Mr. Story's many friends in this city will learn of his serious condition with sorrow. Later: Mr. Story died at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

Falling into a deep hole while bathing in Van Ettan lake, about two miles north of AuSable, last Thursday afternoon, Miss Doris Smith, 16 years old, daughter of Ezra Smith, of Alma, was drowned, and her friend and companion, Miss Jennie Smith, narrowly escaped the same fate. The two girls were wading in shallow water when they suddenly stepped into deep water. Neither was able to swim, but Miss Jennie Smith managed to scramble out of the hole. Efforts to recover the body of the Alma girl were rewarded that night. Miss Doris Smith was an Alma high school girl, and had been spending a few weeks with friends camping at the lake. The remains were taken home Friday.

Horatio S. Earl, candidate for the republican nomination for governor, is making a whirl-wind canvass of the state. He is traveling by regular train and speaking at each station during the regular stops. On Wednesday of next week, August 12, he will start at Plymouth at 9:10 a. m., and will make 37 speeches between there and Cheboygan. In this county he will stop at Emery Junction at 2:20 in the afternoon, Tawas City at 2:38, East Tawas at 2:42 and AuSable at 3:06. Mr. Earl invites everyone to meet him at the train, and hear what he has to say on state issues. He will talk for what time he has and the balance of his address will be distributed in printed form. Horatio does not require all day to tell a lot and he will give many interesting facts in his few minutes talk.

Thomas H. Westcott committed suicide at East Tawas last Saturday evening by taking carbolic acid. The cause of the rash deed is said to have been caused by despondency caused by family troubles, it being reported that his wife was about to apply for a divorce. The deceased was the son of George Westcott, of Baldwin, and was an industrious and honest young man, highly respected by all who knew him, and the bereaved parents have the sympathy of the entire community. The remains were taken to the home of his parents in Baldwin from where the funeral was held Monday, and the remains were laid at rest in the East Tawas cemetery.

Our School Teachers.
The staff of teachers for our city schools for the ensuing year has been completed, and is composed of the following:
Supt.—Miles E. Valentine.
Principle—Miss Johnson.
Grammar—Fern Faunce.
Intermediate—Gertrude Hathway.
First Primary—Grace Readhead.
Second Primary—Louise Harper.
Ward—Fannie Meads.
Normal—Minnie Harding.
School will begin Monday, August 31, which is almost a week earlier than usual. It is also arranged that the County Normal will begin four weeks later, or Sept. 21, thus bringing the commencement exercises for next year at the same time as those of the public school.

Automobile Hearse.
A "burial association" in Paris has automobiles arranged for the transportation of coffins, and in a circular which has been sent to all members of the Paris Automobile club makes this statement: "There is something almost revolting in handing over for transportation to a railroad the body of a departed relative. Still, this must be done in many instances. How much better to place the coffin in one of our automobiles, arranged for the purpose, and prevent its being handled as freight." In commenting on the automobile funeral a Berlin paper says: "The enthusiastic speeder's last hours may now be cheered with the hope that when all is over he may still be carried at the rate of 50 miles an hour, with the chances for the trouble the same as when he sat at the wheel."

Honor Former Enemy.
The German soldiers at Strassburg have recently made an interesting find in the former French barracks. It is a fine portrait of Napoleon III. in full uniform, with white breeches. The portrait formerly adorned the officers' mess room, but it was taken down and hidden away on the eve of the fall of the empire in 1870. Gen. Hentschel von Gilgenheim, in command of the Fifteenth corps, has had the picture restored and it is now hung beside the portrait of Kaiser William II.

Youngsters Evolve New Game.
The youngsters of Harlem evolved recently a game that is enjoying great popularity among them. A coin is placed on a crack in the sidewalk and the two players stand opposite each other and at an equal distance from the crack, usually upon the next one. A rubber ball is then thrown at the coin and caught on the bounce by the opposing player. The coin, or its equivalent, becomes the possession of the player hitting it. It is a gambling game, of course, but that is probably what gives it the vogue it enjoys.—New York Sun.

Street Railways in China.
The problem of train traffic in a Chinese city presents peculiar difficulties, in view of the crowded condition of the streets and the lack of familiarity of the people with time-saving devices generally. The construction of a new tramway system in Shanghai has been practically completed, although the current will be turned on at first only in sections where the inexperience of the Chinese drivers and conductors will be less likely to have bad effects. Upward of 23 miles of tracks have been laid, and the tram routes have been divided into 11 sections, over which the passenger is entitled to travel—the first-class fare for one section being only 2½ cents. Each car is divided into two compartments, not on a color basis, but rated according to fares paid.

A Problem at Princeton.
Princeton students and alumni are engaged in a lively discussion on the question of having an open or closed campus. The Princeton grounds, laid out in a village which has the university as its only excuse for existence, always have been open, with sweeping campus views.

Now the trustees propose to form a sort of inner campus by grouping the new graduate school building and two of the new dormitories. The cloistered effect of some of the English colleges is expected to be the result. Those opposed to the plan say it may, perhaps, be attractive in itself, but detrimental to the appearance of the campus generally.

Law Establishing State Binder Twine Plant, to prevent the "trust" controlling prices within our state.
Improved laws regulating life insurance companies.

At the special session of the legislature in October, 1907, Senator Edinborough introduced a bill providing for the regulating and registering of lobbyists. This bill, if passed, would have cured the present lobby evil, but owing to the opposition of the "boxers" it was never reported out to the senate by the committee to which it was referred.

If you believe in supporting public officials who have worked and will continue to work for your interests I would respectfully ask you to assist my candidacy by your influence and vote.

FRANK L. EDINBOROUGH.

Frank L. Edinborough
Candidate for the republican nomination for representative in congress from the tenth district solicits the votes of republican electors on primary day, September 1, and issues the following address:
The following measure passed by the 1907 legislature received the support of Senator Edinborough.
Primary election law providing for nomination of U. S. Senators by direct vote of the people.
Two cent passenger fare law.
Law establishing railroad commission.
Law making railroads common carriers of live stock.
Amending factory inspection law to provide for sufficient means of heat, light and ventilation in all work rooms.
Moulders' bill to improve foundry conditions.
Law establishing state binder twine plant, to prevent the "trust" controlling prices within our state.

TAWAS CITY, MICH., Aug. 7, 1908

We wish to say a word at this time in regard to the use of our columns by various candidates. In common with all newspapers, our white space is our stock in trade and will be sold at stated rates. Any candidate, no matter what his political belief or following, can secure space, providing he pays for it. He can furnish such copy as he cares to, but we reserve the privilege to eliminate any portion thereof as may savor of personalities. Any matter that casts a blot or slur upon an opponent for office will not be accepted at any price. In our permit from the postoffice department the exclusive use of our columns by any one candidate is prohibited, and any newspaper that offers such privilege is violating the law, and is liable to be denied the second class privilege of the mails. Our editorial columns are not for sale at any price.

The democratic state convention, to nominate candidates for state officials will be held at Saginaw October 1.

United States Senator William B. Allison of Iowa died Thursday afternoon. He was one of the oldest members of the senate and just been re-elected for another term.

According to the forthcoming report of the state land department, Michigan derived $369,000 from the sale of delinquent tax homestead lands during the year ending June 30. The acres sold numbered 174,567. The receipts of the land department totaled $496,635.

Dr. Bradley issues long statements to show that the Warner administration has been the most expensive in the history of the state, and charges it up to Warner. We wonder if Dr. Bradley can honestly say that he is not as much to blame as Warner for the expensive condition of affairs. If the people want an economical administration of affairs none of the present bunch will go back to Lansing this year.

Attorney General Bird, in written opinion, says that under the decisions of the supreme court, the sale of malt, brewed or fermented liquors regardless of whether such liquors are intoxicating is prohibited in all counties under the prohibition law. It does not appear that the per cent of alcohol in the beverages makes any difference with the legality of the sales. This holding would seem to put a stop to the sale of near-beers.

Will Be a Memorable Campaign.

With the establishment of the republicans and democrats of eastern headquarters in New York city, and preparations going forward for opening the main headquarters in Chicago, the national campaign for which the country has been looking forward to the last four years, is at hand. All indications now are that the presidential contest will be fought out and decided in the central west; in other words, in the states of the Ohio valley and in those to the west as far as the Rockies. Activity in the east, while probably no less energetic, will be secondary to and determined largely by the development of events in the west. The old slogan that "as New York goes" so will the country go, will not be heard in this election. True, the Empire state will be an important factor in determining the result, and both parties will put forth their best efforts to carry it, but it is not regarded as the hinge upon which the contest will swing.

Indiana will be the scene of probably the most strenuous fighting in the great western battleground. It is a close state and its electoral vote will have an important effect upon the result. Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Colorado will be hotly contested, and the real campaign of the generals stationed in Chicago probably will be compassed within this and the Hoosier territory.

Democrats enter the campaign with greater confidence and under more favorable conditions than have marked any campaign since that of 1896. In fact, they have this advantage over the great free silver campaign: The party is completely reunited and harmonious. Evidence in abundance already shows that there is a real and widespread awakening of Democrats, characterized by genuine enthusiasm and the most energetic activity in behalf of the party and its national ticket. For the first time in twelve years the Republican party is on the defensive, and here again the Democrats are placed in a favorable position. The Republicans are committed to staid, pat, reactionary policy while the Democrats have become the progressive, constructive, liberal party. Indications point strongly to general sentiment favoring a change. The campaign will be full of interest and promises to be one of the memorable presidential contests.—Saginaw News.

Who Does Your Thinking For You?

The other day we observed a mighty good editorial in The Onaway Intelligencer. It consisted of only four words but a whole sermon was contained therein. The four editorial read:

"Who does your thinking?" There is plenty of food for thought in that query. Often times the best thoughts are contained, and the deepest impressions made, in the fewest words and the imagination is led on, the emotions swayed and the mind enabled to perceive all that the writer could have conveyed in a two column editorial or an hour's sermon. And after reading through the windy editorials of the day, written with all the force at the command of a metropolitan editorial writer for a subsidized press, it is refreshing to get hold of a real gem like "who does your thinking?"

Well, who does your thinking? Does the politician do your thinking for you? Does your party paper do your thinking for you? Does some office seeker do your thinking for you? Does the preacher do your thinking for you? Who does your thinking for you, anyhow? Do you do it yourself?

Many of our boasted American citizens haven't time to read, haven't time to do any thinking, because they are too busy. Many men who labor are too tired to devote any time to reading after a day's work is done and they do very little thinking, because they do no reading, and they plod along without bettering their conditions. Some other fellow does their thinking for them. They do the hard work.

Do a little thinking yourself. You'll find it pays.

And for a starter just ask yourself who does your thinking now? Think about this real hard and when you trace up the origin of some of your expressions you will be surprised and perhaps shocked a little to find that some one else is doing the most of your thinking.—Green Bay Review.

Mind and Matter.

We hear a great deal about the power of the mind over the body. Why, the whole secret of life is wrapped up in it, says a writer in Success Magazine. We do not know the A B C of this great mysterious power, though the civilized world is rapidly awakening to its transforming force. The prophet, the poet, the sage, from the earliest times, have felt and recognized it.

"Be ye transformed by the renewing power of your mind," Paul admonished the Romans. "'Tis the mind that makes the body rich," says Shakespeare. "What we commonly call man," writes Emerson, "the eating, drinking, planting, counting man, does not, as we know him, represent himself, but misrepresents himself. Him we do not respect; but the soul, whose organ he is, would he let it appear through his action, would make our knees bend."

Today even the prize-fighter, the uneducated, as well as the educated, the man who lives on the animal plane, even as the man who lives on the spiritual plane, in fact, all sorts of people, are beginning to see that there is some tremendous force back of the flesh which they do not understand. The rapid growth of the so-called new thought movement shows how actively this idea of man's hidden power is working in the minds of all classes.—Selected.

DRINKS THAT COOL

PLEASANT BEVERAGES FOR HOT SUMMER DAYS.

Lime or Lemon Squash is Most Refreshing—Iced Chocolate Palatable for Those Who Have a Sweet Tooth.

Lime or lemon squash is one of the most refreshing of the easily made summer drinks. It is prepared by squeezing the juice of two limes into a glass, filling it three-quarters full of cracked ice and adding bottled soda. Sometimes sugar is used, and the only difference between lemonade and lemon squash is in the soda, which is substituted for plain water. Food chocolate is cooling and leaves a pleasant taste in one's mouth. It is made the same as hot chocolate and well boiled, then set away to cool and served in tall glasses with cracked ice, cream and powdered sugar. It is generally considered a palatable and more wholesome drink than either iced tea with lemon or iced coffee with cream.

To make sangaree, a favorite drink of the tropics, take one wineglass and a half of sherry, two wineglasses of water, a grating of nutmeg, some lime peel and about a dessert spoonful of sugar. Mix the sugar and the water together first, then grate the nutmeg over the top, add a strip of lime peel and stir. After which pour in the sherry and serve at once with cracked ice.

For pineapple wine cut into thin slices a ripe pineapple, rind and all. Place this in a jar, cover with a quart of water and add some pounded ginger. Cover the jar and let stand for 24 hours. At the end of that time strain and add a pound of sugar, then bottle and serve the following day or not later than two days after the bottling.

To make orange wine, take a quart of orange juice, a pint of fresh lime juice, a pint of brown sugar and a pint of rum. After these ingredients have been stirred together place them in a jar and let stand for three days, after which time add a half pint of fresh milk. Clear the wine with a clean egg shell. Strain and bottle.

CARE IN BOILING POTATOES.

Attention Required If You Would Have Them Dry and Mealy.

To boil a potato well requires more attention than is usually given. They should be well washed and left standing in cold water an hour or two, to remove the black liquor with which they are impregnated, and a brackish taste they would otherwise have. They should not be pared before boiling; they lose much of the starch by so doing and are made insipid. Put them into a kettle of clear, cold water with a little salt; cover closely and boil rapidly, using no more water than will just cover them, as they produce a considerable quantity of fluid themselves while boiling, and too much water will make them heavy. As soon as just done, instantly pour off the water, set them back on the range and leave the cover off the saucepan till the steam has evaporated. They will then, if a good kind, be dry and mealy.

Making Ice Tea. If ice tea is to be made from the tea left over from the noonday meal or any previous meal it should be strained from the leaves and put in a pitcher in the ice chest. Many leave the tea and leaves together, thinking it will be stronger. True it will, but the tannin is very injurious and such ice tea is really very harmful. The best tea is made with enough good tea to extract the flavor with boiling water in a few minutes. Tea is best served in very thin glasses with shaved or lump ice. Slice the lemon, slit a slice and place it over the rim of the glass. Place the glass on a glass tumbler coaster or in a small saucer with a silver spoon.

Bachelor's Pudding. Chop two tablespoonsful of suet, put it into a basin with two heaping tablespoonsful of sugar, two ounces of seed raisins, two tablespoonsful of flour, two tablespoonsful of bread crumbs, one teaspoonful of baking powder, half a teaspoonful of ground ginger and a little grated nutmeg. Mix well together with one well-beaten egg. Butter a mold thoroughly and throw into it two tablespoonsful of brown sugar; shake well, so that the mold is entirely covered; pour in the mixture, cover with buttered paper and steam for 1 1/2 hours.

A Cake Hint.

Always steam fruit cake; you will not have to worry about your oven being too hot or there being a hard crust on your cake. Put your fruit, being sure there is a good fire; put bricks in the bottom, so as to bring your cake about the center of the boiler. Invert a tin on the bricks, set your cake on this, cover with another tin, so the steam cannot drip on the cake. Keep the water at boiling point, and steam three hours. Set in a slow oven one-half hour.

Fruit Cake.

One cup currants, dredged with flour, one cup brown sugar, five cents' worth of citron, one small grated nutmeg, three whole eggs, two cups milk, one-half cup butter, quarter teaspoon saleratus; flour at discretion. Bake two hours in moderate oven.

Plain Frosting.

Take any plain cake mixture and bake in small individual tins; when cool brush with white of egg, roll in grated coconut, place meringue on top with a candied cherry in center.

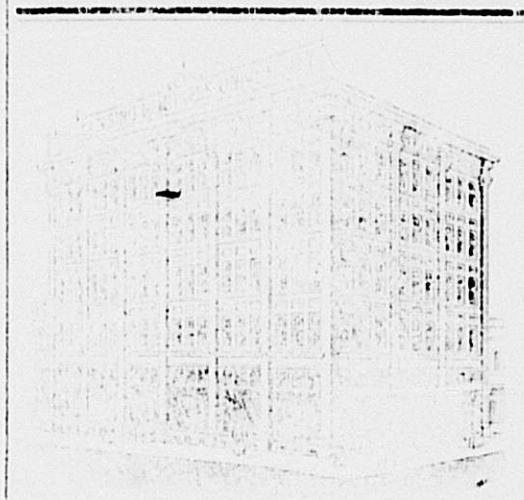

Anything for a Change. "I am tired of seeing that everlasting mackerel brought in for breakfast," grumbled a boarder, "and I intend to speak to the landlady about it." Some of his fellow-victims applauded, but most of them doubted his courage. The matter was under discussion when the landlady appeared. "Miss Prunella," began the bold boarder, "I was about to say in regard to the mackerel that we desire a change." "It's good mackerel," rejoined the landlady, grinning. "And there will be no change." "Then, for heaven's sake," rejoined the bold boarder, "order the girl to bring it in tail first for awhile."

Will Harness up AuSable River.

Saginaw, Aug. 2.—The Commonwealth Power Co., which is made up of New York and Chicago capital in connection with the local interests, is preparing to harness the AuSable river. Representatives of the company are engaged in making tests along the river, the finding being so favorable that work will be commenced on a power plant some time this fall. The financial end of the proposition has all been settled and plans are now being drawn for dams, power stations, etc.

The company owns practically all the land on both sides of the river through Iosco county, as well as advantageous points in Alcona and Oscoda counties. The plans will call for a series of dams and a number of generating plants, and will involve a heavy expenditure. As much of the AuSable's course lies through pine barrens, there will be little or no trouble from overflowing lands and the company will erect large dams, backing up the river for miles. The AuSable has a good volume, strong current and an even flow the year around.

The power from the improvements about to be undertaken will be the most important derived from water in northern Michigan. In addition to supplying power for AuSable and Tawas, the company plans to deliver its current to Bay City and Saginaw, 60 miles away, and it is believed that in the near future municipal and private lighting and manufacturing power in these and other valley cities will be derived from this source.

Capt. Emily Woodyly.

Mrs. Emily E. Woodyly, who was said to be the only woman ever regularly commissioned an officer in the United States army, died the other day in Philadelphia at the age of 73. She was the last of the 35 young women from Philadelphia who enlisted as nurses in the civil war. She was a widow of 26 when she offered her services as a nurse in 1861, and for her bravery and good work, President Lincoln conferred on her a commission as captain in the army. She was later decorated with a gold medal by Secretary of War Stanton. For a number of years she was president of the National Association of Army Nurses of the Civil War, which she organized, and was the only woman member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Excellent Health Advice.

Mrs. M. M. Davison, of No. 379 Gifford Ave., San Jose, Cal., says: "The worth of Electric Bitters as a general family remedy, for headache, indigestion and torpor of the liver and bowels is so pronounced that I am prompted to say a word in its favor, for the benefit of those seeking relief from such afflictions. There is more health for the digestive organs in a bottle of Electric Bitters than in any other remedy I know of." Sold under guarantee at Jas. E. Dillon's and G. S. Darling's drug stores 50c.

Bird's Nest in a Skull.

A human skull, pierced by a bullet over the right temple, was found a few days ago among a lot of bones which were being loaded upon a car by junk dealers in the West Shore yards at Syracuse, N. Y. The bones had all been picked up in that city, and this discovery caused a great deal of speculation at the police station. The skull was apparently that of a man, and a few gray hairs could still be seen. One tooth remained in the upper jaw. Inside the skull field birds had built a nest and had apparently occupied their novel home for many years.

Cure for Fainting Fit.

There is no more sure cure for an attack of faintness than a hearty sneeze. It immediately stimulates the blood vessels of the brain. In many persons fainting never goes so far as a loss of consciousness or loss of control of the limbs. And in these the sudden weakness is often brought to an end by a sneeze caused by nature herself without any external aid. A grain of two of pepper, snuff or tobacco introduced into the nose or tickling its interior lightly will usually insure a sneeze. These simple procedures or others similar in character may prove invaluable when smelling salts and other elegant aids are absent.

Historical Find at Yale.

After lying hidden in a small closet at the Yale Divinity school for years, an interesting lot of manuscript sermons of Presidents Daggert and Clapp of Yale, delivered between 1741 and 1769, have been brought to light. While the small closet which is part of the bookroom at the school was being cleaned out recently, a cardboard box was discovered, and in it a number of old books, papers, and packages were found. The sermons have grown brown with age, and the ink has faded, but they are easily decipherable. The sermons, with the books and other papers, will be placed in the university library.

Battleship to Be Used as Target.

One hundred and three men were killed and about 200 badly injured by the explosion aboard the French battleship Jena, March 12, 1907. Now the French armor experts are looking forward with unusual expectation to the use of the ill-fated craft as a target in the gunner experiments planned for the coming summer. The Jena, having a 14-inch belt of special Cressent steel, is counted on to give especially instructive lessons as to the resistance of modern armor to the different types of projectiles at various ranges. The old battleships Tonnere and Neptune also will be used as targets.

She Likes Good Things.

Mrs. Chas. E. Smith, of West Franklin, Maine, says: "I like good things and have adopted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it." These painless purifiers sold at Jas. E. Dillon's and Geo. S. Darling's drug stores, 25c

SPELLMAN'S PERFORMING BEARS.

One of the greatest attractions for the coming state fair, which will command no little attention, is the spellman bears, numbering seven, all trained and in charge of Mrs. Frank P. Spellman. It is the most talked of and interesting animal act in the world. Mrs. Spellman thoroughly understands her bears and has them under perfect control at all times. They do all kinds of tricks and stunts willingly. The New York Hippodrome is the biggest theater in the world. Mrs. Spellman's bears were on the program in this great Hippodrome several months. This act is absolutely free and will take place in front of the grand stand every afternoon and evening. They have been taught to ride in an automobile, and every morning they will be taken down town from the state fair grounds in a big machine and will ride about the streets of Detroit. They seem to enjoy auto riding, as they lean back in the car, paying little or no attention to anyone they pass, unless some mischievous boy attempts to bother them, when they will reach out their paws to protect themselves. This is a wonderful act, free to everybody, and should be seen to be appreciated.

THIS YEAR IT WILL BE THE MIDWAY.

The world's fair at Chicago in 1893 named the amusement feature of the big show the Midway. Since that time new names have been coined. The Glade, the Pike, the Wanderlust, etc. have gone their way. Each year when the new name has been coined it has been necessary to educate the people as to its meaning. The word Midway is known to everyone as the amusement row—the place to go for a good time, where something is constantly doing—and that is the name which will be used this year at the state fair.

The location of the Midway this year will be one street south of that of a year ago, being in direct line with the street railway depot, commencing just east of the Administration building. This space was originally intended for the Midway, but, not being easily accessible to the center of the electrical equipment, the shows were located further north.

It should be of interest and satisfaction to the exhibitors of livestock, and to the public as well, to know that during the state fair of 1908 most careful attention will be given to sanitary conditions. Every precaution will be kept to see that the grounds are used in the best of condition, and all places will be most thoroughly disinfected. It has been decided to use the celebrated disinfectant "Kreso" for this purpose. In the livestock department all stables, pens, barns, etc., for the exhibition of animals will be thoroughly disinfected before they are occupied, and a constant supervision in this respect will be carefully given throughout the entire meeting. This will prevent any contagious disease among the stock. It will also destroy all foul odors, making it both healthful and pleasant for the visitors in every respect. This forms a safeguard to the visiting public and to the exhibitors of livestock as well.

STATE BANDS AT THE FAIR.

Arrangements are being made for the engaging of bands to furnish the music at the coming state fair. For some time past the bands from large cities have been engaged, and this year it is very apparent that the music spent for music will go to the bands located in the smaller cities out in the state.

An effort will be made to eliminate everything of a gambling nature from the state fair grounds this year, and if any gambling devices are found operating on the grounds they will be very promptly removed. It is the intention of the management to have the coming state fair free from fakes, gambling and all impositions of every description and nature.

A great effort is being made this year to cut down one-half the number of the passes which have been issued on previous years. The pass last year ran very high and naturally robbed the society of many dollars to which they are entitled. This year only those who are absolutely entitled to the same will be taken care of.

EDITORS' DAY IN SEPTEMBER.

Tuesday, Sept. 8, is to be Editors' day at the Michigan State Fair. That was agreed upon at a conference between George T. Campbell of the Oswego Argus; G. H. Mitchell of the Birmingham Eclectic; and President Fred Postal and Business Manager James Slouem of the Agricultural Society. The committee in charge on the part of the editors consists of Mr. Campbell, Mr. Mitchell, Daniel Dyer, of the Caseville Critic and Milo W. Whitaker of the Jackson Patriot. Mr. Dyer originated the idea, but was unable to be present.

President Postal and Mr. Slouem will do their part of the entertaining. The editors and their families will be shown everything there is in the big fair grounds, from the prize stock to the Midway, from the big cheese to the airship.

In the afternoon a section of the grand stand will be reserved for them, and they will be witnesses of what promises, with the new state events, to be splendid racing. The society will be hosts at dinner after the races, then in the evening the guests will have seats at the big fireworks spectacle, "Sheridan's Ride."
