Little Anna, the twelve-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Berg, of Tawas township, died at Mercy hospital, Bay City, on Saturday last from the result of an operation for appendicitis. The little sufferer was taken to that institution on Wednesday of last week and operated upon on Thursday, but her condition was so serious that the operation was unsuccessful. The funeral was held from the Emanuel Lutheran church Tuesday afternoon and was largely attended. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of all in their hour of affliction.

Senator McKay is Dead.

Caro, Feb. 13.—State Senator William McKay, ill here for many weeks, died at 7 o'clock last night, surrounded by all of his children except his daughter, Mrs. William L. Day, of Canton, O.

About one year ago Senator McKay underwent an operation in Harper hospital, Detroit, for a tumor. At that time it was not believed that he could recover, but his rugged constitution and temperate habits pulled him through. It was the same malady, however, which brought his death.

For years William McKay was known as the "Uncle Joe Cannon of Michigan," as he possessed the same dry humor and the same habit of gesticulating with his whole body as the speaker of the national house.

Born in Ayrshire, Scotland, Mr. McKay was educated in the schools of Kilmarnock. In 1854 he came to the United States, settling in Lapeer county. He moved to Tuscola county in 1876. He was elected sheriff of the county, and supervisor. Mr. McKay first entered the house in 1889, during the last term of Gov. Luce. He returned ten years later, in 1899, and served again in the houses 1901 and 1905. In 1906 he was elected to the senate.

The four surviving sons are all in the banking business. They are Lloyd, of East Tawas; James, of Prescott; Don, of Tawas City, and Robert, of West Branch. The daughters are Mrs. William Day, of Canton, O., whose husband is a son of the supreme justice, and Miss Nellie McKay, of Caro.

Baptist Church.

Rev. E. A. Schultz delighted those who heard him at the Baptist church last Sunday. His sermons were full of spiritual power. He will return on the 24th of this month to assist the pastor in special evangelistic meetings.

The pastor will preach Sunday morning and evening, and at the Hemlock road at 3 p. m. All members are urged to be present. Everybody cordially invited.

Sunday school at 11:30 a. m. Prayer meeting Friday 7:30 p. m.

Suggesting a Topic.

Little Emma was intensely interested in her big sister's engagement. She had any number of preconceived ideas of what lovers talked about before they were married, and so when one afternoon her sister's fiancé arrived to make a call she followed the sweethearts into the drawing room and took up a position directly in front of them as they sat on a sofa. Clapping her hands around her knees and gazing at the young man with a romantic expression on her ardent face, little Emma remarked eagerly: "I suppose now you are going to talk about the moonlight."

HARD TO BEAT FOR NERVE

Pennsylvania Burglar Evidently Believed in Making Himself Comfortable While He Could.

For pure nerve and cussedness a burglar of Wilkesbarre, Pa., now holds the long distance record. He got into the house of aged William Crossley the other night, ransacked it of everything he wanted and then, concluding it was a cold night and a long time till daylight, he got into bed with Crossley and went to sleep, pulling most of the covers over on his side. After awhile the old man woke up shivering and tried to pull the blankets back. Then he discovered the intruder, who swore vigorously at being disturbed and told old man Crossley to lie still. Crossley, discovering what was up, did so, and Mr. Burglar, wrapping the lion's share of the clothes about him, snoozed until dawn and then decamped with most of Crossley's household effects. Crossley is glad, however, that he left the bedclothes.

EVOLUTION.

"He comes of a wealthy family, I believe."

"I should say he does. He was born without an appendix."

WAYS AND MEANS.

A couple of girls, after the manner of girls since the world was young, were recently discussing the affairs of their various friends.

"I don't see why in the world Clara lets that little snob Charlie Blank come to see her so often!" the dark haired one said. "They are together almost constantly."

"Hum," the blond commented, with a worldly wise little smile.

"Well, I don't. I wouldn't!" her friend asserted. "He is not good looking and has such ugly ways."

"Well, perhaps he has ugly ways; but such handsome means!" the other said, and something very near a sigh got past the piece of fudge she hastened to put into her mouth.—Sunday Magazine.

TO LIVE AMONG LEPEERS.

Mrs. Frank H. Parker of Malden, Mass., has gone with her husband to take up her permanent residence in the leper colony on the island of Penikese. Dr. Parker was recently appointed superintendent of the colony. He has for a long time been a student of the disease and is firmly convinced that he can greatly relieve the sufferers. It is said that before accepting the appointment he consulted with his wife, expecting her to oppose his acceptance because of the separation it would entail. Much to his surprise, she was not only willing for him to go, but, further, insisted on accompanying him.

LIPTON'S SMOKING.

Sir Thomas Lipton is a very witty man, and many smart replies are placed to his credit. Here is one which occurred at the time of the last cup race, when he was in America. His host brought out a box of very fine cigars and handed them to him.

"I do not know whether you will like these cigars, Sir Thomas," he said. "What do you generally smoke?"

"Bacon," was the quiet reply.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., FEB. 14, 1908

State Salt Inspector Emery's report of salt inspected during January shows: Saginaw county, 27,276 barrels; Bay, 19,661; St. Clair, 87,597; Manistee, 30,411; Mason, 19,909; Wayne, 67,107; total, 251,961 barrels.

The lynching record in this country for 1907 shows a reduction of about 20 per cent over that of the year previous. Fifty-six persons were done to death by mobs, and all of these crimes took place in the southern and southwestern states. The victims were 52 negroes and 4 white men.

Since 1902, when the federal reclamation act was passed, the government has added 5,000,000 acres to the country's habitable land, and these, with the 7,200,000 reclaimed from the desert before that year, make an increase of more than 12,000,000 acres in the country's habitable area.

It is mainly from Africa, America and Australia that the world draws its supply of gold, some $400,000,000 worth, now regularly every year. Africa leads with about $150,000,000; next comes the United States with about $95,000,000. Australia ranks third with some $85,000,000, while Russia, both in Europe and Asia, Mexico, Canada and several other countries make up the remainder.

Southern Indiana is undergoing a tree-planting revival. Many farmers are utilizing waste tracts of land for the growing of such trees as black locusts, hardy catalpas and other fast-growing varieties. It is said that land which can be bought at from $6 to $10 an acre will yield a good crop of locusts in about ten or twelve years, the product of which is estimated to be worth from $250 to $800 an acre.

Value of The Newspaper,

Occasionally a man is found in every community who thinks he cannot afford to be a subscriber to a local paper, says an exchange. Does he take out his pencil and figure in a cool methodical way the cost of a weekly paper at one dollar a year? Does he calculatingly prove that this expense is but two bits for thirteen weeks, eight and a third cents a month, less than two cents a week, a quarter section of one cent a day? Does he, in fairness to himself, make comparison of this newspaper expense with his tobacco bill or other indulgence which he might forego with profit? Not much. That daddy dollar which pays for the local newspaper has been dangling before his eyes and growing bigger at every glance, until it assumes the proportion of a Ferris wheel in his imagination.

No citizen can afford to be without a local paper, and all of the newspapers in his neighborhood, for no one paper can give all the happenings of human interest. It is safe to say that $5 a year represents the actual value of a local newspaper to the average subscriber. There are ideas advanced and suggestions given, the value of which to the reader is little thought of. As a business proposition the local newspaper is worth many times the remarkably low subscription price asked, saying nothing of the question of sentiment.

Word Curiosities.

Honorificabilitudinitatibus is a rather long word. You cannot find it in the dictionary, but you will find it used in Shakespeare and some of the other early English writers. The word is meaningless; the only interesting point about it is its length. Twenty-seven letters in a breath is quite a few. But our dictionary gives some almost as long; for instance, the following two, of twenty-four letters each:

transubstantiationists.
inamorphosability.

Here are some of the other box

constrictors;

Twenty-three letters:

disproportionableness.

Twenty-two:

intercommunicabilities.

Twenty-one:

interconvertibilities.

Twenty:

historiographically.

supersensitivenesses.

hypersensitivenesses.

It is safe to say that the ordinary reader would not run onto one of these in a hundred years—and if he did he would run the other way.—New York Press.

Farm For Sale.

I will sell my farm containing 67 acres, 55 acres under cultivation, good two story frame house with stone cellar, large barn, stables and sheds, and a good orchard. Reason for sale, old age and disability. Inquire of HERMAN FAHSELT, R. F. D. 1, Tawas City, Mich.

Keeping Open House.

Everybody is welcome when we feel good; and we feel that way only when our digestive organs are working properly. Dr. King's New Life Pills regulate the action of stomach, liver and bowels so perfectly one can't help feeling good when he uses these pills. 25c. at G. S. Darling's and J. E. Dillon's drug stores.

LAKE LEVELS.

Superior, Huron and Michigan Fall White Erie Rises.

Detroit, Feb. 10.—The United States Lake Survey reports the stages of the great lakes for the month of January, as follows:

Lakes.	Feet above tide.
Superior	602.10
Michigan-Huron	590.42
Erie	572.52
Ontario	246.73

Since last month Lake Superior has fallen nearly 5½ inches, Lakes Michigan and Huron have fallen 2 inches, while Lake Erie has risen 3½ inches and Lake Ontario ½ inches. In the next month Lake Superior is likely to fall 2½ inches; Lakes Michigan, Huron and Erie should hold their January level; Lake Ontario should show a rise of an inch or more.

Lake Superior is one foot above its January level in 1893, and 4 inches higher than in 1890; but it is 1½ inches lower than January last year, over 7 inches lower than in 1906, and 3½ inches below the mean January stage for the past ten years.

Lakes Michigan and Huron are 16 inches higher than in January, 1896, 6½ inches higher than in 1904, and 5 inches above the mean January stage of the past ten years; but they are lower by 2½ inches than in January last year, and 27 inches lower than in 1886.

Lake Erie is 18½ inches higher than in January 1896, 7 inches higher 1906, just a foot higher than 1905, and 10½ inches higher than the average January stage for the past ten years; but it is lower by about a foot than in 1886, and lower by 2½ inches than in January last year.

Lake Ontario is nearly 3 feet higher than in January, 1896, 3½ inches higher than last year, and 18½ inches higher than the average January stage of the past ten years; but it is 10 inches lower than in January, 1886. Lake Ontario shows the highest January stage in 22 years. With heavy ice in the St. Lawrence river to check the outflow, the coming season should show exceptionally high water for this lake.

Neighborhood Favorite.

Mrs. E. D. Charles, of Harbor, Maine, speaking of Electric Bitters, says: "It is a neighborhood favorite here with us." It deserves to be a favorite everywhere. It gives quick relief in dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney derangement, malnutrition, nervousness, weakness and general debility. Its action on the blood as a thorough purifier makes it especially useful as a spring medicine. This grand alterative tonic is sold under guarantee at G. S. Darling's and J. E. Dillon's drug stores. 50c.

Republican County Convention.

A republican county convention for the county of Iosco is hereby called to meet at the court house in Tawas City, Mich., on Monday, February 24, 1908, for the purpose of electing three delegates to the republican district convention to be held in Bay City on Thursday, February 27 next; also for the purpose of electing three delegates to the republican state convention to nominate delegates at large, and for such other business as may properly come before it. The several wards and townships will be entitled to representation as follows:

AuSable township, 2; AuSable City, 1st ward, 1; AuSable, 2nd ward, 1; AuSable, 3rd 1; Baldwin, 1; Burleigh, 2; East Tawas, 1st ward, 1; second ward, 2; third ward, 1; Grant, 1; Oscoda, 4; Plainfield, 2; Reno, 1; Sherman, 1; Tawas township, 2; Tawas City, 1st ward, 1; second ward, 2; third ward, 1; Wilber, 1; Alabaster, 1. Total, 29.

JOHN McFARLANE,
Chairman.

WILL MCGILLIVRAY,
Secretary.

The Jumping Off Place.

"Consumption had me in its grasp; and I had almost reached the jumping off place when I was advised to try Dr. King's New Discovery; and I want to say right now, it saved my life. Improvement began with the first bottle, and after taking one dozen bottles I was a well and happy man again," says George Moore, of Grimesland, N. C. As a remedy for coughs and colds and healer of weak, sore lungs and for preventing pneumonia New Discovery is supreme. 50c. and $1.00 at G. S. Darling's and J. E. Dillon's druggists. Trial bottle free.

Clean your seed before sowing.

Careful not to let the brood sows get too fat.

Comfort for the brood animals means stronger, healthier offspring.

Don't waste the manure, it is the most valuable asset on the farm.

The compact horse is better for farm work than the long-legged one.

Good poultrymen never keep but one male bird in the flock at a time.

Salt is good but if it is not where the sheep can get at it, what shall it profit them?

The cow shed should be open to the south so that it can catch all the sunshine that is going.

The man who is content with the crooked furrow is more than likely to be careless about his morals.

The progeny of a grade bred to a grade is certain to be of inferior quality than either of the parents.

Whether the farm flock is pure bred or just common fowls, new blood should be introduced each year.

Sheep and cows should not be yoked together, as the former are timid and defenseless and easily injured.

The profits from the orchard are determined in large measure by the care bestowed upon the trees and the fruit.

Keep a record of each brood sow. Don't trust to memory to tell you a year from now which animals did you the best service.

One good farm paper well-read is better than the skimmings from a dozen others. Be a careful reader, and a patient practitioner.

What! A rag drawn through that hole in the milk pail, when a few minutes' work and a little solder will fix it? Shame on you.

One ounce of glycerine, one-half ounce of lemon juice and two ounces of rose water make a good lotion for the hands and face.

A poor appetite in any farm animal indicates improper housing, or feeding. Keep the animals thrifty if you would have them return a profit.

The supply of good cows is never equal to the demand. Don't think therefore that you can buy to good advantage. Better raise your own cows.

Neglect in the poultry house seems easy at the time, but it is expensive. The poultry business is made up of little details and they must be attended to.

Get a graduated glass on which the drops, drams and ounces are marked. It will prove handy in putting up the simple remedies, formulas for which you often see in print.

Not one farm in a hundred is stocked up to its full capacity. Is your farm the one in a hundred or is it one of the ninety-nine, which are falling short of their privilege and opportunity?

Saving the chilled lamb is one of the tasks of the early spring. Take it in where it is warm, rubbing thoroughly to restore circulation and then feed a little hot milk from a bottle to which is attached a rubber nipple.

Have your perches all at the same height. The old step ladder idea, by which the birds are induced to crowd up to the topmost perch has given place to the more sensible plan of providing perches that will avoid crowding.

The merciful man is merciful to his beast. Remember this when coming in late with the horses from a long drive over the muddy roads. Takes lot of gumption, but see that they are rubbed off and made comfortable for the night before leaving them.

Calves must have clean, dry pens if they would be thrifty. A filthy wet pen, especially for very young calves, is apt to derange their stomachs. While a cement floor is ideal, it takes lots of bedding to keep it dry. A light pen is also very desirable. Every calf pen should have a window where the sunlight can get in. Sunlight is one of the best disinfectants that God ever gave to man. It is the cheapest also; therefore use plenty of it in the barns.

Here is a recipe for tanning skins with the hair on which is said to be good, although we have not tried it. When the skin is fresh, powder the flesh side with a mixture of salt two parts, alum and saltpeter each one part, and roll tightly, letting it lie until the mixture is thoroughly dissolved. This mixture should be pulverized before being applied. Then stretch the hide on a board and scrape off all flesh or membrane that may adhere to it. Then dry in the sun and cover with neat's foot oil, after which it should be laid away for a few days. Next scrape as clean as possible with a piece of wood, and apply Spanish whiting which has been heated in an oven until it is hot, rubbing it with a flannel cloth. The skin is now ready for use, and if at all stiff, may be rubbed and worked soft with but little trouble.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

The neglected flock never returns a profit.

Rectify your mistakes if possible, do not repeat them.

Dry comfortable quarters must be provided for the brood sow.

Care counts more with sheep than with almost any other farm animal.

The pedigreed scrub is worse as a sire than the high quality grade sire.

The scrub sire will produce a progeny that is scrubber than himself.

The hen likes the dark nest. And the dark nest is not apt to encourage the egg-eater.

Livestock may be profitably raised on high-priced land if intensive methods of farming are followed.

Over feeding is indicated by the muzzed over feed which the cattle leave. Cut down the rations.

Assimilation is the only true measure of value in feeding. What is not assimilated is practically wasted.

Don't keep the pig always stuffed to the limit, or he will not take the necessary exercise to health and proper development.

Your best cows are the ones which are making the biggest profit for you. Do not be tempted to sell them, even at a high price.

It costs less to make a pound of young flesh than it does a pound of mature flesh and the former is worth more in the market.

Every farmer should have a Babcock tester so that he can know what his cows are doing in the way of profitable milk production.

A good currying feels just as good to the cows as it does to the horses, and is quite as essential to their health as it is to that of horses.

Take time to spread the manure when you cart it to the field. If left in piles it will ferment and much of the nitrate will pass off in the form of gas.

In case of impaction of the bowels of the horses through feeding of straw give a pint of linseed-oil, followed after 24 hours by a somewhat lighter dose.

Stover is notably deficient in available proteins, and when fed alone to the cows does not give the best results. When combined with clover hay it gives the best results.

During the slack days of winter get the supply of wood ready for spring, summer and fall, when you will be too busy sowing, cultivating and harvesting the crops to tend to the matter.

Look out for dodder seed in the clover seed you buy. This is one of the commonest adulterations of clover seed, and is a troublesome pest to get into a field. Remember that the government will test your seed for you if you will send samples.

The average yield of corn per acre for the country is only about 35 bushels. Proper seed selection and cultivation ought to double this yield, and even treble it, for some corn experts assert that no man should be satisfied with less than 100 bushels per acre.

There is a considerable difference in the feeding of corn fodder and red clover hay. Prof. L. A. Clinton of the Storrs (Conn.) experiment station has found that one thousand pounds of common red clover contains 20 pounds of nitrogen, 4 pounds of phosphoric acid, 22 pounds of potash. This is clover as ordinarily cured for hay. One thousand pounds of cornstalks will contain 5 pounds of nitrogen, 4 pounds of phosphoric acid, 16 pounds of potash.

Again we hear the charge that shoeing is probably responsible for more lameness in horses than any other cause. The shoes may directly lead to lameness through defective construction or attachment; or they may, by their shape (calks, etc.), cause strain and consequent lameness in some part of the leg. The mere concussion (emphasized by shoes) of trotting along a macadamized road must be very trying to all the ligaments, tendons and points of the horse's legs, so that the wonder is, not so much that there are so many unsound horses as that there are so many sound ones.

During 1907, 375 miles of improved highways were completed in New York state, 600 miles were placed under contract, and plans and specifications were adopted for 490 miles more. Last year showed the greatest amount of road building since the policy of state road improvement was inaugurated in 1895. For 10 years there are 1,042 miles of completed improved roads to show, and of this total 375 is to be credited to last year.

The Hearty Laugh.

We have faith in the man who can laugh heartily. It is not only a sign of health and good nature, but an indication of the spirit of looking on the bright side of things, which contributes so much to success. The wisdom and sagacity of a man is no longer estimated by the length of his countenance, nor by his refusal to understand his dignity so far as to laugh on occasion. The cheerful smile, the frank, open laugh, are two of the most helpful influences which a man is able to bestow on comrade or friend, and few of us have been so unfortunate as to have failed to experience the benefits of both. Let us all wear a sunny countenance, therefore, not only for our own happiness but for our neighbors and friends. --Farm Life.

Oh, tell me, ye who study Life, And peer into the Future's zone, Will all be righted in the end And justice reign upon the throne? Will those who suffer here to-day, Whose hearts are bursting with their woe, Will they be comforted and glad In days beyond this undertow?

Ah, ye who tell us that you know Life's wrongs will all be righted there, Come, take us by the hand to-day, And point to where the end is fair! Point out the widow glad once more, The hungry fed, the maimed that run, The broken-hearted filled with joy, The hovel-dwellers in the sun!

Oh, show us men whose trust was wronged, Whose friends deserted in the roar— Ah, point to them with faith restored, With confidence and love once more! Go, show us women, bent and worn, Whose labors o'er, are now at rest, And let us hear the babe that died Croon gently on its mother's breast!

Ah, lead us to the horoscope And let us peer through leagues of strife, To where the Right has won the World And Justice is the Pulse of Life! We, too, have peered far, far ahead, But we are weak and old and slow— Is there a hand of peace and rest Beyond the mad world's undertow?

Money may talk, but it never talks half loudly enough for me.

A Kansas farmer came to Chicago and was robbed of $780. Darn a millionaire that can't take a joke.

The average city worker loses a lot of time looking up when the office door opens, to see who is coming in to bother him.

Sometimes one diamond ring costs as much as an operation for appendicitis, and diamond rings are much more common!

"The Submerged Sixth" is the name of a new play now holding forth in Boston. Sounds like a man trying to stay out with the boys one night before pay day.

A Detroit woman fired three shots at her husband and then they made up and went out to the back yard where they buried the dog, the parrot and a gold-fish dish.

Many a man has started in this world by earning $5 a week. He has continued to toil, earnestly and conscientiously until he found himself earning $50 a week—and still getting $5.

A Michigan judge says a wife should not have more than half of her husband's salary. And, of course, she should pay all the household expenses, water rent, taxes, etc., out of her half. That's business!

A Nebraska man tried to beg off the jury by telling the judge that he was about to be married. The judge ruled against him, commenting grimly: "You might as well stay on the jury and enjoy yourself a little while longer."

An Iowa wife has sued her husband for divorce on the grounds of talking the bait out of a rat trap every time he set it. After setting the trap eighty-one times, tying the bait on with string and wire, gluing it fast to the trigger and making a monkey of himself by telling all his friends what a darned smart rat he had in his cellar, he discovered that his wife was playing a joke on him. After he had gone down town, she would remove the bait and gleefully await results. When he finally discovered her duplicity, he got mad and began suit for divorce. Some men seem to lack a sense of humor.

Not on Boys.

The editor of the Riverton (Wyo.) Republican is a contrary stickler for grammar, judging by the following clipped from his newspaper:

A lady, who is some pumpkins in Baptist circles, asks us if we will address the Sunday school scholars on the subject "The Effect of Smoking on Boys." We refused the honor for lack of proper qualification, never having smoked on a boy during all our fumigating career. We have smoked on a cracker box, a beer keg, a pickle barrel and a plain hump-backed chair, but never on a boy. The fact is, a boy is too restless to insure a quiet smoke.

Hoppertown News.

A drummer from down to the Rapids was through here last week representing a nursery firm, but he didn't do no business as most folks around here have got all be kids they want now. Mr. Hod Peters bought a 2-cent stamp and a sheet of writin' paper and envelope last week. What's the lady's name, Hod? Miss Lattie Bibbin's rat bit Elmer Spink on the nose quite bad while they was playin' drop the handkercher at the candy pull at the parsonage Wednesday evening. Uncle Ezra Harkins went to sleep back of the stove and somebody put a lump of hot candy in his whiskers, but he ain't found it out yet. Special Sunday dinner at the Hotel Hoppertown next Sunday. Jelly roll on the table. Jed Frink is using one of his wife's buckwheat pancakes for an emery wheel at his blacksmith shop. Three deacons, five trustees and four elders are shaving themselves since Amariah Tilton stopped taking the Police Gazette at his barbershop.—Roy K. Moulton.

Fate.

He merely took what was his need; He carried nothing off in greed. And yet, for this I gave pursuit And hunted him like one to boot! Ah, see! He has quite dead! Here! Soot! At last, I've caught that pesky rat!

MISTAKEN IN THEIR JUDGMENT.

Prohibition Delegates Unable to Claim Stranger as Brother.

"You cannot always tell from the looks of a man what his business is," said a Chicago drummer. "Many of the jolliest looking men are undertakers, while many of the professional clowns are dyspeptic looking. I was a witness to a rather amusing experience of this kind one time out in Kansas. The train was pretty well crowded and I sat down opposite a party of three men, who afterward turned out to be prohibition candidates to some kind of a convention. At a little station along the way a tall, clerical looking old gentleman got on the train and, seeing the only available seat in one of the double ones occupied by the three delegates, sat down there. As time passed on the four engaged in conversation, the delegates evidently taking him for a brother member. Several remarks were passed regarding the prohibition work and the liquor traffic, and it was a noticeable fact that the new arrival did not warm up to the subject as much as some of the others. Finally one of the trio touched him on the shoulder and said: "Brother, are you truly making the good fight?" "Yes," replied the ministerial looking man, "and the bad ones, too. I'm a whisky salesman."

Going for Good.

"Well," said Mrs. Grumbel, "I heard that piano going to-day, and for once I was really pleased."

"Ah! The piano next door?" said her husband. "So—good music, eh?"

"It was sweetest music to me. I heard the installment dealer's men taking it away."—Philadelphia Press.

John Searis had quite a thrilling experience in the severe storm on Wednesday of last week. He left his camp at about 1 o'clock to go to that of E. F. Abbott some distance away. He failed to reach his destination and wandered around until about 9 in the evening, when his calls were heard by his son Wesley, who with Jacob Horn went to his aid and assisted him to camp. Mr. Searis was confined to his bed for a few days as the result of the exposure.

About 10:30 last Sunday night the home of Thomas Harris, two miles southwest of this village, was destroyed by fire with practically all its contents. The loss is a heavy one to Mr. Harris, who seems to have his full share of hard luck during the past year from sickness and other misfortunes. The family is now living in Charles Balard's house.

Michael Kindall returned last week from Detroit, accompanied by his daughter Mary, who had been seriously ill at the hospital in that city for some time.

Two weeks ago a certain young man went three miles across lots, to meet the object of his affections. The Hemlock is now open for navigation and we hope in the future that such a thing will not be necessary. Its quite fashionable now-a-days for young men to wear snow-shoes. We know the snow was deep and traveling on foot was hard work, but never mind, "there'll come a time" when they will not have to go. Two young ladies drove three miles last Sunday to attend church without meeting with an accident, but when a couple of young men attempted to turn the cutter around without backing out of the snow drift, they only succeeded in smushing the cutter. We suggest that the boys take a hand-sled and practice before making an other attempt.

STOLEN CLOCK TELLS TALES

Two New York Burglars Now Very Firmly Convinced of Truth of Old Adage.

Whoever else may doubt that "Time will tell," William Kotchmark and William Gilke of New York have unshaken confidence in the old adage. Do they not owe their arrest on a burglary charge to a telltale clock? Incidentally William Matthews, a florist at Great Neck, L. I., has an increased respect for the talent of observation which led his employe, Byron Abbott, to carry through a clever bit of Sherlock Holmes sleuthing. When Abbott boarded a Long Island train to go to New York he heard a familiar tick-tock coming from the seat in front of him. Two men were there and looking over the top of the seat Abbott saw that they had four bulging fruit bags. He told his suspicions to Policeman McCarthy, who was a passenger on the train, and who was also a man of action. The bags proved to be full of loot, including silverware, clothing and eatables belonging to the florist.

WOMAN PAYS POLL TAX.

Mrs. Tekla Moson is said to be the only woman in Massachusetts who has ever been called upon to pay a poll tax. Her home is in Chicopee, and for the last six years she has paid a poll tax because the assessors not familiar with Polish names assumed that Tekla was masculine. Mrs. Moson announces that unless the money is returned to her she will assert the right of a poll tax payer and vote at the next election. There is no provision for returning poll tax money, and the women standing behind Mrs. Moson say that they will take the matter into court and fight to the bitter end if any attempt is made to defraud the woman of what they declare is her just due.

HARDLY APPROPRIATE.

A great, big, husky, good-natured curb broker, who only recently earned fame on the college gridiron, was very much perturbed the other day over a daintily enveloped note fresh from a girl wintering at one of the Florida resorts, says the New York Press. He showed the missive to one of his friends and asked him if he understood it. The latter read the letter aloud: "Thanks for your thoughtful present, but did you ever hear why Satan never used his?" "What did you send the girl?" asked the other chap. "Pair of ice skates—beauties, too."

CURIOUS PHOTOGRAPHS.

Chain lightning and other luminous phenomena near earthquakes have been attributed to friction of the rocks. Noticing that a chalk pit near his house seemed to glow at times with a varying light, Prof. John Milne has exposed strips of photographic paper moved by clockwork near the rock in the Isle of Wight and in Cornwall, and development has shown curious spots, bands and other markings, with intervals of many days with no record. These dark patches cannot be imitated by electric discharges.

SELF-SATISFACTION.

The more one's knowledge of human nature expands the more convinced does one become of the value of self-satisfaction. Indeed, on making a mental survey of one's friends and acquaintances, one is forced to the conclusion that to be thoroughly pleased with oneself is one of the greatest of all factors in success in life. Once wrapped in the mantle of self-satisfaction the world is at one's feet, and nothing can put one out of joint with it.—The Ladies' Field.

ARTISTS' MODELS.

Although there are in Europe some 10,000 women and girls who earn a living as artists' models, it is strange to say that there are not ten among them who possess a perfect face and figure. The few models who fulfill the very exacting standard set by the best artists are practically engaged for so long as their youth and beauty last. This accounts for the fact that the same face and figure recur frequently in popular artists' pictures.

APPEARANCES DECEPTIVE.

"What makes that man look so proud?" "Why, haven't you heard? He won the squash championship." "Well, I declare! But he doesn't look like a farmer at all."

MONARCH'S SENSE OF HUMOR

Spanish King Credited with Witty Remark That Reflected on His Importance.

"In London last season," said a Chicago millionaire, "I attended a performance of 'The Merry Widow' at Daly's, in Shaftsbury avenue, and in a stage box sat the young king of Spain, very trim and boyish, in the sharp black and white of evening dress. "Between the acts an English baronet presented me to the king, and the talk turned—over a fizzy, aromatic drink—to the innumerable titles of this young monarch. He is, you know, emperor of Jerusalem, duke of Flanders, lord of Brabant, king of the West Indies, duke of the Philippines—in short, he has titles to a hundred lands that have been wrested from him by France, Holland, America, and so on. "They used to call me, in addition to my other names, 'the Great,'" said the young king, smiling, "but I put a stop to that. I said that the greatness of Spain was too much like that of a hole, which becomes greater the more you take away from it."

WANTS PAY FOR HOG.

Mary Harris of Kansas City wants $15 and damages for a hog which was shot by a patrolman after it had escaped from a thief who had tried to lure the porker from its home. The city council, on the advice of the city attorney, declares that Officer Joseph Picnick, who shot the hog, must pay for it, and Picnick declares that he shot the hog in self-defense. "I had just gone off duty and was just waiting for a car at Third street and Jersey avenue about one o'clock at night," he said. "All at once I heard a squeal and looking across the street saw that hog making straight for me. I ran, but it kept right after me. Then I turned and shot at it. The bullet went through its nose. My car came just then and I didn't wait to see what became of the hog." Temporary insanity on the part of the hog is also a part of the officer's plea in his attempt to escape and save his fifteen.

HORSES OBSERVE ORDINANCES.

"Horses are smart animals," remarked an old driver the other day. "Dogs are smart too, but you can't beat a horse. There are hundreds of horses in this town that know more about the traffic ordinances than the average person does. "Take this horse of mine, for instance. You can't make him turn a corner any way except at right angles according to the provisions of the ordinance, and he will not stand by the curb in the opposite direction from which traffic is headed. He will either cross over to the other side of the street or else try to turn around. I know of lots of other horses that have acquired the same training."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

NASTY.

Sentry—Pass, friend, all's swell! (and the way he looked at his corporation made the sergeant think!)

NEVER FAILS.

"You are lots thinner than you used to be." "Yes, indeed, I am." "Taking any obesity cure?" "Yes, we have stopped housekeeping and gone to boarding."—Houston Post.

Bill Nye and Queen Victoria.

Years ago the late Bill Nye wrote a cordial and complimentary letter to Queen Victoria, urging her to come to America and take part in certain authors' readings in all of the international copyright movement. The letter was written primarily for publication, of course, and in all likelihood never reached the august eye for which it professed to be intended. It filled a newspaper column, however, and served its purpose as an excellent bit of fooling. The writer assured her majesty of a hearty welcome from her fellow authors in the United States, all of whom he said, had been greatly impressed, not only by the merit of her literary work, but by the fact that she produced it all at night—after reigning all day on a hard throne. "Throughout the many years that she continued to reign on a hard throne," she was an indefatigable worker herself and the inspirer of industry in others—Putnam's Magazine.

Curious.

Mr. Stubb—Yes, Maria, 29 years is regarded as a lapse between the third and fourth acts. Mrs. Stubb—Do tell! Then we can certainly stay. Mr. Stubb—Ah, you are interested in the play? Mrs. Stubb—Yes, I want to see the change in the style of hat the heroine wears.
