TAWAS CITY, MICH., OCT. 18, 1907

Few farmers recognize the value of publicity. Many a farmer keeps stock or articles of machinery, which could easily be disposed of by a little publicity, costing but a trifle. Nobody knows what you want to get rid of until you tell them. If you will use the columns of the Herald, at a trifling cost, you will always find a buyer. Just try it and see if we are not correct.

The republican campaign for the nomination of governor next year promises to be one of the warmest ever fought in the state. It is now practically admitted by all that Gov. Warner will be a candidate for the third term, and in all probability his opponent will be Auditor General Bradley, who will have the support of those who are opposed to Gov. Warner's administration of state affairs, and these are many and powerful.

Mrs. Hetty Green, the world's richest woman, is strongly opposed to international marriages. "I am glad Gladys Vanderbilt is not my daughter," she said. "There are thousands of honest young working-men in the United States good enough to be any girl's husband. The girls who go to Europe to get their husbands deserve what they get—and more. If my son married a foreign woman because the union would bring him a title I would disown him."

Today, there are fewer saloons in the 13 southern states than in Greater New York, and only a few more than in the city of Chicago. In New York there are 30,000 places where liquor is sold, in Chicago 28,000, and in the entire south only 29,000. In New York state the estimated population in 1906 was 8,160,000, and the government issued in the state that year 34,080 "special tax stamps" to persons desiring to engage in the manufacture and the sale of liquor. The thirteen southern states with 23,500,000 people, secured less than 30,000 stamps.

The coming winter will be a hard one for the housewife with a limited pocket book, for in addition to the average increase in prices of all commodities of over 50 per cent, there is a further advance in the cities over last year of nearly 30 per cent in food stuffs. Under such extraordinary conditions wages and incomes should increase, but the general trend is for lower wages, or at least to stand still for the time being. Yet the republican politicians are shouting that every one is prosperous and the sacred tariff, which protects the trusts, must be preserved.

The post office department at Washington has found evidences of fraud in the quality of the stamped envelopes furnished the government by the contractors, who it is said have made over $400,000 by substituting an inferior grade. Probably this is the reason the government can furnish stamped envelopes at such a low cost, entering into a competition with the printers of the country which is unfair in the extreme, owing to the fact that Uncle Sam has a monopoly of the stamp business. Some congressman who wants to make a name for himself could well afford to take the matter up and endeavor to make the government charge at least a sufficient price for their printed envelopes to pay the cost of production.

The last ten years has been the golden age of American agriculture. More advance has been made than in any twenty or thirty years in the nation's history. Land has increased enormously in value since 1896, and is destined to go higher in the best farming sections. Prices for products have been good all the time, and are better now than ever. If the importance of agriculture and the farmer increases at the same rate in the future, and it is sure to do so, the agricultural life will be considered the ideal one, and to own a good farm the very acme of felicity. Realizing this many well-to-do city people are buying farms as investments or country homes, and this putting of so much new capital into land has been a factor in increasing its value. The time is coming when a choice farm in any of the first-class states of the Mississippi valley will be worth as much as a king's ransom.—American Farmer.

Lower Taxation Desirable.

Pretty stiff increase in state taxes that. Last year they amounted to $1.95 on each $1000 valuation in the state. This year the rate will be $2.81. It is the rate and not the aggregate of state taxes that indicates the extravagance of the legislature. In Michigan the rate has steadily increased, showing that public expenditures are growing more rapidly than the value of the property is increasing. Something is radically wrong with the management of state affairs that should make it necessary to increase the rate of taxation, and it seems the wrong is not to be righted by increasing the taxes of railroads and other corporations, because the more the railroads are taxed the higher are the taxes which are to be paid on the general properties of the state. As the Journal has often pointed out equal taxation is good, but lower taxation is more desirable.—Lansing Journal.

Stay in Michigan.

The following letter was recently received by James W. Smith from his son who is in Snohomish, Wash.

"Dad," I would like to have you come and visit us, for you would see some very beautiful country.

But if any of you people think of coming out here to get rich in a few days or weeks, you had better stay where you are. I will quote you a few prices on the necessities of life and state common wages and house rent, then draw your own conclusions as to how soon you could get rich.

Common wages are $2.50 per day. I am getting $2.75. Potatoes are sold by the ton and are $30 per ton, flour $8 per bbl, butter 50 cents per pound, eggs are now only 50 cents per dozen. That is cheap for they are generally 75 cents per dozen. House rent is very cheap only $15 for a modern five or six room house. Wood is $3 to $5 per cord. Fir wood is $3 per cord and maple, or rather what they call maple, for there is no hard maple here, is $5 per cord. Land is worth from $100 to $1,000 per acre.

There is lots of game here such as wild goat, grizzly bear, lynx, panther, wild cat, jack rabbit, and lots of deer. There are also lots of fish and birds.

I would like to see you all, and all my Central Lake friends, but when you or any of them come out here be sure and bring along plenty of good old Michigan money for you will need it. D. O. Smith.—Central Lake Torch.

Rubber Stamp Man.

If the business man sees fit to daub his note heads and envelopes with a rubber stamp and thus lead outsiders to think there is no printer in town, he ought to be salted. Such a man as that, when he dies, ought to have his obituary and usual resolutions of his lodge printed on a board fence with a rubber stamp.

And when he has a baby at his house or a party, or a son or daughter gets married, or he gets married himself, a full account of the important event might be printed with a rubber stamp on a sheet of paper and tacked on his front door. And when he is a candidate for office he might stamp himself on a label to the effect that he wants to be sheriff, road overseer, justice of the peace, as the case may be, and pin that on the bosom of his pants. And when the opposition jumps into him he might stamp another label saying, it's a blamed lie and pin that on too. Come to think about it there is no end to the uses a rubber stamp might be put to in the hands of an enterprising and economical man.—Ex.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children, too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by G. S. Darling, druggist.

LEGAL STILLITIS.

Technicalities Resorted to in Many Cases to Retard Justice.

One of the earliest jokes about the chancery courts of London, which are the oldest in jurisprudence, was that when once an estate got into the court it was all chance whether it would ever get out again, comments an editorial writer.

It is up to somebody to invent a like witticism about our criminal courts. If there was a statute of limitations providing that when a man is accused of crime, and he has been in hock for one year, he should be turned loose, it might expedite business a little. Glancing across the country at large, we are making some remarkable records for legal "stillitis," which may be defined as a mental quiescence of calm, silent, motionless sort of any-time-will-do. Apparently this disease begins subsequent to some cold-blooded affair in which an innocent, respected citizen is shot to death, and the cowardly assaulter begins to build around himself a citadel of technicalities from which he can leer at prosecution, sneer at old-fashioned promptitude, defy the arm of justice; then it is that "stillitis" gets in its masterly inactivity.

Then, after it has run a course and twelve men are called from every walk of life, the accused murderer, whether he is in New York, South Carolina, or Michigan, is not the ordinary cold-blooded assassin, but he is a genius homo whose brain machinery is subject to transient furibund mania, or his wheels are, or were, mixed by parnia, or paresis, or, in a word, he is a neurasthenic, psychoic, and after being exhibited like Harry Thaw, for instance, to a gaping world, is taken back to await another performance.

This is all very modern, and its point of circumference begins at what may be termed this legal "stillitis," but in its effect the wave of crime rolls on, and fear of law and punishment is vastly minimized.—Ex.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and emblems disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by G. S. Darling, druggist. 25c.

COLE'S ORIGINAL HOT BLAST=THE CLEAN STOVE

Cut No. 1

DUST PROOF
Cole's Original Hot Blast is the cleanest stove ever placed on the market. Our method of removing ashes shown by cut No. 1, is perfectly clean and overcomes the many objections to the ash pan used in other stoves. The elbow draft casting with its upward slant allows the empty coalhod to be set under the draft so that no ashes or coals can be spilled on the floor. Our patented dustless ash cover shown by illustration is furnished free with Nos. 122, 152, 182 and 196 stoves. It keeps down every particle of dust in removing ashes, a feature that will be appreciated by every tidy housekeeper.

The ash pans used in other stoves are too small to hold a full 24 hours' accumulation of ashes. They are usually over-filled when removed, and the ashes in the bottom of the stove are dragged out on to the carpet, as shown by cut No. 2. You are all familiar with the ash pan method, and have, no doubt, gone through the process many times of spreading a newspaper or cloth under your stove every time the over-filled pan is removed.

The ash pan is not only dirty, but is a great evil in stove construction. It adds a door and joints which can be made only temporarily air-tight by the use of stove putty. These joints open after a few weeks' use, rendering ash pans worthless as fire keepers. It makes them fuel-eaters rather than fuel-savers. The ash pan and the shield for guiding ashes into the pan, also prevent base heat.

Our method is the only clean way. The whisk broom, turkey wing and dust cloth are dispensed with. There are no joints to leak air, base heat is not retarded and Cole's Hot Blast is the cleanest stove, the best floor heater and the only stove in the world which can be guaranteed to remain always air-tight.

SMOKE PROOF
The feed door on this stove generates smoke proof and does away with the escape of smoke, soot and gas into the house. Side feed doors used on other stoves discharge a cloud of gas and soot-laden smoke into the house and scatter soot and ashes over the carpet when opened.

Another point: In feeding coal into a side feed door it has to be thrown into the stove, which usually results in scattering much of it over the floor. With our cleanly smoke proof feed door the coal is poured into the stove even to the dust in the bottom of the hod without a particle being spilled on the floor.

This clean and economical stove burns the gases which often escape into the rooms with other stoves. The annoyance and dirt from kindling new fires is dispensed with, as the rooms are heated up for two or three hours each morning with the fuel put in the night before and the fire is never out. COLE'S ORIGINAL HOT BLAST is the cleanest stove made and will more than save its cost in fuel each winter.

Shows the dirty ash pan method.

FAMILY NEWSPAPER.

Small Town Papers Should be Clean and Wholesome.

A lady who is a member of several clubs and quite a factor in social life told the writer a few nights ago that "the newspaper is largely responsible for the moral standard of our citizens."

The next day a complaint was heard because there was a lack of "exciting news," and there was an exhibition of the varying tastes and ideas of people in both of these criticisms.

Now, what is the province of a newspaper?

First and last, it is a home newspaper. It goes into the homes and is read by old and young and people of every possible cast of mind. This fact alone creates a duty which can never be overlooked, and that is to study the demands, the interests of the greatest number. Any newspaper that prints stuff that no father will tell his son, and no mother whisper to her daughter, is doing a moral wrong to the family, and if it is thrown out at the back door, or burned up, it is meeting the fate it has earned. Any newspaper can be a muck-rake, and if everything a news-gatherer hears in a day was put into type, there would be a continuous performance of a hot time in the old town.

But, in creating or developing the moral standard of the community, there is no question but what the lady referred to was right. A newspaper is like a mirror, and it may exploit the scars and sores, and cancers or ugly shapes, or it may show the better and best that is. In other words, it may deal with scandal, in gossip, and the un-moral, or it may record the daily round of society, business, court procedure and general progress of a city. It also has a duty to reflect the right and wrong of all that pertains to the government, civic and national, and to uphold the good and condemn the bad.

In our present status of morals, there is a sort of dread of newspaper publicity, but as we progress in our ideals of better life, there will be a change in this attitude.

In the family newspaper there never was a time when there was so little of an exchange of opinion and sentiments as now, and that is not the fault of publishers, but readers. Questions of morals and better government should not be left alone with editors. The newspaper ought to be a forum for wider, more general expression of thought and opinion, and every citizen welcomes this.

A Criminal Attack

SIMPLIFY YOUR LIFE.

Secret That is Telling on Many a Man and Woman.

One of the worst things about our everyday life is the vast number of little things—of details—which we must attend to. From the first moment of waking until the coming of sleep our life is made up of detail, detail, detail. Even into the realm of sleep they follow us, those implacable details, says a writer for the Soo News.

The big questions of life do not bother us. When they come we say "yes" or "no." But the little things—they wear us out, sap our strength, steal away our health, and make us old before our time.

You, my dear fellow, who this morning began thinking again of that unfinished balance sheet—you couldn't find your collar button; looked everywhere; called to your wife to come and help; no use. Finally you got hold of another one somehow—and then saw the one you were looking for just where you put it so carefully last night.

And you, my dear woman, while you were helping hubby look for the collar button, you forgot the eggs, and they were boiled hard as stones. Now he hates hard-boiled eggs. No time to boil more—late already. So he gulps down a cup of boiling coffee and rushes out, forgetting to kiss you good-bye. And so on, and so on. All trifles, of course, but terrible trifles, death-dealing trifles, killing peace, killing love, killing even the body itself. Terrible trifles, indeed!

What's to be done? Run away from the detail, live in the woods? That is cowardice—more, bestiality. So—let's stay and conquer it.

Well, first of all remember that details are only details—not essentials. Don't take them too much to heart. I see every day people having hysteria because they miss a trolley car, or acute mania because some thrifty hard-working car conductor passed a bogus dime on them. Waste of energy. Wait for the next car; give the dime to some deserving newsboy. He'll know what to do with it. And belittle your troubles—"forget it," as the newsboy would say.

That sounds like a joke; but I mean it—the principle at all rate. Simplify your life. Regulate your habits. Cut out all the details possible; don't let other details bother you. And that's the way to get the better of the death-dealing detail.

Hard Times in Kansas.

The old days of grasshoppers and drouth are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although a citizen of Codell, Earl Shamburg, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." The safest and most reliable cough and cold remedy and lung and throat healer ever discovered. Guaranteed at G. S. Darling's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
