hearts even when their hands are rough with toil, they shall dwell with the great and good and then moments of leisure shall be rich because of these good times in their youth.

Abuse of Arbutus,

One of nature's daintiest and sweetest spring gifts to man is the trailing arbutus. This flower of the woods is the first to bloom in the spring. Nestling close to the ground it is found among the fallen leaves or hidden by its own dark green foliage. It is a modest flower and must be searched for, and the joy of finding it is almost as great for the true lover of nature as its possession when found.

Knowing the habits of this spring visitor, its modesty, its fondness for wild places, those who love it must protest in their hearts if not more emphatically against its sinful desecration by the barbarians who pot hunt for it for the city market. Bunches of trailing arbutus are brought to town in the form of huge spikes of flowers, stripped of every vestige of foliage, and thereby robbed of most of their beauty. If the arbutus were a brazen flower, assertive in its attitude, demonstrative in its color, ostentations in its display and loud, this treatment might be well enough. But what is true is exactly the reverse, and the wanton exposure of the flowers without the least foliage concealment comes close to wickedness.

The barbarians who thus abuse the arbutus may know no better. They should be taught the error of their way. The most effective teaching is in refusal to buy the flowers as they are brought to market.—Grand Rapids Herald.

Postmaster Robbed.

G. W. Fouts, postmaster at River-ton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For twenty years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a serious case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters, which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years." Sure cure for biliousness, neuralgia, weakness and all stomach, liver, kidney and bladder derangements. A wonderful tonic. At G. S. Darling's and J. M. Wuggazer & Co's. drug store. 50 cents.

We want to say a good word for Almost any firm will testify that,

counting the time, postage, booking are worth to collect them, and still the man owing it to them is perfectly responsible in a financial way. It very often happens that the worst sinner in this particular is the man

best able to pay.

We wonder how many of our boys
realize that land is going fast—boys brought up to think that in America land can never be scarce, that when they have played out at everything else they can somewhere get a piece of land for nothing and the next day
be a prosperous farmer, can with difficulty be made to see it. In 1865
there were but little over 81,000,000 acres under cultivation in the United States. Today the cultivation acres number 236,000,000 and these acres are not only the best, but they are fast going up in value beyond the reach of men of small means. Keen scented corporations snuffing the inevitable battle from afar are turning their attention to land, and greedily buying whole counties with no idea of ever letting an acre go, but the boy who thinks he is made for something higher looks calmly on thinking there will be plenty left for him should he ever have to stoop to it. The sons of half starved teachers, lawyers,
traders and others, who are unsuccessful in their over-crowded callings are turning to our cheaper lands, sure to find there what they nor their parents have known never before—truly independent homes.

THE TEST IS BEST

Go over CLOTHCRAFT garments point by point, the fabrics, the patterns, the graceful lines, the lay of the collar, the shaped shoulders, the trimmings, the finish, the faultlessness of the general ensemble and you will not wonder then at the giant strides CLOTHCRAFT has made in the clothing world.

The sooner you learn why you should wear this famous make, the sooner you begin to save, and the sooner you discover that every builder and wearer of good clothes can learn something in clothes craft from CLOTHCRAFT.

We can sell "all wool" without a blush because the best woolen mills in the land know too well that they dare not submit a yard of questionable cloth to go into CLOTHCRAFT garments—that's clothing insurance for you.

CLOTHCRAFT is not merely a high grade distinguishing mark, but a name that has made a mark in tailoring triumph; it means service—protection: ask for CLOTHCRAFT CLOTHES and be sure you're safe.

Suppose you step in and test your senses of sight and touch, we fear not your verdict.
