Death of Another Pioneer.

Another of the very first white settlers of this section passed to the great beyond last Tuesday, October 20, in the person of Charles Harris, who died at his farm in Tawas township, after but a few days illness, at the age of 76 years, nine months and six days. Mr. Harris had been enjoying his usual good health until he was suddenly stricken on Friday afternoon of last week.

Captain Charles Harris was born at Queenbury, N. Y., January 14, 1832. He moved with his parents to Ohio in the early pioneer days, and came to Saginaw when 14 years of age, and when the Indians were more numerous than white men. Early in the forties he engaged in fishing at Ottawa Point at AuSable. He followed sailing on the lakes and was in command of various vessels, including the Mayflower, Yankee, J. C. Clark, Flora Temple, and others.

He was married when 24 years of age to Caroline H. Wood, and to them were born five children, Addie, now the wife of A. S. Holloway, of Tawas, Arrella, wife of John J. Love, of Hale, Charles of this city, Romeo, of Bay City, and Garfield, who died in infancy. Mr. Harris located on the farm where his death occurred 35 years ago, and has been a member of the M. E. church for the past 23 years. He carried the first U. S. mail to Tawas by boat.

The funeral will be held from the M. E. church in this city at 2 o'clock this, Friday, afternoon.

A Healthy Family.

"Our whole family has enjoyed good health since we began using Dr. King's New Life pills, three years ago," says L. A. Bartlet, of rural route 1, Guilford, Maine. They cleanse and tone the system in a gentle way that does you good 25¢ at G. S. DeAng's and Jas. E. Dillon's drug stores.

A False Report.

It has come to me that the report is being circulated that I have practically withdrawn from the race for sheriff and was throwing my support to Mr. Hadwin. Such is not the case. I am in the race to a finish and ask the support of all voters. I have been so situated that I could not make an active canvass at an earlier date, but shall endeavor to see all voters possible between now and election. To those whom I am unable to see personally I wish to say that I want their vote and if called upon to fill the office of sheriff I shall give the county my best service and administer the duties in the most economical manner.

W. P. VAUGHN.

Confucius.

The Chinese in New York have just celebrated the anniversary of the birth of Confucius. China is the oldest nation in the world, and is believed to have been founded on the dispersion of the builders of Babel. The language is unlike any other known tongue. The government differs from all others in that it seems to have been designed to develop humanity without reference to Divine or supernatural aid, although the grossest superstitions have crept in. Confucius, who lived about 2,450 years ago, compiled the laws (as he says) from preceding authorities, which indicate three principles, or axioms, each containing a proportion of vital truth: They were filial piety, moral virtue and mental cultivation.

WOOL-PLATED CLOTHES

A counterfeit gold-plated dollar looks good—for a little while.

But when the gold wears off the fraud shows through.

Same way about wool-plated clothing.

A good deal of clothing is made of shoddy material—wool on the outside, cotton on the inside.

That's wool-plating—but you don't want it.

It looks all right in the store—takes an expert to tell the difference between it and the better kind.

But if you get a wool-plated—or an imitation wool-suit or overcoat, you'll know the difference all right, but then it's too late.

Better be sure than sorry.

To choose CLOTHCRAFT is to be sure.

Wool—all wool, pure wool—guaranteed by the makers, guaranteed by us.

CLOTHCRAFT suits and overcoats have style, comfort, finish and fit. They are the only all wool garments selling at from $10 to $25.

A NEW LINE OF STYLISH SUITS

TAWAS CITY, MICH., Oct. 23 1908

William Hopkinson, formerly a well-known fireman on the D. & M., who lost a foot last Christmas morning, has been nominated by the democrats of Alpena county for register of deeds. Will has a host of friends in this city who hope to see him elected.

Voters who are going to vote for Lawton T. Hemans for governor should remember that he cannot accomplish the desired house-cleaning at Lansing unless the rest of the democratic state ticket is also elected together with a democratic legislature. If you are honestly in favor of a reform in state affairs you must give Mr. Hemans the support of the entire state administration.

A sensation has been caused in republican circles in Jackson county by the public declaration made by Hon. Frank T. Bennett that Lawton T. Hemans should be elected governor of Michigan. Bennett is a well known young lawyer of Jackson, a member of one of the most prominent families of the city, and was a member of the legislature during the last session, being elected as a republican.

The new constitution which will be submitted to the electors at the coming election has been endorsed by the state convention of both political parties. While this instrument is not what the people desired it is undoubtedly as good as could be secured by a partisan convention and is an improvement over the one now in force and should receive the indorsement of the voters at the polls.

Lawton T. Hemans should receive the vote of every man in Michigan who is in favor of honest government economically administered. Under the administration of Gov. Warner we have seen the state treasury looted by a gang of cheap politicians until the state is actually bankrupt and will be obliged to borrow money to meet the running expenses until the annual tax levy comes in January next.

Every voter in this city will have to re-register if he wishes to vote at the general election to be held Nov. 3. The board of registration will be in session at the city hall on Friday and Saturday, October 30 and 31. The fact that you have registered and voted at previous elections does not count this year. Complete new registration is required in all cities every four years. This law does not apply to townships.

Gov. Haskell, of Oklahoma, has sued William R. Hearst, the millionaire editor, for $600,000, charging him with libel in the charges recently made by Hearst as to Haskell's connection with the Standard Oil Co. The summons was only served on Hearst after the officers had forced the doors of his stateroom, on the eastern bound train at Omaha Neb., and found him hiding in the toilet room. It will now be for Hearst to prove charges or cash up.

The republican press is putting forward as one of the reasons why Gov. Warner should be re-elected that he has rendered the people great service in securing the passage of a two-cent railroad fare. People along the line of the D. & M. Ry. failed to secure the benefit of this law, and if Gov. Warner was the man who secured the passage of the two-cent railroad fare bill our people would like to have him explain why we should not have received the benefits as well as the rest of the state.

Where Bullets Flew.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., a veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done me more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. Now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c at G. S. Darling's and Jas. E. Dillon's drug stores.

The Democratic Candidate For Governor.

It is universally acknowledged that in Lawton T. Hemans the Democrats present one of the ablest and most thoroughly equipped men that have ever been nominated for governor of Michigan. Even his political opponents vie with his fellow partisans in testifying to the fine public spirit and splendid intellectual integrity of the man.

Although a thoroughly self-made man, Mr. Hemans does not confine his chief activities to worshipping his maker, which is greatly to his credit when we consider how many political reputations nowadays are built up on nothing more substantial than noisy self-advertisement.

Although born in western New York some forty odd years ago, Mr. Hemans has been a resident of Michigan during practically his entire life. He has become imbued with a love of his state that has shown itself not only in a readiness to devote himself to her service, but in an interest in everything that relates to her advancement. It is probably safe to say that no man is a more enthusiastic student of Michigan, not only of its laws, its legends, its history, and its great men, but of the actual governmental machine, which he has investigated from fire-box to fly-wheel, searching out the whys and wherefores, the uses and abuses, with the result that he knows the commonwealth as does no other one of its citizens.

It was his career in the legislature and afterwards in the constitutional convention which marked him in state affairs as an exceptionally able man, whose judgment was always based upon honest conviction and broad, common sense, and who, when the necessity presented itself, could express his opinions with an eloquence that was impelled in its flight by his enthusiasm for his point of view, and at the same time ballasted by a profound knowledge of the entire subject under discussion.

In the constitutional convention, as a member of the committee on cities and villages, he drafted the home rule provision as it now stands. This is generally conceded to be the most important new provision in the constitution, and the most effective and liberal to be found in any constitution in the United States.

Mr. Hemans' uniform success as an executive in the municipality where he resides, and as a legislator in the state legislative assembly and in the constitutional convention, has been due in a large measure to the fact that he has at all times an honest sympathy with and an intimate understanding of the common people and their real needs and interests.

Born of a family whose men for generations have followed the blacksmith's trade, it is instinctive with Hemans to be with the people, and that is the reason that he is a power in behalf of measures and policies that are at the same time sound and popular. He knows why people want economy in administration—it is no mere campaign cry with him; he appreciates what each extra dollar in the tax means to the man who owns the small home or farm. While some public men have been ostentatiously preaching economy and reform, Hemans has given his time and talents to aid his home folks to accomplish these things.

It is impossible to exaggerate the intensity of Mr. Hemans' pride in his state. He loves its lake-locked lands, its history, its traditions, its greatness, and its splendid promise. It was a labor of love with him to serve on the commission which brought back to this state the remains of the first governor, Steven T. Mason, and assist in supervising the erection of a fitting monument over the grave. All this tells the manner of man he is, loyal to his public obligations, high-minded, earnest, modest, and without any taint of self-seeking.

The character of Mr. Hemans was admirably summed up recently by a prominent pupil of this state, when he wrote:

"His patriotism has remained fervent in ideals and spotless under temptation. A man of excellent poise and straightforwardness, he has never tried to dodge or blink any issue, but has faced every situation with clear vision and serene fortitude. He has not depended upon cheap political devices to make his way to a place of leadership, but has advanced himself by force of his intrinsic merit. I have never known a man with a finer public spirit."

"If only we had a man and not a cockade for governor," said Emerson at a memorable crisis in the history of Massachusetts. Lawton T. Hemans is a man, and if ever the state needed the services of that kind of a governor, it is Michigan at the present time. The people are fully aroused to the enormity of the scandals and selfish intrigues which have characterized the conduct of their affairs at Lansing, and there is no doubt they will take advantage of the fortunate conjunction of the psychological moment and the man to place Lawton T. Hemans in the gubernatorial chair by a record-breaking majority.

JAMES A. HULL
Democratic Candidate for County Clerk.

Your Vote Solicited.
Candidate for State Treasurer
Who Saved the State's Money.

Michigan voters have an opportunity this year to vote for a man for state treasurer who, if elected, will bring no scandal upon the state, but who will guard public funds honestly and disburse them carefully. His name is Robert J. Whaley; his residence Flint.

Under the administration of Hon. Edwin B. Winans, Mr. Whaley was one of the members of a central board having under its control the school for the Deaf at Flint, the school for the Blind in Lansing, and the State Public School at Coldwater. The other members of the board were Dr. Alexander McMillan, of Lansing; Robert J. Frost, of Albion; and John R. Champion, of Coldwater. This consolidated board looked after the affairs of the three institutions, and effected a great saving to the taxpayers in the expenses of management and supervision.

General George W. Stone, who was auditor general at the time, says that the board was the first in the history of the state to turn back into the treasury $25,552.04, and I have the state treasurer's receipts for the money. During the time we paid debts of several thousand dollars, and when we were turned out in July, 1893, the institutions did not owe a dollar." The law consolidating the boards of control of the institutions named was promptly repealed when the republicans came into power in 1893, and separate boards instituted.

Mr. Whaley says he is receiving many assurances from republicans that they will vote for Hemans and himself, and it seems likely that these assurances are correct. Mr. Whaley is not only one of Flint's most substantial citizens, but has been prominent in the Maccabee fraternity for many years. He is an officer of the Great Camp, is devoted to the interests of the order, and is widely known throughout the state. Wherever he is known he is held in high regard.—The Lansing Journal.

Lewis P. Coumans.

Lewis P. Coumans, the democratic candidate for congress in this 10th congressional district, is a lawyer, and a good one, and a clean, strong character. The Bay City Times, a republican paper, referred to Mr. Couman's nomination, as follows: "The nomination of Lewis P. Coumans of Bay City, as the democratic candidate for congress is as good a choice as the democrats could have made. They could have picked a man with more money, but they could not have selected a candidate who has more energy and ambition to rise in the world than the man they have made their nominee."

"Mr Coumans has risen from the ranks. No one but himself is to be credited with his success in life. From a log driver to an honorable position in the Bay county bar is a pound that few men could ever make. He has pulled himself up by his own bootstraps."—Bay City Times, Oct. 5, 1908.

Council Proceedings.

Davison Still In The Race For Sheriff.

To the Voters of Iosco County: As a number of my friends in this county who stood by me to secure my nomination for sheriff at the republican county convention and failed, believe that the action of that convention did not meet the approval of the taxpayers of the county and have insisted on my coming before the people for their decision at the polls in November, and believing that the taxpayers thoroughly understood the situation, I have decided to bow to their request, and respectfully appeal to all the citizens for their support at the polls in November.

While I have not had twelve years experience around the court house to fit me for the office of sheriff, neither do my friends who know me best consider that I need that kind of training, and I can assure them that I will be thankful for four years around the court house and administration a clean and careful administration during that time. And after that time will gracefully leave the space for their next choice, as Iosco county has scores of men who are perfectly competent to fill the position. DAVID DAVISON.

Would Mortgage the Farm.

A farmer on rural route 2, Empire, Ga., W. A. Floyd by name, says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw: one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 25c at G. S. Darling's and Jas. E. Dillon's drug stores.

The Political Situation.

Lansing, Oct. 20.—There are two important matters for the people in Michigan to consider in these closing days of the campaign in Michigan. One is the condition of the state treasury and the other is the situation relative to the Bell Telephone and telegraph companies as are other corporations. The republican administration admits that the treasury is nearly bankrupt as a result of the loot secured by ex State Treasurer Glazier to bolster his high finance deals, but every effort is being made to carry the treasury through to a point where no actual cash will have to be borrowed before election day. Whether that can be done is a question and there is a well founded suspicion that even now a bank examiner's statement as to the condition of the treasury would lead to immediate demand by the people that conditions be righted there. The state holds a large amount of money in trust and that might be used as cash on hand to avoid borrowing out in the open where the actual debit and credit conditions could be disclosed for the benefit of the people who are to select the custodians for the coming year. The demand to "Show us the Books" has not been met. It is a matter for explanation by Governor Warner along with many others he is trying to defend, but it is noticeable that he defends on some unimportant detail and not on the direct proposition in every instance.

The proposal to pass a bill at the next session of the legislature requiring the big telephone and telegraph companies to pay taxes instead of a "joke fund" is the most important piece of legislation which has been before the legislature in many years. If such a bill is not passed the whole structure built up at such a cost, to force the railways and other public service corporations to stand their fair share of the expense of the government, is liable to tumble about the heads of the people. It is known that there is danger of the railway taxation act being knocked out because all corporations are not taxed on the same basis, yet the people face the situation of being asked to elect Governor Warner when he only said he favored such legislation after being forced to take that position, and then allowed his chief lieutenant in the house to lead the fight which prevented the bill being passed last session, and that chief lieutenant is Colin P. Campbell of Grand Rapids, now a candidate for speaker and backed by the administration for the place. Campbell through his position as spokesman for the governor had the power to keep the bill in the committee and he kept it there, with no break in his friendly relations with Warner. If Warner is elected it means that Campbell is speaker and if Campbell is speaker of the house, a proposal to pass a bill to tax telephone and telegraph companies will be a joke. Why does Governor Warner favor Campbell for speaker if the governor is serious in saying he favors this legislation? Why did he appoint A. J. Doherty of Clare, chief lobbyist against the bill for the Bell Telephone Company, to a place on the state board of agriculture if he is seriously fighting such men in behalf of that law? Campbell and Doherty killed the bill two years ago, yet they are the governor's closest friends. Will not the bill meet the reception it did two years ago from the committee on taxation when its passage is urged this winter if Campbell is made speaker? The Governor tells of the huge amount of money the railroads have been forced to pay into the state treasury intaxes. Is he planning now to relieve them of paying more taxes by killing this bill? By leaving the railway taxation law in this weak condition it is doubtful if it can be upheld in the courts of the land. Considering his past record, has the governor the right to claim that he will back such legislation? Why does he back the leading opponent of the bill for speaker if he is seriously anxious to secure favorable consideration of it by the legislature?

These questions are the most important in the campaign for if the people face the new year with a bankrupt state treasury, a huge tax levy and the prospective loss of all railway taxes it will mean the blow to Michigan in many—many years of its history.

The Herald For $1.00 Per Year

For some time we have been considering the question of how to place the HERALD Subscription on an absolutely cash in advance basis and at the same time add a few hundred new subscribers, and have finally adopted the following plan, which we anticipate will be appreciated by all. We ask that you read it carefully. Each offer is separate and distinct and the conditions must be complied with.

FIRST:—Each Subscriber who is now in arrears must pay up all such arrearage at the rate of $1.50 per year, and then may receive the HERALD at $1.00 per year, paid in advance.

SECOND:—Any Subscriber who is now paid in advance may extend his Subscription one year on the payment of $1.00.

THIRD:—Any person not now a Subscriber may secure the HERALD one year on the payment of $1.00.

By these offers we are enabled to give all an equal show to save 50 cents on a years subscription.

This offer opens to-day, OCTOBER 16, and will close SATURDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 13, and after that date the regular price of $1.50 per year will prevail.

DEATH AND DESOLATION

Follow the Wake of the Furious Forest Fires of the Past Ten Days.

Northern Michigan has been swept during the past ten days by the most serious forest fires in its history. At least fifty lives have been lost, and this number may be increased when full investigation is made. The center of the fire district has been in Presque Isle and Alpena counties, while the entire northern part of the lower peninsula has suffered greatly. The financial loss will reach into the millions of dollars, and includes whole villages, farm buildings and timber.

The most horrible loss of life occurred about two miles south of the village of Metz, last Thursday afternoon, when the entire village was destroyed and 17 lives were lost. When the village was threatened help was asked for the D. & M. Ry. Co. sent a freight crew with an engine and several cars to the scene to bring the people out. The train attempted to return north but was unable to do so on account of the fire. It then started south, but when about two miles from the doomed village ran into a seething furnace of flames caused by the burning of several thousand ties and car loads of tan bark along the track. The rails had been warped by the heat and the train was wrecked. Seventeen men, women and children lost their lives here and many were badly burned.

Farm buildings and fences, lumber camps and timber have been destroyed. Many deaths have occurred in the farming districts and loss of live stock is heavy.

Survivors of the fire are in most destitute condition and suffering severely for the want of proper clothing.

The officials of the D. & M. Ry. have lent every assistance possible in the great relief work which has been going on for the past few days. The people from all parts of the state have been most liberal in contributions to the relief of the suffering people, and clothing, food and supplies have been rushed to the scene. Temporary houses have been provided for shelter, and everything possible is being done to prepare the stricken district for winter.

The danger is largely passed because the fires have burned out. No rain has yet fallen.

Syrup Labels Must State Mixture.

A decision, affecting the grocers of the entire state, regarding the manufacture and sale of maple syrup has been handed down in the supreme court. Hereafter all cans containing maple syrup and other syrups must not only be labeled as compounds, but the labels must declare the percentage of each syrup in the mixture. Any can of syrup labeled otherwise will be sold in violation of the law and the merchants will be subject to the law's penalty.

The decision grew out of the case of the state dairy and food commission against the Pierre Viasus Maple company. The inspectors of the department condemned a certain maple syrup labeled "Pure Canadian maple syrup, and cane syrup." An analysis showed that cane syrup predominated and the inspectors insisted that the personages be placed on the label so that the consumer would know exactly what he was getting. The company procured an injunction restraining the commissioner from making this requirement. To its bill of complaint the commission filed a demurrer, which was over-ruled by the court below, but which the supreme court says should be sustained.

The supreme court holds that not only must the syrup be labeled as mixtures but that the percentages of ingredients must be given. Labels stating the mixtures of syrup are used by practically every company, but undue prominence is given the "maple syrup." Analysis show that the percentage of genuine maple syrup in the so-called "maple syrup" is seldom more than 25 per cent, and is often only five per cent, and is frequently less.

The Michigan State Sunday School Association will hold its annual convention in the city of Detroit, Nov. 11, 12 and 13, 1905. Marion Lawrence, Dr. H. M. Hamill, Herbert Meninger, Rev. A. C. Dixon, Mrs. H. M. Hamill and Mrs. M. S. Lamoreaux will be present. Tallar & Meredith will have charge of the music. A cordial invitation is extended to all pastors, superintendents, teachers, officers and scholars to come and enjoy the "feast of good things."

Awful

We see a young man gazing at the "ry heavens, with a f in one eye and a f of pistols in the other. We endeavored to attract his attention by pointing to a f in a paper we held in our hand, but he said a young man in that f of the country, who had left home in a state mental derangement.

He dropped the f and f of pistols from his hands, with the f. "It is I of whom I read. I left home b4 my friends knew of my Dsign. I had s0 the f of a girl who refused to lis10 to me, but smiled Bly on another. I d madly from the house, uttering a wild f to the God of love, and without replying to ?? of my friends, came here with this f & f of pistols to put a . to my xis10cc."

The story is, doubtless, a case of buck fever, as it has no f in ancient history.

Tawas City Schools.

State Teachers' Association next week at Saginaw.

Normal work is progressing nicely, our dozen are workers.

Roy Clark has returned to school, and has entered the ninth grade.

Our library has had a very decided increase in new books,—books for all grades from the primary to the high school.

Special rate will be made by the citizens lecture committee for our school boys and girls for the rest of the course and for the Sprague entertainers.

The score of the base ball game Saturday shows that we by no means gained the day, but we still believe in the motto, "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

Reading table has, Tawas City Herald, Moderator-Topics, Review of Reviews, Worlds Work, Literary Digest, Teachers' Magazine, World To-Day, Youths Companion, Western Journal of Education, and Delucator.

Ancient History.

When Adam and his family were expelled from the Garden of Eden," said the student, "human strife and unhappiness began."

"Yes," replied Mr. Meekton, "and I suppose the first note of discord was sounded when Adam wanted to start the journey with a suit case, while Eve insisted on half a dozen six-story trunks."

Hale School Notes.

Rah! rah! rah!
Zip, boom, bah!
Hale Lake nigh school,
Rah! rah! rah!
Rush up, pile up,
Rush 'em through!
Were the people,
Who are you?

The number enrolled in the primary department is 53.

Statutes About Sealing Wax.

A work on heraldry, by Paul Gruendel, recently published at Leipzig, contains some information on the subject of sealing wax and the rules governing its use in the days of old.

White wax was for the kings of France, and later for the kings of Sicily. A few dukes were allowed the high privilege, through the generosity of Frederick III. Red wax was for the pope and the German monarchs, but as a mark of favor to the people, it was allowed to be used generally.

Green wax was for the common people, and some cities which had been faithful to their government were compelled ever afterward, as a mark of their shame, to seal all public documents with green wax.

Mortgage Sale.

Whereas, Hean Haley and Della Haley his wife of Turner, Michigan, made and executed a certain mortgage bearing date the thirty-first day of July, 1906, to the State Saving Bank, of Turner, Mich., which was recorded in the office of register of deeds for the county of Iosco on the 1st day of August, 1906, in liber 17 of mortgages on page 53, the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage is $352.60, and whereas, default has been made in the payment of money secured by said mortgage whereby the power of sale contained therein has become operative:

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of said power of sale, and in pursuance thereof, and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgage premises,
