A democratic county convention has been called for the 25th inst., to elect delegates to the state convention and nominate candidates for county commissioner of schools and county road commissioners.

Mrs. Frank M. King went to Ann Arbor Monday, where she will enter the U. of M. hospital to undergo a surgical operation. Her many friends unite in hoping for a successful operation and a speedy recovery.

With the spring election but about seven weeks distant, talk of candidates for city officials is being heard, but as yet no definite idea can be had as to candidates altho many names are mentioned.

"Hush, be still as any mouse, there's a baby at our house," is the popular song with Lot Jacobs at present. It is all on account of a fine ten pound son who arrived at his home Tuesday. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

The normal class cleared about $30.00 at their supper Tuesday evening. A most enjoyable time is reported and the fear is expressed that the excellency of the viands served may seriously effect the supply of teachers for next year, as there are many young men looking for good cooks.

At the coming spring election there are two members of the county road commissioners to be elected, one to fill the vacancy caused by the removal of F. C. Ebling from the county, to which William J. Grant was elected by the board of supervisors to serve until election, and the other for the full term to succeed J. M. Waterbury, whose term expires May 1, 1908.

High class fire insurance. Henry Hanson, East Tawas.

Miss Nina Fox wishes to extend her thanks to the people of the Tawas for the liberal support given her in the "Trip to Cuba contest," of the Detroit Free Press, which closed last Monday. Miss Fox's many friends are anxiously waiting the result which will be announced Sunday.

The regular February term of circuit court will convene next Monday. The calendar contains four criminal cases, six chancery cases and one law case. It is expected that the case against Jay G. Ellis, which was tried at the last term and on which the jury failed to agree, will be retried. The jury will not appear until Tuesday.

The Herald has had its share of troubles for the past few weeks. In the first place our job press went wrong, as they sometimes will, and just as we had it running in fairly good shape last Friday, another break down occurred which put us out of business entirely until repairs could be had from the factory. It is again running but not in a satisfactory manner, and we are still badly handicapped, but hope to get in shape soon. Those of our customers who have been waiting for job printing will thus understand the delay.

Friday, March 15th.

The Citizen's Club of the 23rd Judicial Circuit, will hold its third annual banquet at the Holland hotel Friday evening, March 15, and an elaborate program is being arranged. Congressman George A. Loud will act as toastmaster, and special music will be secured.

This is purely a social organization, non-political and non-sectarian, at which the business men of the three counties of Iosco, Alcona and Oscoda meet annually and enjoy an evening of social intercourse, and is rapidly growing in popularity. The toast responses are of a high order and aim to the advancement of this section of Michigan along many lines.

Death of Mrs. Walker.

Eleanor Martha Calhoun Walker died at the Old Ladies' Home, in Bay City, Thursday, February 7, 1907, at 10 o'clock, p. m., aged 88 years. Mrs. Walker was a resident of this city for 20 years, making her home with her son J. M. Walker, until about seven years ago when she went to the Home. She is also survived by another son, S. A. Walker, of Avalon, Pa.

The funeral services were held from the Home, Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. B. H. Thomas. The remains were interred in the Pine Ridge Cemetery, at Bay City. Mrs. Walker's family history in the United States dates back of the Revolutionary days, her grandfather taking a prominent part in that war.

Mrs. Noah Cadorette.

Another of the old residents of our city has passed away, in the person of Mrs. Noah Cadorette, who died at the family home in this city on Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The deceased had been ailing for a year or two with heart trouble, and about two months ago dropsical symptoms developed and she grew rapidly worse until death came to her relief.

Mrs. Cadorette's maiden name was Albena LaPlamme and she was born in St. Hyacinthe, P. Q., in 1851. She was married to Mr. Cadorette when 22 years of age, and they came to East Tawas 23 years ago, and here they have resided since. Thirteen children were born to them, five of them having died. The eight now living are: Jay, Henry and Fred, of Central Falls, R. I.; Mrs. Ade DeChamplain, of Berlin Mills, New Hampshire; Mrs. Dan Cater, George, Caroline and Mary Cadorette of this city.

The stricken husband and family have the sympathy of many friends in their irreparable loss. Mrs. Cadorette was a faithful wife, a loving, affectionate and indulgent mother, a kind neighbor and a loyal friend.—Gazette.

The Old Boys have a Pleasant Evening.

The Lincoln day celebration by G. K. Warren Post G. A. R., at their hall Tuesday evening was a most enjoyable affair. The various addresses were warmly received, and an excellent supper was served. One of the pleasant features of the occasion was an original poem by Comrade Eli Dutton, dedicated to the G. A. R. which we publish below:

RETROSPECT.

Well, honored friends and comrades dear,
While I rejoice to meet you here,
I tremble at the task before me
While courting the poetic muse
And waiting for a theme to choose,
Dim visions of the past steal o'er me.

We greet with mingled joy and pain
The thinning ranks that yet remain;
We come to fight our battles o'er.
While some have wandered hence afar
Still more have passed the gates ajar
And wait us on the other shore.

We wander back in memory's maze
Recalling thence the parting days,
And loving friends with tear dimmed eyes
When mothers strove to hide their fears,
And maidens smiled through falling tears,

We hastened through the sad good byes.

Again we hear that loud refrain
Which echoes wide o'er hill and plain;
We recognize our country's call
With firm resolve and purpose true;
Again we don the royal blue
To save our land from slavery's thrall.

Again we hear the bugle call,
And into serried ranks we fall,
To meet the yelling rebel host.
Once more through fields of blood and flame

To keep unsullied our country's fame
We hold the field at any cost.

Again we make our bivouac
Along the foe's retreating track,
And rest our weary limbs awhile;
And wrapped in blanket and in sleep
While faithful guards their vigil keep
Again we dream of home and smile.

But soon, alas, the soldier wakes,
For on his slumbering ear there breaks

The sound of hurrying hostile feet,
With rolling drum and bugle blare
And horrid yells that rend the air,
They come again our arms to meet.

Again the dim and early light
Finds us engaged in fiercest fight
Against a brave and daring foe;
While hissing shot and bursting shell
Again to us the story tell
Of many a stalwart form laid low.

The tide of battle ebbs and flows
While oft our broken ranks we close,
And so withstand their galling fire
Till soon their ranks begin to reel;
Before our charge with naked steel
The vanquished foe again retire.

And so alas for four long years,
While bathed in blood and widow's tears,
Our cherished land is filled with woe;
Until at length from war's alarm
With God's good help and strong right arm

We overcome the stubborn foe.

And then from many a prison pen
Come forth the wasted forms of men,
Who with firm step and flashing eye
Went forth with pride the foe to meet,
But now return with faltering feet
And some alas come home to die.

But now this tale of carnage ends,
For north and south now meet as friends,

With one flag floating over all;
So let us pray this peace sublime
May last until the end of time,
Yea, even till the heavens fall.

But year by year with peace restored,
Let comrades meet with one accord
To tell their triumphs o'er again;
In life or death in peace or war
The comrades of the G. A. R.
Still hold the palm for valiant men.

As time adds to the years of life
Forget the venom of the strife,
As gathered in memoriam
We each our yearly tribute pay
On this our martyr's natal day
The birthday of our Abraham.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., FEB. 15, 1907

One of the pleasant(?) notices received by the printer within the past few days is another advance of one half to one cent per pound on all paper stock, including their news stock.

Ex-Chairman Shonts of the Panama Canal Commission is making speeches in the west telling how the canal should be dug. If he had waited a few years and told how the canal was dug the information would be far more satisfying.

A bill has been introduced in the legislature to require manufacturers of patent medicines to print on the package a list of the drugs contained therein. Such a law should be passed. Another that should be on the statutes is to prohibit the promiscuous distribution of samples of these same medicines.

Last week John D. Rockefeller announced the greatest donation ever made to educational purposes—$32,000,000. This week is announced the greatest advance ever made in oil—from two to 15 cents according to grade. Who makes the donation to education, John D. or the dear people? Of course there is no question as to who gets the credit.

An aggressive business policy on the part of our business men, reaching out for everything within reach, encouraging all would-be comers, expending money when a two-fold return is reasonably certain, it would seem is one of the ways to best build up a city. A town is what its people make it. It may slowly grow by the little accretions that accidentally fall within its influence, or it can be pushed into vigorous and rapid growth by the aggressive activity of its business element.

A slandering tongue is more to be dreaded than the most loathsome reptil that crawls upon the face of the earth for he will give warning before he strikes you—but a slanderer—never. Let a man or woman start on the downward road to ruin and we are all prone to step aside and cry out, "slide on, slide on to destruction." Instead of stretching out the hand of brotherly love and staying their progress, we stand by and let them slide. He who can stoop down and lift up his fallen brother from the mire and place him on his feet and whisper sweet counsel in his ear and bid him go and lead a better life, is truly a benefactor to the race.

They are howling at Washington for more army and navy, more money to fortify the Pacific coast to cut off imaginary enemies and more for fortifications in the blessed Philippines. The best thing to do with these islands is to give them away to the first man who comes along with a "yaller dog" he wants to swap. Then bring home the army that has been engaged in killing savages and dying itself of diseased livers, discharge it into the productive industries and hereafter keep a standing army of not over 20,000 men. That's enough to guard forts and police the country. If we should have a real war the people may be depended on to volunteer to fight it and quit after the trouble is over. Give the money saved from all these retrenchments to agricultural experiment stations and farm colleges or other purposes where it will do some good.—E.

A Valuable Lesson.

"Six years ago I learned a valuable lesson," writes John Pleasant, of Magnolia, Ind. "I then began taking Dr. King's New Life Pills, and the longer I take them the better I find them." They please everybody. Guaranteed by G. S. Darling and J. M. Waggazer & Co. druggists.

For Sale.

House and two lots in Tawas City, good barn and fine flowing well of soft water. Also sw $\frac{1}{2}$  of ne $\frac{1}{2}$ , see 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  i, town 22, 7e., 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  miles from Tawas City, three acres improved, two acres underbrushed and ready for plow. Inquire of Mrs. Jacob Altorfer, Tawas City.

Good Provision.

Members of the Wayne county poor commission, President Frederick Postal and Superintendent of the Poor Thomas E. Dolan in particular, are fathering a bill to be introduced in the legislature at once, which will make wife desertion or the desertion of children under the age of 15 years a felony, punishable by imprisonment in the Detroit house of correction for not more than two years nor less than thirty days.

It is proposed to obviate the necessity of a wife making complaint against her husband as is the case under the existing law, and give superintendents of poor that right. They propose to institute a system of parole by which a man may give bond to support his family, or as a last resort, when his bond is violated, put him in the house of correction. It will be a part of the proposed law that when the head of a family is thus imprisoned the superintendent of the house of correction is to pay the poor commission $1 each week for the prisoner's wife and 50 cents each week for each child under the age of 15 years.

Salaries Advanced.

Lansing, Feb. 10.—The state of Michigan pays out the comfortable sum of $229,198 annually for the salaries of officials and employees of the prisons and reformatories of the state. These include the three prisons, Detroit house of correction, industrial school for boys and industrial home for girls.

The salary list at Jackson prison is $49,680; at the Ionia reformatory, $36,060; at the branch prison at Marquette, $25,680; at the state asylum in Ionia, $24,147; at the Detroit house of correction, $39,750; at the industrial school for boys, $29,570; industrial home for girls, $24,131. The aggregate increase in salaries over the preceding year in all the institutions was $10,912, and the increase in the number of salaried officials, four.

On December 31, 1906, there were confined in the five prisons of the state, including the Detroit house of correction, 2,383 convicts, while in the two industrial schools there were 1,069 inmates making a total of 3,449 persons committed to state institutions by the courts. This is a slight increase over the number reported for the previous year.

The average monthly cost of clothing and feeding a convict in the four prisons of the state is $3.87.

Loud Has Been Busy.

A copy of the bill making appropriations for the construction, repair and preservation of certain public works on rivers and harbors, and for other purposes, covering 108 full pages, has been received from Congressman Loud. A perusal of its contents shows that Congressman Loud has been busy for his district.

If the bill becomes a law Congressman Loud will have secured for improving the harbor at Petoskey, continuing improvement and maintenance $17,500.

For improving the harbor at Cheboygan, continuing improvement and for maintenance in accordance with the report submitted in house document 537, 59th congress, first session, $15,000.

Improving Alpena (Thunder bay river) harbor: For maintenance, $4,000.

Improving Saginaw river: Continuing improvement and for maintenance, $75,000.

A preliminary survey by the secretary of war is directed for AuSable river with a view to obtaining a depth of ten feet.

Mr. Loud and J. W. Fordney were also jointly instrumental in securing an item in the bill for the appropriation of $75,000 for the improvement of the Saginaw river.—Bay City Tribune.

Glorifying the Military.

Defending the recent action of the state military board in summoning military officials from all parts of the state to Lansing to attend the governor's reception at state expense, a member of the state's gold lace establishment said recently: "The military spirit should be encouraged; we do not do enough for the militia."

If this were true we are rapidly overconing the fault. The military establishment of Michigan is costing more and more every year, and at the same time larger and larger sums are appropriated by the general government in support of the National Guard. However, granting for the sake of argument the necessity for maintaining a great military force in Michigan, it must be conceded that paying the expenses of a number of commissioned officers to attend a public function at Lansing is small encouragement for the underpaid privates of the state troops. It is the rank and file of the National Guard who serve for small compensation. The officers get considerable besides the glory.

It is to be hoped that some time a condition of affairs will exist when it will no longer be a shame and a disgrace not to support a magnificent military establishment, constituting as it does a terrible machine for the destruction of human life. So long as war is glorified, however, military forces will be necessary and we shall best conserve the peace by being prepared for war. Nevertheless it is as true now as when Shakespeare gave it utterance, that "war is a game which, were their subjects wise, kings would not play at."—Lansing Journal.

News From the State House.

A bill has been introduced to raise the pay of circuit court jurors from $2 to $3 per day, by Representative Hanlon.

It is expected that the name of Temple Emery will be sent to the senate within a few days as state salt inspector.

Rep. Perry introduced a joint resolution allowing a salary of $600 a session to legislators and limiting the session to 120 days.

Both houses took a recess Wednesday until next Monday, so that the members could attend the republican state convention at Grand Rapids.

Senator Wm. McKay, of Caro, has so far recovered from his recent severe attack of quinsy, that it is expected he will take his seat by next Monday.

A bill introduced by Senator Peek, calling for an annual appropriation of $15,000 for the state fair was reported favorably by the senate committee on state affairs, and referred to the committee on finance and appropriations.

Rep. Abrams, a physician, of Houghton, chairman of the committee on public health, introduced a bill requiring patent medicine proprietors to print the ingredients of their mixtures on the labels. This bill has been presented before, but never has been voted on in the house.

Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction W. H. French has prepared the bill his department will urge for the changing of the system of apportioning primary school money. This will be on the basis of the number of teachers, instead of on the number of children of school age appearing on the rolls of an inaccurate and untrustworthy school census.

In cities where there are parochial schools it is provided that the public school system shall be allowed for every teacher in such schools having 40 or more pupils. While this does not help the patrons of parochial schools to a great extent it relieves the burden of school taxes over the city generally.

Rep. Dickinson, as chairman of the committee on elections, introduced his bill for re-enactment of the primary nomination law. The principal changes proposed by the bill are: Making nomination of United States senators, the same as governor and lieutenant-governor, mandatory; reducing from 40 to 30 per cent the number of votes at a primary necessary to nominate any of these three officers; primaries of all parties to be on the second Tuesday in August; second Tuesday in August to be enrollment day; voters may also be enrolled at spring registration day; provision is made for voters to enroll as independents; signatures to petition for submission in all counties and districts reduced from 20 to 10 per cent; in counties and districts where primaries are not held county and district conventions must be on or before primary day.

Notice for Reconveyance.

To the owner or owners of any and all interests in the land herein described, and to the mortgage or mortgages named in all uncharged recorded mortgages against said land, or any assignee thereof of record: Take notice, that sale has been lawfully made of the following described land for unpaid taxes thereon, and that the undersigned has title thereto under tax deed issued therefor, and that you are entitled to a reconveyance thereof, at any time within six months after return of service of this notice, upon payment to the undersigned, or to the Register in Chancery of the county in which the lands lie, of all sums paid upon such purchase together with one hundred per cent additional thereon, and the fees of the sheriff for the service or cost of publication of this notice, to be computed as upon personal service of a declaration as compliance of suit, and the further sum of five dollars for each description, without other additional costs or charges. If payment as aforesaid is not made, the undersigned will institute proceedings for possession of the land. Description.—Lot four, block twenty-one, City of East Tawas, Iosco County, Michigan. Amount paid $24.61, for the taxes of 1902. Dated Sept. 21, 1906. Signed MARY F. WRIGHT. Place of business, Tawas, Michigan.

A clock without wheels is the unique product of Orville L. Altenberg, an optician of Saginaw. The time-piece, which is quite accurate, is particularly peculiar, inasmuch as each hand operates independently of the other. The clock is worked by weights.
Hon. Henry Chamberlain died at Three Oaks last Saturday at the age of 82 years. Mr. Chamberlain was the only surviving member of any Michigan legislature previous to 1890. He served in 1849. In a letter from Frank Burt at Ogdensburg N. Y., in which he renews his subscription to the Herald, he sends his regards to his former friends, and informs us that he is progressing nicely in the hospital business, now having charge of one of the most particular wards in the institution, containing 65 patients. He has six attendants under him.
Capt. Benj. Trudell, of the life saving station, had a narrow escape from being carried out in the lake on an ice floe yesterday, while spearing fish through the ice opposite the harbor entrance. When he discovered the break he was out forty feet and crossed the break on a small piece of floating ice. His dogs were with him and would not follow. In order to get them he had to return home, secure a boat and go after them. His fishing shanty and equipment when last seen were headed toward the domain of King Edward. The Captain says, no more experiences like that for him.—Grand Marais Herald.

Beet Sugar Leads.
Washington, Feb. 9.—"The average citizen of the United States seems to have consumed one-half his own weight in sugar in the year just ended," says a statement issued by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor.
The average per capita consumption was 76 pounds. The amount of sugar consumed was six and one half billion pounds, at a cost of over $300,000,000.
Of this enormous consumption one-fifth was produced in this country, more than half of it from beets.

No Gloom at Home.
Above all things there should be no gloom in the home. The shadows of dark discontent and fretfulness should never cross the threshold, throwing their large, black shapes like funeral pall over the happy young spirits gathered there. Oh! faithful wife, what privileges, what treasures greater or purer than time?
And let the husband strive to forget his cares as he winds around the long, narrow street and beholds the soft light illuminating his little parlor, spreading its precious beams on the red pave before it. He has been harassed, perplexed, persecuted. He has borne with many a cruel tone, many a cold word, and nerved himself up to an energy so desperate that his frame and spirits are weakened and depressed. And now his limbs ache with weariness and his temples throb with pain—heat caused by too constant application. He scarcely knows how to meet his wife with a pleasant smile, or sit down cheerfully to their little meal which she has provided with such care.
But the door is opened—the overcoat thrown hastily off. A sweet, singing voice falls on his ear and the tones are so soft and glad that Hope, like a winged angel, flies right into his bosom and nestles against his heart.
A home where gloom is banished—presided over by one who has learned to rule her household. Oh! he is thrice consoled for all his trials. It is impossible he can be unhappy.
That sweetest, best, dearest solace is this—a cheerful home. Do you wonder that the man is strengthened anew for tomorrow's care?—Ex.

The Curing of Cancer.

The great increase of cancer and other malignant growths during the past few years has received the most careful and constant study from many of the best minds in the medical profession, and until the last few years it has been thought that the only cure, and that one not infallible, was the knife. During the last few years, however, it has been demonstrated beyond a reasonable doubt that cancer can be permanently cured by a chemical antidote, the discovery of Dr. E. Mather. Thousands of cases have been successfully treated by Dr. Mather, and many of these cases have been watched by medical men who are unanimous in the opinion that a successful cure for cancer and malignant growths has been discovered. Dr. Mather has treated thousands from all parts of the country and has testimonial from many well-known and wholly responsible people as to his success. Those interested should write Dr. E. Mather, 80 Park Place East, Detroit, Mich., and learn what may bring life and hope to them.

Poultry Pick-Ups.
Never give the poultry rotten or musty feed.
The staple grain for egg production is wheat.
The brooder of ducklings should always have the heat above them.
Charcoal is a blood purifier and is good to have where the chickens can get it.
If the hens stop laying change the food. It will cause them to begin again.
Poor information and little experience cause many failures in the poultry business.
A small lump of pine tar in the water trough is said to be good for the health of the fowls.
It is cheaper to hatch and raise chickens by the use of incubators and brooders than with hens.
Cracklings from rendering tallow or lard are well enjoyed by the poultry; not too much at a time, however.
Save the old table cloth; it will come in handy to put over a coop in March, in time of storm or driving wind.
Don't overlook the fact that turkeys are very valuable fowls every winter and that they are easily kept after the first month.
The breeding hen hustles for her living and is never overfat. The non-layers are barren of good results due to laziness and fat.

SCHOOL NOTES

GRACE McCUE, Editor.
GRACE DAVISON, Ass't.
Edna Gates was absent Monday on account of illness.

The second primary found time to make a fine lot of valentines.

The physics class has been studying about the rainbow and experimenting with prisms.
Attendance continues to be very low in the primary room on account of so much sickness.
The pupils of the ninth grade, grammar room, are learning Lincoln's Gettysburg address.
The chemistry class has now finished its experiments with sulfur and are studying Iosforous.
Thanks to the observing friend who responded to our appeal for a calendar with large figures.
We learned from one little girl in the second grade that St. Valentine and St. Nicholas are brothers.
The pupils of the primary room wish to thank Leo Hosbach for the fine sleighride he gave them Friday afternoon.
The second primary has accepted an invitation to join with the first primary for a valentine box. A fine time is expected.
The fourth grade were disappointed in their sleighride, which was to occur Friday afternoon, but are considering the lowest bidders for the next warm day.
Last Wednesday afternoon the pupils and teacher of the intermediate room greatly enjoyed a sleighride, through the kindness of August Blust, who donated his team and sleigh. Had Mr. Blust heard the enjoyment he would have considered it the most sincere "thank you" he ever received.
Lincoln's birthday was celebrated in the second primary. During morning exercises each child in the room was to tell some fact or anecdote about Lincoln. About thirty-five of the pupils took part. They found that Lincoln was: ambitious, learned, brave, independent, right living, noted, accurate, calm, humorous, odd, able, loyal, manly, noble.
In the intermediate room the pupils honored the birthday of Lincoln by writing essays on his life. Prizes for the two best were offered. Fern Rolin won the first prize, a ticket to the Jubilee Singers, and Howard Murphy the second prize, a ticket to the Normal supper. Many of the essays were exceptionally good even for the bright students of the fifth and sixth grades.
The closing work of the zoology and physiology class consisted in the dissection and examination of the larynx, trachea, lungs, heart and head of a beef. The vocal cords, the bronchial tubes and their sub divisions were observed. The auricles and ventricles of the heart, the semilunar valves of the arteries and the relative thickness of the right and left side of the heart were carefully noted. The parts of the eye and the brain were also studied. On Friday morning a drill was given in Michigan method of artificial respiration to be used to revive the drowning, the partially asphyxiated by poisonous gases and the electrically shocked. Harry Trainor, of the fourth grade, kindly volunteered to act as a subject for experiment before the class and did his part very nicely.

Elmer Pierson, of Baldwin, spent a couple of days with Sherman friends this week, and also took in the dance while here.
A. Widias, of Detroit, has recently purchased the timber on section eleven, a few forties excepted, and will begin taking it off at once.
Mr. and Mrs. Elias Smith spent Saturday and Sunday last with their daughter, Mrs. W. G. Arn, of East Tawas, who has been very ill, but is improving at present.
Forty cars of hay, besides several cars of grain, sugar beets and timber have been shipped from Melvor station during the past three months. It seems that the D. & M. Ry. Co. could afford to put in a good loading siding which would be greatly appreciated by the farmers and other shippers.

Origin of Steam Whistles.

As the train approached a crossing the engineer lifted a tin horn from the seat beside him and blew a long, resonant blast that was scarcely audible above the rattle of the cars. A farmer on his way to market failed to hear the warning blast. The next instant he, with his cart, a hundred pounds of butter and a thousand fresh eggs, was mixed up in a monster omelette by the side of the track. The farmer was unhurt, but very angry. He brought suit and recovered full damages from the railroad. This happened in England in 1833.
The president of the road sent for George Stephenson and said angrily: "Our engineers can't blow their horns loud enough to clear the tracks ahead. You have made your steam do so much, why don't you make it blow a good loud horn for us?"
Stephenson pondered. An idea came to him. He visited a musical instrument maker and had constructed a horn that gave a horrible screech when blown by steam. From this horn the locomotive whistle of today descends.

Characteristics of European Cities.

An observer, says a correspondent of the Leeds Mercury, has drawn up a little table in which he arranges the principal cities and towns of the world according to a classification which has at least the merit of novelty. Each town is considered from the point of view of the trades which are carried on in it. According to these statistics, in Paris there reside the most tailors, upholsterers, bonnet makers, barbers, advocates and men of letters, men or women. In London we find the most cab and carriage proprietors, engineers, printers, booksellers and—though most people would scarcely credit it—cooks. In Amsterdam we find the most dealers and money lenders. Brussels is celebrated as the place where the largest number of boys smoke. It is in Naples that we find the most street porters. We see the largest number of beer drinkers in Berlin. Florence possesses the most flower sellers, and Lisbon is celebrated as containing the most balliffs.

Locating Avignon.

Sir Frederick Pollock used to tell the story of the Cluetante society: The qualification for membership was that the candidate had been met in Italy by the proposing member, but once it happened that a candidate was elected who had been met at Avignon. The error was discovered and the society proceeded to vote "that, in the opinion of the society, Avignon is in Italy." This, however, seemed a ticklish precedent to establish, so they gravely laid their heads together and solemnly resolved in a further motion "that, in the opinion of this society, Avignon is the only town in France which is in Italy."

Don't You Like This Town?

You live here. Your business interests are here. Your home is here.

You are reading a Mail Order Catalogue. That indicates that you are not spending your money in this town. You are spending it with strangers in a big city. That city has no use for this town except to get your money.

This town has use for your money. If spent here, your money will help to build up the town. It will help to build up your own business.

In the long run more of your money will come back to you if you spend it at home than if you send it to Chicago or some other large city. You spend a dollar with Smith, up the street. Smith spends it with Brown, around the corner. Brown is just as likely to spend it with you as with anybody else. Did you ever think of that?

All of us have to spend money. There is an art in spending it where it will do the most good. If spent so that it will circulate around this town and community, it will help this town and community. You belong to this town and community. Therefore it will help you. Isn't that good logic?

Suppose you think it over next time you pick up the Mail Order Catalogue.
