Squire, of Cleveland, 75 shares; Chas. W. Ward, Saginaw, 75 shares; Wm. B. Mershon, Saginaw, 75 shares; Chas. H. Davis, Saginaw, 75 shares.

One of the most important railroad projects in which northern Michigan figures is the proposed extension of the Manistee & Northeastern to Alpena. Such a line is now being surveyed, the route crossing the Pere Marquette, Grand Rapids & Indiana, the Michigan Central, and connects with the Detroit & Mackinac at Alpena. This line would open thousands of acres of fine timber land and would give better shipping facilities to all points in northern Michigan.—Cheboygan Tribune.

Mrs. VanPatten Dead.

Died, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. S. Carr, in Prescott, on Monday, April 6, 1908 Mrs. Catherine Elizabeth VanPatten, aged 71 years. The deceased was born in New Jersey in 1837 and came to Michigan with her parents at an early age. She was united in marriage to the late John VanPatten when 18 years of age. She was the mother of eight children, three of whom survive her. They are Mrs. F. S. Carr, of Prescott, Willard, of Hancock and Harry, of Grant township. The family were residents of the Tawas most of the time for the past 35 years, and the deceased was held in high esteem by a large circle of acquaintances. The remains were brought to this city and laid at rest by the side of her late husband who preceded her to the great beyond about seven years ago. The funeral was held from the home of Thomas Bradley Wednesday afternoon, Rev. J. Spencer Smith, of the M. E. church officiating.

No Harmony in Him.

Some of the guests at a dinner party in New York not long ago were referring to the influence of an independent official toward increasing the party vote at the approaching election. Said one of the women present:

"Really, I am not surprised that Mayor Frank's course has failed to secure perfect harmony. For a long time I have sat near him in church and heard him, Sunday after Sunday, sing the hymns with vigor and great self-satisfaction to a tune entirely his own. The fact that the tune was not the best one never seemed to worry him in the least."—Sunday Magazine.

Death Was on His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and death was on my heels! Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for cough and lung disease in all the world." Sold under guarantee at G. S. Darling's and J. E. Dillon's drug stores, at 50c and $1 per bottle. Trial bottles free.

ALABASTER

What subsists today by violence continues tomorrow by acquiescence and is perpetuated by tradition; till at last the heavy abuse shakes the gray hairs of antiquity at us and gives it self out as the wisdom of ages. Thus the clearest dictates of reason are made to yield to the long succession of follies.

And this is the foundation of the aristocratic system at the present day. Its strong hold, with all those not immediately interested in it, is the reverence of antiquity.—Edward Everett.

SHOW YOUR LICENSE. If You Have None, Your Right to Grouch in Public is a Crime.

Say, you! Do you know that you owe the world a smile. You ought to smile the rest of your life. The chances are that you bawled and whimpered away the first ten years of your life, and that is all you have license to do. If you have been a grouch since you became a man or woman, you have been worse than a whole lot of criminals. That's right.

No matter who you are, nor what your trouble, you have no right to go before the world with a sad face, you owe it to humanity to smile and be hearty about it, too.

Yes, I know your heart is broken, sad, bleeding and troubled. But how many people that you meet every day on the streets are covering lacerated hearts with a cheery smile, and they are doing it to help you carry your load? Did you know this little nasty old world was just full of that kind of heroes and heroines? Men and women who go about the street with a great big load of sorrow, hidden by a cheery smile, whose burden would make yours look like a plugged nickel!

Yes, you have been sick, how many others do you suppose when you meet face to face every day, who come up smiling and cheerful to your face, who when in the solitude of their office or room, groan in mortal agony of spirit and body, and who pray for death to release them, but who when they meet the world, meet it with a smile instead of a tear or a frown.

Your friends have burden enough, don't overburden them to the breaking point with yours, also. Help them to bear theirs, and then get strength to bear your own.

Don't meet your fellows with a wrinkled brow, askance eyes, the corners of your mouth drawn down like two parenthetical marks, and your under lip hanging over like a southern tobacco worm. If it's a plain grouch that you have from dyspepsia or other and kindred ailments go get it cured, if it's real trouble, help some one else, and that will help you forget your own, and you don't know what an exhilaration there is in helping some other fellow bear his burdens, and what a lightening effect it has on your own, which doesn't seem half so large and heavy when you see the size of the other fellow's.

You owe the world a smile, you can't afford to frown and complain before the world at large. Get the smile habit; smile, smile, smile! Smile though your heart feels like it would burst, and your last drop of blood may be dripping from it, smile! A sigh, a tear, and frowsome look will never ease the burden, but will intensify it, and make the world believe you to have a streak of yellow. Enjoy our misery in private if you must, but meet the world with a smile.—Petoskey Independent.

Can't Publish Lucky Number Holders.

The postoffice authorities have given warning to newspapers that the law governing the publication of lucky number holders in raffles and other things will be strictly enforced from now on. The warning states that newspaper publishers will exercise more care in the future and not publish anything regarding guessing contests or any other proposition wherein there is the slightest chance of lottery or chance scheme. The penalty for the violation is the withdrawal of the paper from the mails.

A Twenty Year Sentence.

"I have just completed a 20 year health sentence, imposed by Backlen's Arniea Salve, which cured me of bleeding piles just 20 years ago," writes O. S. Woolver, of LeRayville, N. Y. Backlen's Arniea Salve heals the worst sores, boils, burns, wounds and cuts in the shortest time. 25c at G. S. Darling's and J. E. Dillon's drug stores.

MICHIGAN SUGAR.

Yield in Finished Product Was 173,000,000 Pounds
Last Year.

It would require a train more than 35 miles long to haul all of the sugar produced in Michigan last year.

The weight of the finished product was 173,000,000 pounds. It was made in 16 factories and 26,000 farmers were paid $4,400,000 for the beets from which sugar was extracted.

The investment in factories in this state is close to $13,000,000.

These figures show in part the importance of sugar among the commodities produced in the state.

There was little difference in the amount of granulated sugar made in 1907 as against that of 1906. Figured from pounds it amounted to 5,130 carloads. To raise the beets 90,000 acres were employed and the 26,000 farmers divided the four and a half millions of dollars in proportion to the average yield.

The average yield of beets in the state was eight and a half tons to the acre and the average price was $9.75 per ton to the farmers. This brought to the farmer about $48.57 for every acre in which he grew beets. The average planted was sufficient to justify larger crops but the cold May and June had their effect on the beets. In spite of conditions, the beet culture brought the farmer more money in 1907 than any other crops.

Officers of the Michigan Sugar company say that they hold 75 per cent of their clientele from one year to the next, showing that the farmer was satisfied. This is the season at which average contracts are being made and the amount now is slightly in excess of that of a year ago this time. There are 45 days more in which to make contracts before the time of sowing the seed.

Michigan granulated sugar has been put on the market during the year at about one-quarter of a cent less than eastern sugar. A large percentage of the output has been marked in this state, the saying to the consumer in buying this sugar in preference to the eastern being $430,000, considerable of a household item in itself.

The by-products also are immense in their value. In Michigan there are six factories that dry beet pulp. They produced 15,000 tons, or 1,000 carloads, the greatest part of which was sold in the dairying districts of the east and south Atlantic states.

The sugar factories produced much final molasses, so rich in potash salts it would not allow the sugar to crystallize out of it. Neither was it suitable for table use. This product was sold to the Michigan Chemical Co., at Bay City, and made into alcohol, that company paying the government an excise tax of $2,000,000 on the year's output. The residue, after the alcohol had been extracted, was in a form of potash salts and sold to fertilizing and glass companies.

There are sixteen sugar factories in Michigan, located as follows: Three at Bay City, and one each at Saginaw, Alma, Sebewiang, Caro, Croswell, Mt. Clemens, Charlevoix, St. Louis, Holland, Blissfield, Lansing, Owosso and Menominee.

Proposition to Farmers And Others to Reforest Cut Over And Wood Lands.

The Detroit & Mackinae railway company have, for the past three years, experimented with a forestry nursery on its Tawas Beach property. At the present time, they have on hand a large number of the following kinds of trees for transplanting.

White pine, Scotch pine, western yellow pine, spruce and western white cedar.

They desire to dispose of these trees and will give them to parties who will transplant them and see that they are properly taken care of. It is especially requested that the farmers on and adjacent to the line of the D. & M. Railway make requisition for these trees for the purpose of setting them out for reforesting some of the lands that they have cut over on their farms.

The trees will be delivered at the beds. The trees will be ready for delivery as soon as the frost is out of the ground, which will probably be about April 1st.

Those interested should communicate early as possible with Mr. C. W. Luce, General Superintendent Detroit & Mackinae Ry., East Tawas Mich.

Fine wire dictionary holders for $1.00 at Kutz's furniture store.

This is general election year in all the states, and in many localities there are prospects of great over-turnings, due to bad county government. The grafter is everywhere, and county officials in some sections have yielded to his blind smiles and still blander bribes. Farmers as a class are vitally interested in good county government, as they pay most of the taxes and suffer most from extravagance. Extreme care should be exercised in selecting county commissioners, who make the contracts with bridge companies and other concerns who deal with the counties. Unless these boards are honest and good business men, there are sure to be wasteful allowances, if not scandals. In Marion county, Indiana, at the present time one county commissioner and an ex-county commissioner are under indictment on the charge of accepting a bribe, and the clerk for the board is under indictment for issuing fake warrants. In such cases as these, and everywhere that there is looseness in county government, our advice to farmers is to rectify the abuses by refusing to sustain the offenders at the polls. In local affairs it is safer to vote with entire independence. "Down with rings, bosses and grafting candidates" should be the universal slogan of farmers everywhere.—Farmer's Journal.

An Open Letter on That Elevator Deal.

To the citizens of East Tawas:

A rumor which I think is detrimental to myself and an injustice to the Michigan Cereal Co. has been passed around in East Tawas, and I wish to correct it and set right our action in the vain attempt to locate the elevator building in this city.

The rumor is to the effect that the company never intended to locate here, and their attempt to do so was simply a bluff to bring Tawas City parties to terms on a more desirable site at that place, and therefore our proposition to locate in East Tawas was a fake. I wish to state that this rumor is false in every particular; that when I was requested by Mr. Medill, one of the firm, to secure a site in East Tawas, it was in good faith and there was no "bluff" string to the proposition. Later, when Mr. Medill himself came here and personally made efforts to secure a site from the city officials, his intentions were straightforward and there was no "fake" about them. After three or four weeks had elapsed in which we were negotiating for a site and were practically turned down, then Mr. Medill reluctantly turned his attention to Tawas City, and there he met with the kindest treatment, and thus he was encouraged to locate the institution there, where it is prospering and growing.

I trust this explanation will be sufficient to stifle all false rumors; but if not, a letter from Mr. Medill can be had at any time, which will substantiate the truth of the statements herein given.

Respectfully,
W. J. MURRAY, East Tawas.

He Got What He Needed.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says C. Farthing of Mill Creek, I. T. "I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then that my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave but Electric Bitters put it back on the turf again, and I have been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at G. C. Darling's and J. E. Dillon's drug stores, 50c.

Proposition to Farmers And Others to Reforest Cut Over And Wood Lands.

The Detroit & Mackinac railway company have, for the past three years, experimented with a forestry nursery on its Tawas Bench property. At the present time, they have on hand a large number of the following kinds of trees for transplanting:

White pine, Scotch pine, western yellow pine, spruce and western white cedar.

They desire to dispose of these trees, and will give them to parties who will transplant them and see that they are properly taken care of. It is especially requested that the farmers on and adjacent to the line of the D. & M. Railway make application for these trees for the purpose of setting them out for reforestation on some of the lands that they have cut over on their farms.

The trees will be delivered at the heels. The trees will be ready for delivery as soon as the frost is out of the ground, which will probably be about April 1st.

Those interested should communicate early as possible with Mr. C. W. Luce, General Superintendent Detroit & Mackinac Ry., East Tawas, Mich.

Peter Piper's Pa'

There was a novel hazard competition lately in Ontario. The competitors, boys and girls, had to protect the familiar "Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers." In each case a record was taken by a gramophone, and the instrument assisted the judges in arriving at a decision. It was found that a maiden of ten had alone distinctly spoken every syllable. Besides the prizes she was appropriately presented the winner on which was recorded her triumphant enunciation of "Peter Piper," etc.

The Light in the East.

One must not confuse youth with virility. To those who fancy Oklahoma the home of picturesque, careless cowboys; of Indians continually seeking the warpath for amusement; of one-story buildings; of laboring stage coaches always in imminent danger of holdup by masked desperadoes, there is nothing but disappointment. The cowboy there is a business proposition; the Indian is peaceful; the towns are modern and substantial; and the voice of the railroad is heard in the land. It is, in short, a good, hard-working state.—Metropolitan Magazine.

"VARNISH DEEP" CLOTHES

There are two grades of clothing, CLOTHCRAFT and others, some merely made to sell. CLOTHCRAFT is made to wear.

Good clothes on the surface is not enough, some good looking furniture for instance is only "varnish deep," you don't know how soon it will go to pieces; Surface Clothes cover a multitude of the tailor's sins—and the worst of it is, you've lost on the transaction more than you thought you saved.

Back of CLOTHCRAFT garments stands a glorious record, a name that means much to both the maker and the wearer, it means much to us as well, because you will NOT be a one-time customer. It's coming back again and again that pays us to sell CLOTHCRAFT CLOTHES—pays you to wear them too.

All that brains, shears and needle can accomplish in skilled hands, are made manifest in this splendid make of splendid clothing, that standard by which so many of the "best" makes are measured. "Be sure you're safe." If oleomargarine is just as good as butter, why buy butter? "Just as good as CLOTHCRAFT" is the best argument in the world for you to buy CLOTHCRAFT.

M. E. RRIEDMAN, Tawas City.
