Announcement.
With this issue the Herald reaches its readers enlarged from a six to a seven column quarto, an addition of eight columns more than heretofore. This move was made necessary in order to accommodate our liberal advertising patronage and at the same time give us room for the reading matter. It is our policy to furnish our readers news from all parts of the county, thereby increasing the value and interest of the paper to them.
There are still other improvements under way which will add much to the interest and value of the paper, some of which will materialize within the next few weeks. There will be no efforts spared to keep the Herald at the head of the newspaper procession in this section, and all we ask is a continuation of the liberal patronage we have enjoyed in the past.

TAWAS CITY MICH., JUNE 1, 1906

Twenty-seven republicans of Iosco county signed the petitions for the submitting of the primary law to the voters of the 10th congressional district.

Many of the best legal minds of the state agree that in case of the adoption of the primary law at the referendum vote on the 12th inst., that it will be declared unconstitutional by the supreme court if it comes before it. The safest plan will be to vote against its adoption.

People frequently inquire of the editor where we received our information concerning such and such a person, also who wrote this article or that. To impart information along this line is against the rules of a newspaper office and our friends and patrons will please bear this in mind and not annoy us with inquiries. We always stand ready to correct a wrong or mis-statement.

The supreme court made an important ruling in connection with the granting of a new trial to Frank Christian of Alcona county, convicted of cutting timber on state lands. The court says the state is not required to prove an intent to violate the law in cases of trespass and in effect says that men who cut timber must know that they are doing so on their own property. It does not devolve upon the state to establish its title to lands in order to secure a conviction.

James E. Scripps, the veteran newspaper publisher and founder of the Detroit News, died at his home in that city Tuesday morning, aged 71 years. Mr. Scripps held a place high up in the newspaper profession of the country and was a man of sterling character.

The "We Hear" column appeared in last week's issue of the Otsego County Herald, which was sufficient announcement that H. C. McKinley was again ready to "get into the harness." After a years rest Mr. McKinley again resumes the active management of the Herald with which he has been connected for the past 28 years. "Mac's" many friends in the newspaper fraternity of northern Michigan will be glad to welcome him again at the helm of one of the best county papers in the state.

On the 12th inst. every voter in the state will have an opportunity of voting for or against the final adoption of the so-called primary law. In our opinion the law should be overwhelmingly defeated. It is impractical in the extreme and utterly fails in its object. It is complicated and beyond the understanding of ordinary mortals. It is unjust in a number of its provisions, in that it goes a long way in destroying the secrecy of the ballot. There are thousands of reasons why it should be defeated while its best friends cannot give any good reason for its adoption.

It is Time to Wake Up.

Last week in this space Civic News outlined a series of measures in connection with the coming revision of the State Constitution calculated to secure "Government by the People" in Michigan.

A gentleman who is prominent in the affairs of Detroit and the state of Michigan, a strict republican, when asked the other day what he thought of this program, said that it would come to nothing. He said there was no use in attacking the enemy on an ebbing tide of public sentiment. He predicted that Detroit is about to enter upon the rottenest ten years of its municipal history. The republican state machine, said he, will elect Wm. C. McMillan to the United States senate. He will be senator for the next thirty years, and every state legislator who does the bidding of the machine will be rewarded with a federal job just as it was under the old McMillan regime. The machine is preparing to let the democrats have the city of Detroit. That will prevent the growth of a strong republican city machine to quarrel with the powers-that-be in the state.

"Your program is very nice," said he, "but you can't do anything with it. Every railroad attorney and every Tom, Dick and Harry in the employ of special interests will get himself elected to the constitutional convention and will see that the instrument drafted is infinitely worse for the people than the present one. The railroads will try to knock out the Pingree equal taxation amendment, and then they can afford to spend two million dollars to carry the constitution at the polls. You can do nothing. I am willing to stake money on it. The people of Michigan don't care. They are worse than conservative—they are indifferent. Things will not get better till they get worse."

Civic News would like to know if it isn't about time for the men of Michigan to wake up and see that in the future the people of the state control the government of the state?—Civic News.

Dictograph Tells Secrets.

The telltale telephone is the dictograph and the most remarkable of its wonderful race. One can stand ten feet away and whisper a message, or when thirty feet distant speak in an ordinary tone of voice and the message will be clearly and audibly transmitted. Its construction is the inventor's bright particular secret. It can be easily used by an employer for dictating to a shorthand writer as the latter can take the dictation at any distance from the speaker without having to hold a receiver to the ear. It works both ways so that people can converse equally well. This explains the name dictograph. In detective work it promises to prove an invaluable acquisition. When a third person is desired to hear an interview between two others it will no longer be necessary for the witness to hide behind the screens and in other convenient places. The dictograph can be hung behind a picture or under a desk, or even placed in a partly opened drawer of the desk and will transmit faithfully the entire conversation to one or more witnesses in another room or to a stenographer.

ORGANIZED EFFORTS.

The Organization of the Tawas City Improvement Association Completed.

The organization of the Tawas City Citizens' Improvement Association was completed Tuesday evening at a well attended meeting at the city hall. Everybody was enthusiastic for a united effort to push our city to the front, and every citizen of our city is urged to join the association and help boost.

The following extracts are from the by-laws adopted and set forth some of the objects aimed at:

"The object of the association is to secure the co-operation of merchants, manufacturers, and citizens and to promote the social, moral and business interests of our city. To encourage well directed enterprises; to promote the growth of the city and the progress, extension and increase of its trade; and to take concerted action in all matters pertaining to the general good of the city.

"Any person approved by the association can become a member by signing the constitution and paying an entrance fee of $1.00, and an annual membership fee thereafter of two dollars per year, payable semi-annually in advance on the first days of January and July."

"The annual meeting of the association will be held on the first Tuesday in May. Regular meetings will be held on the second Tuesday of each month, and special meetings may be called at any time.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

President—F. F. Taylor.
Vice Pres.—Dr. C. A. Wakeman.
Secretary—Len J. Patterson.
Treasurer—E. M. Schlechte.

The above officials together with Thomas Davison, W. F. Grise and James H. Nisbet constitute the board of directors. President Taylor was given until the next meeting to select his standing committees.

The meeting adjourned next Tuesday evening, June 5, when it is urged that everybody interested be present and join in the work of making the association a success and improving the conditions of our city. The most humble citizen is equally welcome and can be beneficial. Let us all unite in the good cause.

Time Limit Invalid.

A section of the state tax law is nullified by a decision of supreme court in the case of William O'Connor vs. Frank L. Carpenter, tried in Ingham county.

O'Connor, a tax title dealer brought suit in ejectment against Carpenter by virtue of a tax title which the court says was admittedly invalid because he had failed to pay the taxes on the property when making his purchase of the title.

He sought, however, to revive the standing of his title under section 140 of the state tax law as amended in 1901, which provides that persons served with notice of tax title who shall refuse or neglect to tender payment to the holder, or commence suit within six months to set aside the tax deed, shall thereafter be barred from questioning the validity of such tax title or deed.

The supreme court quotes Judge Cooley as having held that the owner of property, who is in possession thereof is not to be compelled to commence suit to establish his title and it is said that the section of the tax law barring him from contesting a tax title is contrary to that section of the constitution which provides that no person shall be deprived of his property without due process of law.

The effect of the court's decision is to nullify the section of the tax law which bars a property owner from questioning the validity of a tax title after the lapse of six months after notice of such title is received.

MORTGAGE SALE.

Whittemore & Co., May 16, 1902, and recorded May 18, 1904, in Liber 8 of mortgages in the Register of Deeds' office for Iosco County, at page 171, and afterward assigned to me by deed of assignment recorded December 30th, 1905 in the said Register of Deeds' office in Liber 41 of deeds at page 499; and under the power of sale in such mortgage given, and the statute in such case made and provided, and no suit at law or in equity having been commenced to recover the amount due on said mortgage:

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the said premises in said mortgage described, or so much as may be necessary to pay the amount of $77.00 claimed to be due thereon, with interest at 7 per cent, to date of sale, and all legal costs and attorney fee, at public auction or vendue to the highest bidder therefor at the front door of the court house in Tawas City, Iosco County, that being the place for holding the circuit court for said county, on the 11th day of August, A. D. 1906, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of said day; said premises being described as the west 3/4 of lots one and two of block numbered 46, and lot 4 of block numbered 21 of the city of East Tawas, according to recorded plat thereof, Iosco County, Michigan.

Mr. LaBerge is eminently fitted for the honor conferred and the Herald unites with his many friends in extending congratulations.

One of our citizens who occasionally wipes the dishes for his wife, became tired of the job and refused, saying that "it is not a man's work." Not feeling disposed to lose his help she brought the Bible out to convince him of his error and read as follows from II Kings 21: 13: "And will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down." It is needless to say that he is still doing his occasional stunt.

Edward Everett Hale's optimistic article on "The Comforts of Today," and the first article of a serious campaign against child slavery are the contrasting features that distinguish the June number of the Woman's Home Companion. The latter subject is handled in a masterly way in the first of a series of articles called "To Save the Children"—each article sustained by actual photographs and names and addresses of little children drudging all around you.

Everybody likes berries; everybody ought to have them; but don't think of planting a single row without first getting a copy of Biggle Berry Book. This book is written by a practical grower, and will save you money, time and trouble from the start. Starting right is more than half way towards success. Market growers pronounce Biggle Berry Book one of the most helpful books ever written on the subject. Many of the leading growers have contributed their experience to its pages. The price is 50 cents, free by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

While doing some shopping in one of our grocery stores last evening we chanced to hear a little boy ask his father who that man was buying the beans. "That is our editor," said the father. "What do editors live on?" asked the inquisitive urchin. "Why do you ask that question?" said the indulgent father. "Because I heard you say you had taken our home paper three years and had never paid a cent for it." To save the father embarrassment we left the store, but it is safe to predict that the child got spanked when the father got him home.

We were asked this week by a delinquent subscriber why we kept on sending the paper after the subscription date had expired. Every weekly paper in towns of this size are forced to do this. Should we stop subscriptions when the time expires, nine times out of ten the subscriber would give us a "calling down" for insinuating that his credit was not good. Rather than to cast a reflection upon the honesty of a subscriber to pay a small debt, it is next to a necessity for a home paper to continue sending the paper after the time has expired. It is not necessary for the city dailies or weeklies to follow this rule, as their subscribers live at a distance and are not personal friends as is the case with a majority of our subscribers. Our subscribers should deem it an honor to know that we do not doubt their integrity and continue to send them the paper after their time has expired. Should any desire their paper discontinued they should notify us and remit to date if they have not already done so.

A Girl's Twenty Dollar Salary.

"After all is said and done, twenty dollars a week is no mean competence for an independent woman," says Miss Harriet Martin, writing in the New Idea Woman's Magazine for June on "Spending a Twenty Dollar Salary." She goes on to show what may be done and how a girl may live on this amount. Her first girl is starting from the beginning and spends $150 on furniture out of her yearly one thousand and forty dollars, $120 on clothes, $216 on food and gas $276 on rent, $85 on amusements and $100 on incidentals, and saves the remaining $154. Miss Martin's women readers who themselves earn twenty dollars a week or more will doubtless differ greatly in opinion as to the fundamental rectitude of this division. As for those who earn less than this amount, they will doubtless declare that here is no problem at all—that the real crux of the question arises when food, rent, clothing and incidentals have to be met out of a weekly salary of $15, $10, or even less.

Brown's Meat Market
BEST GOODS LOWEST PRICES

Farmers we want wool at the Highest Prices don't turn your sheep on to the burnings until after shearing as the coal and black gets into the wool and cuts off from its value; also in feeding don't scatter chaff and hay seed over the backs of your sheep.
Strictly fancy wool is worth a good price. We pay cash for every thing we want.

BUTTER and EGGS
We are paying as high as 22c a pound for butter at present. We carry all kinds of Groceries, Fresh and Salt
Meats, Flour and feed, Bale Hay, etc.
