C. V. Hicks. Domestic Machines.

Mrs. W. B. Kelly left Tuesday for Grand Marias, for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Will Davison. She was accompanied by her grandson, Kelly Davison, who has been spending the summer vacation here.

A public official who will use profane language to patrons of his office, and especially in the presence of ladies, should be removed at once. It is to be regretted that there are a few of this kind and their removal is not likely.

Ed Winchell has returned from Alabaster with his photo outfit, and is located in the house opposite Emil Buch's market. Those wanting pictures should call at once, as he will remain here only next week, before returning to Alabaster.

Hay For Sale—I have about 20 tons each of clover and timothy hay for sale. Will sell entire lot at $5 per ton, or will sell less quantities of clover for $5 and of timothy at $6.00 per ton. Inquire of Robert McKiddie, Alabaster.

Those of our foreign born citizens who have not yet taken out their naturalization papers should do so at the coming term of court, and thus forestall the new law which goes into effect October 1, and which will double the amount of fees charged and requires much more personal history to be recorded.

It is requested that there be a big attendance at the regular meeting of the Improvement Association next Tuesday evening, at the city hall, as matters of importance are to be considered. There is a good prospect of landing a valuable new industry for the city and now is the time for everyone to get in line and boost.

Tonight, at the East Tawas opera house, Gordon & Bennett will present the great religious drama "The Holy City," under the auspices of ladies of the Presbyterian church. This is one of the strongest plays before the American public and is presented by an excellent company. It will be the treat of the season and should be greeted by a full house.

The jolly party of young ladies who have been rusticated at Island lake for the past ten days broke camp Wednesday. The party consisted of Misses Mable and Levina Cox, Lulu Murphy, Emily Boomer, Margaret McRae, Ina Bradley, and Iola Snyder. Mrs. John B. King was the chaperone.

Antoine Cariveau, who has been ill for several months, died at his home in East Tawas last Saturday. The funeral was held from St. Joseph's church Tuesday morning. The deceased has conducted a barber shop in that city for many years and was most highly respected by a large circle of friends. He was an old soldier and a member of G. K. Warren Post G. A. R.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fitzgibbon, of Hamilton, Montana, are visiting at the home of his sister, Mrs. H. E. Gates. Mr. Fitzgibbon is one of the old Tawas boys who has wandered to the west and prospered, but he says no place will ever be home to him except "old Tawas." He notes many decided improvements in the general appearance of the city since his last visit here five years ago.

Equalized at $2,000,000.

The state board of equalization has completed its work and gave out the figures Tuesday afternoon which will constitute the basis of taxation for the state for the next five years. The board ignored the figures furnished them by the state tax commission in making their equalization. The state valuation is placed at $1,734,100,000, an increase of $156,000,000 over the valuation of 1901. The assessed valuation for 1906 was $1,931,568,000. The increased valuation by the board was largely placed on the counties in which are situated the larger cities, Wayne county being increased $59,000,000 over their valuation of 1901.

While Iosco county received a boost of $100,000 on our valuation for the past five years, we can have no particular kick coming, as our actual per cent of increase in state tax will be but slight. The county is equalized at $2,000,000 as compared with $1,900,000 in 1901.

$850.00 in Purses.

The efforts of Secretary Chas. T. Prescott, have resulted in collecting sufficient funds to make a substantial addition to the race purses at the fair on Sept. 25-27. Another race has been added to the program; to be known as the Business Men's Free-for-all, with a purse of $300.00. Fifty dollars has also been added to the free-for-all running race from the same source, making this purse $125. These additions make attractive purses and will result in drawing a large number of additional horses for the fair this year. Secretary Prescott informs us that a number of horsemen have already signified their intention of being present, and without doubt the best races seen here in years. The program of races is as follows:

Farmer's race, purse $25, for horses weighing 1200 pounds or over, horses to be unharnessed, harnessed, hitched to buggy and driven one-half mile after the word "go" is given.

Three minute trot or pace, purse $100.

Two-thirty trot or pace, purse $150.00.

Free-for-all trot or pace, special business men's purse of $300.00.

Two-forty trot or pace, purse $150.

Free-for-all running race, purse $75.00, with $50.00 added by business men making a total purse of $125.00.

The D. & M. Ry. will sell tickets for the fair at one fare from Bay City, Alpena, Lincoln, Rose City, Prescott and all intervening points.

There are the best rates ever secured for the fair and should result in a large audience.

TAWAS CITY MICH., Aug 31, 1906.

Maud Gonne has obtained a divorce from her husband, Major McBride, and is now free to resume her role of "Joan of Arc." Two military heroes in one family was one too many for Maud and the Major.

The way the state board of equalization ignored the figures furnished by the state tax commissioners should go a long way toward convincing the men who compose that useless piece of state machinery that their judgment on tax valuation is of very little value.

The Michigan Bulletin of Vital Statistics shows that Iosco county has the lowest death rate of any county in the state, in other words it is the healthiest in the state. Iosco's death rate is only 4.4 per cent to the thousand. Next comes Benzie with 5.2 per cent. The highest per cent is that of Luce which is 21.8.

The democratic machine in Georgia got a bad jolt last week when Hoke Smith defeated Clark Howell, of the Atlanta Constitution for the nomination for governor. The democratic machine of Georgia, like the republican machine of Michigan, is run in the interests of the railroads and other corporate interests.

About 150 banks in Michigan are favored with deposits of state funds to the amount of $11,400,000, for which they pay an average interest of about two per cent. This money, belonging to the people of the state, is loaned to them by the same banks at an interest of from 6 to 10 per cent. Not a bad investment for the banks.

Every enrolled republican voter in the county should get out next Tuesday and vote for Congressman Loud's renomination. We should make as big a showing as possible for the $1500 to $2000 it will cost the tax payers of the county to hold this primary, and at the same time our congressman's home county should give him a good endorsement.

Can't Believe it All.

We have just received a brief, but pointed letter from Mr. Henry Bolton, insinuating that he finds it hard work to read the Argus, and believes everything he reads in it. He took special exception to our statement, in last week's Argus, in an item on the history of AuSable, as suggested by the Oscoda Press, to the effect that, in the early days, enterprising lumbermen of that place used to cut one hundred million feet of good pine lumber off of one 40-acre. Mr. Bolton wants to know if we could not reduce that amount a little by striking out the last 99,000,000 feet. It is plainly evident that Mr. Bolton is an honest man, and never did any lumbering on "The 'Sable," or he would have known how that might have been done.—Alpena Argus.

Hearst is Right.

W. R. Hearst, on Aug. 17, while addressing a large audience, at the Salem Chautauqua, on the subject of "Independence in politics," said: "I maintain that blind party allegiance tends to interfere with the aims and the objects of our government, and is responsible for most of the political evils under which we suffer today. We saw in New York that life insurance swindlers had contributed to the democratic party one year and to the republican party the next.

We know that Ryan and Rockefeller and Morgan and Belmont have no party prejudices, but conduct their politics for their own benefit and according to the maxims laid down by Jay Gould."

"There are trust republicans and Lincoln republicans, and trust democrats and Jefferson democrats.

"No longer does the word democracy define any definite doctrine, or the word republican express any particular principle. Let the people vote independently and for the public good. Let them vote for honest men and honest means, irrespective of party, and they will soon find themselves once more a great power that politicians will regard and even organized wealth will respect.

"But the independent voter with best intention often meets with much difficulty and deception. He sometimes finds that the men he trusted have been captured by the corporations. Unhappy examples of such cases are Grover Cleveland in his second term and District Attorney Jerome. The people supported each of these men, believing him to be their friend, and the corporations added to their support, knowing him to be their chattel."

They Help to Swell the P. O. Deficit.

Washington, Aug. 25.—A special issue of the Congressional Record has been printed for the benefit of the republican congressional campaign committee. It contains a "standpat" tariff speech written by Representative James T. McCleary of Minnesota. The congressman takes thirty-six pages of the Record to tell the country what a splendid thing "standpatism" is. On June 25 Mr. McCleary delivered a short speech on the tariff in the house. He expressed a desire to elucidate his ideas more fully, and so the speech was omitted from the Record at that time. After congress adjourned the question arose as to whether the party could afford to make a "standpat" campaign. The Oyster Bay conference, a few weeks ago, settled the question in the affirmative, and Mr. McCleary was told to order his speech printed.

In the meantime he had extended it to about five times its original length. The speech is to be the chief campaign document. Having been printed in the Congressional Record at considerable expense to the government, the speech is now frankable, and tons of the document are being printed for free circulation through the mails by the campaign committee. An effort was made during the last session of congress to stop this abuse of the franking privilege, but in the end the postoffice appropriation bill was so amended as to permit committees composed of members of congress to use franks lent them by a senator or representative. This McCleary speech will help to swell the deficit in the postoffice department.

From Washington.

Marysville, Wash., Aug. 22. '06

Mr. Len Patterson,
Dear Sir and Friend:—As it is about time I paid for another year for the Herald I enclose money order for $1.50, as we all look for the home news and appreciate the improvements you are making in it. The children all look for the Herald.

Well, I promised you I would write to you a long time ago but I have kept neglecting it or some one would come or, oh well what is the use of lying, but will try and tell you some of the experiences we have had since we left Michigan. We fell in with one of your old neighbors on our way out here by the name of Babbit. They were on their way to eastern Washington for Mrs. Babbit's health as she had consumption.

We are located in Marysville. I have bought me a house and six lots in town. Marysville is situated on the Suohornish river about two miles from the sound, so it has boat service and also the G. N. R. R. It has 7 mills, one foundry, 5 churches and good schools; is lit by electric lights, has good water system for fire and lawn purposes and lots of good wells for house use; has a population of 2,000 and is still growing. We are in plain sight of the Cascades on the east and Mt. Baker on the north; the Olympics, too, on the west and Mt. Ranier on the south, so we can see snow the year around. Most of the farming here is fruit and dairying; some large farms raise principally hay and oats. Land is dear out here. Wild land sells for $75 to $100 per acre and improved land $200 up.

Mrs. Hayes and myself took a trip to Bemerton to the navy yards; we saw the Oregon and the guns that put the Christobal Colon out of business. Besides the Oregon we saw the Boston, Philadelphia, Nebraska, Albany, and the Goldenburgh torpedo boat destroyer; also a number of forts. I don't believe I would care to run the blockade down in that part of the country.

I am holding down a pretty good job on a friction cut-off in a mill at $2.50 per day, but I like farming best and think I shall go at it again as soon as the children get through school.

Well, I will close for this time. Wishing you success I remain
Your friend,
CLIFFORD HAYES.

Election Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN,
DEPARTMENT OF STATE—LANSING,
Mr. Charles Curry,
Sheriff of Iosco County,
Tawas City, Michigan.

SIR:—In accordance with the provisions of Act No. 181 of the Public Acts of 1905, you are hereby notified that at the primary election to be held in this State on Tuesday, the fourth day of September, 1906, a candidate of the Republican Party, for Representative in Congress, shall be selected by the qualified electors of said party; there shall also be selected any other candidates of any political party or parties which have decided pursuant to the provisions of law in favor of the direct nomination of party candidates for county or district offices.

CHARLES S. PIERCE,
Deputy Secretary of State.

OFFICE OF SHERIFF,
Tawas City, Mich., Aug. 10, 1906

To the electors of the county of Iosco: You are hereby notified, that in conformity with the above from the Secretary of state, that at the primary election to be held in this state on Tuesday, the fourth day of September, 1906, a candidate of the republican party for Representative in Congress, shall be selected by the qualified electors of said party; there shall also be selected any other candidates of any political party or parties which have decided pursuant to the provisions of law in favor of the direct nomination of party candidates for county or district offices.

In witness whereof I have hereto attached my signature this 10th day of August, A. D. 1906.

CHARLES CURRY,
Sheriff of Iosco County.

Ever since Editor Len J. Patterson began insisting on subscribers paying in advance, his paper has steadily improved. Another column to each page has been added, the reading contents are more satisfactory and the advertising patronage increased. When a man pays for something it ceases to be a cheap proposition. It is valued at its true worth.—Au Gres Enterprise.

The D. & M. Ry. will give a special half fare rate from all points on its lines between Bay City and Alpena, including the branches, for the Isosco county fair Sept. 25-27.

A party of 20 ladies and gentlemen of this city made a trip to Alabaster Tuesday in the launch "Edith G." The return trip was made in a heavy sea and some of the ladies do not care to talk about it.

What are you preparing to take to the fair? Let it be something. This has been an extra good year for the farmers of this county, and they should unite in making the largest and best exhibit ever made at a county fair here.

The beer drinkers are all praying (or busy laying in a supply) that the first three days of next week will be cool, as the thirst parlors will be closed for three days in a row. Sunday, Monday, labor day, and Tuesday, primary election day.

Biggle Berry Book, being No. 2 of The Biggle Books, is all about berries. A whole encyclopedia of berry lore, boiled down after the manner of the Farm Journal. Tells about varieties, about planting, growing, mulching, cultivating, picking and marketing. It gives practical pointers from the pens of scores of leading berry growers from all parts of the country who have contributed to its columns. It has colored representations of berries true to size and color, thirty-three portraits of practical berrymen, and thirty-five other illustrations, handsomely bound in cloth. The price is 50 cents, free by mail; address the publishers, Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia.

The home merchant who buys his printed matter, stationery etc. of outside houses who run a big line of cheap general forms for bills etc., because he can get them a few cents cheaper than the home printer's price for a high class job with some individuality to it, who will use sale slips and other supplies sent with large orders for soap as a premium and then kicks because the farmer buys of the mail order house, has several new things coming. He is in the same class and has not a whit more of public spirit nor loyalty to home industry and thrift than the mail order patron. Consistency is the first requisite of logic in an argument against foreign trade.—Ex.

Jack London's pen and Homer Davenport's pencil have been enlisted in the crusade against child labor conducted by the Anti Child Slavery League through the Woman's Home Companion. To the September number of this magazine the brilliant young author contributes "The Apostate," a story of child labor, the exceptional force of which is in part due to the writer's personal acquaintance with the conditions that he so vividly portrays; while the great cartoonist furnishes "An Industrial Success," two full page line drawings, which in their rugged strength are almost too near the grim literal truth to be classed as satire. Further in this connection, Samuel McCune Lindsay discusses the question "Why a National Crusade Against Child Labor?" Owen R. Lovejoy describes child slavery in Pennsylvania "In the Shadow of the Coal-Breaker," while a series of photographs of children released from bondage illustrates the "Practical Work of the Anti Child Slavery League."

But lighter matter is by no means crowded out. "Pete Sanderson Intervenes," one of William MacLeod Rains' rollicking cowboy tales, is typical of the fiction in the number. The advantages to the household of "Free Alcohol" are set forth; there are timely articles on the preparation of pickles and condiments, fashions, rug-making and embroidery.

OUR FALL TERM

Will Open Tuesday, Sept. 4

A staff of teachers of high-class ability—thorough, practical, modern methods—beautiful apartments—elegant and complete equipment—strict business discipline—a "square deal" as a business policy—these are the strong points which constitute merit as we see it.

Our students get a training that is practical, thorough and up-to-date.

We have no doubtful inducements to offer, no short-term schemes to make excuses for.

Genuine thorough work—straight business without frills—real, earnest, faithful instruction, keeping each student's possibilities for a life of usefulness and success always in mind.

That is what we stand for, what we advertise—and we deliver the goods." Evidently this is the college for you to attend if you would be sure of a thorough success preparation—the best possible educational training you can obtain. You may enter at any time.

Our beautiful catalog tells the story. Write for a copy. When in the city, visit the college and inspect our excellent facilities for high grade work.

Mrs. John Cowan and children, of Detroit, who have been spending a few weeks with her parents, went to Oscoda Monday, where they took the boat for home. A party of young people consisting of Misses Elsie Watts, Fanny Smith, Alma Ferrister, Nellie Scarlett, Lillie Thompson, Mrs. Mose Brown and little Verda, John Rodman, John Burt and James Chambers, camped at Sand lake last week. The party were chaperoned by Mesdames G. W. Ferrister and Black. All returned home reporting a most pleasant time. Hamilton Curry and wife returned from their wedding tour Saturday and on Monday evening friends to the number of twenty gathered at the pleasant home of Mr. C. and spent a very enjoyable evening. Refreshments were served, and after a liberal treat by the groom the guests dispersed, all wishing the happy couple a long life of happiness, and feeling it was an evening happily spent.

Townline Topics.

Preaching here next Sunday. Regular meeting of Vine Grange Sept 5. There will be a social at the M. E. church, next Tuesday evening.

Will Katterman, of the Hemlock, visited his grandmother, Mrs. [Name], one day last week.

Several families of our neighborhood spent Sunday at Sand Lake and were caught in the shower.

John Armstrong, Tawas City, funeral director and licensed embalmer. Undertaking rooms open day and night.

Miss Ruby Laidlaw left Wednesday for Granton, Wis., where she will remain with her sister, Mrs. G. E. Am-edon, indefinitely.

Canfield Cannings.

Ben Cobitt is home from the harvest fields. Harvest is over, and threshing commenced. W. C. Guest was at West Branch on business a part of last week. James Jennings is the guest of his brother-in-law, J. H. Wilson. Miss Marie Sims, of Tawas, is visiting at the home of William Biley. Thomas Wilson is in town again. He is hauling bark to Hale for P. J. Early. Pleasure seekers and resorters are crowding to our famous resorts at Sage and Laird lakes. Ed Londo has been visiting his brother, Dave, and the other old friends here during the past week. P. J. Early has returned from Reno, and is finishing his new house, while Mrs. E. is visiting in Sanilac county. J. H. Wilson is getting ready to cut shingles as soon as possible, and expects to cut lumber again this winter. It is easy to tell that the lumber teams are on the road again. You can hear all kinds of loud talk and slang. The surprise party at Arthur Hazen's in honor of his sister, was a complete success and all report an enjoyable time. Dave Londo had a shingling bee Saturday, when a roof was put on his implement shed. Dave is making lots of improvements this year.

South Branch.

South Branch, Mich., Aug. 23, '05 Len J. Patterson, Tawas City, Mich. Dear Sir:—In answer to your request to write you a letter I wish to tell you that there is a raven who is sitting, who is sitting, never flitting, just above the door of my disfavor. It is there concerning an affair which is about to occur 'hoc loco' and under the auspices of a fraternal order that is doing business 'hoc nomine' A. O. O. G. The 'fides data' of the committee of arrangements led those who are willing to extend full 'honorarium' in uplifting, and are 'summum bonum,' to believe that advertising 'etetera and sine qua non' would be properly carried out. And by this confidence musical and versatile talented people were brought from abroad and graciously offered with an holy view to elevate the aborigines of the forest primeval of Goodard township. The program was rather a hot-potch of elocution, music, etc., yet it gave those who wished to eat of the fruit of the tree of intelligence an opportunity so to do and then to retire to their homes, and those who were unable to assimilate the feast of intelligence has only to endure for a season and then would be at liberty to return as the proverbial swine of biblical record to its enjoyable ablations. But it seems those on the committee of arrangements who were supposedly 'compos' proved to be not only 'non compos' but 'non compos mentis', for when the talented of music and of verse arrived at the place of convention the atmosphere was being rent asunder by discordant shouts of "Fill up the floor," "Alleman left," "Hubby fly out and Birdie fly in; Birdie fly out and give Hubby a swing!" (which must have been very amusing if not elating to those whose spirits soar away to the realms of Handell, Haven, Mozart, Webster, Henry, Whittier and Longfellow.) However, the people who came to render their art that they had gained by time and cash, not wishing either to endure, to pity, nor to embrace the festivities, respectfully retired, believing that where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise, and not wishing to cast pearls in that direction, but hoping a committee 'de lunatico inquirendo' be to look into the condition of the chairman of that committee, who was supposedly 'compos' but proved to be 'non compos.' Now Len, possibly some of the interested who reside here would be peruse and enjoy the above and it might shoo away the Raven who still is sitting. Yours, DAN STEWART.

Our school yard has been much improved by grading and leveling, and we understand that it will be enclosed with a new woven wire fence. The Sunday school picnic on Thursday of last week was well attended and a most enjoyable time was had, although we did not go to the beach owing to the rain. The picnic was held at the M. E. church. Vine Grange No. 744, at its last meeting paid off the remaining debt on their hall, amounting to $104.25. New members need not be afraid to join as they will be welcome, and will receive the benefits.

South Branch.

South Branch, Mich., Aug. 23, '05 Len J. Patterson, Tawas City, Mich. Dear Sir:—In answer to your request to write you a letter I wish to tell you that there is a raven who is sitting, who is sitting, never flitting, just above the door of my disfavor. It is there concerning an affair which was to occur 'hoc loco' and under the auspices of a fraternal order that is doing business 'hoc nomine' A. O. O. G. The 'fides data' of the committee of arrangements led those who are willing to extend full 'honorarium' in up-lifting, and are 'summum bonum,' to believe that advertising 'eetetera and sine qua non' would be properly carried out. And by this confidence mutual and versatile talented people were brought from abroad and graciously offered with an holy view to elevate the aborigines of the forest primeval of Goodard township. The program was rather a hot-potch of elocution, music, etc., yet it gave those who wished to eat of the fruit of the tree of intelligence an opportunity so to do and then to retire to their homes, and those who were unable to assimilate the feast of intelligence has only to endure for a season and then would be at liberty to return as the proverbial swine of biblical record to its enjoyable ablutions. But it seems those on the committee of arrangements who were supposedly 'compos' proved to be not only 'non compos' but 'non compos mentis,' for when the talented of music and of verse arrived at the place of convention the atmosphere was being rent asunder by discordant shouts of "Fill up the floor!" "Alleman left!" "Hubby fly out and Birdie fly in; Birdie fly out and give Hubby a swing!" (which must have been very amusing if not elating to those whose spirits soar away to the realms of Handel, Haven, Mozart, Webster, Henry, Whittier and Longfellow.) However, the people who came to render their art that they had gained by time and cash, not wishing either to endure, to pity, nor to embrace the festivities, respectfully retired, believing that where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise, and not wishing to cast pearls in that direction, but hoping a committee 'de lunatico inquirendo' be to look into the condition of the chairman of that committee, who was supposedly 'compos' but proved to be 'non compos.' Now Len, possibly some of the interested who reside here would be peruse and enjoy the above and it might show away the Raven who still is sitting. Yours, DAN STEWART.
