Word was received here yesterday announcing the death of Mrs. Frank King, of this city, at the U. of M. hospital, at Ann Arbor, where she underwent an operation on Tuesday last. Loud is with the congressional party now visiting the Panama canal, he will be unable to be present and act as toast master at the Citizen's Club banquet at the Holland, this evening. Judge Main J. Connine will act in that capacity. A fine program, with plenty of music, has been arranged, and an enjoyable evening is anticipated.
The newspapers of the state who depend on patent medicine advertising to fill their columns, are opposing the Abrams bill requiring all the preparations to be labeled as to their contents. It would be a good thing for the public in general if a law was passed that would stop the sale of most of these nostrums, and one that will at least regulate it is certainly desirable.
The Herald guarantees to its advertisers to send more papers to every postoffice in Iosco county, Ausable and Oscoda excepted, than any other paper in the county. Our subscription list is open to any advertiser. We do not blow about what we have got and ask you to take our word for it, but are willing you should know exactly what you are buying. Our advertising columns furnish you absolutely the best medium in which to reach the people of this county.

M. E. Friedman went to Bay City last Thursday and returned Friday accompanied by Mrs. Friedman, who had been at Harper's hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis. She withstood the journey nicely and is recovering as well as could be expected.
The Local Merchant and the Mail Order.
When will the merchants of Tawas wake up to the fact that they themselves are at fault for a large amount of the mail order business of this vicinity? How many of them are using their advertising with a view of securing the trade which rightfully belongs to them, but is being done by the mail order houses? The Herald has no desire to find fault with its patrons, but as we are doing each week what we can to counteract the evil of our people spending their money with mail order houses we feel that we should have the support of the merchants of the county, not simply by the using of a few inches of space in our columns each week, but by using that space to an advantage. Let the people know what your goods are and give them an opportunity to compare the prices. Convince them that it is to their interest to buy of you.
There are few people who are so blind that they cannot be convinced that it is to their advantage to trade at home. A united effort on the part of the merchants of Iosco county would in a few months put the mail order houses out of business so far as Iosco county was concerned, and the thousands of dollars that now go to build up the foreign interests would be circulated at home and the prosperity of our county would be felt by every resident within its borders.
It is useless for a newspaper to fight a battle of this kind unless it has the support of those most interested.
What are you going to do about it?
Card of Thanks.
There are hours that come into the lives of some, when every impulse of the heart is buried under its weight of sorrow. We stand there today; yet we would fain give expression to the gratitude that wells up from the depths of our hearts as we remember the kindness of those who have done so much to comfort our precious dead, and to brighten for us a starless sky. To the dear friends here at home as well as those at Jackson we wish to extend our heartfelt thanks.

Obituary.
The funeral of the late Harry Force, who died at Jackson March 5, was held from the Hemlock road Baptist church on Friday afternoon, the 8th inst. There was a very large attendance at the services which were conducted by Rev. Pierson, of Onaway, who preached a very impressive sermon. The floral offerings were very beautiful. The remains were conveyed to the Tawas City cemetery and interred in the family lot. They were followed to their last resting place by a large cortege of sorrowing neighbors and friends who had come to pay their last tribute of respect to one who had grown from childhood to manhood in their midst and whose cheerful and loving disposition made him a friend of both old and young. His sudden demise cast a gloom over the community and the sympathy of all goes out to the bereaved parents and brothers. His unexpected and sudden demise came without the soothing hand of a loving mother at his bedside, as he had departed this life two hours before she arrived. His father and brother were with him when the end came, as were also four young men, Gordon and Leo Culham, Henry Smith and Elmer Durant, who were raised with him from childhood and who had left their work and done everything in their power to relieve his suffering by ministering to his every need. These boys, who had spent many happy hours with the deceased during his lifetime, accompanied his remains home from Jackson, together with his father and mother and his brother, Lee. Mr. and Mrs. Force and family cannot express in words their feeling of gratitude to these boys and to those in the hospital, whose noble acts helped to make the burden lighter and whose kindness will never be forgotten.
I cannot see thee now, but where Thine eyes have lingered—here and there—
Mine own my best; and looking so
On scenes where thou hast looked, I know
That thy bare spirit still prevails
Although thine earthly presence fails.

Why Is It?

There are two things that strike the editor of this paper with such force that they constantly recur to his mind. They are these: Why is it, that if a newspaper has something good to say of a man, nobody thinks it of enough consequence to call his attention to it, but if something that is disagreeable to him is said, nearly every other person almost breaks his neck to be the first one to ask the man if he had seen what the paper said about him? Again, why is it that a person who is favored through the columns of the paper will go right along taking these things as a matter of course and never expressing by word or deed his appreciation of it, but the very first time there is anything in the paper that ruffles his feelings, he gets cross and vindictive about it and wants to make trouble for the paper?—Orange Tribune.

Men and Things.

The world is looking for men. Men are the world's greatest need. And this is the roundabout way in which the world seeks to find men:

It insists upon certain institutions. But do these institutions make men? It is always dwelling on the need of education. But what is education if its product be not manhood? It is asking for new laws. Yet what are laws if they do not produce good citizenship? It insists that the measure of success is dollars. But what is the making of a living as compared with the making of a life?

Slowly—very slowly—the world is beginning to turn from things to individuals. Slowly—very slowly—it is beginning to put the man above the dollar. It is beginning to find what are its true treasures.

Why not make men first? Because if you make men, governments and institutions and education and laws will all easily fall into their proper places—Exchange.

Deficit in Postal Department Easily Discovered.

The postal commission appointed by congress to inquire into the annual postoffice deficit—something like $10,000,000—has reported in favor of a tax on enlistment and progress, causing an exchange to comment as follows:

Newspapers and magazines are not only to be made to pay more postage, but are to be so handicapped by complicated and foolish regulations as to be seriously restricted in their ability to pay any postage at all.

It would have been impossible to devise a more impractical and more indirect method of making up this $10,000,000 deficit.

But as a certain mother bird when her nest is threatened with discovery will noisily flutter in an opposite direction, leading the intruder away from her secret, just so the postal commission seeks to fool the public away from the fact that the $10,000,000 deficit is due to overpay to the railroads for carrying the mails.

If congress will compel the railroads to carry all mail matter as cheaply as they carry express matter, and will restrict its own franking privilege that loads up the mails with great quantities of almost worthless stuff carried free, the deficit will appear like a snow bank under a warm sun.

The commission says the postal service cannot afford to carry newspapers and magazines at the present price. But the express companies can afford to carry them, and do carry them, for that price and often for less.

There is no deep problem about it. The express companies simply don't allow themselves to be robbed by the railroads, as the postoffice department does.

Considering the volume of business, the railroads ought to carry the mails much cheaper than they carry express matter. And they would do it—would have to do it—but for the grafters in congress who care more for the interests of the railroads than for the interests of the people.

If congress wants to make the postoffice pay, the way is easy.

Stop the robbery of the postoffice by the railroads.

Stop the shameful and costly abuse of the franking privilege.

Stop the graft, and run the postal service honestly.

Flowing Wells and Water Supplies of Michigan.

Two valuable reports on the flowing wells and municipal water supplies of the southern peninsula of Michigan have just been issued by the United States Geological Survey as 'Water Supply and Irrigation Papers No. 182 and 183. The investigations made by the water resources branch of the geological survey show that there are about 200 districts scattered all over the state in which water may be obtained without pumping. These districts are described in detail and their essential characteristics, present state of development and probable capacity for future development are fully discussed. The quality of various classes of waters both surface and underground, as well as water supplies of cities and villages, has also been given attention. In addition to the detailed discussion of water conditions, each of these reports, which may be obtained on application to the Director of the United States Geological Survey, Washington, D. C., contains a general map showing the location of the areas in which flowing wells may be obtained and many diagrams showing the positions of wells and the artesian conditions in particular areas. Each of the reports mentioned is complete in itself. Water Supply Paper No. 182 "flowing wells and municipal water in the southern portion of the southern peninsula of Michigan," contains a description of the conditions in the area south of the northern boundaries of Ottawa, Kent, Montcalm, Clinton, Ingham, Washtenaw, Oakland, Lapeer, and St. Clair counties. In Water Supply Paper No. 183, "flowing wells and municipal water supplies in the northern and middle portions of the southern peninsula of Michigan," are discussed the artesian flows in the region north of the above mentioned counties.

Lumber Cut Increasing.

Bay City, March 10.—The Huron shore lumbering district during 1906 showed a considerable increase in lumber production over the preceding year, a total of 197,500,000 feet of lumber being cut against 184,000,000 feet cut during 1905. The increase is confined to hardwood and hemlock, pine, as usual, remaining true to its steady annual decrease throughout the district.

The prospects for the ensuing year are said to be excellent. It is believed the cut will exceed even that of last year, as many new camps have been established in the hardwood districts.

It is said the real hardwood resources of the northern and north-eastern portion of the state have not yet been fully developed and that the timber available will furnish an enormous cut for years to come.

The pine cut last year totaled 45,000,000 feet; the hemlock 94,800,000 feet and the hardwood 57,700,000. The figures given do not include the Bay City mills, they being more properly in the Saginaw Valley district.

Prescott-Miller Co., Rose City, 500,000 pine, 7,000,000 hemlock, 1,000,000 hardwood; Ottawa Hardwood Co., East Tawas, 140,020 pine, 2,346,000 hemlock, 850,000 hardwood; H. M. Loud's Sons Co., AuSable, 924,763 pine, 7,056,540 hemlock, 6,960,460 hardwood; Hull & Ealy, Oscoda, 3,240,000 pine, 1,200,000 hemlock, 12,000 hardwood; John McCreedy, Twinning, 60,000 pine, 300,000 hemlock, 50,000 hardwood; M. H. Eymmer, Turner, 25,000 pine, 250,000 hemlock, 20,000 hardwood; Robert Wilkins, Turtle, 200,000 hardwood.

The lath and shingle production was slightly under that of the preceding year, 86,000,000 shingles being turned out and 47,500,000 pieces of lath.

THE GRANGE

Conducted by
J. W. DARROW, Chairman, N. Y.,

A POMONA ADDRESS.

Some Possibly Radical Views on Various Subjects Expressed.

The custom was inaugurated some years ago in the Columbia county (N. Y.) Pomona of having an annual address by the master covering the work of the year briefly and making suggestions for advancing the work in the year to come. At the Columbia county Pomona meeting in January the master, Edward Van Alstyne of Kinderhook, gave a most admirable address, from which a few extracts appeared in the Country Gentleman. Speaking of the organization of new granges, he said he believed it to be a mistake to plant them where the field is practically crowded with them already. He had had opportunity to observe the usefulness of the Order over a wide field and too often had found granges that had a name to live, but were dead. The cause most times was an untimely start or placed where the support was insufficient. On increasing membership he said we should not go out into the byways and hedges, as it were, and compel people to come in who have little sympathy with the purposes of the Order or with agriculture. Such are likely to be a burden or an element of discord.

Mr. Van Alstyne believed it to be a serious mistake to depart from the principles of our Order and take in as members those not directly interested in agriculture, however estimable people they may be in other respects. We should also avoid, said he, that class of membership that has only an eye for the "loaves and fishes." The one who comes into the Order only that he may be able to insure his buildings at a less cost or buy a horse blanket or a bushel of clover seed 25 cents cheaper is worth only his initiation fee and annual dues to the Order. The hope of our agriculture is in our youth. They should be in our granges. Let them dance at the proper time if they wish to, and better that they do it under the restraining, refining influence of the grange than to be forced to go outside to places perhaps they ought not to go. And let them fill some of the offices occasionally. It will increase their interest and train them for future service. He recommends the organization of juvenile granges wherever practicable. He advises a meeting of the subordinate lecturers under the direction of the county lecturer to discuss the programmes and literary work in general. He closed with a strong word of counsel to send only representative men and women as delegates to the state grange and suggested that prior to the meeting of the Pomona for electing delegates each grange in the county be requested to send to the secretary of the Pomona the names of one man and one woman and that the delegates be selected from the persons so nominated.

JUVENILE GRANGES.

May Be Successful Under Good Management.

There are doubtless two opinions as to the practical value of juvenile granges, says an exchange, and not all have been successful that have been organized. Success depends very largely on the person who is appointed to have charge of the juveniles. Not only must they be started right, but they must be kept right under the wise direction of a faithful matron. There is no reason why they should fail. It does it the young people for intelligent and helpful membership in the subordinate grange, it gives them something to do which will broaden their interests, it trains them in the conduct of public meetings and in parliamentary usage, and socially it may be made instructive as well as enjoyable. Times and places for meetings, whether at the same time as the subordinate grange in an adjoining room or at some other place and time, are matters that give considerable trouble. If such problems can be satisfactorily solved, one serious objection to the young people's organization is overcome. At any rate, the subject is worthy of careful consideration.

The Annual Meetings.

Nearly all state granges held their annual meetings in December, and from one end of the country to the other comes the universal report of growing interest in the work and increased membership and larger opportunities for working out the various problems that confront the farmer. The grange was never so strong, so active and so influential as at the present moment. So long as it keeps its skirts clear of all political entanglements its future is secure.

New York's County Deputies.

Early in March next the county deputies of New York state will convene at Syracuse for a conference. Much good is anticipated for the Order in the Empire State from this convention of men who are the organizers and guardians of the work in their respective districts.

Grange Halls.

The Maine state grange makes a most excellent showing in the matter of grange halls. It is said that 75 per cent of the subordinate granges own their own halls, and they have cost from $2,000 to $7,000 each. This surely demonstrates very forcibly the permanency of the Order in that state.

Chas. Prescott's squirrels are all right. Who says so? The whole school says so.
Spring is coming, for we have some very pretty pussy willows in the primary room.
Owing to double windows and other good improvements no one has suffered much from colds this winter.
The classes reciting in the basement have been obliged to wear rubbers on account of the presence of water.
We are very thankful to the janitor for the neat and much needed sink which has just been placed in the basement.
Harry Rollin of the botany class furnished the egg and prepared an experiment in osmosis which is working perfectly.
George Prescott and Chester Armstrong were welcome visitors at the high school Thursday and Friday afternoon.
Minnie Neuman, Margaret Johnson, George Hosback and Tony Blust of the second primary were perfect in spelling last week.

been committing to memory "The Merry Brown Thrush" and the third grade reading class "Who Likes the Rain."

The voice of the normalites will be heard no more in the morning exer-

line, we respectfully make our bow and betake ourselves to pastures green.

A New Aid Fable.
This is not a George Ade fable, though it may sling some slang. It is a Home Aid fable.
Once there was a Geezer, who sat around and cut Kindling too small for Cook Stove purposes. He Whittled against Time and Flabbergasted against his Town. The town was No Good, he said—strictly on the Blink. Yes, it was N. G. Why, hadn't he lived Here since '84 and found that the Place was Punky? Sure, Mike!
Look at that town over in the next County. Grown like Jonah's Gourd. Must be a Jonah here. We've grown some, but I don't see that we're knocking any particularly Big Persimmons. That's the way this Gazaboo knocked his town.
One day a Sarcastic Stranger floated into the Town that was Knocked from the burg that had Blossomed like Jonah's Gourd. He heard some of the Flabbergasting and Dropped to the situation.
"Look here, you," he remarked to the citizen who was Handling Out the Knocks. "What do you do for this town?
Are you doing your part to put this Burg on the Upgrade? What's that hefty Bunch of literature sticking out of your Clothes?"
"That's a Mail Order
Catalogue from Chicago—town that is a town," replied the Geezer.
"So I thought," said
the Impertinent Arrival. "Now let me hand
you out a nice little Wad of common sense.
For the past ten years
you have been sending your money to the Chicago Mail Order houses
instead of spending it among your home merchants. What would have happened to Chicago fifty years ago if all the First Settlers had shipped their Loose Coin to New York on catalogue inducements?
Why, you'd have to use a sand dredger now to find the Original Site of Chicago. Now, in the Burg from which I have just Blown in,
we've passed Resolutions that we would trade at home and help our own town to Spread out so that you could Sight it on the map without using Opera Glasses. But you and a Bunch of other folks in this town have wasted your Substance in Riotous Expenditures in Chicago by mail and let the sheriff hang out the 'Nothing Doing' sign in front of some of your own town's mercantile Emporiums. Look at our Town and then look at yours. What makes the Difference?"
Whereupon the Whittling Gazaboo threw a few well chosen Thoughts into his mental makeup and went down to the village store to Annex a linen collar in place of the Paper Circles which he had bought from Chicago at Two Bits a Box.
MORAL: If you want your town to grow, patronize home enterprises.

We are are glad to tell you that we are buying our Flour and Feed in car lots for spot cash, which will enable us to keep the price of these necessities of life at the lowest price possible. We understand the hardships of people in a new country and we are trying to be of help to you.

We weigh our feed out to you before your eyes, and don't ask you to take a bagful for a hundred pounds because a tag on the bag says so. Our advice is to see your feed weighed wherever you buy. You will also notice a great difference in the quality of feed. We make our own at our feed mill and it is the best.

Our stock of Groceries, Fruits, Vegetables, Baled and Loose Hay is complete. We buy anything you have to sell.

What Your Tailor? Shape

Shape can be put into a suit of clothes made in standard sizes 34, 36, 38 breast measure and it will look like the real thing and men can be found who can put it on and wear it—
But whose shape?
Certainly not the shape of the man who wears it, for it was made for no one in particular, and when being made they knew nothing of the wearer, yet advertised as "tailor-made clothes."

Of course they are "tailor-made clothes"—all clothes are made by tailors.

But good, bad and indifferent tailors make respectively good, bad and indifferent clothes, and the best of tailors cannot put your shape into a suit of clothes when they have never heard of you.

Ed. V. Price & Co., our Chicago Merchant Tailors, are in the business of making clothes for the people who are going to wear them—putting their shape (not the shape of a dummy) into their garments.

You don't have to adjust yourself to their kind of clothes, they adjust the clothes to you. It's the difference between the imitation and the real thing.

Would like to show you fabrics Nos. 3220, 3262, 3280, 3297.
$25 to $35 for suit or overcoat.
