Last Friday afternoon the Kern Manufacturing Co.'s mill at Bay City was destroyed by fire. William B. Lapham, a lumber inspector 78 years of age was burned to death, and two other employees were badly burned. The fire spread so rapidly that it was with much difficulty that the men escaped. The mill was one of the few large saw mills and one of the best left in the Saginaw Valley. The loss is placed at $75,000.00.

We learn that Messrs. C. M. Smith and Walter Chapple who left here a short time ago for the Pacific Coast have located, like the western country and expect to remain in that region indefinitely. Mr. Smith is in Santa Barbara, Cal., where he is engaged as a painter at $3.50 per day. Mr. Chapple is holding down a lucrative position with one of the large lumbering companies in Hoquiam, Wash. He is employed by the same firm as our former fellow townsman, L. W. Taft, who has been out west for a number of years. They report a pleasant and instructive trip, having stopped at many points of interest enroute, all of interest to their many Grand Marias friends.—Grand Marias Herald.

School Officers Meeting.

The superintendent of public instruction has appointed a meeting of the school officers of all districts in Iosco county to be held in the court house in Tawas City, beginning at 10 o'clock Friday morning, November 8, 1907. The day will be spent in discussing important matters concerning our schools.

Among the topics of discussion will be: The requirements of school law; district reports; use of school moneys; the relation of commissioner to schools and officers, and the improvement of rural books.

It is urged that every school official in the county make a special effort to be present at this meeting. It will be a day well spent and if you have the interest of your school at heart you will attend.

JOHN A. CAMPBELL
Commissioner of schools.

Henry Funk Dead.

Henry Funk died at Laurel, Miss., early Sunday morning, October 20, 1907, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis which he suffered on the previous Monday. Mrs. Funk and son Charles were with him at the time of his death, having arrived there the day before. The remains arrived here Tuesday afternoon and the funeral was held from the home Wednesday afternoon, under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity, of which he was a member. Rev. C. L. Berry was the officiating clergyman.

Henry Funk was born August 29, 1849, and grew to young manhood in Lapeer county. He was married to Miss Nancy Smith, at Almont, June 12, 1872, and came to Tawas City in 1873, accepting the position of filer in what was then the Cameron mill, where he remained for more than twenty years, becoming superintendent after the mill was purchased by C. H. Prescott & Sons. For the past six years he has been in the employ of the Eastman & Gardner Lumber Co., at Laurel, Miss., also retaining his home in this city.

The widow and three children—Hosea H., of East Tawas, Mrs. Len J. Patterson, and Charles, of this city, and a large circle of relatives and friends survive him. The high esteem in which the deceased was held was fittingly manifested by the large concourse of sorrowing friends who accompanied the remains to their last resting place in the Tawas City cemetery.

Notice to Beet Growers.

Farmers of Alabaster, Sherman and Plainfield townships not near a weigh station, wanting cars to load for the Bay City Michigan Sugar Co., notify J. W. Minor, Tawas City, Mich.

A New Elevator.

Mr. J. B. Madil, of the Michigan Cereal Co., of Port Huron, came to our city last Friday in search of a site on which to erect an elevator. Saturday forenoon he closed a deal with G. A. Prescott for two lots opposite the depot, and immediately after noon had men at work making excavations for the new building. He expects to have it ready to receive grain by Nov. 15.

The building will be 65 x 40 feet in size and will be a most complete plant, and will include a large gasoline engine to furnish power. A firm that knows what it wants and gets it as promptly as did Mr. Madil in this case cannot fail to be a desirable addition to any town and we welcome them here. The firm buys all kinds of grain and has the reputation of paying high prices for what they get. The location of the plant here will not only be a good thing for the city but of great benefit to the farmers.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to return to the neighbors and friends our most sincere and heartfelt gratitude for the assistance and sympathy extended us in our hour of sorrow and bereavement and to assure them that their many acts of kindness is most highly appreciated by us.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., Oct. 25, 1907

The special session of the state legislature adjourned last Friday bringing to an end one of the most disgraceful sessions ever known to the history of the state.

The day of safety marketing rotten eggs and eggs about ready to hatch is over. A government inspector recently hung around a store in an Iowa town, and when a farmer brought in some eggs he took the lot. Several of them proved to be rotten and the farmer was assessed $120 by Uncle Sam under the new pure food law. If the merchant had taken the eggs and disposed of them to his customers he would have been liable to the same fine.

A decrease of 18,600 in the number of pensioners on the roll at the end of the fiscal year of 1907, as compared with the year previous is a feature of the annual report of Pension Commissioner Warner, just issued. This is the greatest decrease in the history of the pension bureau. The total number of pensioners on June 30, 1907 was 967,371 and the total value of the pension roll at that date was $140,850,880. This was greater by $4,613,131 than the value of the roll for the year previous and is accounted for by the higher rates of pensions.

While all the progressive nations of the occidental world have been vying with one another in the utilization of waterfalls for the production of electric power, Japan, a country where waterfalls abound, has almost entirely neglected this source of mechanical energy. But inevitably in view of the extraordinary development which Japan has recently undergone, such a state of affairs could not endure. A beginning has now been made, and the work will doubtless be pursued with characteristic Japanese energy and intelligence. Several Japanese companies have recently been organized for the establishment of hydro-electric stations. The most important of them with a capital of $10,000,000, proposes to furnish 40,000 horsepower of electric energy for distribution in Kioto and the surrounding region. The Han-shin railroad is soon to be supplied with electric trains, and another company proposes to furnish electric power to Nagova.

People Wish to See Both Succeed.

The special session of the legislature called by Governor Warner is a matter of history. It has come and gone, and, barring those who are interested in the State Normal at Mt. Pleasant, few people will know the difference, either now or when the handful of trivial laws passed go into force. Here is a summary of the legislation enacted: Bill authorizing annexation of a suburb of Detroit; authorizing state asylum at Newbury to purchase land; amending act relating to purchase of voting machines; providing for building of state armories for M. N. G. (which from lack of money will not become effective for more than a year) giving probate courts jurisdiction over all juvenile cases; appropriating funds for Mt. Pleasant Normal; amending primary election law in minor particulars. Not one of these acts, excepting possibly the Mt. Pleasant appropriation, required the holding of a special session; all combined did not justify it, for arrangements could have been made for meeting the Normal's needs and besides this was not the real reason for calling the session.

The following matters, in which the people have a vital interest (though there was no demand for instantaneous treatment) were submitted to the legislature for action and rejected: A bill to place telegraph and telephone companies under the ad valorem system of taxation; to authorize the valuation of express companies on a more equitable basis for taxation; to restrict lobbying and to prevent watering of stock and over-capitalization by steam and electric railroads. Each one of these measures was successfully smothered or openly killed. The net result of the session is disappointing; so much so, in fact, that it may be pronounced a failure. The hybrid primary law is an improvement over the old act in that we now have one nominating day where before we had two. Otherwise the law is not substantially changed. The rest of the legislation is so manifestly incidental to anything which might be regarded as the legitimate work of an extraordinary session that it need not be considered in weighing results. The sitting was an excuse for a display of cheap politics and it was abundantly taken advantage of. It confirmed our previous knowledge that Governor Warner is still trying to down the boxes and that they are ardently disposed to return the compliment. Doubtless, the people by this time wish to see both succeed. —Saginaw News.

Prices Here and Abroad.

While prices here are readily advancing it is comforting to know that in the Panama Canal Zone there is a reduction in the price of various articles. This interesting information is given in the "Canal Record," the official organ of the Isthmian Canal Zone. For instance, granulated sugar in five pound sacks in August was 23 cents, now it is 20 cents; yellow sugar was four cents, now it is three cents; Jamaica cigars have fallen in price from 15 to 10 cents. Currents that were 12 cents now can be obtained for 10 cents per pound. The best grade of Central American coffee, formerly 26 cents per pound, is now 24 cents, and another grade that was 23 cents has been reduced to 21 cents per pound. Why prices are declining in Panama and advancing here, the editor of the "Canal Record" does not venture to say. Can it be possible that the sugar trust, the tobacco trust, and the corporations that plunder the people of the United States by virtue of the trust protecting tariff that our republican trust loving politicians refuse to revise, by selling cheaper in the Canal Zone to the Jamaican negroes and other foreign laborers than to our own people? We pause for a reply.

Must be Known.

Hereafter no person can lawfully transact any business in the state under an assumed name or under any designation, name or style, corporate or otherwise other than the real name or names of owners of such firm. The act which is numbered 101 of the public acts of 1907 took effect Sept. 29 and all of the firms or individuals who were at that time conducting a business under an assumed name will within thirty days from that date file a certificate with the county clerk, stating the names of the correct owners. This official is supplied with an alphabetical index of all persons filing certificates and a fee of 25 cents will be charged for every certificate issued. This act will in no way effect or apply to any corporation partnership association, limited or special partnership association organized and doing business under the laws of this state or to any corporation organized under the laws of any other state and lawfully doing business in this state. A few local firms will be effected by this new law and it will be well for such firms to comply with the law before Oct. 29.

Those who violate the provisions of this act will upon conviction be found guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to a fine of not less than $25 or more than $100 or thirty days in the county jail or both fine and sentence as directed by the court.

New Stamp is Issued.

Five millions of the new international postage stamps, agreed upon last year at the Rome postal congress, will be issued next month, and will be on sale in the United States thereafter. The stamp was designed by M. Eugene Grasset, of Paris, and is being printed in Switzerland.

The stamp is really a coupon measuring nearly 4 x 3 inches. The vignette represents the figure of a goddess as a mess enger of piece from one hemisphere to another. The coupon may be exchanged for a regular five cent stamp or any of equivalent value in any of the countries that have accepted the agreement. This will allow anyone writing to a foreign country to enclose a stamp for return postage. There is no doubt that it will also be used in a small way as an international money order. The countries that have entered into the agreement are: The United States Great Britain, France, Germany Austria, Belgium, Spain, British Colonies, French colonies, Egypt, Mexico, Bomer, Herzegovian, Sweden, Switzerland, Roumania, Japan, Siam, Corea, Greece, Italy, Chile, Costa Rica, Crete, Denmark, Luxembourg and Norway. —Ex.

Gasoline in Red Cans.

Thousands of copies of the gasoline "red can" law have been scattered broadcast over the state and many of the circulars have been issued. This law was passed by the last legislature and takes effect on November 1. The law applies not only to dealers when selling gasoline, benzine and naphtha at retail, but also to persons who keep those liquids for use.

Following are some of the main points to be remembered:

Gasoline, etc., can only be delivered to the customer in cans, casks barrels or packages painted a vermilion red (meaning a very bright red) having the name of the contents stenciled thereon.

Consumers can purchase, or have gasoline, etc., on hand for use only when same is contained in cans or packages so painted and stenciled. When sold in bottles for cleaning or similar purposes a label shall be pasted or securely attached thereto and shall contain the words "gasoline, benzine or naphtha," printed in bright red ink in letters not less than one-fourth inch in size.

It is unlawful to put kerosene in cans, packages, etc., so printed and stenciled.

Home-Seekers Rates to Michigan.

On Oct. 29, Nov. 5 and 19, Dec. 3 and 17, round trip, 15-day limit, Home-Seekers' tickets will be sold from Chicago, Michigan City, Benton Harbor, South Bend, Niles, Jackson and Toledo to Au Gres, Twining, Prescott, Rose City, AuSable and Harrisville, at rate of $7.00, and to Onaway $8.00. Tickets will be on sale at many points in Ohio and Indiana. This will give Home-Seekers' an opportunity to look over Northern Michigan's cheap farm lands. Tell your friends in Ohio, Indiana and Southern Michigan about the rates and lands.

There will be no school in this department Thursday and Friday as the instructors are going to attend the state teachers' association at Battle Creek.

Miss Harding received a very helpful letter from Mr. French, deputy superintendent of public instruction. He recommends some very thorough work for the class.

Educational Meeting.

Arrangements have been made for a series of educational meetings to be held throughout the county during the week of November 4-9. These meetings will be addressed by Hon. H. R. Pattengill, and will be held as follows: Monday evening, Nov. 4, at Hale; Tuesday evening, Nov. 5th, at Whittemore; Wednesday evening, Nov. 6, at Alabaster; Thursday evening, Nov. 7, at the Maccabee hall, Wilber.

Furniture Manufacturers Imitate Hardwoods Successfully.

No set of men appreciate the seriousness of the timber supply question more than those engaged in the manufacture of furniture and surely no industry is better prepared to meet the condition of the lumber market than they. Furniture manufacturers have realized for some years that a pinch in the hardwood market is sure to come and they have succeeded admirably in coping with the situation by the economical use of material by the practice of veneering, and the successful imitation of the highest price hardwoods, at the same time keeping up the standard of their product.

During the last few years the great increase in the price of hardwoods used in the manufacture of furniture has created a strong demand for wood which can be used in imitation of high priced hardwoods. The two woods that are most often successfully imitated are mahogany and oak, particularly the quartered oak in the golden and darker finishes. Almost without exception, the manufacturer markets these imitations either as imitations or under some registered trade name, and does not pretend to deceive his customers.

For imitating mahogany, cherry was formerly used almost entirely, but the diminished supply and the increased price of this wood have led the manufacturers to seek a wood which would lend itself more readily to the stain than cherry and, at the same time, show the grain and hold the gloss. For these reasons birch, especially curly birch, maple, beech, and gum are extensively used for all parts of furniture. Even in the better grades of mahogany furniture, birch and maple stained to a mahogany finish are often used for the posts and frames, while genuine mahogany, in the form of veneer is used for panels, tops and rolls.

In making imitation quartered oak, almost any wood can be used, since in this case, the original grain of the wood is first covered with a "filler" and then the quartering is printed on in dark ink by the impression of actual quartered oak rolls or by a transfer from quartered oak prepared by special processes. The kinds of wood commonly used for this work are birch, maple, poplar, and plain sawed oak. After the wood has been finished and polished, the imitation appears so real that only an expert can detect the difference.

There are certain woods used in furniture construction which are extremely expensive, owing to the difficulty of obtaining pieces with a good grain of sufficient size for working. Such a wood for instance is circassian walnut. This wood which comes from the Ural mountains is largely used in the form of veneers for chair backs, panels, and tops in bed room suites, table tops, etc., the balance of the piece of furniture being composed either of American or black walnut, (natural finish) or of satin walnut, commonly known as red gum. This red gum, while it does not often show the beautiful panel, is so near the color of plain circassian walnut that only close scrutiny can detect the difference in the wood.

The November Woman's Home Companion.

The opening chapters of a new novel, "Though Life Us Do Part," by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, is the feature of the Woman's Home Companion for November. The announcement of a new story by the author of "A Singular Life" is always agreeable, and this new novel gives promise of being one of Mrs. Ward's best.

Under the title "Do You Know Your Grocer?" the editor makes some very telling comments on grocery conditions throughout the country, and every housewife will read with interest.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale, one of the editors of Woman's Home Companion, contributes a charming talk on "Thanksgiving—Then and Now," and Mrs. Anna Steese Richardson completes her series of three articles on "The Woman in Business." The other editors, Grace Margaret Gould, Margaret E. Sangster, Dan Beard and Fannie Merritt Farmer, contribute especially interesting departments. Particular notice should be called to the cooking department, which gives a large number of excellent receipts for Thanksgiving season. There is splendid fiction by Juliet Wilson Tompkins, Mrs. C. N. Williams, Herbert D. Ward, and others.

Manners Outside the Navy.

The ordinary seaman's respect for rank and station when not connected with his beloved vessel is decidedly meager. When the president of the United States visits one of our men-of-war he is received at the gangway by the admiral, commanding officer and all of the officers of the ship, in full uniform, the marine guard drawn up with the band on the quarterdeck, the national flag is displayed at the main, the drummer gives four ruffles, the band plays the national air, and a salute of twenty-one guns is fired. The same ceremony also takes place on his leaving.

On one occasion a president visited me of the ships informally, dispensing with the salute and ceremony, when one of the men rather indignantly asked another who that lubber was at the quarterdeck that didn't "douse his peak" to the commodore.

"Choke your luff, will you?" was the reply. "That's the president of the United States."

"Well, ain't he got manners enough to salute the quarterdeck, if he is?"

"Manners! What does he know about manners? I don't suppose he was ever out of sight of land in his life."—"On a Man-of-War."

How to Follow Forest Trails.
The trail has a code of signs, as well as a book of laws," says Hamlin Garland in "The Long Trail." A twig designedly broken is like a finger pointing toward a gate. A "blaze" corresponds to the beckoning hand. A new blaze renders an old one of no value. A sapling cut and bent across a path locks it and warningly says, "Go no farther this way." A stick set upright in the mud means 'no bottom here.' By use of these and many other records of the same sort, the trail profits by the experience of those who have gone before him and aids those who are to follow. There is always news on the trail for those who have eyes to perceive it, and it is the duty of him who rides ahead to enlighten those who are to follow. The Kikiliat by means of signs almost invisible can cheer, direct and definitely warn his tribesman. These signs on the trail are respected. No one thinks of removing them except for cause.

At the Dentists.
"Do you give gas here?" asked a wild looking man who rushed into a dentist's.
"We do," replied the dentist.
"Does it put a fellow to sleep?"
"It does."
"Sound asleep, so you can't wake him up?"
"Yes."
"You could break his jaw or black his eye and he wouldn't feel it?"
"He would know nothing about it."
"How long does he sleep?"
"The physical insensibility produced by inhaling the gas lasts a minute, or probably a little less."
"I expect that's long enough. Got it all ready for a fellow to take?"
"Yes. Take a seat in this chair and show me your tooth."

"Tooth nothing!" said the excited caller, beginning rapidly to remove his coat and vest. "I want you to pull a porous plaster off my back."

Flowers That Change Color.
"There are many flowers that change color," said the old gardener. "There is the mutabae phlox, for instance. At sunrise it is blue, and in the afternoon it is pink. Then there is hibiscus—hibiscus mutabilis. It goes through three changes in the day, from white in the morning to rose at noon and to red at sunset. Likewise the lantana. The lantana is yellow one day, orange the next and red the third. Its changes are slow. There are other flowers, too, that change. There's the chieranthus chameleio, that shifts from white to yellow and from yellow to red. There's the gladiolus versicolor, that's brown in the morning and blue in the evening. There's the coleus scandens, that moves slowly from greenish white to a deep violet."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Poisoned With Diamonds.
The jeweler replaced tenderly in its case the unmounted pear shaped diamond. "I could kill you with that," he said. "I could poison you with it. You would die in a few hours." "But diamonds are not poisonous?" "Indeed they are, ground up. There have been a number of suicides by diamond dust among gem cutters. Swallow diamond dust, and death will ensue very quickly. The symptoms will be the same as though strychnine had been taken."

Her View of It.
"Don't you think," asked Mrs. Oldcastle, "that Miss Witherspoon has a patrician face?" "Oh," replied her bossess, bringing her $600.00 necklace over the back of a chair. "I don't think she has. She claims, at least, that her folks were all English and that there ain't a drop of Irish blood in her veins."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Difficulties of the Naturalist.
At one end or the other of every animal lies a danger which makes the closest investigation impossible. To study the mule we must hold him by the head, but to study the bull we must have a tall hold as a vantage point.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Explained.
"I know he does not mean it. He says in his letter that everything has seemed dark; as night since I went away."
"He may be telling the truth. You know love is blind."
You may stretch a truth into a lie, but you can't stretch a lie into truth.—Selected.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, tells strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by G. S. Darling, druggist, 50c.

Saves All Wasted With Other Stoves

For Hard Coal, Soft Coal or Lignite

The waste of gas in burning hard coal is shown by opening the magazine cover of an ordinary base burner, when the oxygen supplied fills the entire stove with flaming gas. Cole's Hot Blast stove burns this gas in hard coal which, in ordinary stoves, escapes, on account of their leaky construction, causing great waste and endangering health and life when it escapes into the rooms.

In the ordinary magazine hard coal stove, three-fourths of the coal is partially consumed in the magazine, where it gives off no heat, as it is not in contact with the radiating surface. The one-fourth of the coal in the fire pot must be kept at a white heat combustion to throw the heat into the rooms, thus causing great waste.

Cole's Original Hot Blast

The combustion chamber and the magazine are combined in this stove and the Combustion is Perfect. The stove is filled to the top of the inside cast iron lining. This large body of hard coal is burned under perfect control by means of the absolutely air-tight construction of the stove giving perfect control over the drafts. The coal is kept at a slow, economical cherry red combustion and as the heat is in direct contact with every square inch of the sensitive steel radiating surface, all the heat is radiated into the room where it is wanted and not blanketed in and sent up the chimney. Hard coal at Cherry Red Combustion burns 48 hours, while at white heat it is consumed in from 2 to 5 hours.

Sold Under a Positive Guarantee

We Guarantee Cole's Original Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner with the same heating surface.

Requires attention only morning and night with hard coal. Warm rooms day and night. No escaping gases to endanger life. The heat wasted up the chimney with other stoves is saved.

Burns Any Fuel—Saves Half

Cole's Hot Blast is not only a perfect hard coal stove, but is generally recognized as the most economical and cleanest soft coal stove made. Soft coal is half gas and a $3.00 ton of soft coal or a $2.00 ton of slack is made to do the work of $9.00 worth of hard coal, as the gas half is utilized as a heat producer. It burns soft coal, hard coal or wood without any change of fixtures.

Scientific Construction

Cole's Original Hot Blast has an absolutely air-tight and gas tight construction throughout, by reason of its numerous patented improvements. The patented Hot Blast draft saves the gas. A patented steel collar connects the elbow draft to the stove body and cannot be made to leak air by action of the fiercest heat. The heavy fire box protects the joints, the ash door cannot warp and the door closes air-tight by its own weight. The guaranteed smoke-proof feed door prevents smoke, soot or dust from escaping into the room when fuel is put into the stove. Perfect cleanliness, therefore, from soft coal.

CAUTION. Like all original improvements, Cole's Original Hot Blast has many imitations. They are failures, because they do not have the above patented features. The words "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago" will be found on the feed door of every Cole's Hot Blast. None genuine without it.

That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by G. S. Darling, druggist, 50c.
