They are both well and favorably known here and The Advocate joins with a host of friends in best wishes.—Shepherd Advocate.
What is known as the double order of signals and lights will go into effect on the D. & M. June 23. This system is now in use on nearly all the large railroads. The D. & M. has always used what is called the single order system. The new system is said to be more complete, making accidents less liable to occur. In many of the signals two lanterns or flags will be used instead of one. Trainmen, conductors, section foremen, brakeman, yardmen, operators, ticket agents, station agents, in fact nearly every employe of the road is required to take an examination before the system goes into effect.
George Swales, son of Mrs. E. Swales, was found dead in the house on the farm of his brother-in-law, James Bolan, a short distance from East Tawas, last Monday evening. The young man has been afflicted with a serious nervous disease for years, and has made his home with Mr. Bolan for the past few years. On the morning of his death he drove to the farm where he was in the habit of going each day. When he failed to return at supper time a search was made and his body found. The funeral was held from the home Wednesday, Rev. Gibson officiating. Besides the aged mother three brothers and one sister survive him.

McElheron-Mahoney.
At 8:30 o'clock last Monday morning, at St. Joseph's church, East Tawas, Rev. Fr. Kinney, assisted by Rev. Fr. Albin, of Onaway, and Rev. Fr. LaMontague, of AuSable, performed the ceremonies which united in the holy bonds of matrimony Miss Francis McElheron, of that city, and Edward J. Mahoney, of Onaway. Miss Sadie, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while the groom was attended by his brother, Dan W. George Barry and Joseph LaBreeque, of Onaway, acted as ushers.
After the ceremony a reception was tendered the happy couple at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McElheron, with the wedding dinner at high noon. They took their departure on the afternoon train for a wedding trip which will include a visit to the Jamestown Exposition and other points of interest, and will be at home in Onaway after July 15.
The presents were numerous and handsome, including many beautiful pieces of china, cut glass and silver. The bride was one of the most highly respected and popular young ladies of the Tawasess. For the past seven years she has been employed as clerk at the R. R. station in this city, and by her happy disposition and business ability endeared herself to all who had business at that office. The groom is one of the most highly respected young business men of Onaway, and the Herald unites with their many friends in wishing them health, wealth and happiness.

Mrs. James Carpenter.
The remains of Mrs. James A. Carpenter, accompanied by the bereaved husband, the little daughter, and her sister, Mrs. John Wanzer, arrived at East Tawas last Friday afternoon and were taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oren Carpenter. The funeral was held from the M. E. church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and was attended by a large number of friends of the deceased. Rev. Gibson preached the funeral sermon. The services at the grave were conducted by the members of Baldwin Hive L. O. T. M.M., of which she was a member. The floral offerings were many, one coming from each of six different life saving stations besides those of other friends and the orders of which the deceased was a member.
Four weeks ago the pleasing news that Capt. and Mrs. Carpenter were the parents of a little girl reached their friends here, the event taking place at the Soo, whither Mrs. Carpenter had gone from her home at Vermilion. Both mother and daughter seemed to be doing nicely until Tuesday of last week when Mrs. Carpenter was suddenly taken worse, her death occurring early Wednesday from "pernicious anemia," and before her husband could arrive from his station at Vermilion.
Mrs. Carpenter was born at Sandusky, O., in August, 1868, and was united in marriage to Mr. Carpenter at East Tawas about 15 years ago. They resided in that city until six years ago when the husband received the appointment of keeper at the Vermilion Point Life Saving Station on Lake Superior. The deceased was a member of the O. E. S. and of Baldwin Hive L. O. T. M.M., of East Tawas, and her unexpected death cast a gloom over her large circle of friends in this vicinity.

About Saving.

There was never a man born, who, if he lived the life he should live, could not lay aside something from the fruits of each day's labors.

This is the declaration made recently by a great New York financier, in explaining the secrets of his success. The foundation of all that finally made him a millionaire and a power in the financial world, was, according to his own words, an unalterable determination to save something. He started to live as apprentice to a shoemaker in his home town. He saved money to go to the city. That was the beginning of his fortune. He secured work and went on saving, bit by bit, until he was ready to launch out for himself.

The trouble with too many of us is that we consent to live "from hand to mouth." We complain that we are forced to, when in reality we are too weak to forego some pleasure or habit that we may lay a small portion of our earnings aside.

Those of us who grind our way from one week's end to the other always waiting for "luck to change" and never forcing another turn of the wheel, are slaves just as truly and just as surely as though an iron ball were chained to our ankles and the knot were welded over our backs.

The masters and slaves appear in many forms; the weights that prevent escape from slavery are cast from diverse materials. Expensive habits, false pride, foolish luxury, lack of initiative, want of ambition, laziness of mind and body and a hundred and one other qualities or absence of qualities which we see in others every day of our lives—all are potent in keeping in bondage men who have the brains and ability to be free and powerful.

Are you one of these slaves? Are you one of those who is waiting sullenly for someone to set you free from the irksome grind of your work? If you are, don't wait for emancipation. Free yourself. Do away with the good clothes, give up the whisky, the card playing and smoking if necessary. Throw a little more energy into your work. Earn a little more and spend a little less.

The great financier's statement sounds reasonable. It may bring you the change of luck that you have been waiting for. Saving a little won't hurt you, young fellow. Try it.—Exchange.

Work On.

When a man is born into this world his work is born with him. There is much work to be done and a need for all the workers. Each must do the work his hands find to do or stand aside for another. The work must be done. If you are a worker the only thing to be done is to—

Work on.

Your work, be very sure—whatever it is—is important. Because all work is important. No useful labor is lost. No life is in vain. There is no star without a purpose and there is no life without a purpose. Your life and your work are necessary—they count for something. They are parcels of the great life and of the great work.

Work on.

It is not always easy to see the purpose of one's life work. It is difficult to know the outcome. But it is also difficult to know the beginning. But there was a beginning and there is an outcome. What matters it if both first and last are unseen? Life is here. And work. And both are parts of the whole.

Work on.

The weaver who sits all day long at the shuttle cannot see all the beauty of the fabric, but every flight of the bright steel helps on the outcome. Do not stop your little machine. It is intimately belted up with millions of other machines, big and little. Make your dole of the output. Do not spoil the smallest part of the weaving.

Work on.

Somewhere out of sight and sense is the big dynamo that sets all the shafts to running. You are connected up with one of the whirling line shafts. All you need to do is to see that your belts are well sewed and that your pulleys run true. Keep your little machine going right. The head engineer will look after the rest!

Work on.

Work for the joy of working. Work because life and health and salvation depends upon your working. You are built that way. What would become of you were there no work to do? Work on! Whatever your work—whether it be of highest art or whether it be the heaving of clay out of the ditch—

Work on.

When the timekeeper shall call out "Time!" it is soon enough to quit. Not before.—Ez.

Lining Up Early in the Year.

The Lansing correspondent of the Grand Rapids Herald has been doing some political browsing in the Tenth district and his conclusions are:

"Already lines are being tightened in the Tenth and Congressman Loud is sure to have a fight on his hands. Senator Fred Ming, of Cheboygan, wants Washington experience and will be out after Loud's scalp.

"So will Senator Edinborough, of the Bay-Arenac district, and it is stated that Postmaster Lem Dafeo, of Alpena, will also be in the race.

"There are 15 counties in the district, which extends along Saginaw bay and Lake Huron for 180 miles and is washed by Lake Michigan along the Emmet county shore. Fishing is one of the district's important occupations, while the lumbering interests are far ahead of the agricultural or manufacturing interests."

Senator Edinborough declined to state whether he had or had not any aspirations along the line of congressional honors, but it is known that he has his eye focused sharply on the situation. It may be set down as a certainty that Congressman Loud will be a candidate to succeed himself. His overwhelming vote at the last election and his reception throughout the district apparently has convinced him that his popularity is in no way on the wane.—Buy City Tribune.

Panama Job Exaggerated.

The building of the Panama canal has been unduly magnified as an engineering undertaking, although it is the largest job of its kind to date. It is estimated to cost $150,000,000, but this is less than $2 per head for each man, woman and child in the richest country in the world, or about 25 cents per head per year for eight years. That certainly will not "bust" us.

The distance from ocean to ocean is only 40 miles, and the chief engineer can go over the entire line and return by rail between breakfast and supper. Everything that modern science in all its branches can contribute is being utilized to do the work economically, speedily and safely. In a single machine, coal and steam, with an engineer, under a canopy, do the same work which if performed in the old way would make a thousand men with shovels and wheelbarrows toil under a relentless sun. The working conditions are really easy and comfortable as compared with the privations, hardships and dangers which in the early days beset the construction of hundreds of miles of railroads in the United States.

There are at this moment right here at home not a few engineering works under way, and financed by private capital too, which in the aggregate will cost several times as much as the canal. In many respects the engineering difficulties are vastly greater than those at Panama, and, barring the one item of climate, the dangers to life and limb are even greater.

And yet so familiar are we with these things they create wonder for a few days only, and after that scarcely a passing comment. In New York city alone the great works of tunnels under city and river, railway terminals and depots, water supply and other similar enterprises now in progress aggregate the enormous sum of $625,000,000, or more than four Panama canals, while three of the undertakings amount to $100,000,000 each.

A railroad builder in Chicago, whose reputation is national among railroad men said: "The digging of the canal is, of course, a big thing, but considering the facilities available for the work, is relatively not a bit bigger than lots of engineering work which the railroads of this country have been doing for years past. They have not made any fuss or spurge, and for the most part the public has never even heard about it. In constructing the first track across Arizona, for instance, the men were in constant jeopardy of death from hostile Indians, thirst, starvation, poisonous reptiles and sunstroke, and could not communicate with nearest headquarters for weeks at a time. Scores lost their lives or were devoured by wild beasts of the desert or mountains, and to this day no trace of them has ever been found. To a railroad constructor the canal job does not present the formidable obstacles which loom up like mountains to so many people."—Popular Mechanics.

SPECIAL ABERDEEN-ANGUS PRIZES.

In addition to the liberal premiums made by the Michigan Agricultural Society at the State Fair, Detroit, this year, the Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' Association has consented to make three awards in each of eight classes to animals of the Aberdeen-Angus breed. This should encourage breeders of black cattle who have never shown to exhibit at this year's exposition.

The classifications and prizes are as follows:
A—Bull 3 years or over. $5 $4 $2.50
B—Bull 2 years and under 3. 6 4 2.50
C—Bull 1 year and under 2. 6 4 2.50
D—Bull under 1 year. 6 4 2.50
E—Cow 3 years or over. 6 4 2.50
F—Heifer 2 years and under 3. 6 4 2.50
G—Heifer 1 year and under 2. 6 4 2.50
H—Heifer under 1 year. 6 4 2.50

The following conditions govern these awards:

"That it shall be obligatory on all parties applying for the payment of special premiums, that have been won in accordance with resolutions passed by this association, to file with the secretary at same time the recorded name and number of each animal, whether part of a herd or otherwise, by whose exhibition the premium was won;

Further: That no premium shall be due or paid to the owner of an animal which shall have been entered for exhibition before being recorded in the Herd Book. That this association reserves the right to interpret all premium list rules of shows and State Fairs in connection with the payment of special premiums offered by the association."

Excellent provision has been made at the State Fair for dining halls and lunch booths right near the main buildings, where the many thousands may find ample facilities for luncheon. Two large and airy dining halls provided by the society will be operated by experienced parties who have leased the buildings. Several religious orders will maintain restaurants, so it will be on the whole inconvenient and unnecessary for visitors to bring their lunches with them.

The Agricultural college will present an interesting exhibit showing the different methods of packing apples and pears. This demonstration will prove helpful and instructive to many Michigan farmers and fruit growers.

A demonstration in handling bees will be given each day in the apary exhibit. This part of the State Fair exhibits is constantly growing year by year.

He Fired the Stick.

"I have fired the walking-stick I've carried over 40 years, on account of a sore that resisted every kind of treatments, until I tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve; that has healed the sore and made me a happy man," writes John Garrett, of North Mills, N. C. Guaranteed for piles, burns, etc., by G. S. Darling and J. M. Wuggazer & Co. druggists. 50c.

June Teachers' Examination.

Notice is hereby given that the regular June examination of candidates for teachers' certificates will be held at the court house in Tawas City, on Thursday and Friday, June 20th and 21st, 1907, beginning at 8 o'clock a. m. "Reading based on Burke's Conciliation of American Colonies."

JOHN A. CAMPBELL, Co. Com. of Schools.

Remarkable Rescue

That truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased; the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c. and $1.00, at G. S. Darling's and J. M. Wuggazer & Co.'s drug stores, Trial bottle free.

Special prizes have been offered during the past five years for exhibits of grains, fruits and vegetables from the upper peninsula. When first offered they met with little response but the exhibit has grown to be one of the largest and most important seen at the fair. The Upper Peninsula Agricultural college will be represented this year with a complete display of agricultural products. The exhibit will be in charge of Prof. Leo M. Geismar, Chatham, Mich., who is the secretary.

The Magic No. 3.

Number three is a wonderful mascot for Geo. H. Parris, of Cedar Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble, and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief, I tried Electric Bitters, and as a result I am a well man to-day. The first bottle relieved and three bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best on earth for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by G. S. Darling and J. M. Wuggazer & Co. druggists, 50c.

THE KIND THAT SUITS

Not the kind that gives you fits or gives you the appearance of wearing a stout man's size when you require a suit of moderate proportions.

Clothcraft Clothes do not do these things. Clothcraft Clothes give you an appearance of style because they fit perfectly—a 34 inch waist measures 34 inches, first and last; the arm sizes do not cut or pinch because the tailors know how to cut, shape and sew to prevent these faults, and there are no wrinkles in the coats—where they don't belong.

It is details like these that show the superiority of CLOTHCRAFT. Its makers perfect the many points that most tailors overlook—they know how to make clothes fit the man—the thin man and stout man—and do not depend upon the man to fit the clothes. Then add to this care the selection of always all wool material, the careful shrinking, the up-to-the-minute designing and you have Clothcraft—the clothing which exhibits real clothing knowledge, and which should lead you to be a Clothcraft believer.

And CLOTHCRAFT wearers are not only well dressed, but they are not required to waste money. Thorough systems and care have enabled the makers to keep their prices low.

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR

Will Be Held in Detroit Aug. 29 to S. pt. 6

$10,000 ADDED TO PREMIUMS

Determined Effort to Make It the Best Ever Held in Michigan and in Many Respects Superior to the Great Toronto Exposition.

Visitors to the State Fair, held under the auspices of the Michigan State Agricultural Society at Detroit, August 29 to September 6, will witness an industrial exhibition that will surpass in many respects the famous Toronto exposition. As a matter of fact both in attendance, the value of the exhibits, and the premiums offered, the State Fair has grown into an annual exposition that has attained a little fame far beyond the boundaries of the state.

One of the most important factors that has entered into the upbuilding of the fair is the perfect harmony existing between the officers of the Agricultural Society. President Fred Postal, former senator, A. J. Doherty, Secretary I. H. Butterfield, Treasurer John McKay, and Business Manager Chas. A. Floyd, have worked early and late for the success of the 1907 exhibition, and the wonderful improvements made in the buildings, grounds, transportation facilities, premium lists, and extra attractions are mute testimonials to their efforts. The experience Mr. Doherty gained as chairman of the finance committee last year has proved invaluable to him as general superintendent. He knows the fair's shortcomings and has evolved plans that will overcome them as rapidly as possible.

It has been determined to add $10,000 of the appropriation made by the state legislature to aid the fair to the premium lists. This will make the awards given exhibitors by far the most liberal in the history of the state. In addition new classes have been added in the cattle, horse, sheep, and swine departments. Secretary Butterfield will begin the work of mailing the premium lists to farmers, stock growers, and former exhibitors about June 1.

An improvement this year that will appeal to every exhibitor is the adding of three sidetracks to the railroad facilities within the grounds. Negotiations are now on with the Grand Trunk railroad for the installation of the new sidings, and the improvement will almost triple the capacity of the fair yards.

The fair of 1906 was handicapped to a great extent through several buildings being completed only a day or two before the gates were opened. In many instances unfinished sidewalks, and rough interiors greeted the visitor, but this has all been changed and the grounds undergone a complete transformation. Under the direction of L. R. Taft, of the Michigan Agricultural College, a landscape gardener has laid out new walks, and arranged to turn the north end of the grounds into a rest spot. Heretofore it has been used by the horsemen and contained tumble down stacks. The beautifying of this spot will remove the only unsightly feature on the many acres devoted to State Fair purposes. By mid-summer a superb collection of shrubs will be at their best while lawns that were seeded a year ago will be covered with a carpet of heavy grass.

"Something doing every minute," has been the motto of Business Manager Floyd in arranging the attractions to be seen from the grand stand at night and between races during the afternoon program. Mr. Floyd has contracted for almost every form of entertainment known to the amusement world, and also for several special features that have never been seen outside of New York and Chicago. His program as arranged includes: High diving, deep sea diving, gymnastic work on apparatus, tumbling, tight rope walking, trained animals, exciting cowboy races, and wild west scenes. He is at present endeavoring to arrange for a genuine western village to be shown on the grounds. If he is successful in completing arrangements they Indian papooses can be seen as they stare unblinkingly from the narrow framework strapped to their mother's back. War dances will be given in full Indian regalia every afternoon and evening, and among the relics of the old western days shown will be a stage coach that has been riddled with bullets time and again while crossing the plains. A special feature will be made of the Indian museum, lecturers being present to explain the history and significance of every article shown.

Every visitor will be interested in the ostrich farm. Between 50 and 60 birds will be shown, in addition to over a score of "chicks" that are far larger than a good-sized hen. The details of ostrich farming will be gone into thoroughly while a collection of magnificent feathers will be on exhibition. Several of the mammoth birds have been trained to draw sulkies and will be seen upon the race track.

The fair management has determined that no criticism can be made this year of the various entertainments granted the privileges of the fair grounds. Every show must be absolutely moral in tone, and fulfill every representation of what is to be seen inside the tents.

Dairymen who visit the state fair will have an opportunity of seeing a milking machine in actual operation. Gov. Warner is the owner of the only milking machine in the state in addition to the one that will be shown at the fair. They are mechanical contrivances that show the constant effort inventors are making to reduce the cost of production in the dairy and butter business.

The educational department of the fair is under the personal supervision of George B. Horton, of Fruit Ridge, president of the Michigan State Grange. Mr. Horton has placed a large share of the detail work in the hands of Thomas M. Sattler, superintendent of the Jackson county schools. The work has become one of Mr. Sattler's hobbies, and in a letter to President Postal he recently declared, "that he would fill every inch of exhibition space allowed him."

Liberal prizes will be given for the best examples of graded school work. Specimens will be shown embracing what is accomplished throughout the state by classes in manual training, forestry, domestic science, drawing, clay modeling and painting. Mr. Belle F. Clark, of Denton, will have active charge of the needlework department, and has already asked that she be allowed twice the amount of space given to the needlework exhibition last year.

C. A. Tyler, of Nottawa, secretary-treasurer of the American Hampshire Sheep Association, and also secretary of the State Livestock Sanitary Commission, will again superintend the exhibit of cattle. In furtherance of the determination of the state fair officials to increase the premiums paid to Michigan bred cattle from time to time, the "home bred" classes will be treated with unusual liberality this year. A class has been added for Ayrshire cattle, and a special prize will be offered for dairy short horns. The American Short Horn Breeders' Association prize of $200 will be increased to $400 by the society. This amount will be given in addition to the regular premiums offered for American short horns.

The special dairy prize of $100 given last year for economical dairy production will be continued this year. This prize is open to all breeds. Tests will be made for three days by the State Dairy and Food Department based on cost per unit of the total product.

The horse department has been greatly improved. The classifications have been enlarged covering standard bred, coach and saddle horses. A new class has been added for the American coach horse while the Clydesdale and Englishshire horses have been placed in separate classes. A champion cup will be offered for the best stallion shown with a colt of his get. This department is in charge of L. C. Holden, of Sault Ste. Marie. Mr. Holden is the owner of a large stock farm situated in Chippewa county, and is known to every horse breeder in Michigan.

The largest premiums in the history of the fair will be offered this year for Michigan bred sheep. The classification and the number of breeds represented will be larger than those shown at any fair in the United States. W. E. Boyden, of Bay City, who will supervise this department, is an experienced sheep breeder and is known personally to every stockman in the lower peninsula.

Rep. W. J. Galbraith, of Calumet, has been gradually adding to the mineral collection that will be shown at the fair this year. Not only will every metal that is taken from the ground in Michigan be displayed, both in its natural and manufactured state, but the method of mining, the machinery used, and the history of the mining discoveries will also be gone into. The mineral collection will be featured in a way that will be of the greatest value as an educational factor.

In the poultry department, Superintendent Daniel Thomas, of Pontiac, has prepared good lists and liberal premiums. A. H. Griffith, of Detroit, director of the Detroit Museum of Art, who will superintend the art exhibit, has arranged for an elaborate display of costly paintings. In the fruit and flower department many premiums have been added. Rep. L. W. Snell, of Highland Park, has stated that the dairy exhibit, of which he will have charge, will be one of the most complete ever seen in Michigan.

Some idea of the growing fame of the State Fair even beyond the confines of the state can be gained by the fact that Secretary Butterfield has received over 50 applications from implement dealers all over the country for space to display their wares. Hardware dealers and manufacturers throughout the state have awakened to the opportunity offered by the State Fair for the exhibition of their wares, and it is thought that the booths in the industrial building this year will be both numerous and costly.

While the fair will be closed on Sundays this year, it will be open every night. The gates will swing for visitors the first thing every morning and will not be locked until the last visitor has wended his way homeward.

The executive committee of the Michigan Agricultural Society announces that all entries must be made in the various classes before the following dates:
All live stock entries close on August 22.
All speed entries close on August 22.
Entries in fruits and flowers close August 30.
In all other divisions on August 23.

It seems almost incredible that a little over twenty-five years ago the crop of seedless oranges available for shipment was only one box.

In 1898, 14,000 carloads went out of California and in 1904 26,000 carloads were shipped, a total of 10,000,000 boxes. This year the amount was much greater.

The navel was first introduced from Brazil in 1872, and three years later a California woman obtained two of the slips from the government and planted them at Riverside. In 1879 the buds were selling as high as $5 apiece, and in one year $1,500 worth of buds were sold from these two trees. Now they are found over a wide area of California and the fruit is one of the state's most valuable articles of export, being shipped in millions of boxes and bringing in vast sums to thousands of growers.

The navel orange rules in the markets of the world and has been the prime factor in developing California.

Say! Do you believe for a second that any merchant loves you so that he is going to give you something for nothing? If you do you will find in the end that he is just fishing and you are the fish, and that you have got to be caught or he has got to quit or fail, and that is not what he went into business for. I imagine that you had better deal with a man who does not give premiums or compel you to buy five or ten dollar lots and work in goods on you with a big margin for him and which you could get along without. Watch your weights and don't spend your wool money for things you can get along without.
