THE RURAL SCHOOL PROBLEM.

The rural school with its one room and one teacher is with us, and the burning question is "What can be done in order that the work of the school may respond to the needs of its patrons?"

A variety of remedies has been suggested from time to time, and among them are consolidation of all small schools and districts and the establishment of two-room schools, the centralizing of all the schools of a township into one school with transportation of pupils, the retention of as many one room schools as necessary and the establishment of a rural high school in and for each township.

It must be admitted that each of these ideas has some merit, and the fact must be recognized that no one plan would meet all the conditions. In some parts of the state one plan would work well, while in other parts other plans would be more effective.

I submit that the first great step to be taken in the improvement of the rural schools is establishment of the township district, or some other system which will afford high school privileges for every child. This would immediately solve the problem of organization, as the people of each township would provide a sufficient number of schools and would of necessity provide high schools.

The latest suggested addition to the curriculum of the public school is the subject of agriculture. Preceding it of course, there should be work in nature study. Nature study does not mean an added task for the child or the teacher, but it does mean a new point of view, a new vision. As the child studies the germination of the seed, manner of the plant's growth, the structure and composition of the soil and the effect of moisture and temperature, he will not from this information become at once a farmer.

In his study of the propagation of plants, the culture of the garden, the protection of the fruit, flower and tree, and the care and the use of the animals, he will not be one an expert horticulturist, or live stock producer, but he will catch a glimpse of a great creative power, of a great possibility, and his life will expand through the application of his mind to the production of vegetable and animal life.

In the solution of the school problem today there are two elements of prime importance. The first is the teacher. Before we can have industrial work presented in the public school we must have teachers who have had special preparation in order that the work may be presented from the proper standpoint and under proper pedagogical principles.

In Michigan we have four State Normal schools whose particular business is the preparation of teachers, and the work of these Normal Schools must be made to harmonize with the demands of the industrial and social world. We have County Normal Training Classes in forty counties, whose particular business is the preparation of teachers for rural schools. The second element is the community influence upon the school.

The traveller through the state can fix with great accuracy the character and social life of any community by observing the school and its appointments. The general status of the social and religious life of each community will determine the stimulus back of the work of the public school, and as this stimulus becomes greater the more forceful and efficient will be the work of the school.

A remarkably interesting article by Dr. Richard C. Cabot, of Boston, in The Sunday School Times of January 23, on "The Impotence of Lying," in which form personal experience he vigorously advocates absolute truth-telling in medical practice—is re-enforced by a strong editorial entitled, "Is the Ananias Club's Platform a Sound One?" in which Mr. Trumbull says, among other things: "If we would take the shortest cut to the root of the whole matter, and ask why one may so flatter and uncompromisingly that the lie has no tolerable place in the life of any human being who ever lived, or who is living today, or who ever will live, we may find the answer in the eternal fact that God, who was, and is, and is to be, and who is the creator of all life, is a God of truth. Every revelation of himself to man throughout the ages shows this. God has never lied; he could not lie and be God. And what by his nature he cannot do, he cannot authorize his creatures to do. God can take life, and God can give life; so man with God's authority can take life and can give life. God can build up and God can tear down; and man can do both of these in obedience to God's orders. But God cannot lie; and man cannot work with God and lie. Jesus, the incarnation and revelation of God, said of himself, 'I am the truth.' "If therefore the omnipotent God cannot lie, nothing good that God desires for his children is ever dependent upon a lie for its bringing to pass. To admit anything else is to insist that the lie is a greater power than the omnipotence of the God and truth. And in so doing we must remember who is, by the bible and by universal recognition, specifically recognized as the Father of Lies. The Devil holds this honor. So that the situation which demands a lie as the only means of effecting a good outcome is a situation in which God is powerless to help, but which the Devil can manage for the good of all concerned. No other reasoning is possible. "Look now, for a minute, at some of the cases in which, according to the common notion, any honorable and right-thinking person should lie if he would do his duty. To save life, to protect health, to further a righteous cause, to defend honor, to live in harmony with others, to bring about good, God, then, is powerless to accomplish these things under some circumstances; we must seek the Devil's help. Put as bluntly as that, it does not sound just right. But that is exactly the situation. Was there ever a time when life or honor or health or a good cause could not be cared for by the God of truth?"

New Primary Bill.

The primary election bill fathered by Senator Dickinson, of Eaton, places the time for the primary nomination on the second Tuesday in August instead of September 1st. Dickinson says, the farmers kick on the present date. The 40 per cent clause is eliminated. It is made mandatory on all parties for the nomination of United States senator, governor, lieutenant governor, congressmen, legislators and county officers, in cities which have adopted the primary system, and all parties must make their nominations under its provisions; cities may adopt the system by a vote of the electors, not by party. In order to make it binding on legislators to vote for the primary nominee for the United States senator, a certificate is provided, which the candidate for the legislative may sign and file at the time he files his nominating petitions. Party enrollment is fixed for the first Monday in April and party affiliations cannot be changed until the following spring. All delegates must be nominated on general primary day. As an aid to party organization a provision is made in the bill for the election of state, county and district committees.

RANDOM SHOTS

SOME ARE ORIGINAL, SOME ARE NOT

You never spent too much for a thing after having read the ads, carefully.

You can't have any real enthusiasm about your store—any real belief in it—which will not show in your ads.

The worst thing about the case of "Brother Charley" is that in losing the senatorship he sees no prospect of "something equally as good."

A fact is worth nothing to one person—and hundreds of dollars to another. There are some facts of that sort in the Herald ads. today.

By the way, have you noticed what has become of your Uncle Samuel's business while Mr. Roosevelt and congress are indulging in personal squabbles?

Beware of the man who is puffed up with his own smartness and never admit to convince him that you know more than he, else you will appear to him as he appears to you.

David Harum didn't give a worse twist to the golden rule when he said "do the other fellow before he has a chance to do you," than a good many people give it in every day life.

There are some people who like to exchange old rubbers for new ones, much to the discomfort of those who lose their good ones. But remember there is a day of reckoning coming in the future by and by.

The moon never became red in the face because some nervous dog barked at it, and it is not probable that the politicians will suffer any serious mental shock because an attempt is being made to place the soft snaps in the state upon a civil service basis.

An Excellent Cleaning Fluid.

The following recipe contains nothing injurious, never takes out the stiffness from fabrics (as from veils and chiffon), and is at the same time a disinfectant and sure preventive of moths," says Woman's Home Companion for February. Sulphur ether, one dram; alcohol, two drams; chloroform, one dram; oil of cloves, one dram. Three times this amount to one quart of the best gasoline. The oil of cloves may be omitted if desired, as in cleaning anything white it has a tendency to turn it yellow. To clean a dress skirt, just double or treble the amount of these ingredients. Men's trousers can be soaked overnight in this, and when pressed are as good as new. It is fine for oyster blumes, as it never takes the curl out. Be sure to shake out in the air until thoroughly dry. Old lace clean beautifully with this fluid. Let the article to be cleaned lie in the liquid for a while, according to how soiled it is. Articles can remain in it all night without injury to the fabric in any way. By allowing to settle, and pouring off very carefully, one can use the fluid over and over again."

Don't Get a Divorce.

A western judge granted a divorce on account of ill-temper and bad breath. Dr. King's New Life Pills would have prevented it. They cure constipation, causing bad breath and liver trouble, the ill temper, dispel colds, banish headaches, conquer chills. See at G. S. Darling's and J. S. E. Dillon's.

Line Fences and Breachy Cattle.

A line fence must be sufficient to turn live stock. The law covering fences, also that of damages from live stock breaking over, is given in full in the "Michigan Farm Laws" which the Herald is furnishing to all its subscribers. Don't fail to get a copy of this valuable book. Now is the time to learn the law regarding fences etc.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by C. H. Prescott & Sons.

Communication.

To EDITOR OF HERALD

Dear sir—Having been a subscriber of your paper now for some time, on the conditions that you would publish the proceedings of the board of supervisors of Ioseo county. They were in session the first week in January for four days, yet I have failed to see any proceedings of that honorable body of men published in your paper. What is wrong? Have you no room for it, or did you publish all they did when you said they presented a chair to their honorable chairman, Mr. Sutherland? Now, if that is all they did, why on earth did they not appoint a committee and give them ($30 or $40) thirty or forty dollars to buy a chair with and then adjourn and come home, instead of staying there four days at an expense of sixty three dollars per day, or four days which is equal to $252.00? O yes, there was the local option question which called for a vote, which would possibly take twenty or thirty minutes to dispose of. Now, this affair looks to me like the case that occurred over in the adjoining county, where their coroner put in a bill for viewing a remains which he had to travel 8 or 10 miles to do. He believed it was ten miles, so put in his bill for that amount at six cents per mile. Some of the honorable body of supervisors of that county believed it was only eight miles, so they held over one half day more to determine whether it was 8 or 10 miles. After a considerable argument the bill was allowed at 9 miles or six cents less than the original bill, making a saving of six cents to the county and an additional expense of about $30.00.

Now, we have just paid our county tax and we find that it is no small tax for what we receive for it, but what can we expect if we have such a board of supervisors to legislate and examine in that way for us. Perhaps this is premature as you may be intending to publish all they did later on. If so then please put this in your waste basket instead of your paper, as I would not like to say anything detrimental to any body of men without a cause. All I ask for is an explanation. Subscriber.

The February Woman's Home Companion.

The Woman's Home Companion has established a reputation for beautiful illustrations, and the February Valentine number is even richer than usual in the display of pictures by well-known artists. C. Allan Gilbert's great new painting, "David Copperfield and Agnes," is reproduced in color. There is a full-page portrait of Lincoln at the age of fifteen, painted especially for this magazine by Balfour Ker. The Valentine cover is painted by Howard Chandler Christy. Other illustrations are by Alice Barber Stephens, Orson Lowell, Rose Cecil O'Neill and Herman Pfeifer.

The fiction in this Valentine magazine is by such popular authors as Florence Morse Kingsley, Juliet Wilbur Tompkins, Irving Bacheller and Mary Hastings.

Anna Steese Richardson, one of the most distinguished authorities in America on the working girl problem, in "A Substitute for Matrimony," presents the strongest indictment yet brought against woman work—the successful woman worker does not marry.

The centennial of the birth of Abraham Lincoln is celebrated in this magazine by Balfour Ker's portrait of "The Young Lincoln," painted especially for this occasion; by an article on "The Mothers of Lincoln," by Laura Spencer Porter, and by a list and brief descriptions of all the best books about Lincoln.

A Horrible Hold-Up.

"About ten years ago my brother was 'held up' in his work, health and happiness by what was believed to be hopeless consumption," writes W. R. Lapseomb, of Washington, N. C. "He took all kinds of remedies and treatment from several doctors, but found no help till he used Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles. He is a well man to-day." It's quick to relieve and the surest cure for weak or sore lungs, hemorrhages, coughs and colds, bronchitis, laryngitis, asthma and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by G. S. Darling and Jas. E. Dillon.
