He has an up-to-date office and comes to our city with excellent recommendations, and we bespeak for him a liberal patronage. He has had nine years practice in Detroit and guarantees all work. A greater exhibit of fine cattle will not be made at any county in the state than will be here week after next.

The Breath of Life.
It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chief study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stevens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by J. M. Wuggazer & Co. and G. S. Darling druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Watson's Magazine for September.
In the September number of Watson's Magazine are four short stories that strike pretty close to the core of American life. The fiction of the day has been running a little wild, reeking with impossible adventure, groping through mazes of intricate but artificial psychological analysis, reveling in the mire and muck of the underworld, touching now the fantastic and bizarre, now the slushiest limits of sentimentality. It is both a rest and a treat to be surprised with four stories in a single magazine that present phases of actual American life and present them with skill and art as well as truth. There is also the usual quota of careful but independent articles on some of the vital questions that are now awakening the people to the need of some change, some revision, some sane remedy for the commercial and political evils that make our country a byword among the nations. The third installment of Mr. Watson's "Life and Times of Andrew Jackson," alive with the author's interesting personality, bears out the promise of the earlier chapters. The September Watson's attracts attention on two other scores. The editors seem to have discovered a new poet—one with a real title to the name. There have been several poems by George E. Woods in past numbers, notably "The Haunted House" in August. This and "Brothers" in the present issue, evidencing something of both the power and the skill of Poe, have a quality that is likely at some near day to establish the author in a high place. The fast feature of the number is one that attracts attention first. The hideous old cover has given way to an artistic and dignified one that is quite effective in its combination of brown, blue and white.

The principal qualification for republican nominees for the legislature this fall appears to be "how they will vote for U. S. senator." The question of how they will vote for the people's interests is not considered.

That the next legislature will be called upon to remodel and improve the present so-called primary law is conceded. That in order to get one more satisfactory than the thing now in force, different men will have to be elected, goes without saying.

The official canvas shows that the total vote cast in Iosco county at the primary election last week was 193. Congressman Loud received 189, and four were scattering. No primaries were held in the city of AuSable, it being impossible to secure an election board.

The election in Maine last Monday resulted in the usual republican success, except that the majorities were greatly reduced. Congressman Littlefield, on whom a special fight was made by President Gompers, of the Federation of Labor, was re-elected by less than 1000 majority.

In counties where the primary law was used for the nomination of all candidates it proved very satisfactory, and demonstrated that had the legislature been honest and given the people what they demanded—a good, straight primary law for all nominations for all parties—it would have been most satisfactory to the voters, altho rather unsatisfactory to the professional politicians.

Charles H. Kimmerle, the democratic nominee for governor, has commenced an active campaign for election, and if he does not win it will not be because he has not let the people know he is in the race. We have known Charlie for a good many years and he is one of those hardy, honest farmers who believes that anything that is worth doing is worth doing well, and if chosen to fill the governor's chair of this great state he will be governor in fact, and professional politicians will take a rest for a time at least.

When politicians begin talking the general appearance of the political outlook is sometimes changed in a few days. Two weeks ago it appeared that William Jennings Bryan would have no opposition to the democratic nomination in 1908, but now there is a doubt. The same thing was true in the republican ranks, except that then it appeared that there was no chance of forcing Roosevelt to take the nomination. Now the chances are even that he will be the candidate. What will be the condition when the time for nominations get here no man can tell.

The beautiful should exist in the school life of the child. The school building and grounds should portray the artistic and beautiful. Those things which adorn the tasty home should embellish the school property, —the lawn, terraces, walks, trees and flowers. Within should be neatness and refinement. A neglected school house is a terrible demoralizer. Place a child at a mutilated desk, put in his hands torn and soiled books and we find an almost irresistible temptation to continue the destruction with knife and pencil. Place the same child in a neat, clean room with suitable and beautiful furniture and we immediately remove the temptation for destruction.

Honesty should mean something more than financial reliability, says H. J. Hapgood, the employment expert. It is the quality which makes a man work without watching the clock, or being afraid that he will give his employer more value than he is being paid for. The honest employee brings to his work the best effort of which he is capable, and begrudges nothing where the interests of his employer are at stake. He works without the supervision of a foreman, or a time clock, he guards closely any business secrets which may come into his possession; and if he becomes dissatisfied with his position he quits cheerfully and promptly without stirring up dissatisfaction among the rest of the force.

One of the "canned" editorials which appeared in the "machine" papers of the state last week was to the effect that the expenses of the state government were "nearly a half million dollars" less than the year previous, and went on to tell how much credit was due the state administration for the careful manner in which affairs were run. This statement is dishonest because it is misleading. The facts are that there has been an increase in the running of the affairs of the state in almost every department, and that no economy has been practiced. The reduction in the amount of state taxes has been caused simply because there was no meeting of the state legislature during the past year.

Did you ever notice that "talk" doesn't hurt a man much? Perfection isn't looked for in man, and when some one tries to injure a man by ranting about a few faults he has, the absent one, who is probably attending to his own affairs, is elevated in the hearer's estimation, while the informant is lowered accordingly. If a man knocks along, doing fairly well, people realize that while he has some faults, he has more virtues, and they are charitable enough to overlook these faults. But it is different with a girl or woman. No matter how good and pure a woman may be, let someone start an infamous lie about her and everyone is willing to pass it along, and there is always someone to believe it. That lie can never be lived down. It may burn low but gossip-loving are ready with new fuel. Did you ever think how damnably mean some goody-goody people are in this respect?

Low round trip to California Sept. 2 to 13 inclusive; good to return until Oct. 31. See agents for rates, stop over privileges, etc.

Just at this time the mail order houses are active in flooding the country with big handsomely gotten up fall catalogs, quoting attractive prices on staple articles and making all sorts of big sounding claims for your cash. They do not offer to exchange their goods for the farmers' eggs, poultry, butter or other produce. They don't trust a penny's worth, but make you pay cash before you get the goods and the freight besides. If anything is wrong with the goods or they do not suit, they will not exchange them for you. They pay no taxes into your city or county treasury, with which our schools are maintained, roads, bridges and sidewalks built. They do not contribute to our churches, charitable institutions, nor to the poor.

Wheat is Very Poor.

Lansing, Sept. 11.—The wheat yield in Michigan is now estimated at 12 bushels per acre. The state crop report just issued, says that considerable threshing has been done and the crop is not yielding as well as expected. The grain is badly shrunken and light in weight. The quality is estimated at 77 per cent.

What is true of wheat is in a measure true of oats. The yield is below the average and the quality below the standard. The estimated yield is 29 bushels. Rye is estimated to yield 14 bushels.

The weather during August was remarkably favorable for corn and there are good prospects for an abundant yield. In the southern counties, where most of the crop is raised, the per cent of condition is 95.

Beans have been somewhat affected by drought and blight, but promise a fair crop, quite a large acreage having been harvested in good condition. The crop promises 86 per cent.

Peas are estimated to yield 18 bushels per acre.

The prospect for potatoes in the southern and central counties is quite favorable, although somewhat affected by blight and lack of moisture. In the northern counties the crop has been seriously injured by the long continued drought. The condition of the crop is, in the state and central counties, 82, in the southern counties 83, and in the northern 75.

The condition of cloverseed is estimated at 75 per cent.

Live stock is generally in good condition, but owing to poor pastures in some localities, caused by excessive drought, farmers are feeding cattle and horses.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by J. M. Wiggazzer & Co. and G. S. Darling druggists.

The new postal cards, which are now to be had at some of the larger post-offices and which, presumably,
will be placed on sale in smaller offices
of smaller size, nearly square,
printed in blue and carry the likeness of President Grant. It is said that the aim of the government in issuing them is to make this medium of communication more fashionable, for Uncle Sam finds it profitable to carry postal cards. These small cards will,
of course, net a larger profit per ton
than the larger ones.

Girls Wanted.—To work in the silk factories. Clean, light work, good wages, steady employment.
Mills are well lighted and ventilated. Private boarding houses for girls only have all conveniences. For particulars address

it a point to hand the editor items

them. It is an easy matter to jot consider it a valued favor. Don't
