The new 70 foot cement and brick chimney adds much to the appearance of the mill. The Herald force is badly incapacitated this week by an injury to James Ballard, our foreman, who is laid up with an injury to his right hand from a knife wound. He has taken advantage of his enforced idleness by taking in the Niagara Falls excursion. Mrs. John Orban, of Alpena, is the newest disciple of Carry Nation. Armed with her hatchet she walked into W. H. Gray's saloon and proceeded to clean the place out. She cut the bar-tender's hand and did considerable damage before the police arrived and placed her under arrest. Attorney Albert W. Black, of East Tawas, who is a member of Co. B. M. N. Penoyar, to recover damage for a breach of contract, came to an end Wednesday afternoon, when the jury returned a verdict for Mott for $1404.75. It took eight days to try the case which was a hard fought battle throughout. George Bennett of West Branch, and W. T. Yoe, of Flint, were the attorneys for Mr. Mott, while M. L. Courtwright and Judge Sheperd, of Bay City, looked after Penoyar's interests, the jury took about six hours to agree on the verdict. The case will without doubt go to the supreme court. September 25-26-27. After much delay the officials of the Iosco County Agricultural Society have completed arrangements for the 32nd annual fair and announce the dates for September 25-26-27. Norstrum pitched a fine game striking out eleven of the Turner boys, while Kelly's record was five. Both teams played good ball and but few errors were made. The locals registered in each innings except the seventh and eighth. The Turner boys made four in the fourth and one in the seventh. The game was umpired by 'Doc' Jennings, of Turner, Nels Brabant, of this city. The score by innings was as follows.

THE "UNIVERSAL" COFFEE PERCOLATOR

Makes Perfect Coffee, Uniform in Quality

Retaining all its aroma, free from tannic acid caused by boiling. Anyone, however inexperienced, can make perfect coffee in 10 or 15 minutes. Filled with cold water, the only thing to use if perfect coffee is wanted, the pot is so constructed that all the heat is concentrated around the little chamber below the automatic valve, and in a minute or two after it is put upon the stove the water, luke warm at first, and gradually increasing in temperature, is pumped through the tube and filters down through the coffee. Before the water reaches the boiling point, the coffee piping hot, is ready to serve. No steam or aroma escapes. The glass dome in the cover shows by the color of the coffee when the required strength has been reached. The result is uniformly delicious, healthful coffee, as clear as wine, though no eggs are used to clarify it, better coffee than you ever had or can get in any other way. The "Universal" is made of pure aluminum, the most sanitary of metals. Simple, easy to use, easy to clean. Will last for generations. Works on any kind of stove, coal, wood, gas or oil. Come in and examine it. Users are more than pleased. SOLD AND GUARANTEED BY W. B. MURRAY East Tawas Michigan

TAWAS CITY, MICH., JULY 27, 1906

The republican state convention meets at Detroit next Tuesday and the democratic convention next Thursday.

Russell Sage, the great financier, died at his summer home, at Lawrence, L. I. last Sunday. Press dispatches fail to state how many million in cash he took with him to the "other shore."

Alfred Mosely, a wealthy Englishman, says American boys are brighter than English boys. He does not appear to know why. One of the chief reasons why young America is bright is because it tips the cap to no squire, squireling or other condescending overman. And, in addition to this he may find by listening to the conversation of Uncle Sam's sons and daughters that each and every one has a towering ambition; not one is satisfied to stay in a particular class if he or she can see a way of getting higher.

Tuesday, the supreme court rendered a decision which makes the senatorial appointment act of 1903 unconstitutional and instructs the secretary of state to call the elections for next fall under the old act of 1895, unless the governor shall call a special session of the legislature to enact a new law. The governor says he will not call a special session. This will make several changes in senatorial districts, including the 28th, in which A. C. Carton, of East Tawas, was last week, nominated by the republicans. The change here is removal of Arenac county from this district and attaching it to the Bay-Midland district.

18,296 Killed and Hurt.
The accident bulletin which has just been issued by the interstate commerce commission for the three months ending March 31, 1906, shows the total number of casualties to passengers and employees to be 18,296 (1,125 killed and 17,170 injured). This is an increase of 17 in the number killed and 52 in the number injured over those reported in the preceding three months.

We heard a young man remark last week, "The world owes me a living." It is hoped for that young man's good that he'll get the notion out of his head. It's a mistake, a grave mistake. He never entertained a more foolish idea nor one which will bring him a smaller measure of respect. The world owes the young man nothing; but instead he owes the world and society an active, noble manhood, a steady, honest energy which will enable him to associate with decent men and women in a true manliness of character that will make his friendship valuable and his presence and companionship desired. The truly intelligent activity which this young man should contribute to society's happiness and welfare, is the grace which comes through study, toil and honest thought.

Gives Good Advice.

Gov. Joseph W. Folk, in addressing the retail merchants of Missouri at their convention at Jefferson City, spoke against the mail order business and favored advertising in the town papers. He said in part: "We are proud of our splendid cities and we want them to increase in wealth and population, and we also want our country towns to grow. We wish the city merchants to build up, but we also desire the country merchants to prosper. I do not believe in the mail order citizen. If a place is good enough for a man to live in and to make his money in, it is good enough for him to spend his money in."

"No merchant can succeed without advertising in one way or another. Patronize your town papers, build them up, and they will build the town up and build you up increased trade and greater opportunities. Do not be afraid that business is going to be hurt by the recent exposures of wrongdoing in the commercial world. No man who is doing an honest business can be injured by the light. All business will be better for the cleansing process it is going through and for the stamping out of evil."

M. C. R. R. Must Pay $4,000,000 Taxes.

The state has gained an important point in its last of the great railway cases by a decision of the supreme court Monday in the case of the state against the Michigan Central railroad to collect $4,000,000 in back taxes, claimed to be due the state under an original charter of the corporation, and covering years from 1856 to 1903. The suit was brought before Judge Wiest in the Ingham county circuit court to collect on the grounds that the company had made a fraudulent report as to the amount of property it had subject to taxation.

The company filed a demurrer, alleging that the state was barred by the statute of limitations and laches. The court below overruled the demurrer and the company appealed. The supreme court sustained Judge Wiest. The arguments were heard by the entire court except Justices Carpenter, who was ill, and Blair, who was attorney-general at the time the proceedings were started. The opinion was written by Justice Montgomery, all of the justices concurring except Grant, who filed a lengthy dissenting opinion.

No More Brooms at Jackson.

Broom-making as an industry to keep convicts at Jackson prison busy will have to be abandoned, the supreme court having handed down a decision Monday that the constitution prohibits it.

The decision was rendered in a case brought by Martin Manthey, a broom-maker, against the prison board of control and the warden and the Illinois Broom Co., a concern having a contract for the services of 50 convicts for a period of eight years, to restrain them from continuing the contract.

The constitutional provision prohibits any mechanical trade being taught convicts except to manufacture those articles which are not supplied to any great extent by factories of the state. It was contended by the board that as each of 13 convicts make a separate part of the broom, the section was not violated, but the court says it applies to convicts collectively in that regard as well as individually.

18,296 Killed and Hurt.

The accident bulletin which has just been issued by the interstate commerce commission for the three months ending March 31, 1906, shows the total number of casualties to passengers and employees to be 18,296 (1,125 killed and 17,170 injured). This is an increase of 17 in the number killed and 52 in the number injured over those reported in the preceding three months.

The number of passengers and employees killed in train accidents was 274 as against 320 in the preceding three months a decrease of 46 in the number killed. The total number of collisions and derailments was 3,490 (1,921 collisions and 1,569 derailments), of which 289 collisions and 67 derailments affected passenger trains. The damage to cars, engines and road way by these accidents amounts to $2,924,785.

Potato Blight and Rot.

The following bulletin has just been issued by L. R. Taft, of the Michigan Agricultural College:

Hundreds of dollars are lost each year in Michigan by the blighting and rotting of potatoes. Although its destructiveness is increased by wet, muggy weather, the disease is really caused by a fungus, and the loss can be largely if not entirely prevented by thoroughly spraying the vines with blue vitriol and lime commonly called Bordeaux mixture. It seldom attacks early varieties that ripen before August 1, but if they are injured by beetles it will often pay to spray them with Bordeaux mixture and Paris green, which will also control another fungus known as "early blight."

The more injurious form which is called "late blight," seldom appears until August, although if the weather is hot and muggy during the latter part of July it will be safest to make an application at once and before the first sign of blight appears if possible. As a rule, it will answer if the first application is made by August 1st, and others should be made at intervals of ten or fifteen days, so long as the weather remains favorable for blight, although once in fifteen days will ordinarily answer. It will be well to continue the applications up to within ten days of the time the potatoes will be ripe. If the weather continues dry during August there is not likely to be very much blight, but as it cannot be foretold, and as the applications to be effectual must be made before the blight has appeared, it will be worth while therefore to spray once or twice during the first half of August, and then continue the spraying, if the weather is favorable for blight and especially if it has appeared in unsprayed fields.

As a rule, from three to five applications will suffice, but if the weather continues wet and muggy during the months of August and September, six or seven applications will be well repaid upon late planted potatoes. If one is well equipped for spraying, the expense for labor and material will not be more than eighty cents per acre for each application, or from $2.50 to $3.00 for the season, in average years, and this might suffice to save the crop as without the spraying it might be lost entirely.

For small acres a hand pump on a cart or wagon, to be worked by the driver, will be fairly economical but for twenty acres or more it will pay to use a special power spraying outfit. Most of these take their power from the wheels or axle. With either kind of outfit there should be a gas-pipe at the rear long enough to cover four or five rows, and attached to the pump by means of a hose. Just over each row there should be a double Vermorel nozzle, with which a fine spray can be produced that will entirely cover the plants.

Use four pounds of blue vitriol and six pounds of lime for fifty gallons of the mixture. To prepare it take as much blue vitriol as will be needed, say twenty-five pounds, and after placing it in a coarse sack suspend it in a barrel that is half full of water, where it will dissolve in a few hours. Also slack as much lime as will be required, so as to form a thick paste. When ready to spray, take a proportionate part of the blue vitriol solution and the lime as will give four pounds of the former and six pounds of the latter. Dilute each to twenty-five gallons and pour together, stirring it carefully at the same time.

In making the application, have the nozzles adjusted so as to thoroughly cover the plants, and if dashing rains wash it off it will be well to repeat the application within a day or two, especially if the weather is muggy, as the leaves must be kept covered to keep off the blight.

Not only is the blight more troublesome in wet seasons but it does most harm in poorly drained soils, and upon heavy clay more than upon sandy soils. Under the most favorable conditions it is liable to do considerable harm this year in sections where the disease appeared in 1905 and every potato grower whose potatoes rotted last year should prepare himself at once to spray this year.

Democratic County Convention.

The Democratic County Convention for the county of Iosco will be held at the court house in the city of Tawas City on Friday, August 10, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for county officials to be voted for at the coming November election and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the convention. The several townships and wards will be entitled to the following number of delegates respectively, same to be elected by the several precincts at the caucuses to be called by the city and township committees:

- Alabaster, 1; AuSable, 3; AuSable City, 1st ward, 1; 2nd ward, 2; 3rd ward, 1; Baldwin, 1; Burleigh, 3; East Tawas, 1st ward, 2; 2nd ward, 3; 3rd ward, 3; Grant, 1; Osceola, 4; Plainfield, 2; Reno, 2; Sherman, 2; Tawas, 3; Tawas City, 1st ward, 1; 2nd ward, 2; 3rd ward, 2; Wilbur, 1. Total, 40.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life." Guaranteed best cough and cold cure, at G. S. "The origin of the slang phrase, '23, skidoo,' or at least part of it, is easy," says a well known local young man who prides himself on being more than ordinarily familiar with languages. "But the use of the word 'sundae' as the name of a soda-water fountain beverage, has not, so far as I know, been chased to earth. I have yet to find the soda-water man, manufacturer, dealer or drinker who can explain it's derivation. The nearest thing to it in the dictionary is 'sundew,' which is a flower, and 'sundoe-ree,' which is a fish. Even though the word is of purely fanciful derivation, there must have been some reason for its selection.—Ee.

Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings have been started against F. G.
Noble, a Mio merchant, by creditors who allege that he has left home and is squandering the assets of his business. The claim is made that Noble left July 6, taking 15,000 pounds of wool, which he converted into cash, together with numerous notes and security contracts. Referee Joslyn appointed Ward B. Conine as receiver, with a bond of $8,000, and Conine has taken possession of the stock. Noble had previously given a chattel mortgage which the creditors did not take kindly to. It has also developed that Noble, who was formerly county treasurer, is short about $4,000, and that he secured loans from friends from small sums to $500 before skipping.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Wilmer Atkinson Co., publishers of The Biggle Books. In conciseness of statement, in the thoroughness with which the ground has been covered, The Biggle Books have won praises on every hand. The boiled-down, common sense, cream not skim-milk method, which characterizes the pages of the Farm Journal has been carried out in their preparation. For mechanical effort no expense or pains have been spared, and the highly-finished paper, the beautiful illustrations, the the excellent type and press work, and the handsome cloth binding, make these books models of the printer's art. The color work in the Berry, Poultry and Cow Books has never been attempted before in any book selling for a reasonable price.
No farm or rural home is complete without Judge Biggle's Books, and no one interested in these subjects can afford to let another day go by without sharing in the helpful things with which their pages are filled.
Pay $40 for a farm library other than this, and you will not have more value. Eight of them altogether, and the price is 50 cents each, free by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

Is Your Money Helping Build It?

The following from the Otsego County Herald, of Gaylord, applies to this locality as well as nearly every other place in the state:

"Montgomery Ward & Company plan to erect the largest building for commercial purposes in the world."

So reads the heading over a paragraph in the Chicago Record-Herald of recent date, and it is possible that the fact involved may be of interest to the people of Gaylord and Otsego county.

First of all it should interest the merchant. Montgomery Ward & Co. have made possible the largest building in the world for commercial purposes though aggressive and persistent advertising. They have utilized every country newspaper whose columns they could buy, and where the newspaper was closed against them they flooded the mails with catalogs.
First of all however, under their plan of advertising, according to their advertising department manager, they have sought the newspaper publicity.
This is the lesson for the merchant.

Second, the "largest building in the world for commercial purposes" has been made possible through assistance from Gaylord and Otsego county people. Hundreds of dollars have found their way to Montgomery Ward & Co's cash box for merchandise inferior to that offered by the home merchant at a similar price. But Montgomery Ward & Co. have preached the doctrine of "low prices and money saved," and preached it persistently, too, until they made the people believe in them and their statements.

What's the result? Plainly it is the "largest building for commercial purposes in the world." Did Montgomery Ward & Co. ever assist in building a church or school house in Otsego county? Did they ever subscribe to any kind of a fund in the town or county? Did they ever build an inch of country highway? Were they ever assessed for any local improvements? Did they ever contribute to any enterprise in this county?
Has a dollar of their money ever come your way? No? That's queer.
It would seem that we should receive something from them in taxes or contributions to public causes in return for our trade and favor. Is it too much to expect this concession from our Chicago friends? Oh, well, let it pass. We'll not insist.

How about the merchant at home?
Is he entitled to consideration? If the newspaper advertising means trade for Montgomery Ward & Co., would it mean money for the home merchant? Why not?
Therefore, brethren, let us get together and solve this problem. Meanwhile the "largest building for commercial purposes in the world is fast climbing skyward.

Editor's Advice to Contributors.

In promulgating your esoteric cogitations or in articulating superficial sentimentalities and philosophical or psychological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity. Let your conversation possess clarified conciseness, compactness comprehensibility, coalescent consistency and concat-enated cogency. Eschew all conglomerations, flatulent garrulity, je-june babblement and asinine affectations. Let your extemporaneous descantations and unpremeditated expectations have intelligibility without rhodomontade or thronical bombast.
Seduliously avoid all poly-syllabical profundity, pompous prolixity and ventriloquial verbosity.
Shun double entendre and prurient jocosity whether obscure or apparent.
In other words speak truthfully, naturally, clearly purely. Don't use big words.—Ee.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

On the stage of life the leading lady does some real leading.

In the matrimonial firm circumstances force the husband to be the silent partner.

It is impossible to feed a girl so much taffy that she will have dyspepsia.

Probably the reason that children ask so many foolish questions is because they are natural imitators.

When a man is in jail he often wishes that flies grew on rose-bushes.

Sometimes a disinterested listener is forced to believe that the man who wants office is prejudiced in favor of his party.

Never lend a man your ear unless he gives you his hand as security.

After carrying a ton of coal up two flights of stairs you are convinced that it weighs all of 2,000 pounds.

No one needs to be lonesome since a fool is born every minute.

A bride is led to the altar, but if she understands her job she leads the man away.

on account of loss of appetite.

There is nothing new under the sun.

ing machine for years.

Fable of the Man Who Found a Better Thing.

A poor but industrious Burglar, finding competition in his line so Active and the Police so Strong, began Looking About him for a Business in which the Percentage of Risks in Proportion to the Returns would not be so Much like Those Received by a Boer Republic when investing in a First Class War.

While the supply of Hot Air, he reasoned, appeared to be Unlimited, yet the Demand continued Good, and he had no Doubt that if he could find Some Way to put it on the Market in Attractive Packages it would secure a Ready Sale.

Castling about for Something that beat Second Story Work, he spied the Drug Business, but as his Capital consisted wholly of Native Wit he was obliged to Cut that Out of the List of Possibilities. He further Observed that the Neighbors had their Safes full of Mining Stock and decided that the Competition in that Line was as Fierce as in the Burglary Business.

As he was about to give up in Despair and Return to his Regular Calling an Idea struck him three inches under the Crown of the Hat.
"Ha!" he cried. "I have it! I will be a Beauty Doctor!"

After Washing his Whiskers with Perfumed Soap and donning a Rainbow Tinted Vest which he had stolen from a Dude, he rented a Large Room in a Tall Building, hung out a Sign and Advertised that he was "Thereto make Homely people Beautiful or the Money Refunded. He selected a Few Big Words out of a Book without stopping to Look up their Meaning and was ready for Business.

After putting some Corn Salve and Horse Liniment on the Faces of the Ladies who Flocked to his Rooms, he told them they were already Better Looking and that it would be an Even Five Dollar Bill.

Moral.—Never Waste Horse Liniment
on a Thirty-seven Cent Plug.

A Library Party.
To give a library party would be great enjoyment for your friends, and it is suitable for any occasion. The game is as follows:
First, you should supply each guest with a paper, and on it have numbers from 1 to 40. Pencils must be provided also. Then two people (usually the hostess and her friend) will act, as in charades, the title of some popular book. Your guests will try to guess the name of the book which has just been acted. Then a person, who will stand near with a watch, will give them just three minutes' time to guess and write it down, and after twenty books have been acted the guests will hand their papers in, with their names on them, and the girl or boy who has been able to guess the titles or the nearest to them will receive a fine prize, while the one who has the least will receive the booby prize.

A Good Parlor Trick.
After you have your audience ready, you step to the front and say, "Ladies and gentlemen, if there is any one in this audience who would like to know the name of his future wife, if that young man will kindly stand up I will undertake to tell him."
Then, pointing to a young man in the center of the room, you say, "You, sir; I'm sure you'd like to know, but as I like to do business in a proper, business fashion, I will be obliged to you if you will tell me your name."
Then after the person tells his name—for instance, James Jones—you bow politely and say, "Thank you. Your future wife's name will be Mrs. Jones."

Royal Perfumes.
Queen Alexandra of Great Britain uses heliotrope on her hair.
The queen of Portugal scents her hair with violets. Her hair is brilliantly glossy and always arranged in the height of the mode.
Queen Christina of Spain and the young king's sisters perfume their hair with a Spanish extract that is much like rose.
Queen Wilhelmina also likes rose. Her hair is sprinkled and washed with rose water daily, and several quarts of cologne are used in her morning bath. Queen Elizabeth perfumed her wigs with Spanish leather steeped in musk.

The Five Vowels.
The company are arranged in a circle and question each other alternately. The answer must be as brief as possible, suitable and prompt; otherwise a forfeit is paid. The game begins in this way: The first player turns to the player on her right and asks: "Charles, do you like dumplings? Answer without an 'A.'" And Charles replies, "Yes, I like them ever so much," and then in his turn addresses the player on his other side: "Are you fond of riding, Kitty? Answer without an 'E.'" Kitty will reply, "I love it," or something equivalent, and pays a forfeit. Thus the game proceeds.

Cat and Mouse.
In cat and mouse a circle is formed and a player stands within as the mouse. Another player—the cat—stands outside. The object of the game is for the cat to catch the mouse. The circle assists the mouse by letting her out of the circle at any time, but the cat is hindered at much as possible, tightly clasped hands forming the obstacle. When the game is well learned much interest can be added by having two cats and one mouse.

The Wreck of the Fast Express.
The train left Milk Fall station. A little after four. And choo-chooed out at frightful speed across the kitchen floor.
It swerved and curved and tooted. And rattled up and down. The engineer then waved his hand. And stopped at Stone Leg town.
They backed to Wood Box corner. For passengers, and then they got a new conductor. And scooted off again.
The train was overloaded; it puffed and tugged and roared. And hauled and reared the steep ascent of mother's ironing board.
It turned, but something happened! The brakeman gave a yell: "Get off the track! Get off the track!" Then rang the dinner bell.
But headlong dashed the engine. On, on across the mead. Down underneath the grade. And struck the gingham cat!
You never heard such racket. As followed in the crash. I only know the baby waked. And things went all to smash. —Herbert Small in Buffalo Express

FOR THE CHILDREN
Fortune Hunting.
From a sheet of blank paper cut a large picture of a witch, with a cat just in front of her, mounted on a broomstick. Have this figure pinned to the center of a sheet which is to hang at one end of the room. Have written on slips of paper (as many as there are guests) some clever fortunes, in rhyme, and place them in small envelopes. Pin these promiscuously over the sheet, placing those promising the brightest future nearest the witch. When all is ready let each guest in turn be blindfolded, turned about several times and allowed to seek and find his fortune by touching the sheet with the end of a small broomstick. The envelope nearest the point he touches will be his.
Do not remove the envelope until everybody has finished, but pin each one's name (written on a slip of paper) to the spot where he touches the sheet, to keep tally. The fortunes may be made more desirable as souvenirs by decorating the papers with small silhouettes of witches, black cats, etc. If prizes are given let the one who secures the fortune which is placed in the witch's outstretched hand receive an appropriate volume.
