Mrs. Garber and children arrived last Sunday and are getting settled in the house recently vacated by James Shivas. Their many friends are glad to welcome them back. Gypsum Co. almost continually for the past 21 years. His many friends regret his departure but unite in wishing him success. Miss Edith Kaiser, of Cologee, Minn., is visiting with Rev. and Mrs. F. Sievers. The young lady was the bride elect of their only child, Rev. Otto F. Sievers, who died suddenly about a year ago. Miss Kaiser is performing with ability the duties of organist at Zion Lutheran church during the absence of Mr. Luckner. From a letter received we learn that W. H. Hartley, formerly of this city, who will graduate from the Mt. Pleasant Normal with a life certificate, August 1, will go to Lincoln, Neb., where he becomes an instructor in the manual arts department of the city schools, and will pursue his studies at the University of Nebraska. It is with pleasure that we note the advancement of Tawas boys. At a meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the Zion Lutheran church last Sunday Mrs. Sievers invited the ladies present to assist her in celebrating her birthday. The ladies, however, had come well prepared for the occasion. Thus the surprise came from both sides, and the gathering proved to be a most enjoyable one, being held under the trees on the lawn at the parsonage, during the afternoon and evening. The guests took their departure wishing the worthy hostess many happy returns of the day. Dressmaking:—From July 15th until September 1st, we will make shirt waists from 35 cents up, and shirt waist suits from $2 up. Mrs. J. F. PATTERSON. BESSIE L. BOOMER.

The Passing of a Pioneer. The announcement of the death of Mrs. Mary A., wife of William Phelan, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. E. Yerdan, of Detroit, last Monday, came as a shock to her many friends here. Mrs. Phelan had been in that city for some weeks receiving medical treatment, and had been much better and was expected home this week. She was taken suddenly worse Sunday and the end came at 11:15 Monday forenoon. The remains arrived here Tuesday evening and the funeral was held from the home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. A. A. Griffes, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating, and the remains laid at rest in the Tawas City cemetery. The deceased was born in Hammond, St. Lawrence County, New York, and was 63 years, eight months and 16 days of age, and has been resident of this city since 1869. She is survived by the husband and five children, Mrs. A. E. Yerdan and Miss Mercie Phelan, of Detroit, Mrs. Robert Matheson, of Bay City, Louis, of this city, and Claude O., of Dexter, N. Y., also four brothers and five sisters, all of whom, except one brother, Edward Marsaw, of this city, reside in New York. While a lady of retiring disposition, she was most highly respected by all who knew her, and the bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community in their loss of a loving wife and mother. Charles A. Jahraus. Another candidate is in the field from this county for the republican nomination from the 28th senatorial district as a delegate to the coming constitutional convention in the person of Charles A. Jahraus, of this city, who has entered the contest at the solicitation of his friends. Mr. Jahraus has been a successful attorney in this county for the past 20 years, and has filled the office of circuit court commissioner, two terms as county clerk, and three terms as prosecuting attorney in a most satisfactory manner to the people of the county. His large experience especially fits him for a position in the convention to revise the constitution of the state and he would make an ideal representative. His many friends hope to see him secure the nomination.

Good Men Wanted.

No more important gathering has ever been held in Michigan than the convention that will assemble next fall for the purpose of revising the state constitution. It is very important that representative men should be sent to this convention and it is to be hoped that no member of the present legislature, which provided for the convention, will consent to serve a body which he has helped to create and whose work he may be called upon to interpret and amplify at a special session of the legislature. The Grand Rapids Board of Trade has taken advanced grounds on this subject and its executive committee has arranged to send out a letter to all the commercial organizations in the state, urging them to use their influence to prevent the convention. This action is timely and praiseworthy and it is to be hoped that it will bear fruit.—Tradesman.

To Which Class Do You Belong?

There are two classes of workmen in the world today. Just two, and it behooves every young man as he starts out in life to get into the right one. The first class is made up of men who want pay for what they do. The other class is composed of men who want pay for work which they think or try to do, but for lack of either judgement, skill, faithful application or interest, fail to get done. In both cases pay must come from the man who seeks a helper.

With the first class, the wages are cheerfully paid for the good services rendered. In the second class all is unsatisfactory, and such workmen are often a damage and lost to their employers.

There are too many men who care but little how the employer comes out so long as they get their wages, which is often nothing less than extortion for their miserable waste of time. This class of extortion is too common among men today and will account largely for the wrongs suffered among labor circles.

The workman who bends his best energies of mind and body to carry out faithfully his employer's plans and improves and increases his interest as he would his own, need not fear that his services will lack appreciation. But the man who watches the clock, slights his work, drops all thought of his employer's business the moment the whistle blows, is little better than the mule and is hardly worth more than his food and drink.

When every workman, whether he be in offices, mine or mill, who thinks first of his employer's interests and becomes so proficient with his end of the work that he becomes a real help and profit to the enterprise with which he is connected he will seldom have trouble in obtaining practical recognition from his employer. That man is always in demand at good wages.

Pensions Decreasing.

There is great surprise among the pension officials at Washington over the effect of the new service pension act. The pension roll and its expense to the nation has begun to decrease, notwithstanding that Congress provided about $15,000,000 for extra expense under the service pension law. The small number who have applied under the new act shows that practically all the civil war veterans were already drawing pensions from disability. The Commissioner of Pensions says that, when all the applications are approved and the rolls made up, there will be little if any increase over the expenditure for the last few years, and that the cost of pensions will rapidly decrease.

The maximum number of pensioners on the rolls was in January, 1905, when it reached 1,005,196. There was a decrease of 18,000 in 18 months thereafter, and for the last 11 months it has been 16,000. During the month of April, this year, 2,977 veterans joined the grand army of patriots "on that other shore." The death rate is becoming appalling.

The youth and flower of the nation which forty-two years ago as volunteer soldiers stood as a bulwark in defense of human rights, returned to paths of peace and by their patriotism and statesmanship helped to reunite the North and South and build the most prosperous nation on earth.

Succeeding generations will never begrudge the cost of pensions and will ever cherish and honor the memory of that grand army of a million American volunteers.

Thrips on Oats.

The following special bulletin has been issued from the M. A. C. experimental station:

From all parts of the state, complaints are coming in with respect to the condition of the oat crop. The last week has seen a notable change in the outlook. The young oats in a large part of the state have suddenly become as if stricken by blight, the outer leaves turning yellow and afterwards reddish until, after a little time, the field appears as if badly rusted. A closer examination shows that there are few if any rust pustules and the appearance on the surface is just enough different from that produced by rust to raise a doubt as to the real cause of the difficulty.

Careful examination with the aid of a powerful lens shows the culprit to be a minute insect called a thrips, very small, and very quick in its movements, jumping like a flea when disturbed and disappearing completely. These little creatures have narrow wings with fringes of long hairs instead of the ordinary form of wings. They scrape the surfaces of the oat leaves and cause them to become withered and to turn yellow and die. Now, this little creature has never before been seen in numbers by the writer and it is very difficult to judge just what will be the outcome of the infestation. If one might judge by the behavior of its relatives one would expect the condition to improve after one or two good rains, since thrips, in general, thrive in hot, dry weather, and do not do well when it is moist. However, it seems to be quite serious in places where there has been a fairly good supply of rain. The larger the plants are the better they fare.

Now, there seems to be nothing one can do to check the trouble at this time. If it were possible to stimulate the growth of the plants in any way it would be a benefit, but such a course seems to be impossible. All plant life seems to be more susceptible to insects when plants are in poor condition for any reason, and the backward, cold, wet spring furnishes a very sufficient reason for the lack of vigor and resisting power which they should have to help repel the invaders.

Vacations for Mothers, Too

People who work for themselves, especially mothers, often glory in not taking a vacation, in staying forever at home, in sticking solidly to what they believe to be their duty. To you, my conservative reader, a vacation is just as necessary as it is to the tired teacher or the faithful clerk; and for the same reason—that you may do more work when you do work, and do it more effectively. The duty which holds you will be better performed, the home that you are guarding will be better kept, and the cheerfulness, and courage, and optimism which you need will be more readily summoned, if you take time—not next year, but in the remaining weeks of this very summer—to drink in the stimulant of new faces, new landscapes and new experiences.—In Woman's Home Companion for August.

Gorgeous Night Pageants.

Saginaw, for her semi-centennial and Old Home Week, Aug. 18-24, will have several nights of spectacular scenes and pageants. The floats for these pageants are now under construction by experts, at the "den" a mammoth building used by "Rex" for this purpose.

There will be 20 of these cars so large that the 20 will reach a mile in parade.

They illustrate the history of the valley, beginning with the coming of the first white man, and thus down till "today."

There will be Indian battles and early day scenes, as well as many cars of carving and gilding most elaborate.

This one feature is costing $10,000, will consume hundreds of pounds of fire as well as gasoline and electricity, will require over 500 people all in appropriate costumes.

Teachers Examination.

The next regular examination of teachers for Isosco county will be held at the court house in Tawas City on Thursday and Friday, August 9th and 10th, 1907, beginning at 8 o'clock in the forenoon.

Reading will be based on Tenyson's "Princess."

Long Live The King!

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says:

"It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the proven remedy. Guaranteed at J. M. Wiggazer & Co's and G. S. Darling's drug stores. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

L. L. Johnson is selling the best watches for the least money. Look them over.

Aug. C. Brown does all kinds of view work. If you want a first-class photo of your house or stock drop him a postal.

The excelsior plant of the Michigan Veneer Co., at Alpena, was destroyed by fire last Saturday evening. Loss about $10,000.

The tug Winslow arrived at Bay City last Sunday with a raft containing 2,000,000 feet of Canadian logs, and has returned for another of equal size.

The supreme court handed down a decision Monday in which it holds that members of the present legislature are ineligible to become members of the coming constitutional convention.

A delicate hint to move on is presented in the following puzzle which might be pinned somewhere handy by the young ladies and sprung on some one they want to get rid of in a hurry. Here it is: Take any number between one and nine, add one, multiply by nine, cross out the left hand figure, add fourteen, add the number started with and then watch the young man's countenance.

Monday the supreme court denied the petition of Lieut.-Gov. Kelley for a mandamus to compel Secretary of State Prescott to issue notices for a primary next month on the question of retaining in the constitution the 40 per cent requirement for the nomination for governor and lieutenant governor. The court holds that the lieutenant-governor had no right to vote to break the tie in the senate, and help pass the resolution for such a primary.

A farmer doesn't stop cultivating his field because he gets a good crop from them one year. The consequences are too well known if he did. But he keeps on cultivating with a more energetic spirit than ever, year after year, plowing, harrowing, pulverizing and trying every conceivable way to get the best returns from the soil. Many advertisers follow this same plan regarding their business. When they have a slow trade at certain seasons of the year they keep on plowing thru the newspapers and are bound to let the people know continually what's going on in the mercantile line. These are the ones that you never hear say that advertising doesn't pay.

Robert Treat Paine, who was present when a petition, signed by over 2,000,000 Americans, favoring a general arbitration treaty, was presented at the Hague to President Nelidoff, of the peace conference, is at the head of the American Peace society and is a noted philanthropist. He is a great-grandson of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence and was born in Boston Oct. 28, 1835. Mr. Paine is a Harvard graduate and a member of the bar, but has not practiced law since 1870. With his wife he created and endowed with $200,000 a trust for charitable purposes, and he also organized the Wells Memorial Workingmen's institute, of which he is president. Mr. Paine is at the head of the Associated Charities of Boston and is a member of many philanthropic organizations.

The August number of the "Woman's Home Companion" is primarily an all story number—except, of course, for the twelve indispensable departments that appear in each issue. The second instalment of Anthony Hope's new love story "Helen's Path," appears in this number, and all the other fiction comes up to the excellent standard of Mr. Hope's novel. Among the contributors are Anne Hamilton Donnell, author of "Rebecca Mary," May Isabel Fisk, in one of her inimitable monologues, Zona Gale, Clinton Dangerfield, Mary Wilhelmina Hastings and Jeannette Cooper. Considerable space is devoted to the vacation problem, and Dr. Edward Everett Hale, Margaret E. Sangster, Anna Steese Richardson and the Editor all give some admirable vacation suggestions. The number is elaborate pictorially with a double page of photographs of children of royalty and of other prominent people with their pet ponies—and illustrations by such well known illustrators as E. Dalton Stevens, Blanche Greer and Herman Pfeifer.

They Quit Right There.

The late Andrew J. Dam, a well known hotel man of New York, was at the time of the civil war, proprietor of a hotel in New Bedford. A number of colored citizens interested in the formation of a military company called upon him and informed him that they would be glad to form the company and allow him to suggest the name, provided he would pay for the equipments.

"Congressman T. D. Elliott has fitted out a company of white men, and throughout the war they will be known as the Elliott Light Guards," said the spokesman of the colored men.

"Well," said Dam, "if I am to equip and organize this colored company, I shall insist that they be known as the Dam Black Guards."

The company was never organized.—New York Tribune.

Tracing the Bullet.

If a bullet to be fired by a marksman is coated with a fine paste of gunpowder and gum, says the Dundee Advertiser, and then with a thin covering of some friction powder, the latter, as the bullet passes out of the gun barrel, will ignite, and in turn set fire to the gunpowder paste. The bullet will then leave a long stream of smoke behind it, indicating the exact course it has taken and enabling the marksman, if necessary, to correct his aim for his next shot.

The Real Article.

The Youth—Ah, would I were a glove, that I might hold your pretty hand. Young Widow—You certainly would be a success in the glove line. The Youth—Do you think so? Young Widow—Yes, you are a genuine kid.—Illustrated Bits.

Some Crookedness.

The Mississippi river is so crooked in places, declares Judge Walter Malone of Memphis, that a steamer going south has been known to meet itself coming north, give passing signals and narrowly escape a collision with itself.

A High Place.

Sweet Singer—DeHammer says he has a high place in the next show he goes out with. Comedian—Well, I should say it is high. He sits up in the flies and tears up paper for the snowstorm scene.—Chicago News.

Mourning.

"The Parkers have all gone into deep mourning for a very distant relative. Don't you think it's a sign they're rich?" "No. It's a sign the distant relative was rich."—Life.

Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires: neatness, clear eyes, clean, smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at J. M. Wuggazer & Co's and G. S. Darling's drug stores. Price 50c.
