What a few determined women may accomplish has been illustrated at East Tawas this week. About a year ago a number of the ladies of that city organized a "Sidewalk Committee," whose object was to build a cement walk to the cemetery. To many this seemed an impossible task, but this week sees a long step toward their goal accomplished, when 1600 feet of fine cement walk 3 1/2 feet wide has been completed and paid for. The ladies have raised the money by entertainments, etc., and while they have had the encouragement and aid of some of the men of their city, a few who should naturally be found pushing so worthy an enterprise have ignored or belittled the work. Our sister city should feel proud of the work accomplished by these noble women.
W. D. Graham Dead.
Died, at his home in this city, Sunday, Sept. 2, William D. Graham, aged 70 years and five months.
The deceased was born at Chatham, N. B., April 2, 1836, and was united in marriage to Miss Effie McIsaac January 8, 1861, at Belle Ewart, Ont. To this union were born six children, of whom three, William A., of Newark, N. J., Wilmot M., of Albany, N. Y., and Miss Effie, of this city, with the bereaved widow, survive him. The family came to Tawas City in 1866, and are among the oldest and most highly respected residents of our city.
Mr. Graham has been in rather poor health for some time, but his death came as a sudden shock to the city. Last Thursday noon he took his daughter, Miss Effie, to her work at Prescott and Sons' store and was to return for her at supper time, Mrs. Graham being at the Maccabee picnic at Alpena for the day. Not coming for her at the appointed time, Miss Graham walked home and on her arrival found her father lying on the bed unconscious. Medical aid was summoned and all possible done to revive him, but without avail. He lingered until about 11 o'clock Sunday night.
The funeral was held from the home Wednesday afternoon, Rev. N. Dickey officiating, and was attended by a large circle of sorrowing friends. The remains were laid at rest in the family lot in the Tawas City cemetery.

While spending a day or two at "Camp Darling" on Island lake, Mrs. S. E. Howlett, of Pontiac, proved herself to be the champion angler of the party by landing the largest fish. It weighed over seven pounds and furnished an abundance of meat for supper for the party of 15.
Several new correspondents have been added to our staff during the past few weeks. Now if our old standbys will keep up the good work with a nice letter each week, and a few more new ones join in, the Herald will have the best staff of country correspondents of any paper in the state.
From a card received we learn that Arthur Wuggazer is now located at White Creek, Wis., where with Rev. Hass, is engaged in looking after the spiritual welfare of eleven congregations. Arthur says these are from 12 to 20 miles apart and as a result he is kept very busy. He says it is a very fine country and he likes the location very much.
The program committee for the district convention of the Christian Endeavor society, to be held at Tawas City October 5th, 6th and 7th, have secured the promise of Dr. A. F. Bruske, D. D., president of Alma college, Rev. John Anderson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Bay City, and E. T. Lindsay, corresponding secretary of the state C. E. union, to take part in the convention. These men, to hear any one of whom is an inspiration, together with the workers whom the committee hope to secure in the district will form an array of talent which is sure to make a success of the meeting. A good delegation is expected from every society in the district.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., SEPT. 7, 1906

Official reports gives the number of deaths in the San Francisco earthquake at 452. Of these 266 perished under falling walls, 177 by fire, seven were shot and two died from poisoning.

If you want to ruin your boy just take his side on every question and dispute he has with his teacher or your neighbors' children. Just let him know you are with him, right or wrong, in all his disputes. This will give him a good start in the downward path.

Farms in our county continue to sell at very good prices. Real estate men report plenty of buyers, but the list of farms on the market for sale grows smaller and it is more difficult now than formerly to find suitable farm property that can be bought cheap. Our land has not reached the top price is the opinion of well posted men.

If you are superstitious about the number 13 you had better give up your quarter dollars, for on each one are 13 stars, 13 letters in the scroll of the eagle's beak, 13 leaves on the olive branch, 13 arrow heads and 13 letters in the words "quarter dollar." Now it's not safe to keep them so just bring them in and get credit on your subscription for the full amount.

The welcome accorded William J. Bryan at New York City last Friday upon his return from abroad, was the greatest ever given a private citizen of this country. Madison Square garden was packed to its utmost capacity, with an audience of 20,000 while the streets were thronged with another 20,000. Mr. Bryan's speech was a masterpiece and stamps him as a man whose conception of public questions is excelled by none.

There is not a man in our city, however indifferent to the claims of Christianity, who would want to rear his family here if there were no churches or church influence, for he at once recognizes them as the guardians of the morals of the community. What would be the condition of this community at the end of the next ten years if from this time until then the churches were closed? To what extent would life and property be safe? And yet, with all the organized agencies of the churches, the devil too frequently holds high carnival. What might we not expect if wholly divested of these good influences?

While the modern system of school work may be deficient in some respects, and no doubt the tendency is to take on more work and too many branches of study for the pupil to master thoroughly in the time the average boy or girl is allowed for schooling, yet there is a fault on the part of the parents which is persistently left out of account in the argument of the critic. The pupils, especially in the higher grades, are allowed to spend the nights during the week in various amusements which distract their minds from school work, and the loss of sleep incapacitates them for good work during school hours.

Starving to Death.
Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by J. M. Wuggazer & Co. and G. S. Darling druggists.

A Portion of the State Going to Waste.

"With conditions so uniformly and normally favorable, it comes with a double shock to learn that the people of Michigan have permitted actually one-sixth of their splendid state to be abandoned to waste, a literal reversion to wilderness. The story of destruction, the recent movement to restore value to this wasted area, and the peculiar obstacles, political as well as material, which are to be overcome, narrates a picturesque condition typically American and interesting in the extreme." It is described at length by Allan W. Benson in Appleton's Magazine for September, from which we quote:

"From Lake Michigan to Lake Huron and from the straits of Mackinac almost to Grand Rapids, the lumber baron has swept through, with colossal stride, felling the forests that were a people's heritage. And after the lumber baron has come the periodical fire with sweep not less stupendous. Only last May 50 square miles were laid waste, hundreds were made homeless, and the young trees that a persistent nature was trying to force upon a careless state were burned to the roots again.

"Nature is tiring of this continuous indifference. In spots the white sand is beginning to show through. On tracts of a hundred acres repeated fires have swept away the tangled masses of dead limbs, underbrush and blackened stumps that mark the landscape elsewhere. The soil is so bereft of vegetable matter by fire that trees will no longer seed themselves, and drifting sand tells the story of nature at last crushed down by men's indifference.

"And yet nature is still ready to grow trees on this poorest part of Michigan if only she be given a little help and adequate protection against fire. The soil is not as poor as the people suppose. It will not raise wheat but it will raise hemlock, cedar, pine, spruce and poplar. And the people of Michigan need these forest products. For lack of them, cities and towns in the northern part of the lower peninsula are wasting away. In 1890 Iosco county had a population of 15,224. In 1900 the federal census recorded only 10,246 residents of the county. A third of the population has vanished in ten years, because the county had been stripped of its timber and nothing had been put in its place. Other counties have suffered as much. Nor has the loss been confined to a few counties. It has affected the whole state. In 1890 $125,000,000 was invested in the lumbering industry of Michigan. Today only a little more than $50,000,000 of this capital is left.

"There is many a 'deserted village' in northern Michigan, and under the present policy of the state these villages will never raise again. Meanwhile the people of Michigan, who 30 years ago thought they had an 'inexhaustible' supply of timber, are shingling their houses with shingles from the Pacific coast, finishing the interior of their homes with Georgia pine and getting their mouldings from California. The oak of their chairs and tables comes from Mississippi. Incidentally, they are paying an average of $250 a carload for the freight on the lumber they import from other states.

"In Detroit is a man who is trying at his own expense to show the state of Michigan its mistake. He believes Michigan's 6,000,000 lost acres can be reclaimed. He is backing his judgment with his money, realizing at the same time that every dollar he puts into the object lesson will be lost to him, because the tree crop he is planting will not mature during his lifetime. The name of the man is Carl E. Schmidt. He is a public-spirited manufacturer who was closely connected with the political career of the late mayor and governor, Hazen S. Pingree.

"In the summer of 1904 Mr. Schmidt asked the authorities at the state agricultural college at Lansing to designate the location of what they considered the poorest land in the state. He was told that there was no poorer land than that in Iosco county, north of AuSable. On this recommendation he bought 3,000 acres. He wanted land so poor that, if he should accomplish anything in tree-growing, nobody could say that as much could not be done anywhere else in the state. A visit to the land quickly convinced him that he had bought what he wanted."

Low round trip to California Sept. 2 to 13 inclusive; good to return until Oct. 31. See agents for rates, stop over privileges, etc.

Hottest Since 1881.

The monthly report of the weather bureau for the month just passed shows that it was the hottest August since 1881, and with the exception of that year no other month has had as high an average temperature. The maximum was 91, the minimum 56, and the average 74. On the 4th of the month the temperature fell 23 degrees, the greatest daily range of the month.

The rainfall for the month was high, being 3.25 inches, the average for the last 36 years being only 2.74. The greatest rainfall in 24 hours was on the 23d when the office recorded a fall of 2.07 inches. There was 15 clear days, 16 cloudy days and 10 days when it rained. The month's weather showed nothing remarkable except evenness of temperature. There has been hotter and colder days, but the high mean temperature was the result of the prolonged hot spell from the first of the month to the 27th.

"To Cure a Felon"

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stevens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by J. M. Wuggazer & Co. and G. S. Darling druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

It is said that the best way to preserve apples in winter is to wrap them in newspapers so as to exclude the air. The exception is made, however, that the newspaper must be one on which the subscription has been paid, else the dampness resulting from what is "dew" may result in spoiling the fruit.

At this time of the year people are naturally discussing in their minds the question, where shall we buy our goods? As our answer to this important problem we refer them to the advertising columns in this issue. In our columns will be found proclamations from all the principal business houses in the county. Never trade with a man who does not advertise, if you want nice, fresh, clean goods at reasonable prices. Find a man who does not advertise, and you will find a man who is as rusty and old-fashioned as the goods which he is trying to sell.

Some Fine Cattle.

Barnhart Blust attended the sale of the William Graffney short horn cattle at Bay City last week and purchased twelve head of the finest short horn Durhams in the country. The Graffney head was the best exhibited in this country during 1905, capturing the first prize at the Toronto fair and at the Michigan state and four other state fairs. Of the prize winners Mr. Blust purchased several of the best, including the famous bull, "Paymaster 264079," the head of the herd. This magnificent animal weighs 1988 pounds, and is not excelled anywhere.

"Maid of Elmwood," the champion dairy cow of this herd, was also included, as is also "Nellie of Bridgeport," the champion stock cow. In Mr. Blust's herd is also included "Victoria 3rd," and calf, another prize winner; "Lena Alhol" a nine-months-old heifer weighing 1200 pounds; and "Cavalier's Lad" a very fine yearling bull.
