THE EXCELSIOR FACTORY.
The Prompt Response Made by Our City is Most Gratifying.
That the new excelsior factory mentioned in our issue of last week is an assured fact is most gratifying news to the people of this city. The prompt and hearty manner in which the people have responded in contributing the necessary funds to secure the location of the plant here shows that as a rule our citizens have the interest of the city at heart. The contributions came not only from the business men but most liberally from the laboring men aided in the project.
The location of this industry here will be of vast importance, not only to the city but to the surrounding country, which will have to supply the raw material. According to the estimates furnished by Mr. Cottrell they will use three thousand cords of poplar and other woods per year, at $2.50 per cord, a total of nearly $8,000 per year.
The two main buildings of the plant will be 50x60 and 48x80 feet in size, aside from the power house in which will be installed a 100 h. p. engine and large pumps. There will also be 1000 feet of sheds, 20 feet wide, an office 20x24, and a barn. The cost of these buildings is placed at $3,500 and the machinery installed will cost $6,500, making the total cost of the plant $10,000.
Mr. Cottrell places the amount that will be paid by the company during the first year at not less than $25,000. The pay roll will reach nearly $1,000 per month. Aside from three or four of the head men this money will be paid to the laboring men of this city.
The liberal manner in which our citizens came to the front and subscribed the necessary funds to secure the plant have given those in charge of the matter the assurance that the entire amount will be forthcoming and the gentlemen composing the company have been notified that they can complete their arrangements and get to work. It now behooves those who have not already done so to get their names on the subscription paper. A list of the contributors and the amount of their contribution will be published.

Streeter, Hale, Eli Dutton, Whittemore; secretary and treasurer, Jas. H. Nisbet, Tawas City; superintendent of primary work, Miss Viola Mack, East Tawas.
The program as advertised was carried out in its entirety and was replete with thoughts and suggestions which will be of great assistance to those engaged in this work. Mrs. Washburn, who is State Primary Superintendent, gave some very fine talks along this line. Rev. Dean confined his remarks mainly to the organization of adult Bible classes, and Rev. Currey explained how the home department can be made a very efficient help to the Sunday school. Mr. Allen, who is recording secretary of the state association, explained very fully the work of that body in perfecting county organizations and otherwise furthering the cause in Michigan.
Altogether it was a very successful meeting and those present will go back to their various homes with a greater interest in their work and there is no doubt but that the organization in this county will be of great benefit to all concerned.

Another Pioneer At Rest.

John L. Anschuetz, for over forty years a resident of Tawas township, died at the home of his son, John, on Tuesday, June 18, 1907.

The deceased was born in Zella by Gotha, Germany, Nov. 25, 1829. In 1852 he emigrated to Saginaw, W. S. Mich., then a small village, and in 1855 was united in marriage to Miss Margaret B. Zorn of that city. In 1865 he located upon a homestead in Tawas township, then a dense forest. Tawas City then contained only one saw mill, one store, one boarding house and several small dwellings. His family joined him in 1866 and through many hardships they hewed out a home for themselves.

Nine children were born to this union, three of whom died in infancy, leaving six children besides the widow and many friends to mourn his demise. The surviving children are George C., John, Charles H., Earnest S., Herman and Mrs. Henry Hosbach, all of whom reside in Tawas township or immediate vicinity. The funeral services were held from the Emanuel Lutheran church, of which deceased was a member, yesterday afternoon, Rev. Henning officiating.

Mundy to Jackson.

Judge Comine convened the regular June term of circuit court Monday. There being no jury cases the jury was notified not to appear.

Eugene Mundy, charged with the murder of Joseph Turcott and Mrs. McKay, was brought into court and pleaded guilty. Tuesday morning Judge Comine took the testimony of some witnesses to determine the degree of the crime. At one o'clock in the afternoon Mundy was brought into court and sentenced to Jackson prison for life. Deputies George H. Hadwin and Collie Johnson left for that institution with him at 3:23 the same afternoon and Wednesday morning Mundy began his sentence.

George E. McKiddie was granted a divorce from Charity McKiddie. The divorce cases of John Stone vs. Addie Stone and Robert E. Nicholson vs. Minnie Nicholson were argued and submitted.

In the injunction case of Frank and Monke Avehdt against Margaret Ghecke, the complainant's petition was granted.

Chancery cases are being considered by the court.

County S. S. Convention.

The county Sunday school convention, a program of which was published in this paper some time ago, was held at East Tawas last Tuesday, and though not so well attended as was hoped for, was very helpful and full of inspiration for those who were able to be present. Four state speakers were present, Rev. F. L. Curry, of Lansing, Rev. S. A. Dean, of Sandusky, D. B. Allen, of Covert and Mrs. Fred Washburn, of Benton Harbor.

A county organization was perfected and plans discussed for advancing the work in the various schools of the county.

The following officers were elected: President, Edwin Rawden, of East Tawas; vice-presidents, V. E. Rix, Oscoda, John Grant, East Tawas, James E. Ballard, Tawas City, Elmer

The Constitutional Convention.

The constitutional convention called by the legislature, and delegates to which will be elected next fall, will sit three months and the members will draw $10 a day for their services each. The members will be nominated and elected by legislative senatorial districts. Many of the lawmakers now at Lansing have announced their intention of seeking election as delegate to the constitutional convention. These three facts, in their real meaning, have an extensive bearing on this important event.

In the first place the provision for holding the election insures a political rather than a representative convention. The requirement that the delegates shall be elected by legislative districts means that they will be chosen almost if not entirely from one party. It is doubtful if the democrats will have a single member—certainly not many more than their present representation in the legislature. The machinery and method for selecting delegates is exactly of the character which enables politicians to control it and hence choose whom they please. The significance of this feature of the plan becomes more apparent with the announcement that the legislators will themselves seek to become members of the constitutional convention. The men who are in control of the majority party wish to have constitutional delegates whom they can manage. If political advantages are to be obtained they want to be sure of getting them. Legislators are the kind of men, as a rule, who can be depended upon to do this sort of work. They are easily obtained by the attractiveness of a $1,000 job—which is a large sum to a legislator.

How would the people of Michigan relish a revision of the state's fundamental law by the horde of politico-legislators that have been drawing pay at Lansing the past five and a half months? Wouldn't a constitutional convention composed of such eminent authorities excite the admiration and confidence of the public? Yet, this is the prospect the commonwealth faces, thanks to our enlightened and patriotic legislature.—Saginaw News.

It's A Record.

A great many people do not seem to know the real function of a newspaper. A real newspaper is simply the recording secretary of the doings of the public. If a man jumps into a well, the newspaper records his action. If he commits suicide, the newspaper makes a record. If he builds a new building, the newspaper puts it down. If a man takes a new wife the newspaper puts it in the minutes with minute details as to the bride's dress and the flowers and so on. If a man is arrested for burglary the newspaper tells the story. If he is fined for getting drunk the newspaper makes a minute of the event. When a child is born the newspaper sets it down. If a factory is started, the newspaper is a representative of the public on hand to give it a welcome and enter it up in the minutes of the day. If five aldermen sell out the city and hold a feast in an underground saloon afterward, the newspaper, with impartial attention to the facts, records the story. The newspaper has no feeling in the matter whatever. It is keeping the minutes of society. It is recording the things of interest to the public, and it is done without any more feeling either for or against the participants than the average man would have against the butcher who furnishes his meat or the baker who furnishes his bread. Some people think that the newspaper editor has a personal feeling against people, or it wouldn't write up their foolish escapades. This is the greatest possible mistake. The newspaper is like a judge on the bench, who hands out even-handed justice without any feeling in the matter, except a feeling of sorrow that people should get into trouble. The newspaper simply records the things that happen of public interest and if they do not look well in print the fault is with the fellows who make them happen, and not with the newspaper, which only writes them down after they happen.

July Woman's Home Companion.

A novel by Anthony Hope is an event in literature. The three most popular writers of fiction in English are Hall Caine, Marion Crawford and Anthony Hope, and many thousands of readers who recall "The Prisoner of Zenda" and "The Dolly Dialogues" believe that Hope is not the least of the triumvir. Anthony Hope's latest story, "Helena's Path," begins serially in Woman's Home Companion for July. It is most interesting, and thoroughly wholesome, and embodies all the delightful romance of the Zenda stories. The July Woman's Home Companion is unusually strong in fiction, there being in addition to the Anthony Hope serial, short stories by Owen Oliver, Juliet Tompkins, Jean Webster, and Robert C. V. Meyers, also a two-part story by Herbert D. Ward. Dr. E. E. Hale writes of the pleasures of outdoor life in his monthly editorial page, and Charlotte Perkins Gilman describes the domestic progress of women. Other special articles are contributed by Samuel Armstrong Hamilton, "When the Garden Looks Shabby," and A. G. Richardson, who gives plans and instructions for building a suburban cottage for $1,700. Grace Margaret Gould, the foremost writer of fashion-topics in this country, contributes several pages which undoubtedly will prove of deep interest to the feminine readers. In addition there are departments conducted by the National Child Labor Committee, Margaret E. Sangster, Sam Loyd, Anna Steese Richardson, Evelyn Parsons, Dan Beard and "Aun Janet" Porter.

SCHOOL NOTES

NEVA DICKEY, Editor.
LAVINA COX, Assistant.

Roy Clark was absent Tuesday.
Helen Sass visited the intermediate room last Friday.
Hattie Reinka and Byron Harris are on the sick list.
Lucile Brown was a visitor in the second primary Tuesday afternoon.
The Misses Crandall, Murphy and Peterson with Miss Belle Dickey spent last Saturday at Sand Lake.
Misses Goldie Black, Ethel McComb and Mrs. Nisbet were callers in the grammar room Friday afternoon.
The different forms of bacteria and the ameba have been examined under the microscope by the botany class.

At last summer has come and the pupils certainly enjoy the seats which have been placed under the trees by our janitor, James Davis.

The pupils of the intermediate and second primary assembled in the primary room for a flag program Friday morning, it being Flag Day.

County Normal Class Day.

Thursday evening, June 14, occurred the class day exercises of the Iosco County Normal. Long before the time appointed for the exercises, all the chairs that could be placed in the court room were occupied and standing room was at a premium, still the people crowded into the hall and up the stairs until finally it became necessary to lock the outside doors to keep the people back from the stage, and many disappointed friends were obliged to return home.

Rev. A. A. Griffes was conducted to the fire escape at the rear of the building by Mr. Hadwin, and came in through a rear window in order that he might pronounce the benediction.

The young ladies of this class certainly deserve much credit for their very original program and the mastery in which they handled it.

The "President's Address" by the class president, Miss Anna Sullivan, showed deep thought and earnest preparation. Her subject was "The Value of an Ideal," and she urged her classmates to be what they would have their pupils become, for the teacher is the pupil's ideal. She emphasized the fact that no bad person can be a strong teacher.

Miss Alma Ferrister had the "Class Calendar" and recalled many things both serious and funny that had occurred during the year.

Miss Sybil Clark, the class poetess, chose for her subject the class motto, "Push." She showed the importance of pushing through difficulties, if one wished to win in the race of life.

Miss Clara Larmer gave in a very pleasing manner the biography of "Our Best Loved Poet" and recited his first poem written while he was a child at school.

Miss Frances Halleck compared Longfellow and Whittier as to home training, educational advantages and styles of poetry, and showed in what particular each was a great poet.

Miss Lucy Bristol gave a review of "Evangeline" in which she showed her sympathy with the poet and his subject and her thorough understanding of the poem.

Misses Ethel Wardell and Muriel Murphy gave the class prophecy under the title—"An Unexpected Meeting." The meeting took place in 1917 and various improvements civic and social since 1907 were cited, and the various occupations of the members of the class of '07 were given in a racy dialogue. At the close of their talk, they clasped hands and bade each other farewell in an original poem of two stanzas.
Miss Kate O'Brien, the class essayist, gave a "History of the White Rose," the class flower. Her essay showed an imaginative power and a skill in portraying quite remarkably in one so young.

Misses Mabel Lintz and Belle Barron had a "Chest from the Fairies" containing gifts for their classmates. Wit and humor ran riot and the audience was convulsed with laughter.
Miss Mabel Cox gave the "Class Will" in which several original bequests were left to teachers and friends.

Miss Mary Hottis' subject was "The Two Thirteens." The comparison was very skillfully drawn and the valedictory with which she closed was a scholarly effort.

As the last word of the valedictory was uttered, the class arose and with one impulse gave their class yell.

Throughout the program pathos and wit alternated in a very pleasing manner. "The Lucky Thirteen" have without doubt presented the best class day exercises ever given in Tawas City.

Saginaw's Jubilee.

A semi-centennial celebration on a large scale will be held at Saginaw the coming August.

We understand that something like $20,000 is being expended for this "blow-out," which will include parades daily and nightly, launch racing, night river fireworks, scenes in which tableaux will be given in medieval costumes, Indian raids, air ship races and many other novel features, such as court balls, military maneuvers, naval reserve exhibitions, floral fiestas, etc.

The affair is under the guidance of the Board of Trade, Merchants and Manufacturers, Retail Merchants and other organizations, and bids fair to be worthy in every way.

Wise Counsel From the South.

"I want to give some valuable advice to those who suffer with lame back and kidney trouble," says J. R. Blankenship, of Beck, Tenn. "I have proved to an absolute certainty that Electric Bitters will positively cure this distressing condition. The first bottle gave me great relief and after taking a few more bottles, I was completely cured; so completely that it becomes a pleasure to recommend this great remedy." Sold under guarantee at J. M. Wiggazzer & Co's drug store. Price 50c.

The steamer Frontenac left Bay City Tuesday evening on her first trip on the Bay City-Cleveland route. It is reported that the boat is very fast and equipped to carry several hundred passengers and a large cargo of freight. It is expected that arrangements will soon be completed whereby this port will be one of her regular stops.

The city of Saginaw has given $5,000 toward defraying the expenses of her great Jubilee and Semi-Centennial week, August 18-24. The citizens are giving about $10,000 more and the revenue from other sources will approximate another $10,000 allowing an expenditure of about $25,000 to entertain the crowds for one week. This should certainly provide a record breaking gala time.

Capt Davidson has completed the task of raising one of the wrecked steamer Sitka's boilers and has it on a spile platform near the Scheider mill dock. He is now raising the other one. Capt. Davidson towed the boilers down from Sable Point last fall and they remained submerged in the bay during last winter. Each boiler weighs forty tons, so that the task which he has all but accomplished is by no means a small piece of wrecking. The boilers are in excellent condition and are a valuable piece of property. New boilers of the same type are now selling for $6,000 each. Capt. Davidson will receive half of what the boilers bring for doing the wrecking.—Grand Marais Herald.

"The Old World And Its Ways."

Col. William Jennings Bryan announces a new book of travel entitled "The Old World and its Ways," which recounts his recent tour around the world and his journeys through Europe. It is profusely and elegantly illustrated with 240 artistic engravings representing men and things seen in the various countries of the earth during that noted journey. The engravings are made from photographs taken by him or his party especially for this publication. It is the monumental literary work of his life, and is published under his special supervision. He has, by special contract with his publishers, made the retail price low down with the view to putting it within the easy reach of every reader and book buyer.

The book gives his experiences—what he saw and did—whom he met and his impressions and conclusions. He made a profound study of men and things as he saw them in this noted journey around the world. He gives governmental, educational, religious and other conditions, from the standpoint of a student and one profoundly interested in all the people of the earth.

While Col. Bryan traveled as a private citizen he went with the prestige of having made two memorable contests for the presidency of the United States, and he was everywhere recognized and entertained as a great representative American, having a leading part in the direction of American affairs. He was given opportunity for observations never before accorded to any one traveling in private capacity.

If one wants to see the world, and the people who are at the head of affairs in all countries, as well as the masses, he has in this book an opportunity of seeing them through the eyes of Col. William Jennings Bryan. It is sold by subscription, and the Thompson publishing company of St. Louis, Mo., are the fortunate publishers. They offer an especially inviting opportunity to solicitors in another column of this issue.

Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at J. M. Wiggazzer & Co's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

HALE MICHIGAN

Say! Do you believe for a second that any merchant loves you so that he is going to give you something for nothing? If you do you will find in the end that he is just fishing and you are the fish, and that you have got to be caught or he has got to quit or fail, and that is not what he went into business for. I imagine that you had better deal with a man who does not give premiums or compel you to buy five or ten dollar lots and work in goods on you with a big margin for him and which you could get along without. Watch your weights and don't spend your wool money for things you can get along without.
